Proverbs - Introduction

Part 1: General Introduction

Outline of Proverbs

1. Introduction and purpose for Proverbs (1:1-7)
2. A father teaches his son about wisdom (1:8-9:18)
3. Proverbs from Solomon (10:1-22:16)
4. Sayings from wise men (22:17-24:22)
5. More sayings from wise men (24:23-34)
6. Hezekiah's proverbs from Solomon (25:1-29:27)
7. Sayings from Agur (30:1-33)
8. Sayings from Lemuel (31:1-9)
9. Description of a good and capable wife (31:10-31)

What is the book of Proverbs about?

The book of Proverbs is a collection of proverbs. A proverb is a saying that gives wise advice or teaches something that is generally true about life. Most societies have their own proverbs and may use specific language that indicates something is a proverb. (See: Proverbs)

How should the title of this book be translated?

The title of this book is often translated as "Proverbs." A more general translation would be "Sayings for Wise People," "Wise Sayings," or something similar.

Who wrote the book of Proverbs?

Proverbs begins with the words, "The Proverbs of Solomon, son of David and King of Israel." However, Solomon did not write all of the proverbs in this book. Unnamed wise men wrote the proverbs in 22:17-24:34. Agur the son of Jakeh wrote the proverbs in 30:1-33 and King Lemuel wrote the proverbs in 31:1-31.

Part 2: Important Religious and Cultural Concepts

What is meant by "wisdom" in the book of Proverbs?

"Wisdom" refers to understanding and doing what is true and morally right. A wise person understands and does what Yahweh considers to be right. Anyone living in this way will also learn to live well with other people and to make good practical decisions in life. (See: [\[\[rc://*/tw/dict/bible/kt/wise\]\]](#))

What types of fools are mentioned in the book of Proverbs?

Proverbs contains three different Hebrew words for a person who lacks sense. Many Bible translations translate all three of these as "fool." However, most scholars think there is a slight difference in meaning between each of these words, each one depicting a different degree of seriousness of the foolish condition.

To reflect this difference, the ULT translates each of these Hebrew words with a different English word. For the most frequently occurring and perhaps mildest word in this group, such as in 1:22, 8:5, 29:20, and many other places, the ULT uses forms of the word "stupid." While a lack of intelligence may be implied by this word, in Proverbs it primarily refers to someone lacking common sense and morality. In Proverbs, a "stupid one" is someone who is lazy and thoughtless, but may be capable of learning to be wise.

The next word refers to a condition of thoughtlessness that many scholars consider to be worse than "stupid." For this, the ULT uses forms of "fool." This word refers to someone who is insolent and stubbornly continues to act thoughtlessly and immorally, such as in 1:7, 7:22, and 29:9.

Lastly, the ULT uses the phrase "worthless one" for the most negative word in this group. This third term only occurs three times in Proverbs (17:7, 21; 30:22) and refers to someone who is especially disgraceful and lacks any sense of morality whatsoever. This "worthless one" is someone who completely rejects God and refuses to do what pleases God (Psalm 14:1). The UST uses forms of the term "fool" for the two most frequently used terms and uses "worthless people" for the third term. (See: [\[\[rc://*/tw/dict/bible/kt/foolish\]\]](#))

My Son

Several parts of the book of Proverbs contain a series of proverbs addressed to "my son" or "sons" (1:8-9:18; 19:27; 23:15-24:22; 27:11; 31:2-31) This does not mean that all the lessons in those proverbs only apply to males. Rather, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son. Whenever the lesson of such proverbs is not specifically about common temptations of young men, the UST uses more general language that could refer to both male and female children. (See: When Masculine Words Include Women)

Part 3: Important Translation Issues

Proverbs

Most of this book consists of individual proverbs. A proverb is a short saying about something that is generally true in life. Proverbs often use parallelism and metaphors to teach a lesson by referring to something or some event that would be familiar to the readers. These proverbs say as much as they can in as few words as possible. Because of that, it is often necessary to supply words from the context in order for the sentences to make sense in translation. The Notes will suggest words that can be used where necessary. If possible, translate each proverb in a way that will be recognized as a proverb and be meaningful in your language and culture. (See: Proverbs)

Parallelism

Many proverbs consist of two parts that have a relationship to each other. The second part may strengthen the first part, give more details about the first part, or say something that is a contrast to the first part. The two parts are meant to be read as a whole so that together they say more about the subject than either part says by itself. Sometimes the second part seems to say the same thing again in different words. In this case, the second part reinforces the truth of the first part by repeating the message; It is not trying to say something different. Translators should also take into account that each proverb is also part of a larger group of proverbs. (See: Parallelism)

Personification

In Proverbs, certain qualities such as wisdom and stupidity are often represented as if they were human. Proverbs 1:20-33, 3:15-18, 4:6-9, and 8:1-9:12 refer to wisdom as if it were a woman. Proverbs 9:13-18 might also refer to stupidity as if it were a woman. In languages where it is possible for a female figure to represent these qualities, the translator can translate directly. However, if direct translation does not work in your language, consider translating these personifications as similes instead. In that case, wisdom or stupidity would be presented as being like a wise or stupid woman. Alternatively, consider translating these passages without using figurative language, as in the UST. (See: Personification)

Generic Nouns

Proverbs contains many generic noun phrases that refer to people or things in general even though they may appear to refer to specific individuals or things. This type of noun occurs frequently in this book because proverbs tell about things that are true about people in general. Most of the cases of generic nouns will be addressed in the notes. (See: Generic Noun Phrases)

Nominal Adjectives

Throughout this book, Solomon uses adjectives that describe characteristics of people to refer to those kinds of people. For example, he refers to wicked people as “the wicked” and to righteous people as “the righteous.” When he seems to be referring to an individual rather than to a group, the ULT will represent this as “a wicked {one}” or “a righteous {one}.” Your language may work in the same way, or you may want to translate these as “wicked people” and “righteous people” or “a wicked person” and “a righteous person” or in some other way. (See: Nominal Adjectives)

Proverbs - Chapter 1 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Introduction and purpose for Proverbs (1:1-7)

- Title (1:1)
- The purpose of Proverbs (1:2-6)
- Main theme: Fearing Yahweh is essential to being wise (1:7)
- 1. A father teaches his son about wisdom (1:8-9:18)
 - Avoid evil companions (1:8-19)
 - Do not reject wisdom (1:20-33)

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Personification

In 1:20-33, Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a person, specifically, as if it were a woman, because the word “wisdom” is grammatically feminine in Hebrew. In languages where it makes sense for a woman figure to represent an abstract concept like wisdom, the translator can translate the personification directly. If this does not work in your language because the word “wisdom” is grammatically masculine, consider personifying wisdom as a man. If it does not work in your language to represent an abstract concept like wisdom as a person, consider translating these personifications as similes instead. In that case, wisdom would be presented as being like a wise person. Alternatively, consider translating these passages without using figurative language, as in the UST. (See: Personification)

Proverbs 1:1 (#2)

מְחֻשְׁלֵי שְׁלֹמֹה

“The proverbs of Solomon”

Here the author is using the possessive form to describe proverbs that were written by Solomon. If this is not clear in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The proverbs that were written by Solomon]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:1 (#1)

מְחֻשְׁלֵי שְׁלֹמֹה

“The proverbs of Solomon”

The author is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [These are the proverbs of Solomon]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:2 (#1)

לְדַעַת חֵכְמָה וּמוֹסָר

“To know wisdom and instruction”

1:2–6 form one long sentence that lacks some of the words that a sentence in many languages would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [The purposes of these proverbs are to know wisdom and instruction]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:2 (#3)

חֵכְמָה וּמוֹסָר

“wisdom and instruction”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of wisdom and instruction, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [wise and instructive things]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:2 (#4)

אִמְרֵי בִינָה

“sayings of understanding”

Here, the author is using the possessive form to describe sayings that give a person understanding. If this is not clear in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [sayings that give a person understanding]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:2 (#2)

לְדַעַת & לָהֲבִיין

“To know & to understand”

To know and to understand here indicate two purposes for these proverbs. Use a natural way in your language to introduce purpose clauses. Alternate translation: [These proverbs are for the purpose of knowing ... and they are for the purpose of understanding]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 1:2 (#5)

אִמְרֵי בִינָה

“sayings of understanding”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of understanding, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [sayings of people who understand things]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:3 (#2)

לְקַחַת מוֹסָר הַשְׂכֵּל צָדִיק וְיִשְׁרָאִים

“to receive instruction of insight, righteousness and justice and integrity”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of instruction, insight, righteousness, justice, and integrity, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [to be instructed in ways that are insightful, righteous, just, and honest]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:3 (#1)

לְקַחַת מוֹסָר

“to receive instruction of”

Here, to receive indicates a third purpose for these proverbs. Use a natural way in your language to introduce a purpose clause. You may want to begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: [These proverbs are for the purpose of receiving instruction of]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 1:3 (#3)

מוֹסָר הַשְׂכֵּל צָדִיק וְיִשְׁרָאִים

“instruction of insight, righteousness and justice and integrity”

Here, the author is using the possessive form to describe instruction that is characterized by insight, righteousness, justice, and integrity. If this is not clear in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [instruction in how to have insight, righteousness, justice, and integrity]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:4 (#2)

עֲרֻמָּה & דִּדְעָה וּמִזְמָה

“prudence & knowledge and discretion”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of prudence, knowledge, and discretion, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [what is prudent ... what he should know and how he can be discreet]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:4 (#1)

לְהַתִּיתָ לַפְתָּאִיִּים עֲרֻמָּה

“to give to naive ones prudence”

Here, to give indicates a fourth purpose for these proverbs. Use a natural way in your language to introduce a purpose clause. You may want to begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: [These proverbs are for the purpose of giving naive ones prudence]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 1:4 (#3)

לְלִנְעָר

“to a young man”

Although the term young man is masculine, these proverbs are beneficial for both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [to young men and women]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 1:5 (#2)

יִשְׁמַע הַחֲכָם וַיִּוְסֶף לָלֶקֶחַ אֶת־הַחֲבִלּוֹת יִקְנֶה

“may a wise one hear and increase learning, and an understanding one acquire guidance”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. Hebrew poetry was based on this kind of repetition, so it would be good to show this to your readers by including both phrases in your translation rather than combining them. However, if it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [let a wise one hear and increase insight, yes, may an understanding one acquire guidance]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:5 (#4)

תִּחְבְּלֹת יִקְנֶה

“acquire guidance”

The author implies that this person will acquire guidance from these proverbs. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [will acquire guidance from these proverbs]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:5 (#3)

יִשְׁמַע הַחֲכָם

“may a wise one hear”

The author is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the context. Alternate translation: [let a wise one hear these proverbs]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:5 (#5)

תִּחְבְּלֹת יִקְנֶה

“acquire guidance”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of guidance, you could express the same ideas in another way. Alternate translation: [know how to live]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:5 (#1)

יִשְׁמַע הַחֲכָם וַיִּוְסֶף לָלֶקֶחַ אֶת־הַחֲבִלּוֹת יִקְנֶה

“may a wise one hear and increase learning, and an understanding one acquire guidance”

This verse interrupts the list of purposes for the proverbs in 1:2–6 to add the idea that those who are already wise might use these to add to their wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could add parentheses, as in the ULT, or use a natural way in your language to indicate a parenthetical or background statement.

See: Background Information

Proverbs 1:6 (#1)

לְהַבְרִין מְשָׁל וּמִלִּיצָה דְּבָרֵי הַחֲכָמִים וְחִידָתָם

“to understand a proverb and a parable, the words of the wise ones and their riddles”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that indicates that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [to understand a proverb and a parable, yes, to understand the words of the wise ones and their riddles]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:6 (#5)

דְּבָרֵי

“the words of”

Here, the author uses the term words to describe what the wise ones say by using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the sayings of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:6 (#4)

דְּבָרֵי הַחֲכָמִים

“the words of the wise ones”

The author is leaving out some of the words that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the previous clause. Alternate translation: [to understand the words of the wise ones]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:6 (#2)

לְהַבְרִין מִמֶּשֶׁל וּמִלִּצְאָה

“to understand a proverb and a parable”

Here, to indicates a fifth purpose for these proverbs. Use a natural way in your language for introducing a purpose clause. You may want to begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: [These proverbs are for the purpose of understanding a proverb and a parable]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 1:6 (#3)

מִמֶּשֶׁל וּמִלִּצְאָה

“a proverb and a parable”

Here, a proverb and a parable refer to these things in general, not to a specific proverb and parable. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any proverb and any parable]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 1:7 (#1)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“The fear of Yahweh”

Here, the author is using the possessive form to describe fear that a person should have for Yahweh. If this is not clear in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The fear for Yahweh]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:7 (#2)

רֵאשִׁית דָּדַעַת

“is} the beginning of knowledge”

Here, beginning refers to the basis of something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is the prerequisite for acquiring knowledge] or [is what knowledge is based upon]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:7 (#6)

הַכְּמָמָה וְהַמּוֹסֵר אֶוִּילִים כֹּזֵב

“fools despise wisdom and instruction”

This clause is a strong contrast with the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. It may be helpful to begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: [By contrast, fools despise wisdom and instruction]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 1:7 (#3)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“The fear of Yahweh”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of fear, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Being deeply respectful of Yahweh] or [Revering Yahweh]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:7 (#4)

ראשית דעת

“is} the beginning of knowledge”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of knowledge, you could express the same idea in another way. See how you translated knowledge in 1:4. Alternate translation: [is what enables you to know what is true] or [allows you to think wisely]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:7 (#5)

הקממה ומוסר איילים בזו

“fools despise wisdom and instruction”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of wisdom and instruction, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated wisdom and instruction in 1:2. Alternate translation: [But fools do not care about being wise or learning from others]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:8 (#4)

מוסר

“the instruction of”

See how you translated instruction in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:8 (#1)

שמע בנני מוסר אבגיד ואל-תתטש תורת אמך

“Hear, my son, the instruction of your father and do not forsake the law of your mother”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Hear, my son, the instruction of your father, yes, do not forsake the law of your mother]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:8 (#7)

תורת

“the law of”

Here, the word law is singular in form, but it refers to several laws as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the rules of]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 1:8 (#5)

מוסר אבגיד

“the instruction of your father”

Solomon is speaking about himself in the third person. If this would not be natural in your language, you could use the first person form. Alternate translation: [the instruction of me, your father]

See: First, Second or Third Person

Proverbs 1:8 (#3)

בנני

“my son”

Although the term son is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that could refer to either a male or female child. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [my offspring]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 1:8 (#2)

שמע בנני מוסר

“Hear, my son, the instruction of”

Hear in the Bible often means “hear and obey.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language. Alternate translation: [Pay attention, my son, to the instruction of]

Proverbs 1:8 (#6)

ואל-תתטש

“and do not forsake”

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word forsake. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [and heed]

See: Double Negatives

Proverbs 1:9 (#4)

לְיָיִת חֶסֶד הָהֵם לְרֹאשׁוֹךְ וְלַעֲנָקִים לְגֵרְתֵּיךְ

“they {are} a garland of grace for your head and pendants for your neck”

Here Solomon speaks of the rules and instructions that parents teach their children as if they were a garland or pendants. These two items make a person look more attractive to other people and may cause other people to respect that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use similes. Alternate translation: [they make you look more beautiful and respectable] or [they are like a garland of grace for your head and like pendants for your neck]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:9 (#2)

לְיָיִת חֶסֶד הָהֵם לְרֹאשׁוֹךְ וְלַעֲנָקִים לְגֵרְתֵּיךְ

“they {are} a garland of grace for your head and pendants for your neck”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [they are a garland of grace for your head, yes, even pendants for your neck]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:9 (#5)

לְיָיִת חֶסֶד

“are} a garland of grace”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a garland that is characterized by grace. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [are a gracious garland]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:9 (#3)

הָהֵם

“they”

Here, the pronoun they refers to the instruction and teaching of one's parents, as stated in the previous verse. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the instruction and law from your parents are] or [the things your parents taught you are]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 1:9 (#1)

כִּי

“for”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Obey these instructions because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:9 (#6)

לְיָיִת חֶסֶד

“are} a garland of grace”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of grace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [a gracious garland] or [an attractive garland]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:10 (#1)

בְּנִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 1:10 (#3)

אִם־יִפְתֶּנּוּךָ הַחַטָּאִים אַל־תִּבָּא

“if sinners entice you, do not consent”

Solomon implies that the sinners would entice his son to sin with them. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [if sinners entice you to join them in sinning, do not consent to sin with them]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:10 (#2)

אִם־יִפְתֶּנּוּךָ הַחַטָּאִים

“if sinners entice you”

Solomon is using a hypothetical situation to help his readers understand how important it is to resist temptation from sinners. Use the natural form in your language for expressing a hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [should it happen that sinners entice you]

See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Proverbs 1:11 (#3)

אַתָּה תִּתֶּנּוּ נֶאֱרָבָה & נִצְפָּנָה

“with us! Let us lie in wait & Let us hide to ambush”

By us, the sinners are referring to themselves but not other people, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

See: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

Proverbs 1:11 (#1)

אִם־יֹאמְרוּ

“If they say”

Solomon is using a hypothetical situation to help his readers understand how sinners might entice someone to join them in sinning. Use the natural form in your language for expressing a hypothetical situation. Alternate translation: [Suppose they say]

See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Proverbs 1:11 (#5)

לְדָם

“for blood”

Here, blood refers to violently murdering someone, which usually causes blood to come out of the person who is murdered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to shed blood] or [to murder someone]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:11 (#2)

יֹאמְרוּ

“they say”

Here, the pronoun they refers to sinners, as mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those sinners say]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 1:11 (#6)

לְדָם נִצְפָּנָה

“for blood. Let us hide to ambush”

Here, for and to introduce the purposes for these actions. The purpose for lying in wait is to shed blood. The purpose for hiding is to ambush someone. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate purposes. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of shedding blood. Let us hide for the purpose of ambushing]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 1:11 (#4)

נֶאֱרָבָה & נִצְפָּנָה

“Let us lie in wait & Let us hide to ambush”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word that shows the connection between these two phrases. Alternate translation: [Let us lie in wait ... Yes, let us hide to ambush]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:11 (#7)

לְנִקְיָ

“the innocent one”

The sinners are speaking of an innocent person in general, not of one particular innocent one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural phrase. Alternate translation: [some innocent person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 1:12 (#1)

נִבְלָעִם

“Let us swallow them”

By us, the sinners are referring to themselves but not other people, so use the exclusive form of that word in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

See: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

Proverbs 1:12 (#9)

כִּי־יֵרְדוּ בֹר

“like those going down to a pit”

The Israelites referred to dying as going down to Sheol or a pit. Here the sinners are saying that their victims are like those going down to a pit because those people will die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [like those who die]

See: Simile

Proverbs 1:12 (#3)

כְּשֶׁאֲדֹל חַיִּים וְתַמִּימִים כִּי יוֹרְדֵי בּוֹר

“the living ones, like Sheol, and the whole ones like those going down to a pit”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the living ones, like Sheol, yes, the whole ones, like those going down to a pit]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:12 (#4)

כְּשֶׁאֲדֹל

“like Sheol”

The sinners are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [like Sheol swallows people]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:12 (#8)

כִּי יוֹרְדֵי בּוֹר

“like those going down to a pit”

The sinners are leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [like those going down to a pit are swallowed]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:12 (#7)

וְתַמִּימִים

“and the whole ones”

Here, whole refers to being completely healthy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the healthy ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:12 (#6)

וְתַמִּימִים

“and the whole ones”

The sinners are leaving out some of the words that a clause would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the beginning of the verse. Alternate translation: [and let us swallow the whole ones]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 1:12 (#2)

נִנְבְּלָם

“Let us swallow them”

The sinners speak of murdering people as if they were swallowing them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let us destroy them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:12 (#5)

כְּשֶׁאֲדֹל

“like Sheol”

Here, Sheol is spoken of as if it were a living thing that could swallow someone. The idea of Sheol swallowing someone refers to how people are completely gone after they die and are buried. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [like Sheol completely covers people]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:13 (#1)

נִמְצָא וְנִמְלָא בְּתֵינֵנוּ

“We will find & We will fill our houses”

In this verse, the sinners use We and our to refer to themselves but not other people. Use the exclusive form of those words in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

See: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

Proverbs 1:13 (#2)

כָּל

“all”

The sinners say all here as a generalization for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [very much]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 1:14 (#2)

כָּכִים אֶחָד יִהְיֶה לְכֻלָּנוּ

“one purse will be for all of us”

Here, purse represents the contents of the purse, which would be money and valuables. They are saying that they will share equally whatever they steal. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [everything that we steal we will share equally]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:14 (#1)

גִּזְרֶיךָ תַּפְסִיל בְּתוֹכֵנוּ

“You must cause your lot to fall in our midst”

This is an idiom. It refers to joining with a group of people that will share the same life or destiny. Alternate translation: [You must join us and share our destiny]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:14 (#3)

בְּתוֹכֵנוּ & לְכֻלָּנוּ

“in our midst & for all of us”

In this verse, the sinners use our to refer to themselves but not other people. However, they use us to include the person they are addressing. Use the appropriate form of those words in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

See: Exclusive and Inclusive ‘We’

Proverbs 1:15 (#1)

בְּנִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

Proverbs 1:15 (#4)

רַגְלֶךָ

“your foot”

Solomon is using one part of a person, the foot, to represent the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [yourself]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 1:15 (#2)

אַל-תֵּלֶלְךָ בְּדֶרֶךְ אֲתָתָם מִנְּעֵ רַגְלֶךָ מִנְּתִיבָתָם

“do not walk on the road with them; restrain your foot from their path”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases in a way that would show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [do not walk on the road with them; I am saying, restrain your foot from their path]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:15 (#3)

אַל-תֵּלֶלְךָ בְּדֶרֶךְ אֲתָתָם מִנְּעֵ רַגְלֶךָ מִנְּתִיבָתָם

“do not walk on the road with them; restrain your foot from their path”

Here Solomon speaks of walking with the sinners as a way to express associating with them, and he uses road and path to refer to the way that the sinners behave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [have nothing to do with those sinners; keep yourself from behaving like them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:16 (#4)

לְשֹׁפֵד־דָּם

“to pour out blood”

The phrase pour out blood refers to violently murdering people, which usually causes blood to come out of the people who are murdered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to kill others]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:16 (#2)

רַגְלֵיהֶם & יָרֻצוּ

“their feet run”

Here, “feet” represents the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they run]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 1:16 (#3)

רַגְלֵיהֶם לָרָע יָרֻצוּ

“their feet run to evil”

Here Solomon speaks of how eager the sinners are to do evil as if their feet were running to do it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they are quick to do evil]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:16 (#1)

בְּכִי

“for”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do not walk with them because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:17 (#4)

בִּבְעַל כְּנָף

“owner of wing”

The phrase owner of wing refers to a bird. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:17 (#2)

מִזֶּרֶה הַרְגָּשָׁה

“is} the net spread out”

A net is a trap made of woven rope or string that hunters use to catch animals. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of trap, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [is the trap set up]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 1:17 (#1)

מִזֶּרֶה הַרְגָּשָׁה

“is} the net spread out”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [does someone spread out a net]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 1:17 (#3)

בְּצֵינֵי

“in the eyes of”

Here, eyes refers to what is seen with the eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in view of] or [in the sight of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:18 (#6)

לְדַמָּם

“for their blood”

See how you translated blood in 1:11.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:18 (#5)

וְהֵם לְדַמָּם יֵאָרְבוּ יִצְפְּנוּ לְנַפְשָׁתָם

“but they lie in wait for their blood; they hide in ambush for their lives”

In this verse, for introduces the result of these actions. They lie in wait and hide in ambush and the result is that it costs them their blood and their lives. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. Alternate translation: [but they lie in wait, which costs them their blood; they hide in ambush, which costs them their lives]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:18 (#3)

וְהֵם לְדַמָּם יֵאָרְבוּ יִצְפְּנוּ לְנַפְשָׁתָם

“but they lie in wait for their blood; they hide in ambush for their lives”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word that shows the connection between these two clauses. Alternate translation: [but they lie in wait for their blood; yes, they hide in ambush for their lives]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:18 (#1)

וְהֵם

“but they”

Here, but indicates a contrast between the bird mentioned in the previous verse and the sinners who speak in 1:11–14. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. You may want to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [By contrast, they]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 1:18 (#2)

וְהֵם לְדָמָם יִצְפְּנוּ לְנַפְשָׁם

“but they lie in wait for their blood; they hide in ambush for their lives”

This verse compares the sinners to the birds being hunted in the previous verse. But here it speaks of the sinners as both the hunters and the hunted. Unlike a bird that is smart enough to avoid a net, these sinners destroy themselves by doing sinful things that cause them to be killed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but because they intend to kill others, they will be killed; their attempts to attack others will cost them their lives]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:18 (#4)

וְהֵם לְדָמָם יִצְפְּנוּ לְנַפְשָׁם

“but they lie in wait for their blood; they hide in ambush for their lives”

In this verse, the pronouns they and their refer to the sinners described in 1:10–16. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but those sinners lie in wait for their own blood; those sinners hide in ambush for their own lives]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 1:19 (#2)

כָּל

“all”

Here Solomon uses the adjective all as a noun to mean “every person.” Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [all people]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 1:19 (#6)

אֶת־נַפְשׁוֹ בְּעַלְלֵיו יָקַח

“it takes the life of its owner”

Solomon speaks of unjust gain as if it were a person who could kill its owner. He means that the wicked things that sinful people do to unjustly gain unjust gain will cause them to die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [unjust gain results in its owner dying] or [seeking unjust gain kills those who do it] or [it is as if unjust gain takes the life of its owner]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:19 (#1)

אֲדָרְחוֹת

“are} the paths of”

Here Solomon uses paths to refer to the destiny of those sinners. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are the destinies of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:19 (#7)

אֶת־נַפְשׁוֹ & יָקַח

“it takes the life of”

Here, the phrase takes the life of means to kill someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it kills]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:19 (#4)

בְּבָצֵעַ

“unjust gain”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of gain, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what they gain unjustly]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:19 (#5)

אֶת-חַיֵּי הָעֹלֵלִי קָחָה

“it takes the life of its owner”

Here, the pronouns it and its refer to the unjust gain that is mentioned in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that unjust gain takes the life of the unjust gain’s owner]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 1:19 (#3)

בְּרָצָה בְּרָצָה

“who unjustly gain unjust gain”

Here, unjustly gain unjust gain is an emphatic construction that uses a verb and its object that come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [who are greedy for unjust gain]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 1:20 (#3)

חִכְמוֹת

“Wisdom”

See how you translated the abstract noun Wisdom in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:20 (#1)

חִכְמוֹת בַּחֲזוֹן תִּרְצֶנָּה בְּרַחֲבֹת תִּתְנֶנָּה קוֹלָהּ

“Wisdom calls out outside; she gives her voice in the open areas”

These two clauses and the two clauses of the next verse mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word that shows the connection between these two clauses. Alternate translation: [Wisdom calls out outside, indeed, she gives forth her voice in the open places]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:20 (#6)

בְּרַחֲבֹת

“in the open areas”

Here, open areas refers to large, outdoor public places where there would usually be many people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the marketplaces] or [in the plazas]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:20 (#4)

בַּחֲזוֹן

“outside”

Here, outside refers to the public space outside of one’s house where there would be many people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the streets]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:20 (#5)

תִּתְנֶנָּה קוֹלָהּ

“she gives her voice”

This is an idiom that means she spoke very loudly. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she lifts her voice] or [she speaks with a loud voice]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:20 (#2)

חִכְמוֹת בַּחֲזוֹן תִּרְצֶנָּה בְּרַחֲבֹת תִּתְנֶנָּה קוֹלָהּ

“Wisdom calls out outside; she gives her voice in the open areas”

In 1:20–33, Solomon speaks of Wisdom as if it were a woman speaking to the people. See the discussion of this in the Introduction for this chapter. By saying that Wisdom calls out or gives her voice, he means that wisdom is available to all people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Wisdom is available openly; it is available freely] or [Wisdom is like a woman who calls out outside, like a woman who gives forth her voice in the open] or [It is as if wisdom calls out outside; it is as if wisdom gives forth its voice in the town square]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:21 (#5)

אִמְרֵיהָ תֹאמַר

“she says her sayings”

Here, says her sayings is an emphatic construction that uses a verb and its object that come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis.

See: Poetry

Proverbs 1:21 (#4)

בִּפְתִּיחֵי שְׁעָרִים בְּעֵיָר

“at the opening of the gates in the city”

Solomon’s readers would have understood that the the opening of the gates in the city was a crowded place where many people gathered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [at the opening of the gates in the city, where many people gather]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:21 (#1)

בְּרֹאשׁ הַמִּיּוֹת תִּתְקַרְרָא בִּפְתִּיחֵי שְׁעָרִים בְּעֵיָר אִמְרֵיהָ תֹאמַר

“At the head of the tumultuous places she calls out; at the opening of the gates in the city, she says her sayings”

These two clauses and the two clauses of the previous verse mean basically the same thing. These two clauses emphasize the meaning of the first clause of the previous verse by repeating the same idea but naming different places in the city. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that would show that these clauses are repeating the same idea from the previous verse, not saying something different. Alternate translation: [Yes, at the head of the tumultuous places she calls out; yes, at the opening of the gates in the city she says her sayings]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:21 (#2)

בְּרֹאשׁ

“At the head of”

Here, head refers to the place where busy streets intersect. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [At the intersection of streets in]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:21 (#3)

תִּתְקַרְרָא & אִמְרֵיהָ תֹאמַר

“she calls out & she says her sayings”

Here Solomon continues to speak of wisdom as if it were a woman who calls out or says her sayings. As in the previous verse, he means that wisdom is available to all people. Continue the strategy that you used in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [wisdom is available ... it is available] or [it is as if wisdom calls out ... it is as if wisdom says its sayings]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:22 (#1)

עַד־מַתְנֵי

“Until when”

1:22–33 are one long quotation that Solomon presents as if wisdom itself were speaking. Consider natural ways of introducing direct quotations in your language. Alternate translation: [She says, “Until when”] or [It is as if Wisdom says, “Until when”]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 1:22 (#3)

פִּגְמִי & לִלְצוֹן & דַּעַת

“naiveté & mockery & knowledge”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of naiveté, mockery, and knowledge, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated knowledge in 1:4. Alternate translation: [thinking naively ... mocking ... knowing things]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:22 (#2)

עַד־מַתְנֵי | פְּתִיחֵם תִּתְקַבְּבוּ פִּגְמִי וְלִלְצִים לִלְצוֹן תִּמְדְּדוּ לְהֵגֶם
וְכִסְיֵלִים יִשְׁנְאוּ־דַעַת

“Until when will naive ones love naiveté and mockers delight {in} mockery for themselves and stupid ones hate knowledge”

Wisdom is using the question form to emphasize that these types of people should stop acting the way that they do. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [For too long the naive ones have loved naiveté, and mockers have delighted in mockery for themselves, and stupid ones have hated knowledge!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 1:23 (#3)

אֲבִי־יָדָעָה לְכֶם רוּחִי אוֹדִיעָה דְּבָרַי אֲתֶם

“I shall allow my spirit to gush forth to you, I shall cause you to know my words”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that would show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I shall allow my spirit to gush forth to you, yes, I shall cause you to know my words]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:23 (#1)

תִּשְׁמְעוּ

“Turn”

Turn here implies turning one’s head in order to listen better to what someone is saying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Turn your heads and listen]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:23 (#4)

רוּחִי

“my spirit”

Here, spirit refers to a person’s thoughts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [my thoughts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:23 (#5)

אֲבִי־יָדָעָה לְכֶם רוּחִי

“I shall allow my spirit to gush forth to you”

Wisdom telling the people what she thinks is spoken of as if her thoughts were a liquid that would come flowing out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I shall freely tell you what I think]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:23 (#2)

הִנֵּנָה

“Behold”

Behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the listener on what the speaker is about to say. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use some emphatic term or expression in your language that would have this same effect. Alternate translation: [Note this] or [Listen]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:23 (#7)

דְּבָרַי

“my words”

Here, Wisdom uses the term words to describe what she says by using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the things that I have to say]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 1:23 (#6)

לְכֶם & אֲתֶם

“to you & you”

In this speech from verse 23 through verse 27, Wisdom addresses foolish people directly as a group. Therefore, use the plural forms of address in your translation if your language marks that distinction.

Proverbs 1:24 (#4)

נִמְטִיתִי יָדִי

“I have stretched out my hand”

This phrase stretched out my hand is an idiom that refers to beckoning someone or inviting a person to come. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I stretched out my hand to beckon you] or [I beckoned you]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:24 (#3)

וְתִמְאַגְנִי

“and you have refused”

Wisdom implies that people refused to listen to what she said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and you have refused to listen to me]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:24 (#1)

יִצֵּן

“Because”

Because here indicates that what follows in this verse and the next verse is the reason for the result, which is stated in 1:26–27. Use the most natural way in your language to state a reason. If you divide 1:24–27 into two sentences, then you could either remove Because here and add a word to express result at the beginning of 1:26 as in the UST, or you could add the word “because” to each of the clauses of 1:24–25. Alternate translation: [Since]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:24 (#2)

קָרָאתִי וְתִמְאַגְנִי נִטְיִיתִי וְאֵין מְקֹשֵׁיב

“I have called and you have refused, I have stretched out my hand, and there was no one listening attentively”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that would show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I have called and you have refused, yes, I have stretched out my hand and there was no one listening attentively] or [I have called and you have refused, because I have stretched out my hand and there was no one listening attentively] same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [that I have counseled, and what I said to rebuke you]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:25 (#1)

וְתִפְרָעוּ כָל-עֲצָתִי וְתוֹכַחַתִּי לֹא אָבִיתֶם

“and you have ignored all my counsel, and my rebuke you did not accept”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Both of these clauses continue the reason that was begun in verse 24 with the word “because.” If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and or you could add the word “because” to each of the clauses. Alternate translation: [and you have ignored all my counsel, yes, my rebuke you did not accept] or [and because you have ignored all my counsel and because my rebuke you did not accept]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:26 (#1)

גַּם-אֲנִי

“I too”

1:26–27 state the result of what was stated in 1:24–25. If you divided 1:24–27 into two sentences and removed Because from 1:24, then you will need to add a word here to express the result of the reasons given in 1:24–25. Alternate translation: [As a result, I too] or [So, I too]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:26 (#2)

גַּם-אֲנִי בְאִידְכֶם אֶשְׁחַק אֶלְעֵג בְּבָא פְחָדְכֶם

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I too shall laugh at your calamity, yes, I shall mock when your dread comes]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:26 (#3)

גם־אֲנִי

“I too”

The phrase translated as I too shifts the focus from the foolish people mentioned in 1:24–25 to the person speaking, who represents wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I, in turn,] or [I, for my part,]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:26 (#4)

בְּבֹא פֶחַדְכֶם & בְּבֹא יִדְרֹכְכֶם

“at your calamity & when your dread comes”

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:27 (#4)

בְּבֹא צָרָה וְצוּקָה & עָלֶיכֶם

“when distress and anguish come upon you”

Here, wisdom speaks of experiencing distress and anguish as if they were objects that could come upon someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when you experience distress and anguish]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:27 (#3)

כְּשֹׁאֵה & כְּסוּפָה

“like a storm & like a whirlwind”

Here, Wisdom compares the manner in which dread and calamity will happen to the sudden, destructive power of a storm or whirlwind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [powerfully ... suddenly]

See: Simile

Proverbs 1:27 (#6)

צָרָה וְצוּקָה

“distress and anguish”

The terms distress and anguish mean similar things. The two terms are used together here for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [distressing events]

Proverbs 1:28 (#2)

יִקְרְאוּנִי & יִשְׁחַרְוּנִי וְלֹא יִמְצְאוּנִי

“they will call out to me & They will diligently seek me, but they will not find me”

In this verse, the pronoun they refers to the foolish people who ignored wisdom, as described in 1:22–27.

If it would be clearer in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those who ignored me will call out to me ... those people will diligently seek me, but they will not find me]

Proverbs 1:29 (#2)

דָּעַת

“knowledge”

See how you translated knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:29 (#3)

וִירְאָתָא יְהוָה

“and the fear of Yahweh”

See how you translated the fear of Yahweh in 1:7.

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:29 (#1)

תִּתְּנָה כִּי

“for the reason that”

This phrase indicates that what follows in this verse and the next verse are the reasons why the foolish people will not find wisdom, as stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to express reasons. Alternate translation: [because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 1:30 (#3)

לְעִצָּתִי & כָּל־תּוֹכַחְתִּי

“my counsel & my every rebuke”

See how you translated the abstract nouns counsel and rebuke in 1:25.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:30 (#1)

לֹא־אָבְדוּ לְעִצָּתִי נִנְאָצוּ כָּל־תּוֹכַחְתִּי

“they did not want my counsel, and they despised my every rebuke”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [they did not want my counsel, yes, they despised my every rebuke]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:30 (#2)

לֹא־אָבְדוּ & נִנְאָצוּ

“they did not want & and they despised”

In this verse, the pronoun they refers to the foolish people who ignored wisdom, as described in 1:22–27. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those who ignored me did not want ... and those people despised]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 1:31 (#4)

וּמִמַּעֲצָתֵיהֶם יִשְׂבְּעוּ

“and from their plans they will be satisfied”

Here, the word translated as satisfied means “to be made full of.” This word can have either a positive or negative meaning, but here the meaning is negative.

It means that these foolish people will suffer the full consequences of their foolish plans. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [they will experience the consequences of their plans]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 1:31 (#1)

וְיֹאכְלוּ מִפִּרְיָ דֶּרֶכָם וּמִמַּעַצְצֵי הָהֶם יִשְׂבְּעוּ

“And they will eat from the fruit of their way, and from their plans they will be satisfied”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [And they will eat from the fruit of their way, yes, from their plans they will be satisfied]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:31 (#2)

וְיֹאכְלוּ מִפִּרְיָ דֶּרֶכָם

“And they will eat from the fruit of their way”

Here, people suffering the consequences of their behavior are spoken of as if they were eating the fruit of their way. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar idiom from your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And they will experience the consequences of their behavior]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 1:31 (#3)

וּמִמַּעַצְצֵי הָהֶם יִשְׂבְּעוּ

“and from their plans they will be satisfied”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and their plans will satisfy them]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 1:32 (#3)

מִשׁוּבְבֵת פְּתִיּוֹם תִּהְרַגְגָּם

“the turning away of the naive ones will slay them”

Here, turning away is spoken of as if it were a person who could slay someone. This expression means that the naive ones will die because of their turning away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [the naive ones will die because of their turning away] or [the turning away of the naive ones is like someone who will slay them]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:32 (#2)

מִשׁוּבְבֵת פְּתִיּוֹם תִּהְרַגְגָּם וְשִׁלּוֹת קְסִילָיִם תֵּאַבְדָּם

“the turning away of the naive ones will slay them and {false} security will lead stupid ones to ruin”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [the turning away of the naive ones will slay them, yes, false security will lead stupid ones to ruin]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 1:32 (#4)

מִשׁוּבְבֵת פְּתִיּוֹם

“the turning away of the naive ones”

Here, refusing to listen to wisdom is spoken of as turning away from the one who is speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the refusing to listen of the naive ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 1:32 (#6)

וְשִׁלּוֹת קְסִילָיִם תֵּאַבְדָּם

“and {false} security will lead stupid ones to ruin”

Here, false security is spoken of as if it were a person who could lead someone. This expression means that stupid ones will die because of their false sense of security. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [and stupid ones will be ruined because of their false security] or [false security of stupid ones is like someone who will ruin them]

See: Personification

Proverbs 1:32 (#5)

ושלגות

“and {false} security”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of false security, you could express the same idea with a different expression. Alternate translation: [wrongly feeling secure]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:32 (#1)

בְּכִי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows in 1:32-33 is the conclusion to what Wisdom stated in 1:22-31. Alternate translation: [In conclusion,]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 1:33 (#3)

מִפֶּחַד רָעָה

“from the dread of evil”

See how you translated the abstract nouns dread in 1:26 and evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 1:33 (#2)

מִפֶּחַד רָעָה

“from the dread of evil”

Here, the possessive form describes dread that a person has for evil. If this is not clear in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from dreading evil]

See: Possession

Proverbs 1:33 (#1)

וְשֹׁמֵעַ

“But the one who listens”

But here indicates a strong contrast between the one who listens and “the naive ones,” who were mentioned in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [However, the one who listens]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs - Chapter 2 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

The benefits of wisdom * God watches over those who see wisdom (2:1-11) * Wisdom saves you from wicked men (2:12-15) * Wisdom saves you from adulterous women (2:16-19) * Following wisdom leads to a good life (2:20-22)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

My Son

Occasionally, Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” This does not mean that all of those proverbs only apply to males. Instead, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son, and the kind of advice in these proverbs is about common temptations of young men.

Proverbs 2:1 (#1)

בְּכִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 2:1 (#2)

אִם

“if”

Here, if indicates the beginning of a conditional sentence that extends from this verse to 2:5. This is the first of three if clauses in this long sentence. If it would be clearer in your language, you could divide this long sentence into shorter sentences and indicate the condition along with the result in 2:5, as in the UST.

See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Proverbs 2:1 (#3)

וְאִמְצוֹתַי תִּצְפֹּן אִתְּךָ

“and my commandments you store up with you”

Valuing the father’s commandments is spoken of as if the commandments were a treasure and the person were a safe place to store that treasure. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and consider my commandments to be as valuable as a treasure]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:2 (#3)

לְהַבִּינָה & לְחָכְמָה

“to wisdom & to understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:2 (#1)

לְהַקְשִׁיב לְחָכְמָה אֲזַנְגָּד תִּשְׁטָה לְלִבְדָּךְ לְהַבִּינָה

“to cause your ear to be attentive to wisdom, you incline your heart to understanding”

The word translated as to here indicates that what follows in this verse explains the means by which a person can receive the sayings and commandments mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [by causing your ear to be attentive to wisdom, and by inclining your heart to understanding]

Proverbs 2:2 (#5)

תִּשְׁטָה לְלִבְדָּךְ לְהַבִּינָה

“you incline your heart to understanding”

The phrase incline your heart is an idiom that refers to fully committing one's mind or will to doing something. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if you fully commit yourself to gaining understanding]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 2:2 (#2)

לְהַקְשִׁיב & אֲזַנְגָּד

“to cause your ear to be attentive”

This phrase is an idiom that refers to forcing oneself to listen carefully. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [force yourself to listen attentively]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 2:2 (#4)

תִּשְׁטָה לְלִבְדָּךְ

“you incline your heart”

In many languages this sentence would need the word “if” here in order to be complete. You could supply this word from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [if you incline your heart]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:3 (#5)

לְהַבִּינָה

“for understanding”

See how you translated the abstract noun understanding in the previous verse.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:3 (#2)

לְבִינָה & לְהַבִּינָה

“for insight & for understanding”

Here Solomon speaks of calling out to receive insight and understanding as if they were people whom someone could summon. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to receive insight ... to receive understanding]

See: Personification

Proverbs 2:3 (#1)

אֵאָם לְבִינָה תִקְרָא לְהַבִּינָה תִתֵּן קוֹלְךָ

“if for insight you call out, for understanding you lift up your voice”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [if for insightful understanding you lift up your voice to call out]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:3 (#6)

תִּתֵּן קוֹלְךָ

“you lift up your voice”

This phrase is an idiom that refers to speaking loudly. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you speak with a loud voice]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 2:3 (#4)

לְבִינָה

“for insight”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of insight, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for what should be perceived]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:3 (#3)

לְלִבְיֹנָה תִּתֵּן קוֹלְךָ

“for understanding you lift up your voice”

In many languages this sentence would need the word “if” here in order to be complete. You could supply this word from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [if for understanding you lift up your voice]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:4 (#4)

אִם־תִּבְקֹשׁ שֶׁנָּה כְּכֶסֶף וְכַמְטֻמוֹנִים תִּחְפְּשֶׁנָּה

“if you seek it as silver, and as hidden treasures you search for it”

Solomon is saying that wisdom is like silver and hidden treasures because those are items that people value greatly and work very hard to find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [if you seek it diligently, like one seeks silver, and search for it diligently, like one searches for hidden treasures]

See: Simile

Proverbs 2:4 (#3)

תִּבְקֹשׁ שֶׁנָּה & תִּחְפְּשֶׁנָּה

“you seek it & you search for it”

In this verse, the pronoun it refers to wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [you seek wisdom ... search for wisdom]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 2:4 (#2)

אִם־תִּבְקֹשׁ שֶׁנָּה כְּכֶסֶף וְכַמְטֻמוֹנִים תִּחְפְּשֶׁנָּה

“if you seek it as silver, and as hidden treasures you search for it”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [if you seek it as if it were silver and search for it as if it were hidden treasures] or [if you seek it as you would seek silver and search for it as you would search for hidden treasures]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:4 (#1)

אִם־תִּבְקֹשׁ שֶׁנָּה כְּכֶסֶף וְכַמְטֻמוֹנִים תִּחְפְּשֶׁנָּה

“if you seek it as silver, and as hidden treasures you search for it”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [if you diligently search for it like a valuable hidden treasure]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:5 (#2)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“the fear of Yahweh”

See how you translated this phrase in 1:7.

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:5 (#1)

אָז

“then”

Here, then indicates that what follows is the result of meeting the conditions that are stated in 2:1–4. If you divided this long sentence in 2:1–5 into shorter sentences, then you will need to indicate the condition before the result here in this new sentence, as in the UST. Alternate translation: [If you do so, then the result will be that]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:5 (#3)

וְדַעַת אֱלֹהִים תִּמְצָא

“and the knowledge of God you will find”

Obtaining the knowledge of God is spoken of as if the knowledge of God were an object that a person can find by searching for it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you will have the knowledge of God]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:5 (#4)

וְיָדַעְתָּ אֱלֹהִים תִּמְצָא

“and the knowledge of God you will find”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe knowing God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and you will find how to know God]

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:6 (#2)

חִכְמָה וְיָדָעַת וְתְבוּנָה

“wisdom & are} knowledge and understanding”

See how you translated wisdom in 1:2 and knowledge and understanding in the previous verse.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:6 (#3)

מִמֶּפְיוֹ יִדָּעַת וְתְבוּנָה

“from his mouth {are} knowledge and understanding”

Here, mouth represents Yahweh himself or what he says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from Yahweh comes knowledge and understanding]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 2:6 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is the reason why what Solomon stated in 2:1–4 is true. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is due to the fact that]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:7 (#5)

הֵם

“with} integrity”

See how you translated the abstract noun integrity in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:7 (#1)

וּצְפֹן לְלִישָׁרִים תּוֹשִׁיָּה

“And he stores up for the upright ones sound wisdom”

Yahweh possessing sound wisdom that he gives to people is spoken of as if sound wisdom were an item that Yahweh stores up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he has sound wisdom to provide for the upright ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:7 (#3)

מִמְגֵּן לְהַהֲלִכִי הֵם

“a shield for those walking {with} integrity”

Yahweh protecting his people is spoken of as if he were a shield. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he shields those walking with integrity]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:7 (#4)

לְהַהֲלִכִי הֵם

“for those walking {with} integrity”

Here, walking refers to how people behave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who conduct themselves with integrity]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:7 (#2)

תּוֹשִׁיָּה

“sound wisdom”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sound wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [soundly wise things]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:8 (#1)

לְנִצֵּר

“to guard”

Here, to indicates that what follows is the purpose for Yahweh giving “sound wisdom” and being a “shield,” as stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a purpose. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Yahweh does these things for the purpose of guarding]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 2:8 (#3)

וְיִדְרֹךְ חֲסִידָיו יִשְׁמֹר

“and the way of his faithful ones he will preserve”

Here Solomon speaks of the lives of God’s faithful ones as if they were a way or road. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he will preserve the lives of his faithful ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:8 (#2)

אֲרָחוֹת מִשְׁפָּט

“the paths of justice”

Here, paths could refer to: (1) the behavior of people, in which case the meaning is similar to the next clause in the verse. Alternate translation: [those who behave justly]; (2) justice itself, as if it were paths. Alternate translation: [the path that is justice] or [justice]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:9 (#2)

צֶדֶק וּמִשְׁפָּט וְיִשְׁרָיִים

“righteousness and justice and integrity”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness, justice, and integrity in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:9 (#3)

כָּל-מַעַל-טוֹב

“every good track”

Here Solomon speaks of wise behavior as if it were a good track. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [every good way of living]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:9 (#1)

אָז

“Then”

Then here indicates that what follows is another result of meeting the conditions stated in 2:1–4. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate the result of meeting conditions. Alternate translation: [If you do those things, then the result will be that]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:10 (#1)

חֵכְמָה & יוֹדָעַת

“wisdom & and knowledge”

See how you translated wisdom in 1:2 and knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:10 (#3)

לִנְפֶשְׁךָ יִנָּעַם

“will be pleasant to your soul”

Here, soul refers to the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be pleasant to you]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 2:10 (#2)

תִּבְּרֹא & בְּלִבְּךָ

“will enter into your heart”

This phrase is an idiom that refers to fully knowing something. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2. Alternate translation: [will be fully in your mind] or [will become a part of you] or [will be the way that you think]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 2:11 (#3)

מְחִימָה & תְּבוּנָה

“Discretion & understanding”

See how you translated Discretion in 1:4 and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:11 (#2)

מְחִיזָה תִּשְׁמְרֵם עַל־יָד תְּבוּנָה תִּנְצְרֶכֶה

“Discretion will watch over you; understanding will guard you”

Here Solomon speaks of discretion and understanding as if they were people who could protect and guard someone else. He means that someone who has discretion and understanding will be safe. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [If you have discretion, you will be safe; if you have understanding, you will be secure]

See: Personification

Proverbs 2:11 (#1)

מְחִיזָה תִּשְׁמְרֵם עַל־יָד תְּבוּנָה תִּנְצְרֶכֶה

“Discretion will watch over you; understanding will guard you”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Discretion will watch over you, yes, understanding will protect you]

Proverbs 2:12 (#6)

רָעָה

“evil”

See how you translated the abstract noun evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:12 (#5)

מִדָּרֶךְ

“from the way of”

Here Solomon uses way to refer to how people behave. See how you translated this use of way in 1:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:12 (#4)

מִדָּרֶךְ רָעָה

“from the way of evil”

This phrase the way of evil could refer to: (1) the way of an evil person. This interpretation fits the context of the descriptions of evil people given in 2:12-17. Alternate translation: [from the way of an evil person]; (2) a way that is characterized by evil. Alternate translation: [from any evil way]

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:12 (#2)

לְהַצִּילָךְ

“to rescue you”

Here Solomon speaks of “discretion” and “understanding” as if they were people who could rescue someone. He means that people who have “discretion” and “understanding” will keep themselves away from harm. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to keep you away]

See: Personification

Proverbs 2:12 (#3)

לְהַצִּילָךְ

“to rescue you”

Here, to indicates that what follows is the purpose for “discretion” and “understanding” protecting a person, as stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a purpose. Alternate translation: [Discretion and understanding will protect you for the purpose of rescuing you]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 2:12 (#7)

מִיָּמֵאִישׁ

“from a man”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and to rescue you from a man]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:12 (#8)

מִיָּמֵאִישׁ

“from a man”

The word man here represents a type of person in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [from any person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 2:12 (#1)

לְהַצִּילֶךָ מִדֶּדֶרֶךְ רָעָה מִמְּאֵאִישׁ מְדַבֵּר תַּהֲפֻכּוֹת

“to rescue you from the way of evil, from a man speaking perversions”

2:11–17 are one long sentence. If you divide these verses into multiple sentences then you may need to repeat some phrases in order to make the meaning clear, as the UST does.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 2:13 (#1)

הַהֹעֲזִיבִים

“the ones who forsake”

See how you translated the same use of forsake in 1:8.

See: Personification

Proverbs 2:13 (#2)

אֲרֻחָתוֹת יָשָׁר

“the paths of straightness”

Here, the paths of straightness refers to behaving in a right manner. The word paths refers to human behavior, and straightness refers to being righteous. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [doing what is right] or [acting rightly]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:13 (#4)

לְלֵלֶכֶת בְּדֶרֶךְ־חֹשֶׁךְ

“to walk in the ways of darkness”

This phrase refers to behaving in an evil manner. The biblical authors often use walk to refer to how someone behaves and they use darkness to refer to evil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to do what is evil] or [to behave in an evil manner]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 2:13 (#3)

לְלֵלֶכֶת

“to walk”

Here, to introduces the purpose for forsaking the paths of straightness. Use a natural way in your language to indicate purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of walking]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 2:14 (#1)

רָעָה & רָעָה

“evil & evil”

See how you translated the abstract noun evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:14 (#2)

בְּתַהֲפֻכּוֹת רָעָה

“in perverse things of evil”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe perverse things that are characterized by evil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [evil perverse things]

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:15 (#1)

אֲשֶׁשָׁר אֲרֻחָתֵיהֶם עֲקֻשִׁים וְיִלְוִזִּים בְּמַעְגְּלֹתָם

“whose paths {are} crooked and going astray in their tracks”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [whose paths are crooked, yes, who go astray in their tracks]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:15 (#2)

אֲרֻחָתֵיהֶם עֲקֻשִׁים וְיִלְוִזִּים בְּמַעְגְּלֹתָם

“paths {are} crooked and going astray in their tracks”

Here Solomon refers to people’s wrong behavior as if they were walking on the wrong paths and tracks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [behavior is dishonest and who do things to deceive others]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:16 (#1)

לְהַצִּילֶךָ

“to rescue you”

Here, to indicates that what follows is another purpose for “discretion” and “understanding” guarding a person, as stated in the 2:11. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a purpose. If you divided up the long sentence in 2:11–17 into shorter sentences, then here, beginning a new sentence, you will need to repeat some information from 2:11. Alternate translation: [Discretion and understanding will guard you for the additional purpose of rescuing you]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 2:16 (#5)

אֲמַרְיָהּ הַחֲלִיקָהּ

“who makes her sayings smooth”

Here Solomon speaks of this woman speaking seductively as if she were making what she says smooth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who makes her sayings seductive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:16 (#3)

מֵאִשָּׁשָׁה זָרָה מִמְּנֻכְרִיָּה

“from a strange woman, from a foreign woman”

Solomon is speaking of any women who do these things, not of one particular woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [from any strange woman, from any foreign woman]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 2:16 (#4)

מִמְּנֻכְרִיָּה

“from a foreign woman”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language.

Alternate translation: [and to rescue you from a foreign woman]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:16 (#2)

מֵאִשָּׁשָׁה זָרָה מִמְּנֻכְרִיָּה

“from a strange woman, from a foreign woman”

Here Solomon refers to an immoral and adulterous woman as if she were a stranger or foreigner. The woman is strange or foreign not because she is from a different ethnic group, but because she belongs to another man; she is a stranger to the son’s own marriage. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:17 (#5)

בְּרִית אֱלֹהֶיהָ

“the covenant of her God”

Here, covenant refers specifically to the covenant that a man and woman made with each other and God when they married. This covenant included promising not to commit adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the covenant that she made with her God when she married her husband]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 2:17 (#4)

בְּרִית אֱלֹהֶיהָ

“the covenant of her God”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the covenant that this woman made with her God. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the covenant that she made with her God]

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:17 (#1)

אֶלְיוֹן

“the companion of”

Here, companion refers to the husband of the adulterous woman mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the husband of]

Proverbs 2:17 (#2)

אֶלְלוּיָהּ נַעֲוָרֶיהָ

“the companion of her youth”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the companion whom this woman married while she was in her youth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the companion whom she married in her youth]

See: Possession

Proverbs 2:17 (#3)

נַעֲוָרֶיהָ

“her youth”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of youth, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [the time when she was young]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 2:18 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is the reason why “discretion” and “understanding” rescue a man from an adulterous woman, as stated in 2:16. Use the most natural way in your language to state a reason. Alternate translation: [Discretion and understanding will rescue you from her because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:18 (#7)

רָפְאִים

“the spirits of dead ones”

Here, the spirits of dead ones refers to the place where people’s spirits go when they die, which was called “Sheol” in 1:12. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the place where the spirits of dead people dwell] or [the place of the dead]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 2:18 (#5)

וְאֶל-רָפְאִים מַעְגְּלֶיהָ

“and her tracks, to the spirits of dead ones”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. If necessary, you could supply these words from the previous clause. Alternate translation: [and her tracks sink down to the spirits of the dead] or [and her tracks lead to the spirits of the dead]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 2:18 (#2)

שָׁשָׁה אֶל-מָמוֹת בֵּיתָהּ וְאֶל-רָפְאִים מַעְגְּלֶיהָ

“her house sinks down to death and her tracks, to the spirits of dead ones”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [involvement with her will totally destroy you]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:18 (#3)

שָׁשָׁה & בֵּיתָהּ

“her house sinks down”

Here, her house represents the woman herself and her activities. Alternate translation: [being involved with her takes you down]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 2:18 (#4)

שָׁשָׁה אֶל-מָמוֹת

“sinks down to death”

Here Solomon speaks of death as a place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [results in a man dying] or [is a way to die]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:18 (#6)

מַעְגְּלֶיהָ

“her tracks”

Here, Solomon speaks of the activities that a man would participate in with this woman as her tracks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [becoming involved with her]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:19 (#1)

כְּבִיאָהּ

“those who enter her”

Here, enter refers to someone having sex with another person. This is a polite way of referring to something that is offensive or embarrassing in some cultures. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different polite way of referring to this act or you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [those who have sex with her] or [those who sleep with her]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 2:19 (#2)

לֹא יָשׁוּבִינִי

“will not return”

Here, Solomon refers to being restored to a righteous life as a return from the path that leads to death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will never again have a righteous life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:19 (#3)

וְלֹא-יִשְׁשִׁיגוּ אֶרְחֻתֹתַי חַיִּים

“and they will not reach the paths of life”

Solomon speaks of living in God’s way that leads to life with him as the paths of life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he will never again live happily as God desires]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:20 (#2)

תִּתְּלֶךְ בְּדֶרֶךְ טוֹבִים וְאֶרְחֻת צְדִיקִים תִּשְׁמֹר

“you shall walk in the way of the good ones and the paths of the righteous ones you shall keep”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [you shall walk in the way of the good ones, yes, keep the path of the righteous ones]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:20 (#1)

לְמַעַן

“So”

So here indicates that what follows is the result of what was stated in 2:11–19 as being true. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [Because this is true,]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:20 (#3)

תִּתְּלֶךְ בְּדֶרֶךְ טוֹבִים וְאֶרְחֻת צְדִיקִים תִּשְׁמֹר

“you shall walk in the way of the good ones and the paths of the righteous ones you shall keep”

Solomon is using a future statement to give an instruction or command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words using a command or instruction form. Alternate translation: [walk in the way of the good ones and keep the paths of the righteous ones]

See: Statements — Other Uses

Proverbs 2:20 (#4)

תִּתְּלֶךְ בְּדֶרֶךְ & וְאֶרְחֻת

“you shall walk in the way of & and the paths of”

Solomon is speaking of how people behave or live their lives as walking along a certain way or staying on certain paths. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you shall behave like ... and the behaviors of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:21 (#3)

יִשְׁכְּנוּ אֶרֶץ & יִנָּתְרוּ בָּהּ

“will dwell {in} the land & will remain in it”

Here, the land and it could refer to: (1) the land of Israel, which God had given to the Jewish people and which Solomon was ruling over when he wrote these proverbs. Alternate translation: [will dwell in the land of Israel ... will remain in Israel] or [will dwell in our land ... will remain in our land]; (2) the earth in general, in which case this would refer to staying alive. Alternate translation: [will dwell on the earth ... will remain alive on the earth]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 2:21 (#2)

יְשָׁרִים יִשְׁכְּנוּ אֶרֶץ וְתַמִּימִים יֵנָתְרוּ בָּהּ

“the upright will dwell {in} the land, and the blameless will remain in it”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [the blameless, upright ones will remain to dwell in the land]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 2:21 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows in 2:21-22 is the reason for what was stated in 2:11-20. Use an expression for this that is natural in your language. See how you translated a similar use of For in 1:32. Alternate translation: [Do this, because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 2:21 (#4)

וְתַמִּימִים

“and the blameless”

Here, the blameless refers to people who do what is right. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and the people who do what is right]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 2:22 (#5)

מֵאֶרֶץ & מִמֶּנָּה

“from the land & from it”

See how you translated the land and it in the previous verse.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 2:22 (#4)

יִכְרְתוּ & יִסְחָחוּ

“will be cut off & will be torn away”

Solomon speaks of Yahweh removing people from the land as if he were cutting those people off, like a person cuts a branch from a tree, or as if he were tearing those people away, like a person violently pulls someone off of something. Solomon does not state if these people are removed by being killed or by being forced to leave the land, so it is best to use general expressions for these phrases. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be removed ... will be taken away]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 2:22 (#1)

וְרָשָׁעִים

“but wicked ones”

Here, but indicates a strong contrast between the wicked and treacherous people in this verse and the “upright” and “blameless” people, who were mentioned in the previous verse. See how you translated a similar strong contrast in 1:33.

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 2:22 (#3)

יִכְרְתוּ & יִסְחָחוּ

“will be cut off & will be torn away”

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context indicates that Yahweh will do the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will cut off ... Yahweh will tear away]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 2:22 (#2)

וְרָשָׁעִים מֵאֶרֶץ יִכְרְתוּ וְיִסְחָחוּ מִמֶּנָּה

“but wicked ones will be cut off from the land, and treacherous ones will be torn away from it”

These two phrases mean similar things. The author is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [but wicked ones will be cut off from the land, yes, all the treacherous ones will be torn away from it]

Proverbs - Chapter 3 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Benefits of wisdom * Humbly trust Yahweh (3:1-12) * The value of wisdom (3:13-20) * Do not act wickedly (3:21-35)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

My Son

Occasionally, Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” While some of these proverbs are about common temptations of young men, the proverbs in this chapter apply more generally to people and their relationships with others.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Personification

In 3:15-18, wisdom is referred to as if it were a woman. In languages where it makes sense for a woman figure to represent an abstract concept like wisdom, the translator can translate the personification directly. However, if direct translation does not work in your language, consider translating these personifications as similes instead. In that case, wisdom would be presented as being like a wise woman. (See: Personification)

Proverbs 3:1 (#1)

בְּנִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 3:1 (#5)

וּמִצְוֹתַי

“and my commandments”

See how you translated the abstract noun commandments in 2:1.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:1 (#6)

יִצְעֹר לְבָבְךָ

“let your heart guard”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 3:1 (#4)

תּוֹרָתִי

“my law”

Here, the word law is singular in form, but it refers to several laws as a group. See how you translated this use of law in 1:8.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 3:1 (#3)

אַל-תִּשְׁכַּח

“do not forget”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning positively, as in the UST.

See: Litotes

Proverbs 3:1 (#7)

יִצְעֹר לְבָבְךָ

“let your heart guard”

Here Solomon speaks of a person’s heart as if it were a person who could guard something, and he speaks of commandments as if they were things that could be guarded. He means that he wants his son to remember these commandments in order to obey them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [remember to obey]

See: Personification

Proverbs 3:1 (#2)

תּוֹרָתִי אַל-תִּשְׁכַּח וּמִצְוֹתַי יִצְעֹר לְבָבְךָ

“do not forget my law, and my commandments let your heart guard”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [do not forget my law, yes, my commandments let your heart guard]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:2 (#3)

אֶתְּךָ יָמִים

“length of days”

Here, length of days is an idiom that means “a long life.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a long life]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 3:2 (#4)

וְשָׁנֹת חַיִּים

“and years of life”

Here, years of life is an idiom that means “a long and fulfilling life.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a fulfilling life] or [and years of fulfilling life]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 3:2 (#7)

יוֹסִיפוּ לְךָ

“they will add to you”

Here Solomon speaks of his commandments as if they could add length to a person’s life. He means that obeying his commandments will enable a person to live a long life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [obeying them will add to you] or [by obeying them you will add to yourself]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:2 (#6)

יוֹסִיפוּ

“they will add”

Here, the pronoun they refers to the law and commandments mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [my law and commandments will add]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 3:2 (#5)

וְשָׁלָוָם

“and peace”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of peace, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and a peaceful life]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:2 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Remember my commandments because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:2 (#2)

אֶתְּךָ יָמִים וְשָׁנֹת חַיִּים וְשָׁלָוָם יוֹסִיפוּ לְךָ

“length of days and years of life and peace, they will add to you”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could change the order of these phrases. Alternate translation: [they will add to you length of days and years of life and peace]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 3:3 (#6)

כָּתוּבֵם עַל-לִבָּיְךָ

“write them on the tablet of your heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 3:3 (#2)

חֶסֶד וְאֱמֻנָה אֵל-יַעֲזֹבְכָהּ

“Do not let covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness leave you”

Here Solomon speaks of covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness as if they were people who could leave someone. He means that a person should not stop being faithful and trustworthy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not stop being faithful and trustworthy]

See: Personification

Proverbs 3:3 (#5)

קשרם על גרוֹתֶיךָ

“tie them on your neck”

Here Solomon speaks of covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness as if they were objects that a person could tie around his neck like a necklace. He means that these are valuable qualities that people should display outwardly by their behavior. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [show them outwardly by how you behave] or [display them like one would wear a necklace]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:3 (#7)

כְּתִיבֵם עַל־לִבְּךָ לִבְךָ

“write them on the tablet of your heart”

Here Solomon speaks of the heart as if it were a tablet upon which someone could write covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness. He means that people should always remember to behave with covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [keep these things in your mind] or [always remember them, as if you had written them permanently on a tablet]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:3 (#4)

הַחֶסֶד וְהֶאֱמָנָה

“covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [being faithful and trustworthy]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:3 (#1)

הַחֶסֶד וְהֶאֱמָנָה אֵלֶי־עֲזֹבְכֶךָ קִשְׁרָם עַל־גְּרוֹתֶיךָ כְּתִיבֵם עַל־לִבְּךָ לִבְךָ

“Do not let covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness leave you; tie them on your neck, write them on the tablet of your heart”

These three clauses mean basically the same thing. The second and third clauses emphasize the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use a word that shows the connection between these three clauses. Alternate translation: [Do not let covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness leave you, yes, bind them on your throats, indeed, write them on the tablet of your heart]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:3 (#3)

הַחֶסֶד וְהֶאֱמָנָה אֵלֶי־עֲזֹבְכֶךָ

“Do not let covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness leave you”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word leave. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [Retain covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness]

See: Double Negatives

Proverbs 3:4 (#3)

וּמִצָּא־חַן וְשִׂכְל־טוֹב

“and find favor and good insight”

Here Solomon speaks of favor and good insight as if they were objects that a person could find. He means that God and man will show favor and good insight to the person who does what Solomon commanded in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you will experience favor and good insight]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:4 (#4)

בְּעֵינֶיךָ

“in the eyes of”

Here, eyes refers to seeing, and seeing is a metaphor for knowledge, notice, attention, or judgment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the judgment of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:4 (#1)

וּמִצָּא־חַן

“and find favor”

Here the word and introduces the result of obeying the commands stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do these things, then you will find favor] or [This will result in you finding favor]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:4 (#5)

וְאָדָם

“and man”

Solomon is speaking of people in general, not of one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, use a more natural phrase. Alternate translation: [and others]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 3:4 (#2)

וּמְצָא

“and find”

The word translated find is an imperative, but it communicates a good result rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a good result. Alternate translation: [and then you will get]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 3:5 (#1)

לְבָבְךָ

“your heart”

See how you translated heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 3:5 (#3)

בְּבִינְתְּךָ

“your understanding”

See how you translated the abstract noun understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:5 (#2)

וְאַל-בְּבִינְתְּךָ אֶל-תִּשָּׁעַן

“and on your understanding do not lean”

Here Solomon speaks of relying on one’s own understanding as if understanding were an object on which a person could lean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly.

Alternate translation: [do not rely on your own understanding]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:6 (#4)

וַיְשַׁשׁ אֶרְחֻמִּי

“and he himself will straighten your paths”

Here Solomon speaks of Yahweh showing people what they should do as if Yahweh were removing obstacles and smoothing out paths that people walk on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he himself will make clear to you what you should do] or [and he himself will guide your actions]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:6 (#1)

בְּכָל-דֶּרֶךְ כְּגִיד & אֶרְחֻמִּי

“In all your ways & your paths”

Here Solomon speaks of a person’s actions as if they were ways or paths on which that person walks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In all that you do ... how you live]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:6 (#3)

וַיְשַׁשׁ אֶרְחֻמִּי

“and he himself will straighten”

For emphasis, Solomon is explicitly stating a pronoun even though the meaning he is already there. If your language can state implied pronouns explicitly for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. Other languages may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. The ULT does so by using the intensive pronoun himself. Alternate translation: [he indeed will straighten]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 3:6 (#2)

וַיְשַׁשׁ אֶרְחֻמִּי

“and he himself will straighten”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the commands stated in the previous verse and the beginning of this verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do these things, then he himself will straighten] or [This will result in he himself straightening]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:7 (#4)

מִרָע

“from evil”

See how you translated the abstract noun evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:7 (#1)

בְּעֵינַיִךְ

“in your eyes”

Here Solomon speaks of a person’s opinion as if that person were seeing something with his eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in your own opinion]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:7 (#3)

וְסָסִיר מִרָע

“and turn away from evil”

Here Solomon speaks of refusing to do evil actions as if a person were turning away from evil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and do not commit evil acts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:7 (#2)

יִרְאָה אֶת-יְהוָה וְסָסִיר מִרָע

“fear Yahweh and turn away from evil”

This clause is a strong contrast with the previous clause. While the previous clause said what a person should not do, this clause says what that person should do instead. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Rather, fear Yahweh and turn from evil]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 3:8 (#3)

לְשָׂקֶיךָ & לְעַצְמוֹתֶיךָ

“for your navel & for your bones”

Solomon is using parts of a person, the navel and bones, to represent a person’s whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for your body ... for your whole body]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 3:8 (#1)

וְרַפְאוֹת תִּהְיֶה לְשָׂרְךָ וְלְשָׂקֶיךָ לְעַצְמוֹתֶיךָ

“It will be healing for your navel and refreshment for your bones”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [It will be healing for your navel, yes, refreshment for your bones]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:8 (#2)

תִּהְיֶה

“It will be”

The pronoun It here refers to following the commands that Solomon stated in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Obeying these commands will be]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 3:8 (#4)

וְלְשָׂקֶיךָ לְעַצְמוֹתֶיךָ

“and refreshment for your bones”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and it will be refreshment for your bones]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 3:8 (#5)

וְלְשָׂקֶיךָ לְעַצְמוֹתֶיךָ

“and refreshment for your bones”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of refreshment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and will cause your bones to be refreshed]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:9 (#1)

מהונגגד ואמראששית כל־תבואתך

“from your wealth and from the first of all your produce”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [by giving from your wealth and by giving from the first of all your produce]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 3:9 (#2)

ואמראששית

“and from the first of”

Here, first refers to the first crops that were harvested at harvest time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and from the first crops harvested of]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 3:10 (#5)

ואתירוש יקבצו יפלצו

“and with new wine, your wine vats will burst open”

The word vats refers to large containers in which the juice of grapes called new wine was processed into wine. If a very large amount of new wine was put in the vat, it could flow out and spill over the top of the vat. If your readers would not be familiar with wine or the way it is produced, you could refer to something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [and your storage containers for juice will become so extremely full that they break open]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 3:10 (#3)

אסממך

“your storehouses”

The word storehouses refers to buildings or rooms where crops are stored after farmers have harvested them. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of storage place, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [your barns] or [your place for storing harvested crops]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 3:10 (#2)

וימלאו אסממך שבע

“and your storehouses will be filled with abundance”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and your store houses will become abundantly full] or [and Yahweh will abundantly fill your storehouses]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 3:10 (#4)

שבע

“abundance”

Here, abundance refers to a plentiful amount of harvested crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a plentiful amount of harvested crops]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 3:10 (#1)

וימלאו אסממך שבע

“and your storehouses will be filled with abundance”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the command stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do these things, then your storehouses will be filled with plenty] or [This will result in your storehouses being abundantly full]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:11 (#2)

בני

“my son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 3:11 (#1)

מוסר & בתוכחתו

“The correction of & his rebuke”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of correction and rebuke, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Being corrected by ... being rebuked by him]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:12 (#4)

את־בִּנְיָ

“a son”

See how you translated the same use of son in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 3:12 (#3)

את־בִּנְיָ יִרְצֶה

“a son in whom he delights”

The phrase in whom he delights refers to the father’s affection for his son. It does not mean that the father approves of his son’s behavior. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a son for whom he has great affection]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 3:12 (#2)

וְכַאֲבִיבֵן יִרְצֶה

“and like a father, a son in whom he delights”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and like a father, he disciplines a son in whom he delights]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 3:12 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here introduces the reason for obeying the commands stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate reasons. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Do not do these things, because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:13 (#5)

חִכְמָה & תְּבוּנָה

“wisdom & understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:13 (#1)

אֲשֶׁר־יֵאָדָם מִצָּצָא חִכְמָה וְיֵאָדָם יִפְסִיק תְּבוּנָה

“Happy {is} a man who finds wisdom and a man who obtains understanding”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Happy is a man who finds wisdom, yes, happy is a man who obtains understanding]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:13 (#3)

מִצָּצָא חִכְמָה

“who finds wisdom”

Here Solomon speaks of attaining wisdom as if it were an object that a person finds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who attains wisdom]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:13 (#2)

אָדָם & יֵאָדָם

“is} a man & a man”

In this verse, a man represents a person in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [is a person ... and a person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 3:13 (#4)

וְאִשָּׁר יִפְתֹּחַ תְּבוּנָה

“and a man who obtains understanding”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and happy is a man who obtains understanding]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 3:14 (#5)

סֶחָרָה מִסֶּחֶר-כֶּכֶסֶף

“is} its profit than the profit of silver”

Although the word profit usually refers to money that someone earns, Solomon uses it here to refer to a benefit in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is its benefit than the benefit of silver]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:14 (#2)

טוֹב סֶחָרָה מִסֶּחֶר-כֶּכֶסֶף וְאִמְחָרָיוֹן תְּבוּאָתָהּ

“better {is} its profit than the profit of silver, and than gold, its produce”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [better {is} its profit than the profit of silver, yes, better than the produce of gold is its produce]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:14 (#7)

וְאִמְחָרָיוֹן תְּבוּאָתָהּ

“and than gold, its produce”

Although the word produce usually refers to harvested crops, Solomon uses it here to refer to a benefit in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and than gold, its benefit]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:14 (#4)

סֶחָרָה & תְּבוּאָתָהּ

“is} its profit & its produce”

In this verse, its refers to wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is wisdom’s profit ... wisdom’s produce]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 3:14 (#3)

וְאִמְחָרָיוֹן תְּבוּאָתָהּ

“and than gold, its produce”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and better than the produce of gold is its produce]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 3:14 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is the reason what was stated in the previous verse is true. Use the most natural way in your language to state a reason. Alternate translation: [This is due to the fact that]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:14 (#6)

מִסֶּחֶר-כֶּכֶסֶף

“than the profit of silver”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the profit or wealth that one gains by having silver. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [than the benefit one gets from having silver]

See: Possession

Proverbs 3:15 (#2)

יִקְרָהּ & מִפְּנִינִים

“is more precious than coral pearls”

The word translated coral pearls could also refer to precious stones called “rubies.” Either word refers to an item that is extremely valuable. If your readers would not be familiar with coral pearls or rubies, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [is more precious than valuable stones] or [is more precious than something that is extremely valuable]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 3:15 (#1)

הָרִיאָהּ & בָּהּ

“She & with her”

In 3:15–18 Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this in the Chapter Introduction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [It ... with it]

See: Personification

Proverbs 3:16 (#1)

אֶרְךְּ יָמִים

“Length of days”

See how you translated this idiom in 3:2.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 3:16 (#3)

בְּיָמֶיהָ בְּבִשְׁמֹאלָהּ עָשָׂה

Here Solomon speaks of wise people receiving length of days, riches, and honor as if they were objects received from the right and left hands of wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is received by those who have wisdom; those who have wisdom receive riches]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:16 (#2)

בְּיָמֶיהָ בְּבִשְׁמֹאלָהּ

In this verse, her refers to wisdom as if it were a woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is in wisdom’s right hand; in wisdom’s left hand]

See: Personification

Proverbs 3:16 (#4)

וְכָבוֹד

“and honor”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of honor, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and being honored]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:17 (#4)

דְּרָכֵי־נֶגְעָם

“are} ways of pleasantness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe ways that result in pleasantness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [are ways that lead to pleasantness]

See: Possession

Proverbs 3:17 (#3)

דְּרָכֶיהָ דְּרָכֵי & נְתִיבוֹתֶיהָ שְׁלוֹם

“Her ways {are} ways of & her paths {are} peace”

In this verse, ways and paths refer to how being wise guides a person’s behavior. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Wise behavior is behavior of ... wise behavior brings peace]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:17 (#2)

דְּרָכֶיהָ & נְתִיבוֹתֶיהָ

“Her ways & her paths”

Her and her here refer to wisdom as if it were a woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Wisdom’s ways ... wisdom’s paths]

See: Personification

Proverbs 3:17 (#1)

דְּרָכֶיהָ דְּרָכֵי־נֶגְעָם וְכָל־נְתִיבוֹתֶיהָ שְׁלוֹם

“Her ways {are} ways of pleasantness, and all her paths {are} peace”

These two phrases mean similar things. Solomon is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [Her way of life is one of peaceful pleasantness]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 3:17 (#5)

שְׁלוֹם

“are} peace”

Here Solomon implies that peace is the result of following wisdom’s paths. Use a natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [lead to being peaceful] or [result in living peacefully]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:17 (#6)

שְׁלוֹם

“are} peace”

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:18 (#4)

לַמְחַזְּקִים בָּבִיא וְהַמְכַכִּיָּה

“to the ones who take hold of her, and those who grasp her”

Here Solomon refers to people who persist in being wise as if they take hold of or grasp wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the ones who obtain wisdom, and those who hold on to wisdom]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:18 (#3)

עֵץ-חַיִּים & לַמְחַזְּקִים בָּבִיא

“is} a tree of life to the ones who take hold of her”

Here Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a tree that gives life to those who eat its fruit. He means that wisdom causes a person to live a long and happy life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [results in a good life for the ones who take hold of her] or [is like a tree that sustains the lives of the ones who take hold of her]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:18 (#2)

עֵץ-חַיִּים

“is} a tree of life”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a tree with fruit that sustains life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is a tree that gives life] or [is a tree with fruit that sustains life]

See: Possession

Proverbs 3:18 (#1)

הִיא & בָּבִיא וְהַמְכַכִּיָּה

“She & of her, and those who grasp her”

She and her here refer to wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Wisdom ... of wisdom, and those who grasp wisdom]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 3:19 (#2)

תוֹעֲבַת יְהוָה

“an abomination to Yahweh”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of abomination, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [an abominable person to Yahweh]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 3:32 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the command in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do not do these things because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 3:33 (#2)

בְּבֵיית

“is} on the house of”

Solomon speaks of the curse of Yahweh as if it were an object that he placed on top of the wicked person’s house. He means that Yahweh curses that house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is against the house of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:33 (#1)

מֵאֲרֵצַת יְהוָה

“The curse of Yahweh”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a curse that comes from Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The curse from Yahweh]

See: Possession

Proverbs 3:33 (#3)

בְּבֵיית & וְנִוָּה & יְבָרַךְ

“is} on the house of & but he blesses the abode of”

Here, the words house and abode represent the families who live in those houses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly.

Alternate translation: [is on the households of ... but he blesses the households of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 3:33 (#4)

רָשָׁעַ

“a wicked {one}”

Here, the wicked one refers to wicked people in general, not a specific wicked person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any wicked person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 3:34 (#2)

יִתְּנוּ

“he gives favor”

The writer speaks of Yahweh favoring people as if his favor were an object that he gives to people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he acts favorably] or [he gives grace]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:34 (#1)

הוֹאֵלֵלִין

“he himself mocks”

Here, the pronoun himself is added to he to give greater emphasis to this action of Yahweh. Use a natural way in your language for bringing out this emphasis. Alternate translation: [he indeed mocks]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 3:35 (#1)

יִתְּחַלּוּ

“will inherit”

Here Solomon speaks of wise people receiving honor as if honor were property or wealth that they could inherit from a family member. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will receive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:35 (#3)

מְרִים

“lift up”

Here Solomon speaks of stupid people being dishonored as if their dishonor was lifted up for everyone to see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will receive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:35 (#2)

כְּבוֹד & יְהַחֲלוּ

“will inherit honor”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of honor, you could express the same idea in another way. See how you translated honor in 3:16. Alternate translation: [will be honored] or [will be respected]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 3:35 (#4)

מְרִים קִלּוֹן

“lift up dishonor”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of dishonor, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [will be dishonored] or [will be shamed]

Proverbs - Chapter 4 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Live wisely and do what is right * Wisdom will benefit you (4:1–9) * Behave wisely and avoid those who do not (4:10–19) * Live righteously (4:20–27)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

My son

Occasionally, Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” This does not mean that those proverbs only apply to males. Instead, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son, and the kind of advice in these proverbs is about common temptations of young men.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Personification

In 4:6–9, Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a person, specifically, as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this issue in the book introduction.

Proverbs 4:1 (#3)

מְיוֹסֵר & בִּינָה

“the instruction of & understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns instruction and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 4:1 (#1)

שָׁמַעַנִי

“Hear”

See how you translated Hear in 1:8.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 4:1 (#4)

אָאָב

“a father”

Here Solomon is speaking about himself in the third person. If this would not be natural in your language, you could use the first person form. Alternate translation: [me, your father]

See: First, Second or Third Person

Proverbs 4:1 (#2)

בָּרָנִים

“sons”

Although the term sons is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that could refer to both male and female children. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [young people]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 4:2 (#2)

לְכֶם

“to you”

Here, you is plural and refers to the “sons” referred to in the previous verse.

See: Forms of You

Proverbs 4:2 (#5)

תְּתוֹרַתִּי

“my law”

See how you translated the collective noun law in 1:8.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 4:2 (#3)

תְּתוֹרַתִּי אֶל-תַּעֲזֹבוּ

“do not forsake my law”

This clause is the result of what came before in the previous clause. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [this is why you must not forsake my law]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:2 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Hear these instructions because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:2 (#4)

אֶל-תַּעֲזֹבוּ

“do not forsake”

See how you translated this phrase in 1:8.

See: Litotes

Proverbs 4:3 (#1)

כִּי-בָנִי הָיִיתִי לְאָבִי

“When I was a son of my father”

When here indicates that what follows refers to the time when Solomon was a child and still lived under his father’s care. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [When I was still a boy learning from my father]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 4:3 (#4)

לְפָנַי אִמִּי

“to the face of my mother”

Here Solomon speaks of his mother considering him to be the tender and only one as if he were before her face. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [according to my mother] or [in my mother's estimation]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:3 (#3)

וְיָחִיד

“and only one”

Here, only one could mean: (1) he was his mother's only child. Alternate translation: [and only child]; (2) he was a unique child of his mother. Alternate translation: [and unique one]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 4:3 (#2)

רַכֵּךְ וְיָחִיד

“the tender and only one”

This phrase expresses a single idea by using two words connected with and. The word tender tells what the only one was like. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express this meaning with an equivalent phrase that does not use and. Alternate translation: [the tender only one]

See: Hendiadys

Proverbs 4:4 (#1)

וַיְרַנֵּי

“then he taught me”

Here, he refers to Solomon's father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly, as in the UST.

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:4 (#2)

לִבְךָ

“your heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 4:4 (#5)

מִצְוֹתַי

“my commandments”

See how you translated the abstract noun commandments in 2:1.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 4:4 (#4)

דְּבָרַי

“my words”

See how you translated the similar use of my words in 1:23.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 4:4 (#3)

יִתְמַךְ & לִבְךָ

“Let your heart grasp”

Here Solomon speaks of remembering words as if the heart were holding on tightly to them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Let your heart remember]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:4 (#6)

וְחָיָה

“and live”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the command stated in the previous phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [and it will result in life for you]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:5 (#1)

הַחֲכָמָה & בִּינָה

“wisdom & understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 4:5 (#2)

אֶל־תִּשְׁכַּח וְאֶל־תִּתְּנֵט מֵאִמְרֵי־פִי

“do not forget and do not veer from the sayings of my mouth”

Here, the phrases do not forget and do not veer from are figures of speech that express strongly positive meanings by using a negative word, not, together with expressions that are the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meanings. Alternate translation: [remember and keep going in the direction of the sayings of my mouth]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 4:5 (#3)

אַל-תִּשְׁכַּח וְאַל-תִּפְּלוֹט מֵאִמְרֵי-פִי

“do not forget and do not veer from the sayings of my mouth”

Here Solomon speaks of not forgetting something as if a person were not veering off of a path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [remember and keep obeying the sayings of my mouth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:5 (#4)

מֵאִמְרֵי-פִי

“from the sayings of my mouth”

Here, mouth represents Solomon’s father himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from my sayings]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 4:6 (#1)

אַל-תִּעְזֹבֶנָּה

“Do not forsake her”

See how you translated Do not forsake in 1:8.

See: Litotes

Proverbs 4:6 (#3)

אַל-תִּעְזֹבֶנָּה וְתִשְׁמְרֶנָּה אֶהְיֶה וְתִצְרֶנָּה

“Do not forsake her, and she will preserve you; love her, and she will guard you”

In 4:6–9 Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this in the Chapter Introduction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly as in the UST or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Do not forsake wisdom, and wisdom will be like a woman who preserves you; love wisdom, and wisdom will be like a woman who guards you]

See: Personification

Proverbs 4:6 (#2)

וְתִשְׁמְרֶנָּה & וְתִצְרֶנָּה

“and she will preserve you & and she will guard you”

Both occurrences of and in this verse indicate that what follows are the results of the phrases that precede them. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. Alternate translation: [and it will result in her preserving you ... and it will result in her guarding you]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:7 (#2)

קִנְיָה חִכְמָה & קִנְיָה בִינָה

“Acquire wisdom & acquire understanding”

See how you translated these phrases in 4:5.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 4:7 (#3)

וּבְכָל-קִלְקִלְיָיִךָ

“And with all your acquisition”

The word acquisition here is singular in form, but it refers to all of a person’s possessions as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [And with all your acquisitions] or [And with everything that you acquire]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 4:7 (#1)

רִאשִׁית הַחִכְמָה

“Wisdom {is} first”

Here, first could refer to: (1) first in importance, the most important thing. Alternate translation: [the most important thing is wisdom] or [wisdom is supreme]; (2) the foundation or basis of something, as it means in 1:7. Alternate translation: [the foundation of wisdom] or [the prerequisite for acquiring wisdom]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 4:7 (#4)

וּבְכָל-קִלְקִלְיָיִךָ

“And with all your acquisition”

Here, with all your acquisition could mean: (1) “by using all of your resources” Alternate translation: [And by means of everything that you have,]; (2) “along with the other things that you acquire” Alternate translation: [And as you get other things,]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 4:8 (#5)

תחבקנה

“you embrace her”

Here Solomon speaks of someone valuing wisdom as if he were embracing a woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you value wisdom]

See: Personification

Proverbs 4:8 (#3)

ותרוממנה

“and she will raise you up”

Here Solomon speaks of a wise person receiving honor as if wisdom were raising that person up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and she will cause you to be honored]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:8 (#1)

כלסללה ותרוממנה תתכבדך כפי תחבקנה

“Cherish her, and she will raise you up; she will honor you when you embrace her”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this in the Chapter Introduction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Wisdom is like a woman who raises you up when you cherish her; wisdom is like a woman who honors you when you embrace her]

See: Personification

Proverbs 4:8 (#2)

כלסללה ותרוממנה

“Cherish her, and she will raise you up”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the command stated in the previous phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [If you cherish her, then she will raise you up] or [Cherish her, and it will result in her raising you up]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:8 (#4)

תתכבדך

“she will honor you”

Here Solomon speaks of a wise person receiving honor as if wisdom were honoring that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [wisdom will cause people to honor you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:9 (#3)

לניתחן

“a garland of grace”

See how you translated this phrase in 1:9.

See: Possession

Proverbs 4:9 (#1)

תתתן ללראשך לניתחן עטרת תפארת תמגנה

“She will give for your head a garland of grace; {with} a crown of splendor she will cover you”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [She will give for your head a garland of grace; yes, with a crown of splendor she will cover you]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:9 (#4)

עטרת תפארת תמגנה

“{with} a crown of splendor she will cover you”

Here Solomon speaks of the honor that a person will have from gaining wisdom as if wisdom placed a crown upon that person’s head. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [wisdom will cause people to honor you] or [wisdom will be like someone who puts a crown of splendor on your head]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:9 (#5)

עטרת תפארת

“{with} a crown of splendor”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a crown that is characterized by splendor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [with a splendorous crown]

See: Possession

Proverbs 4:9 (#2)

תַּתֵּן לְרֹאשְׁךָ לְיִתְחַן עֲטֹרַת תִּפְאָרֶת תִּמְגֵּן

“She will give for your head a garland of grace; {with} a crown of splendor she will cover you”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of wisdom as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this in the Chapter Introduction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Wisdom will be like a woman who gives a garland of grace for your head; wisdom will be like a woman who covers you with a crown of splendor]

See: Personification

Proverbs 4:10 (#1)

שִׁמְעֵ

“Hear”

See how you translated the same use of Hear in 1:8.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 4:10 (#2)

בְּנִי

“my son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 4:10 (#4)

וַיִּרְבְּבוּ לְלֶדְךָ שָׁנֹת חַיִּים

“and they will multiply for you the years of life”

Here Solomon speaks of his sayings as if they were able to cause someone to live longer. He means that someone who obeys his sayings will live longer than if they did not do so. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and obeying my sayings will multiply for you the years of life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:10 (#5)

שָׁנֹת חַיִּים

“the years of life”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the years that a person lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the years that you are alive]

See: Possession

Proverbs 4:10 (#3)

וַיִּרְבְּבוּ

“and they will multiply”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the commands stated in the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do this, then they will multiply] or [The result will be that they will multiply]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:11 (#4)

הִהָדָרְכָתְיִיד בְּמַעַלְיֵי־יֶשֶׁר

“I caused you to tread in the tracks of uprightness”

Here Solomon refers to how people behave or live their lives as if they tread in the tracks of a certain path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I caused you to behave uprightly]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:11 (#3)

הִהָדָרְכָתְיִיד בְּמַעַלְיֵי־יֶשֶׁר

“I caused you to tread in the tracks of uprightness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe tracks that are characterized by uprightness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [I caused you to tread in the upright tracks]

See: Possession

Proverbs 4:11 (#1)

בְּדֶרֶךְ הַחֲכָמָה

“In the way of wisdom”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a way that is characterized by wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [In the wise way]

See: Possession

Proverbs 4:11 (#2)

בְּדֶרֶךְ הַחֲכָמָה

“In the way of wisdom”

Here, the way refers to how people behave or live their lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In wise behavior,] or [How to behave wisely,]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:12 (#2)

בְּבִלְכָתְךָ לֹא-יִצָּצֵר צִעְדְּךָ וְאִם-תִּתְּרֹץ לֹא תִכָּשֵׁל

“In your walking, your step will not be restricted; and if you run, you will not stumble”

In this verse, Solomon refers to what people do as if they were walking or running along paths, and he refers to their success in what they do as if the paths were free of obstacles that might make the person stumble. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [When you do something, you will not be hindered; and if you attempt big things, you will not fail]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:12 (#1)

בְּבִלְכָתְךָ לֹא-יִצָּצֵר צִעְדְּךָ וְאִם-תִּתְּרֹץ לֹא תִכָּשֵׁל

“In your walking, your step will not be restricted; and if you run, you will not stumble”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [When you walk, your step will not be restricted; yes, if you run, you will not stumble]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:12 (#3)

לֹא-יִצָּצֵר & לֹא תִכָּשֵׁל

“will not be restricted & you will not stumble”

Solomon is using a figure of speech in these two phrases that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will be free ... you will keep going]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 4:13 (#2)

בְּמוֹסָסְךָ

“to instruction”

See how you translated the abstract noun instruction in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 4:13 (#4)

נִצְרָהּ

“guard it”

Here Solomon speaks of instruction as if it were an object that someone should guard. He means that he wants his son to remember to do what he has taught him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar use of guard in 3:21. Alternate translation: [remember to practice it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:13 (#1)

הִחְזַק בְּמוֹסָסְךָ אַל-תִּתְּרֶהּ

“Grasp on to instruction, do not let go”

Here Solomon speaks of a person remembering instruction as if it were an object that the person could grasp and not let go. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated grasp in 3:18. Alternate translation: [Keep on remembering instruction; do not forget it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:13 (#5)

הִיא חַיִּיךָ

“it {is} your life”

Here Solomon speaks of instruction preserving a person's life as if instruction were that person's life itself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it will preserve your life]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 4:13 (#3)

אַל־תִּתְּנֶהּ

“do not let go”

Solomon is using a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative idea let go. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [keep holding on]

See: Double Negatives

Proverbs 4:14 (#2)

בְּאַחֲרֵי & בְּדֶרֶךְ

“On the path of & on the way of”

See how you translated the similar use of “paths” and “ways” in 3:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:14 (#1)

בְּאַחֲרֵי רָשָׁעִים אַל־תִּבְּגָא וְאַל־תִּתְּנֶהּ אֶשְׁשֶׁר בְּדֶרֶךְ רָעִים

“On the path of wicked ones do not go, and do not advance on the way of evil ones”

These two phrases mean similar things. Solomon is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [Do not follow the ways of wicked, evil people]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:15 (#1)

פְּרַעְיָהוּ & בָּבוּ & מַעֲלָלִיו

“Avoid it & it & from it”

In this verse, the pronoun it refers to “the way of evil ones” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Avoid the way of evil ones ... that way ... from that evil way]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:15 (#2)

פְּרַעְיָהוּ אַל־תַּעֲבֹר־בָּבוּ שְׁטֵטָה מַעֲלָלִיו וְעֵבֹר

“Avoid it, do not pass through it; veer from it and pass on”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of behaving wickedly as if wicked behavior were a path that people could pass through, veer from, and pass on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Avoid acting evilly; do not try it; completely avoid doing evil and do not even think about it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:16 (#3)

לֹא יִישְׁנוּ אִם־לֹא יִרְגְּעוּ וְנִגְזְלָה שְׁשֹׁנָתָם אִם־לֹא יִכְשִׁילוּ

“they do not sleep if they do not do evil and their sleep is robbed if they do not cause stumbling”

In this verse, the pronoun they refers to the wicked people mentioned in 4:14. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [wicked ones do not sleep if they do not do evil, and the sleep of wicked ones is robbed if those wicked ones do not cause stumbling]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:16 (#4)

לֹא יִישְׁנוּ אִם־לֹא יִרְגְּעוּ וְנִגְזְלָה שְׁשֹׁנָתָם אִם־לֹא יִכְשִׁילוּ

“they do not sleep if they do not do evil and their sleep is robbed if they do not cause stumbling”

In these two clauses, Solomon exaggerates to express how intensely these wicked people desire to do evil actions. Solomon did not literally mean that these people could not sleep if they had not done evil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [they desire to do evil so much that it is as if they would not be able to sleep unless they did evil]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 4:16 (#7)

אִם־לֹא יִכְשִׁילוּ

“if they do not cause stumbling”

Here Solomon speaks of causing harm to another person as if it were causing that person to stumble. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if they do not harm someone]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:16 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows are reasons why someone should avoid doing evil, as stated in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Avoid acting wickedly because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:16 (#5)

וְנִגְזְלָה שְׁנֵהֶם

“and their sleep is robbed”

Here Solomon is speaking of not being able to sleep as if sleep were an object that someone could rob from someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they are not able to sleep]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:16 (#2)

לֹא יִישְׁנוּ אִם-לֹא יִרְעוּ וְנִגְזְלָה שְׁנֵהֶם אִם-לֹא יִכְשִׁילוּ

“they do not sleep if they do not do evil and their sleep is robbed if they do not cause stumbling”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [they do not sleep if they do not do evil. Indeed, their sleep is robbed if they do not cause stumbling]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:16 (#6)

וְנִגְזְלָה שְׁנֵהֶם

“and their sleep is robbed”

If your language does not use a passive form like is robbed, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and they are not able to sleep]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 4:17 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows are more reasons why someone should avoid doing evil, as commanded in 4:15. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Avoid being one who acts wickedly, because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:17 (#3)

לֶחֶמוֹ לֶלֶם רָרָשׁ וַיֵּין חֲמָסִים יִשְׁתּוּ

“they eat the bread of wickedness and the wine of violent {acts}, they drink”

These two clauses could mean: (1) these wicked people do acts of wickedness and violence as regularly as they eat bread and drink wine. Alternate translation: [wickedness is like the bread that they eat and violence is like the wine that they drink] or (2) these wicked people do acts of wickedness and violence in order to get their bread and wine. Alternate translation: [they eat bread that they obtain by doing wicked things and they drink wine that they obtain through violent acts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:17 (#2)

לֶחֶמוֹ & יִשְׁתּוּ

“they eat & they drink”

In this verse, the pronoun they refers to the wicked people mentioned in 4:14. If it would be clearer in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [wicked ones eat ... wicked ones drink]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:18 (#3)

כְּאֹרֶן בְּנֶגֶד

“is} like the light of brightness”

Here Solomon compares the path of the righteous ones to the light of the sun in the morning. He means that righteous people are safe because they understand what God wants them to do during their lives, just like people can walk safely on a path because the light enables them to see where they are going. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is safe]

See: Simile

Proverbs 4:18 (#1)

וְאַתָּה צַדִּיקִים

“But the path of the righteous ones”

Here, the path could refer to: (1) the things that people experience during their lives. Alternate translation: [But what the righteous ones experience]; (2) how people behave, as it does in 1:15. Alternate translation: [But the lifestyle of the righteous ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:18 (#4)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ וְנִאֲוָר עַד-נִכְכֹּן הַיּוֹם

“going and shining until the day {is} established”

The phrase the day is established refers to the time of day when the sun shines the brightest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [going and shining until the sun shines the brightest] or [going and shining brighter until full daylight]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 4:18 (#2)

כְּאֹרֶן נִגְוָה

“{is} like the light of brightness”

Here, the light of brightness could refer to the first sunlight that appears in the morning. In this case, it would contrast with the full light when the day {is} established. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is like the light of dawn] or [is like the first sunlight in the morning]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 4:18 (#5)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ וְנִאֲוָר עַד-נִכְכֹּן הַיּוֹם

“going and shining until the day {is} established”

Here Solomon continues the comparison of the path of the righteous ones to the light of the sun. Just like the sunlight shines increasingly brighter from sunrise until the middle of the day, so also the righteous ones increase in wisdom and safety as they understand more and more of how God wants them to live. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the path of the righteous leading to more and more wisdom and safety just as the path of the sun leads to more and more light until midday]

See: Simile

Proverbs 4:19 (#1)

דֶּרֶךְ

“The way of”

Here, way has the same meaning as “path” in the previous verse. See how you translated “path” there.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:19 (#2)

כְּאִפְלֵלָה

“{is} like the darkness”

Here Solomon compares the way of the wicked to darkness. He means that the wicked people are always in danger, just like people who walk in darkness are in danger because they cannot see where they are going. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is dangerous]

See: Simile

Proverbs 4:19 (#3)

לֹא יָדְעוּ בְמַה יִּכְשְׁלוּ

“they do not know on what they stumble”

Here Solomon speaks of people experiencing harm as if they were stumbling over an object in the path on which they were walking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they do not know why they experience harm]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:20 (#1)

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 4:20 (#2)

לְדַבְּרֵי הַקִּשְׁשִׁיבָה לְלִאמְרֵי הַטֹּאֲנָה

“listen attentively to my words; incline your ear to my sayings”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [listen attentively to my words, yes, incline your ear to my sayings]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:20 (#4)

הַטֹּאֲנָה

“incline your ear”

The phrase incline your ear is an idiom that refers to listening carefully to what someone is saying as if the listener was turning his ear toward the person speaking. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [listen well]

Proverbs 4:21 (#3)

שְׁשִׁמְרֵם בְּתִתּוֹךְ לִבְכֶּךָ

“keep them in the midst of your heart”

Here Solomon speaks of remembering something as if someone were keeping it in the midst of his heart.

If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [always remember them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:22 (#2)

הֵם לְמַצְאֵיהֶם

“they & to those who find them”

In this verse, the pronouns they and them refer to the “sayings” mentioned in 4:20. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [my sayings ... to those who find my sayings]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:22 (#7)

וְלִכְל־בְּשָׂרוֹ מְרַפָּא

“and healing to all of his flesh”

Here Solomon speaks of his sayings as if they were healing for those who remember them. He means that those who remember what he says will have healthy bodies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they preserve their health] or [and they cause their bodies to stay healthy]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:22 (#4)

לְמַצְאֵיהֶם

“to those who find them”

Here Solomon speaks of people remembering his sayings as if those people have found them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to those who remember them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:22 (#5)

וְלִכְל־בְּשָׂרוֹ מְרַפָּא

“and healing to all of his flesh”

Here Solomon uses the word flesh to refer to a person’s whole body, which is made of flesh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and healing to all of his body]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 4:22 (#6)

בשרו

“his flesh”

Although his is singular, here it refers to all who remember Solomon’s sayings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [their flesh]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 4:22 (#3)

חיים הם למצאיהם

“they {are} life to those who find them”

Here Solomon speaks of his sayings as if they were life for those who obey them. He means that those who do what he says will have good lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [they allow those who find them to have good lives] or [they cause those who find them to live well]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:22 (#1)

כי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows are more reasons why someone should pay attention to the father’s words, as stated in 4:20–21. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Pay attention to my words, because]

לִבְךָ

“your heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 4:23 (#5)

מִמֶּנּוּ

“from it”

Here, it refers to the heart, which refers to a person’s mind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from your heart] or [from your mind]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 4:23 (#6)

מִמֶּנּוּ תוֹצְאוֹת חַיִּים

“from it {are} the sources of life”

Here Solomon speaks of the influence that a person’s heart has over what happens in that person’s life as if the heart supplied sources that produce life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from your heart comes what will direct your life] or [your thinking determines what your life will be like]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:23 (#3)

מִכָּל-מִשְׁמֶרֶת

“more than all {that} is protected”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [more than all that you protect]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 4:23 (#4)

מִכָּל-מִשְׁמֶרֶת

“more than all {that} is protected”

This phrase is an idiom that means “with all diligence.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with utmost diligence]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 4:23 (#1)

נִצְרָה לִבְךָ

“Guard your heart”

Here Solomon refers to the heart as the container of a person’s thoughts and desires, and speaks of it as though it were an object that could be guarded. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Guard your mind] or [Guard your liver] or [Guard your thinking]

Proverbs 4:24 (#3)

הַסֵּסֶר מִמֶּמֶד עֲקֻשָּׁוִית פֶּפֶה וְלִזְזוֹת שְׁשָׁפְתָיִם הִרְחַחֵק מִמֶּךָ׃

“Remove from you perversity of mouth, and the deviousness of lips put far away from you”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of perversity of mouth and the deviousness of lips as if they were objects that someone could Remove or put far away. He means that a person should not speak deceitfully. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not speak perversely and do not speak deviously]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:24 (#2)

הַסֵּסֶר מִמֶּמֶד עֲקֻשָּׁוִית פֶּפֶה וְלִזְזוֹת שְׁשָׁפְתָיִם הִרְחַחֵק מִמֶּךָ׃

“Remove from you perversity of mouth, and the deviousness of lips put far away from you”

The phrases perversity of mouth and deviousness of lips both refer to someone using his mouth or lips to speak deceitfully. If these phrases do not have that meaning in your language, you could use idioms from your language that do have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Remove from you perverse speech, and devious speech put far away from you]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 4:24 (#1)

הַסֵּסֶר מִמֶּמֶד עֲקֻשָּׁוִית פֶּפֶה וְלִזְזוֹת שְׁשָׁפְתָיִם הִרְחַחֵק מִמֶּךָ׃

“Remove from you perversity of mouth, and the deviousness of lips put far away from you”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Remove from you perversity of mouth, yes, the deviousness of lips put far away from you]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 4:25 (#1)

עֲיִנְיֶךָ לִנְנֹכַח יִבְרִיטוּ וְאַעֲפֹפְיֶךָ יִישְׁאֲרוּ נִגְדֶּךָ׃

“Cause your eyes to gaze to the front, and cause your eyelids to be straight in front of you”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Proverbs 4:25 (#2)

עֲיִנְיֶךָ לִנְנֹכַח יִבְרִיטוּ וְאַעֲפֹפְיֶךָ יִישְׁאֲרוּ נִגְדֶּךָ׃

“Cause your eyes to gaze to the front, and cause your eyelids to be straight in front of you”

In this verse, eyes and eyelids represent the person who is looking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Cause yourself to gaze to the front, and cause yourself to look straight in front of you]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 4:25 (#3)

עֲיִנְיֶךָ לִנְנֹכַח יִבְרִיטוּ וְאַעֲפֹפְיֶךָ יִישְׁאֲרוּ נִגְדֶּךָ׃

“Cause your eyes to gaze to the front, and cause your eyelids to be straight in front of you”

In these two clauses, Solomon speaks of committing oneself to behaving wisely and righteously as if those qualities were always in front of the person, and perverse or devious behavior is to the right or left. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Keep your attention on doing what is right, and keep looking straight ahead to doing what is good]

Proverbs 4:26 (#5)

יִכְנוּ

“will be firm”

Here Solomon speaks of person's life being successful as if that person were walking safely on solid ground.

If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be successful]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 4:26 (#2)

מַעֲגֵגֶל רֶגְלֶךָ

“the track of your foot”

Here, the word foot represents the whole person who is walking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your track]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 4:26 (#3)

וְכָל

“and all”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the command stated in the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do this, then all] or [The result will be that all]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 4:26 (#1)

פָּפֹלֶם מַעֲגֵגֶל רֶגְלֶךָ

“Make level the track of your foot”

Here Solomon speaks of being careful how one lives as if someone were making the ground in front of them flat for walking on it. See how you translated the same use of track in 2:9. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Be careful how you live] or [Take heed to what you are doing]

Proverbs 4:27 (#1)

אַל-תֵּט-יָמִינִי וְשִׁמְאֹוֹל

Here Solomon uses right and left to refer to going in any direction other than straight ahead. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not go in any direction other than straight ahead]

See: Merism

Proverbs 4:27 (#2)

אַל-תֵּט-יָמִינִי וְשִׁמְאֹוֹל הַסָּסֶר רֶגְלֶךָ מִרָעָע

In this verse, Solomon continues to talk about how a person behaves as though the person is walking on a path. On this path of right living, the person should “gaze to the front” (verse 25), make the track “level” (verse 26), and not veer or turn away from it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not stop behaving rightly; make yourself avoid doing evil]

Proverbs - Chapter 5 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Avoid temptation to commit adultery (5:1-23) * The dangers of adultery (5:1-14) * The joys of marital fidelity (5:15-20) * Yahweh’s ways are better (5:21-23)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

My son

Occasionally, Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” This does not mean that those proverbs only apply to males. Instead, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son, and the kind of advice in these proverbs is about common temptations of young men.

Adulterous women

This chapter repeatedly warns young men to avoid any adulterous woman, whom Solomon calls “strange” and “foreign.” (See: [[rc://*/tw/dict/bible/kt/adultery]])

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Euphemism

In 5:15–20, Solomon uses several euphemisms to refer to sexual activity between a man and his wife or an adulterous woman. Although the UST expresses the meaning of these euphemisms plainly, only do so if sexual language would not be offensive in your culture. It is usually best to use a euphemism from your own language that means the same thing.

Proverbs 5:1 (#4)

הִטְאָזְנְךָ

“incline your ear”

See how you translated this idiom in 4:20.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 5:1 (#2)

לְהִבְיֹנְתִי & לְהִבְיֹנְתִי

“to my wisdom & to my understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:1 (#3)

לְהִבְיֹנְתִי & לְהִבְיֹנְתִי

“to my wisdom & to my understanding”

Here, my wisdom and my understanding refer to the wise lessons that Solomon teaches his son and what he tells his son to understand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to my wise lessons ... to what I tell you to understand]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:1 (#1)

לְהִבְיֹנְתִי הִטְאָזְנְךָ

“listen attentively to my wisdom; incline your ear to my understanding”

These two phrases mean similar things. Solomon is using repetition to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [listen attentively to my wisdom; apply yourself to learn what I understand]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:2 (#2)

מִזְמָמוֹת

“discretion”

See how you translated the abstract noun discretion in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:2 (#3)

וְלִפְתִּיךָ יִנְצְרוּ

“and your lips may guard knowledge”

Here, lips represents the person who speaks by moving his lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you may guard knowledge by what you say]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 5:2 (#4)

וְלִפְתִּיךָ

“and & knowledge”

Here, knowledge refers to what the son has learned from his father. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and ... what you have learned]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:2 (#1)

לְשִׁמְמוֹר מִזְמָמוֹת וְלִפְתִּיךָ יִנְצְרוּ

“in order to keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of discretion as if it were an object that someone should keep, and he speaks of knowledge as if it were an object that someone's lips should guard. He means that he wants his son to be wise in his choices and in the things that he says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in order to keep making good choices and speaking with knowledge]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:3 (#3)

אִרְגָּה

“a strange woman”

See how you translated strange woman in 2:16.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:3 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason why someone should obey the commands introduced in 5:1. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do what I say, because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 5:3 (#4)

וְהִלְלֵק מִשְׁשֶׁמֶן חֶכְהָ

“and smoother than oil {is} her palate”

Here Solomon represents the tempting words that the strange woman speaks as her palate and he compares them to smooth oil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [and are pleasant and persuasive] or [and are as persuasive as olive oil is smooth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:3 (#2)

נִנְפֹת תִּתַּטְפְּנָה שִׁפְתֵּי זָרָה

“the lips of a strange woman drip fresh honey”

Here, lips represent the words that the strange woman speaks, and they are compared to fresh honey. This means that what the strange woman says is sweet and appealing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the words that a strange woman says seem sweet and appealing]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:4 (#6)

הַחֲדָדָה כְּחֶחָרֶב פִּיּוֹת

“sharp as a sword of mouths”

Here Solomon speaks of the pain that the adulteress will cause to the one who has a relationship with her as if it were a sharp sword that cuts the person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it wounds a person, as if it were a sharp sword of mouths]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:4 (#5)

הַחֲדָדָה כְּחֶחָרֶב פִּיּוֹת

“sharp as a sword of mouths”

The phrase sword of mouths refers to a sword with a blade that is sharpened on both sides. Each side can cut a person like a mouth that bites. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [sharp like a sword with a blade that is sharpened on both sides]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:4 (#2)

כָּלֵעֵנָה

“as wormwood”

The word wormwood refers to a plant that tastes bitter. People made medicine out of it, but they also believed that it was poisonous in some amounts. If your readers would not be familiar with this plant, you could use the name of a bitter-tasting plant in your area, or you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [like a bitter-tasting plant]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 5:4 (#4)

הַחֲדָדָה כְּחֶחָרֶב פִּיּוֹת

“sharp as a sword of mouths”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [her aftermath is sharp like a sword of mouths]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:4 (#1)

אֲחֶרֶתָּהּ

“but her aftermath”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the aftermath, or result, of having a sexual relationship with an adulterous woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the outcome of having a sexual relationship with her]

See: Possession

Proverbs 5:4 (#3)

מִרְרָה כְּלַעֲנָה

“is} bitter as wormwood”

Here Solomon compares the disgust that comes after having a relationship with an adulterous woman to tasting bitter wormwood. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [is disgusting like bitter-tasting wormwood]

See: Simile

Proverbs 5:5 (#1)

רַגְלֶיהָ יִרְדְּדוּת מִמָּוֶת שְׁשֹׁאֲלוֹל צְעָדֶיהָ יִתְמָכוּ

“Her feet are going down {to} death; her steps take hold of Sheol”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Her feet are going down to death; yes, her steps take hold of Sheol]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:5 (#2)

רַגְלֶיהָ יִרְדְּדוּת מִמָּוֶת שְׁשֹׁאֲלוֹל צְעָדֶיהָ יִתְמָכוּ

“Her feet are going down {to} death; her steps take hold of Sheol”

Here Solomon speaks of the behavior of the adulterous woman as her feet and her steps. He speaks of this behavior causing her death and the death of whoever commits adultery with her as if they were walking on a path that leads down to death or to Sheol. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Her lifestyle ends in death; her way of living takes a person straight to Sheol] or [Her behavior results in death; by doing what she does, she will end up dead]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:6 (#3)

מִצְעָגֶלֶת תִּהְיֶה

“her tracks”

See how you translated the same use of tracks in 2:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:6 (#1)

אַאֲרַח חַיִּים פֶּן־תִּפְלֹלֶס

“lest she observe the path of life”

Lest here implies that the adulterous woman has an aversion to the path of life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She refuses to observe the path of life]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:6 (#2)

אַאֲרַח חַיִּים פֶּן־תִּפְלֹלֶס

“lest she observe the path of life”

Here Solomon speaks of behavior that results in living a good life as if it were a path that leads to life and can be observed. If it would be helpful for your readers, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Lest she care about behavior that leads to life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:7 (#6)

מֵאִמְרֵי־פִי

“from the sayings of my mouth”

See how you translated the sayings of my mouth in 4:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 5:7 (#2)

וְעַתָּה בָּנִים שְׁמְעוּ־לִי וְאַל־תִּתְּסוּרוּ מֵאִמְרֵי־פִי

“And now, sons, listen to me; and do not turn away from the sayings of my mouth”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [And now, sons, listen to me; yes, do not turn aside from the sayings of my mouth]

Proverbs 5:7 (#4)

וְאַל-תִּתְּסוּרוּ מֵאֲמַרֵּי-פִי

“and do not turn away from the sayings of my mouth”

Here Solomon speaks of someone not listening to someone else as if the person physically turned away from what he was saying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [do not stop listening to the sayings of my mouth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:7 (#5)

וְאַל-תִּתְּסוּרוּ מֵאֲמַרֵּי-פִי

“and do not turn away from the sayings of my mouth”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning positively. Alternate translation: [and listen to the sayings of my mouth]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 5:7 (#3)

בָּנִים

“sons”

See how you translated the same use of sons in 4:1.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 5:7 (#1)

וְעַתָּה

“And now”

And now here indicates a transition from the description of the adulterous woman in 5:3–6 to the call to pay attention, which follows. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a transition. Alternate translation: [Next]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 5:8 (#3)

וְאַל-תִּתְּקַרְבַּ

“and do not come near”

In a context such as this, your language might say “go” instead of come. Alternate translation: [and do not go near]

See: Go and Come

Proverbs 5:8 (#2)

מֵעַלְלֶיהָ & בֵּיתָהּ

“from her & her house”

In this verse, her refers to the adulterous woman described in 5:3–6. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from an adulteress ... the house of an adulteress]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 5:8 (#1)

הִרְחַחְקִי מֵעַלְלֶיהָ דַּרְכָּךְ

“Keep your way far from her”

Here, way represents the person and the person’s daily activities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Keep yourself far away from her]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:9 (#4)

וְיָשְׁנֶה יָדֶיךָ

“and your years”

Here, your years could refer to: (1) everything that a person achieves during the time in a person’s life when he is his healthiest and strongest. Alternate translation: [and all you have achieved in the best years of your life]; (2) the years that a person is alive, meaning that a cruel one would kill this person. Alternate translation: [and your life]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 5:9 (#5)

לְאִכְזָרִי

“to a cruel one”

Here, a cruel one could refer to: (1) one person, possibly the husband of the adulterous woman. Alternate translation: [a cruel person] or [a cruel man]; (2) a group of cruel people who are called others in the previous clause. Alternate translation: [to cruel people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:9 (#3)

וְשָׁנֶיךָ

“and your years”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and lest you give your years]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:9 (#2)

תַּתַּתֵּן לְאַחֵרִים הוֹדְדָה

“you give to others your splendor”

Here, splendor could refer to: (1) everything that a person achieves during the time in a person’s life when he is the strongest, which would be the same meaning as your years in the next clause. This includes the offspring that he is giving up to the adulteress and her husband. Alternate translation: [you give to others your vigor] or [you give to others your achievements from your vigorous time of life]; (2) a person’s reputation, in which case this clause would refer to a person getting a bad reputation. Alternate translation: [you will lose your good reputation with others]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:9 (#1)

כֵּן

“lest”

The word lest here indicates that what follows in this verse is what would happen to young men if they did not obey the commands given in the previous verse. Use a natural form in your language for connecting this statement to the previous one. Alternate translation, beginning a new sentence: [If you fail to obey this, then]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 5:10 (#2)

יִשְׂבַּעְנָו

“be satisfied”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language, as in the UST.

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 5:10 (#3)

כְּחֹדֶד

“with your strength”

Here, your strength refers to everything that a person achieves during the time in a person’s life when he has the most strength. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with what you achieved when you were strong]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 5:10 (#4)

וְעֵצְבְּךָ

“and your toils”

Here, your toils refers to everything that a person earns by working hard. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and what you gain from toiling]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 5:10 (#1)

כִּי־יִשְׂבַּעְנָו זָרִים

“lest strangers be satisfied”

The word lest here indicates that what follows in this verse are more things that will happen to young men if they do not obey the commands in 5:8. Use a natural form in your language to connect this statement to the previous one. Alternate translation: [yes, if you fail to obey my teaching, strangers will be satisfied]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 5:10 (#5)

וְעֵצְבְּךָ בְּבֵית

“and your toils in the house of”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and your toils be in the house of]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:10 (#6)

זָכָרִי

“a foreigner”

Here, a foreigner refers to anyone outside of the young man's family. It refers to the same kind of people as strangers earlier in the verse and "others" in verse 9. This probably refers to the family of the adulterous woman, who will benefit from the young man's strength and toils. Alternate translation: [those who are not your family]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:11 (#1)

בְּאַחֲרֵיתֶיךָ בְּכִלְלוֹת בְּבִשְׂרֶיךָ וּבְשֶׁאֲרֶיךָ

"at your end, when your flesh and your body are finished"

Here Solomon is referring to dying in a polite way by using the word end and the phrase your body and your flesh are finished. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to death in your language, or you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at the time of your death, when your flesh and your body die]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 5:11 (#3)

בְּבִשְׂרֶיךָ וּבְשֶׁאֲרֶיךָ

"your flesh and your body"

The words flesh and body mean basically the same thing and represent the whole person. Solomon is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [you yourself]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 5:11 (#2)

וְהִמְתִּיתָ

"and you groan"

This verse continues the meaning of the word lest in 5:10. What follows in this verse are more things that will happen to young men if they do not obey the commands in 5:8. Use a natural form in your language to connect this statement to the previous one. Alternate translation: [and furthermore, if you fail to obey my teaching, you will groan]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 5:12 (#4)

לְבִי

"my heart"

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 5:12 (#3)

מוֹסֵס וְתוֹכֵחַת

"correction, and & rebuke"

See how you translated the abstract nouns correction and rebuke in 3:11.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:12 (#2)

אֲבִיד שְׂנֵאתִי מוֹסֵס

"How I hated correction"

"How" here is an exclamation that emphasizes how much he hated correction. Use an exclamation that would communicate that meaning in your language. Alternate translation: [I hated correction so very much]

See: Exclamations

Proverbs 5:12 (#1)

שְׂנֵאתִי מוֹסֵס וְתוֹכֵחַת נֶאֱמַר לְבִי

"I hated correction, and my heart despised rebuke"

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I hated correction, yes, my heart despised rebuke]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:13 (#3)

לֹא־הִטְטִיתִי אָזְנוֹ

"I did not incline my ear"

See how you translated this idiom in 4:20.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 5:13 (#1)

וְלֹא־שָׁמַעְתִּי בְּקוֹל מוֹרְגִי וְלֹא־הִטְטִיתִי אָזְנוֹ

"And I did not listen to the voice of my teachers, and to my instructors I did not incline my ear"

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [And I did not listen to the voice of my teachers, no, to my instructors I did not incline my ear]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:13 (#2)

ולא־שָׁמַעְתִּי בְּקוֹל

“And I did not listen to the voice of”

The phrase listen to the voice of is an idiom that refers to obeying someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And I did not obey the instructions of]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 5:14 (#2)

בְּכָל־רָעָה

“in all evil”

Here, the adulterous man speaks of experiencing complete disgrace as if all evil were a location he was in. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [experiencing total disgrace]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:14 (#4)

קִהְיֶהָל וְעֵדָה

“the assembly and the congregation”

The terms assembly and congregation mean the same thing and refer to the man’s community. The man is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [the entire assembly]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 5:14 (#1)

בְּרִמְעָה

“as a little”

Here, as a little is a common expression that means “very close to.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [on the brink of being] or [just about]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 5:14 (#3)

בְּתוֹךְ

“in the midst of”

Here, in the midst of refers to the judgment of the people of the assembly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the opinion of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 5:15 (#2)

שָׁתֵּה־מַּמִּים מִבּוֹרְךָ וְאֵינִלִּים מִתְּנוֹךְ בְּאֵרְךָ

“Drink water from your cistern and flowing waters from the midst of your well”

Solomon is leaving out a word in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Drink water from your cistern, and drink flowing waters from the midst of your well]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:15 (#1)

שָׁתֵּה־מַּמִּים מִבּוֹרְךָ וְאֵינִלִּים מִתְּנוֹךְ בְּאֵרְךָ

“Drink water from your cistern and flowing waters from the midst of your well”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Drink water from your cistern, yes, drink flowing waters from the midst of your well]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:15 (#3)

שָׁתֵּה־מַּמִּים מִבּוֹרְךָ וְאֵינִלִּים מִתְּנוֹךְ בְּאֵרְךָ

“Drink water from your cistern and flowing waters from the midst of your well”

In both of these clauses, Solomon is referring in a polite way to a man satisfying his sexual desire with his own wife. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more normal polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could express the meaning plainly. See the discussion of euphemisms in the Chapter Introduction. Alternate translation: [Sleep with your own wife only and satisfy yourself only with her] or [Satisfy your sexual desire only with your wife, yes, satisfy your sexual desire only with her]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 5:16 (#2)

יִפְפוּצוּ מִצְיֹנֵתַיִךְ חוּצָה בְּבִרְחֵבֹת פְּלִגֵּי־מַיִם

“Should your springs overflow outside, channels of water in the open areas”

Solomon is leaving out some words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. You may need to make a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Should your springs overflow outside? Should your channels of water overflow in the open areas?]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:16 (#1)

יִפְפוּצוּ מִצְיֹנֵתַיִךְ חוּצָה בְּבִרְחֵבֹת פְּלִגֵּי־מַיִם

“Should your springs overflow outside, channels of water in the open areas”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize that a man should not commit adultery. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Your springs should not overflow outside, channels of water in the open areas!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 5:16 (#3)

יִפְפוּצוּ מִצְיֹנֵתַיִךְ חוּצָה בְּבִרְחֵבֹת פְּלִגֵּי־מַיִם

“Should your springs overflow outside, channels of water in the open areas”

In both clauses, Solomon is using a polite way to refer to a man having sex with women other than his wife by speaking as if that man allowed his springs or water to flow in public places. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could express the meaning plainly. See the discussion of euphemisms in the Chapter Introduction. Alternate translation: [Should you sleep with other women, making something public that should be private]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 5:16 (#4)

חֲוִיצָה בְּבִרְחֵבֹת

“outside & in the open areas”

Here, outside and open areas refer to public places where there are many people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [outside of your home ... in public places]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 5:17 (#1)

יְהִי

“Let them be”

Here, them refers to the “springs” and “channels of water” mentioned in the previous verse, which are euphemisms for sexual activity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. See how you translated those euphemisms in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [Let your sexual activity be]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 5:17 (#2)

לְדָג לְבַדְדָּךְ

“for you, for you alone”

The phrases for you and for you alone mean the same thing. Solomon is using the two phrases together for emphasis. By you he means the man and his wife together. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [only for your marriage alone] or [for you and your wife only]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 5:18 (#4)

נְעוּרֶיךָ

“your youth”

See how you translated the abstract noun youth in 2:17.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:18 (#3)

מֵאֵשֶׁת בְּעוֹרְךָ

“because of the wife of your youth”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the wife whom his son married while he was in his youth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [with the wife whom you married in your youth]

See: Possession

Proverbs 5:18 (#1)

יְהִי־מְקוֹרְךָ בְּרֵךְ

“May your fountain be blessed”

Here Solomon speaks of his son’s wife as if she were a fountain that can be blessed by Yahweh. This probably refers to the blessing of children. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [May your wife bless you with children]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:18 (#2)

וְשִׂמְחָה מֵאֵשֶׁת

“and be glad because of the wife of”

Here the phrase be glad refers to experiencing joy or sexual pleasure. If it would be helpful, you could use a natural expression for this in your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [take pleasure in the wife of]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 5:19 (#4)

חֲדָדֶיהָ יִרְגֹּם

“may her breasts drench you”

Here Solomon speaks of a wife’s breasts satisfying her husband’s sexual desires as they would satisfy the thirst of a hungry baby. Here, drench refers to giving a baby a satisfying amount of milk. If it would be helpful in your language or if it would be offensive in your language to refer to breasts, then you could use a more general expression. Alternate translation: [may her bosom fill you with delight as a mother’s breasts fill her child with food] or [may her body satisfy your sexual desires]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:19 (#3)

וַיְעַלְלֵת־חֵתָן

“and a mountain goat of grace”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe a mountain goat that is characterized by grace. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with a different expression. Alternate translation: [a graceful mountain goat]

See: Possession

Proverbs 5:19 (#5)

תִּשְׁגָּגָה תָּמִיד

“may you continually stagger”

Here Solomon speaks of the exhilarating delight of the love that a man should have for his wife as if he were staggering like an intoxicated person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [may you continually revel] or [may you continually lose yourself]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:19 (#2)

אֵיילֵת אֲהָבִים

“A doe of loves”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe a doe that is characterized by loves. The word loves is plural here, in which form it refers to sexual love. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with a different expression. Alternate translation: [A loving doe] or [A sexy doe]

See: Possession

Proverbs 5:19 (#1)

אֵיילֵת אֲהָבִים וַיְעַלְלֵת־חֵתָן

“A doe of loves and a mountain goat of grace”

Here Solomon speaks of how beautiful the “wife of your youth” is as if she were a doe of loves and a mountain goat of grace. The Israelites considered these two animals to be symbols of physical beauty and graceful movements. If it would be helpful, you could refer to animals that are more appropriate for this comparison in your language. If it would not be appropriate in your language to compare a woman to an animal, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [She is as beautiful as a doe of loves and as graceful as a goat of grace] or [she is beautiful and graceful, and she loves you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:20 (#4)

בְּזָרָה & נְכָרִיָּה

“with a strange woman & a foreign woman”

Proverbs 5:20 (#2)

וְלִלְמָה תִּשְׁגָּגָה בְּנִי בְּזָרָה וְאִתְּחַבֵּב חֶסֶם נְכָרִיָּה

“And why would you stagger, my son, with a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a foreign woman”

Solomon is leaving out some words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [And why would you stagger, my son, with a strange woman, or why would you embrace the bosom of a foreign woman]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 5:20 (#1)

וְלִלְמָה תִּשְׁגָּגָה בְּנִי בְּזָרָה וְאִתְּחַבֵּב חֶסֶם נְכָרִיָּה

“And why would you stagger, my son, with a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a foreign woman”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize that a man should not commit adultery. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [And you should not stagger, my son, with a strange woman, or embrace the bosom of a foreign woman!]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:21 (#3)

נֹכַח | עֵינֵי יְהוָה & מַפְלָס

“in front of the eyes of Yahweh {are & he observes”

Here Solomon speaks of Yahweh knowing what people do as if everything people do is in front of his eyes or is what he observes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is fully aware of ... he is fully aware of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 5:21 (#5)

אָאִישׁ & מַעְגְּלֹתָיו

“a man & his paths”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [a person ... that person's paths]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 5:21 (#2)

נֹכַח | עֵינֵי יְהוָה דְּרָכֵי-אָאִישׁ וְכָל-מַעְגְּלֹתָיו מַפְלָס

“in front of the eyes of Yahweh {are} the ways of a man, and all of his paths he observes”

These two clauses mean similar things. Solomon is using repetition to emphasize the idea that they express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the clauses and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [God observes everyone, so he sees how a man lives]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 5:21 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here introduces the reason for obeying the commands stated in 5:15–20. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a reason. Alternate translation: [Do not commit adultery because]

Proverbs 5:22 (#3)

עוונותיו ילכדנו & ובחבליו חטאתו יתקד

“His iniquities capture him & and by the cords of his sin he is grasped”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of a wicked person being unable to avoid the consequences of his iniquities and sin as if those iniquities and sin were people who could capture or grasp that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will not escape being punished for his iniquities ... and he is trapped because of the cords of his sin]

See: Personification

Proverbs 5:22 (#2)

עוונותיו ילכדנו את־הרשע ובחבליו חטאתו יתקד

“His iniquities capture him, the wicked one, and by the cords of his sin he is grasped”

Although the terms His, him, and he are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [The wicked person's iniquities capture that person, and by the cords of that person's sins that person is grasped]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 5:22 (#6)

ובחבליו חטאתו

“and by the cords of his sin”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the cords that are sin. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and by the cords, that is, his sin,]

See: Possession

Proverbs 5:22 (#5)

ובחבליו חטאתו יתקד

“and by the cords of his sin he is grasped”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and the cords of his sin grasp him]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 5:22 (#1)

עוונותיו ילכדנו את־הרשע ובחבליו חטאתו יתקד

“His iniquities capture him, the wicked one, and by the cords of his sin he is grasped”

His in this verse refers to the wicked one mentioned in the first clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The iniquities of the wicked one capture him, and by the cords of the wicked one's sin, he is grasped]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 5:22 (#4)

עוונותיו & חטאתו

“His iniquities & his sin”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of iniquities and sin, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [The wicked things he does ... the sinful things he does]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:23 (#1)

הוא & וברב אולתו ישגה

“He & and in the abundance of his folly he staggers”

Although the terms He and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [That person ... and in the abundance of that person's folly that person staggers]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 5:23 (#2)

באין מוסר וברב אולתו

“because there is no correction, and in the abundance of his folly”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of correction, abundance, and folly, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [because he is not corrected; and in how abundantly foolish he is]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 5:23 (#3)

ישגה

“he staggers”

Here Solomon speaks of a person behaving in a sinful manner that will cause him to die as if he were staggering like an intoxicated person who gets lost. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he loses his way] or [he behaves recklessly]

See: Metaphor

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This ChapterMy son

Occasionally, Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” This does not mean that those proverbs only apply to males. Instead, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son, and the kind of advice in these proverbs is about common temptations of young men.

Adulterous women

This chapter repeatedly warns young men to avoid any adulterous woman, who is called “strange” and “foreign.” (See: [[rc://*/tw/dict/bible/kt/adultery]])

Translation Issues in This ChapterRhetorical questions

In 6:9, 27, and 28, Solomon uses rhetorical questions to emphasize the importance of what he is saying. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Translation Issues in This ChapterAnimals used as examples

In this chapter, the gazelle, bird, and ant have certain characteristics which Solomon uses to teach about wisdom. If your language does not recognize those animals as being wise, you could add a footnote to explain or possibly substitute other animals from your culture that would help explain the same concept.

Proverbs 6:1 (#1)

בְּנִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 6:1 (#7)

תִּקְרָצֶנָּה & כַּפִּיךָ

“you clasp your palms”

The function of this action in this culture was to confirm a contractual agreement with someone. If there is a gesture with similar meaning in your culture, you could consider using it here in your translation, or you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you shake hands to confirm an agreement] or [you confirm an agreement]

Proverbs 6:1 (#2)

אִם

“if”

Here, if indicates that Solomon is using a hypothetical situation to teach his son. This verse and the next verse are one long, conditional sentence. Use a natural form in your language for introducing a situation that could happen. Alternate translation: [suppose]

See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Proverbs 6:1 (#4)

אִם-עֲרַבְתָּ לְרֵעֶךָ

“if you pledge for your neighbor”

Here Solomon implies that the pledge is a promise to pay back a loan of money that a neighbor who is a stranger is unable to pay back. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [if you promise to pay back the loan for your neighbor when he is unable to pay it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:1 (#6)

תִּקְרָצֶנָּה לְזָר כַּפִּיךָ

“you clasp your palms for a stranger”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply the word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [if you clasp your palms for a stranger]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:1 (#3)

אם-עֲרַבְתָּ לְרֵעֶךָ תִּקְנָה לְזָרָךְ כִּפְיֶךָ

“if you pledge for your neighbor, you clasp your palms for a stranger”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the clauses into one and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [if you have pledged yourself to pay back a loan for someone else]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:1 (#5)

לְרֵעֶךָ & לְזָרָךְ

“for your neighbor & for a stranger”

The words neighbor and stranger here refer to the same person. Therefore, this person is an acquaintance of the son whom he does not know well. If possible, use a word or words in your language for this type of person.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:2 (#4)

נוֹקְשֵׁת בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ נִלְכְּדָה בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ

“you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, you are caught by the sayings of your mouth”

In these clauses, Solomon refers to someone getting into trouble because of what he said as if his sayings were a trap that could ensnare or catch him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if you get into trouble by the sayings of your mouth, if you encounter difficulty by the sayings of your mouth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:2 (#1)

נוֹקְשֵׁת בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ נִלְכְּדָה בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ

“you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, you are caught by the sayings of your mouth”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, yes, you are caught by the sayings of your mouth]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:2 (#2)

נוֹקְשֵׁת בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ נִלְכְּדָה בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ

“you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, you are caught by the sayings of your mouth”

In both of these clauses, Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply the word from the first clause of the previous verse if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [if you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, if you are caught by the sayings of your mouth]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:2 (#3)

נוֹקְשֵׁת בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ נִלְכְּדָה בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ

“you are ensnared by the sayings of your mouth, you are caught by the sayings of your mouth”

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active forms or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the sayings of your mouth have ensnared you, the sayings of your mouth have caught you]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 6:2 (#5)

בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ & בְּאִמְרֵי-פִיךָ

“by the sayings of your mouth & by the sayings of your mouth”

Here, mouth represents the words of a promise that the person said with his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by your sayings ... by your sayings]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 6:3 (#2)

בְּנִי

“my son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 6:3 (#7)

וְהִתְנַב רֵעִיד

“and press your neighbor”

Here Solomon implies that his son should press his neighbor to free him from his obligation to fulfill the promise referred to in 6:1-2. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and press your neighbor to release you from your obligation]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:3 (#4)

וְהִנָּצֵל

“and rescue yourself”

Here Solomon implies that his son should rescue himself from his obligation to fulfill the promise referred to in 6:1-2. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and rescue yourself from your obligation]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:3 (#5)

בָּבֹאתִי בְּכַף־רֵעִי

“you have come into the palm of your neighbor”

Here Solomon speaks of his son being controlled by his neighbor as if he had come into the palm of his neighbor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your neighbor has power over you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:3 (#6)

וְהִתְנַב

“and press”

Here Solomon speaks of his son begging his neighbor as if he were pressing him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and plead with]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:3 (#1)

עֲשֵׂה וְזֹאת אֶפְסֹד

“then do this”

Here, then indicates that what follows is what someone should do if the hypothetical conditions stated in the previous two verses take place. Use the most natural way to express this in your language. Alternate translation: [then do this in response]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 6:3 (#3)

וְהִנָּצֵל

“and rescue yourself”

Here, and indicates that what follows is the purpose for doing what Solomon commands his son to do in this verse. Use a connector in your language that indicates a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of rescuing yourself]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 6:4 (#3)

אַל־תִּתְּנֵן שְׁנֵנָה לְעֵינֶיךָ וְאִתְּנוּמָה לַעֲפָעֶיךָ

“Do not give sleep to your eyes and slumber to your eyelids”

Here Solomon is speaking of allowing oneself to sleep and slumber as if they were objects that one could give to oneself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not let your eyes sleep or your eyelids slumber]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:4 (#2)

אַל־תִּתְּנֵן שְׁנֵנָה לְעֵינֶיךָ וְאִתְּנוּמָה לַעֲפָעֶיךָ

“Do not give sleep to your eyes and slumber to your eyelids”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Do not give sleep to your eyes, yes, do not give slumber to your eyelids]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:4 (#1)

אַל־תִּתְּנֵן שְׁנֵנָה לְעֵינֶיךָ וְאִתְּנוּמָה לַעֲפָעֶיךָ

“Do not give sleep to your eyes and slumber to your eyelids”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Do not give sleep to your eyes and do not give slumber to your eyelids]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:4 (#5)

לְעֵינֶיךָ & לְעַפְפִּיךָ

“to your eyes & to your eyelids”

Here Solomon is using eyes and eyelids to refer to one’s whole body. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to yourself ... to yourself]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 6:4 (#4)

אַל־תִּתְּנֶנּוּ שֵׁנָה

“Do not give sleep”

Solomon implies that this person should not allow himself to sleep until he goes to his neighbor to get out of the agreement. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Until you rescue yourself from this problem, do not give sleep]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:5 (#4)

כְּצִבְרִי

“like a gazelle”

A gazelle is a land animal that is known for running quickly and gracefully. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [like an animal that runs swiftly]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 6:5 (#2)

הִתְנַצֵּל כְּצִבְרִי מִיַּד וְכַצִּפּוֹר מִיַּד יָקוֹשׁ

“Rescue yourself like a gazelle from a hand and like a bird from the hand of the trapper”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Rescue yourself like a gazelle from a hand, yes, rescue yourself like a bird from the hand of the trapper]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:5 (#1)

הִתְנַצֵּל כְּצִבְרִי מִיַּד וְכַצִּפּוֹר מִיַּד יָקוֹשׁ

“Rescue yourself like a gazelle from a hand and like a bird from the hand of the trapper”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Rescue yourself like a gazelle would rescue itself from a hand, and rescue yourself like a bird would rescue itself from the hand of the trapper]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:5 (#3)

כְּצִבְרִי & וְכַצִּפּוֹר

“like a gazelle & and like a bird”

Solomon is saying that the person should act like a gazelle and a bird because both of those animals are quick enough to escape from hunters. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [quickly, like a gazelle ... and quickly, like a bird]

See: Simile

Proverbs 6:6 (#5)

דְּרָכֶיהָ

“its ways”

See how you translated the same use of ways in 3:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:6 (#3)

נִמְלֵלָה

“the ant”

An ant is a small insect that lives underground in large groups. Ants are known for diligently working together to collect food and maintain their nests. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of insect, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the hard-working insect]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 6:6 (#2)

נְמִלָּה

“the ant”

The word ant represents ants in general, not one particular ant. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [ants]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 6:6 (#1)

לֵךְ-אֶל-נְמִלָּה

“Go to the ant”

Go here implies going for the purpose of looking at the ant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Go and observe the ant]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:6 (#6)

וְחָכָם

“and be wise”

Here, and indicates that what follows is the purpose for doing what Solomon commands his son to do in this verse. Use a connector in your language that indicates a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of becoming wise]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 6:6 (#4)

רְאֵה

“See”

See here means to observe for the purpose of learning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [See and learn]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:7 (#1)

קִצְצִין שְׁטֵטֶר וּמֶשֶׁל

“a commander, officer, or ruler”

These three words mean basically the same thing and are used to emphasize that no one commands ants to work diligently. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [any ruler whatsoever]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 6:8 (#4)

לְחִמָּה אֲגָרָה & מֵאֲכָלָהּ

“its bread & it gathers its food”

In this verse, its refers to “the ant” mentioned in 6:7, which is a collective word for ants in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the ant’s bread ... the ant gathers its food] or [the ants’ bread ... the ants gather their food]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 6:8 (#2)

תַּכְנִין בְּקִיץ לְחִמָּה אֲגָרָה בְּבִקְצִיר מֵאֲכָלָהּ

“prepares its bread in the summer; it gathers its food in the harvest”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [prepares its bread in the summer; yes, it gathers its food in the harvest]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:8 (#3)

תַּכְנִין & אֲגָרָה

“prepares & it gathers”

Here, prepares and gathers refer to collecting and storing food for winter, which is the time when food is scarce. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [acquires ... it stockpiles]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:8 (#5)

בְּקִיץ & בְּבִקְצִיר

“in the summer & in the harvest”

In the location where this book was written, summer is the time of year when people harvest crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the time for harvesting crops ... in the harvesting time]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:8 (#1)

תִּכְנֶיֶן

“prepares”

The idea in this verse is contrary to what one would expect after knowing the information in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [even so, prepares]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 6:9 (#3)

תִּקְוִים מִשְׁנָתְךָ

“will you rise from your sleep”

Here Solomon refers to waking up as if a person were rising up from sleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will you wake up]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:9 (#2)

תִּשְׁכָּב

“will you lie down”

The phrase lie down implies that the person has been lying on a bed to sleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [will you sleep in your bed]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:9 (#1)

עַד-מִתַּתִּי עֲצֹל | תִּשְׁכָּב מִמֹּתִי תִקְוִים מִשְׁנָתְךָ

“Until when, lazy one, will you lie down? When will you rise from your sleep”

Solomon is using the question form twice in this verse for emphasis. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Lazy person, you should stop lying down! You should rise from your sleep!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 6:10 (#1)

מַעַעַט שְׁנֵנוֹת מַעַעַט תְּנוּמָמוֹת מַעַעַט | חֲבִיבֵךְ יָדָיו לִשְׁכָּב

“A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to lie down”

This verse is a quotation of what the “lazy one” might say. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation.

See: Quote Markings

Proverbs 6:10 (#4)

מַעַעַט | חֲבִיבֵךְ יָדָיו לִשְׁכָּב

“a little folding of the hands to lie down”

This phrase refers to an action that people often do in order to rest more comfortably when they lie down to sleep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a little folding of the hands comfortably to lie down and sleep]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:10 (#2)

מַעַעַט שְׁנֵנוֹת מַעַעַט תְּנוּמָמוֹת

“A little sleep, a little slumber”

The lazy person is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Let me have a little more sleep; let me have a little more slumber]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:10 (#3)

מַעַעַט שְׁנֵנוֹת מַעַעַט תְּנוּמָמוֹת

“A little sleep, a little slumber”

These two phrases mean the same thing. The lazy person is using them together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [Just a little more sleep]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 6:11 (#2)

וְכֹא-כְמֹהֶלֶד רֹאשׁוֹ וְיָמָה סָרְדָּהּ בְּאֵיִשׁ מְגֹן

“and your poverty will come like one who walks and your need like a man of shield”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [and your poverty will come like one who walks, yes, your need will come like a man of shield]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:11 (#4)

ראשִׁשָׁד וְיִמְחָרְדָּךְ

“your poverty & and your need”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of poverty and need, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [you being poor ... and you being needy]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 6:11 (#1)

וְכָא־כְּמַהֲלֵלָךְ רֹאשִׁשָׁד וְיִמְחָרְדָּךְ כְּאִישׁ מְגֹן

“and your poverty will come like one who walks and your need like a man of shield”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and your poverty will come like one who walks and your need will come like a man of shield]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:11 (#8)

כְּאִישׁ מְגֹן

“like a man of shield”

Here, the phrase a man of shield refers to a robber with weapons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [like a robber with weapons] or [like an armed man]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 6:11 (#6)

See: Idiom

Proverbs 6:11 (#5)

וְכָא־כְּמַהֲלֵלָךְ רֹאשִׁשָׁד

“and your poverty will come like one who walks”

Here Solomon speaks of experiencing poverty as if it were a person who could come walking to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you will surely experience poverty]

See: Personification

Proverbs 6:11 (#3)

וְכָא & רֹאשִׁשָׁד

“and your poverty will come”

Here, and introduces the result of what the lazy person does and says in the two previous verses. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. Alternate translation: [and all this will cause your poverty to come]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 6:11 (#9)

כְּאִישׁ מְגֹן

“like a man of shield”

Here Solomon speaks of how surely and completely a lazy person becomes needy as if need were an armed robber who takes by force everything that the person owns. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will be complete]

See: Simile

Proverbs 6:11 (#7)

כְּמַהֲלֵלָךְ

“like one who walks”

Here Solomon speaks of how certain it is that a lazy person will become poor as if poverty were a robber who walks right into his house and steals everything the person owns. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [without fail]

אָדָם בְּרִיעֵל אִישׁ אָוֶן

“A man of worthlessness, a man of iniquity”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man that is characterized by worthlessness and iniquity. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A worthless man, an iniquitous man]

See: Possession

Proverbs 6:12 (#3)

אָדָם & אִישׁ

“A man of & a man of”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [A person of ... a person of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 6:12 (#1)

אָדָם בְּרִיעֵל אִישׁ אָוֶן

“A man of worthlessness, a man of iniquity”

The phrases man of worthlessness and man of iniquity mean the same thing. Solomon is using them together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [A completely useless man]

“When you walk about, it will guide you; when you lie down, it will preserve you; then you will wake up; it itself will converse with you”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of the lessons he called “the command” and “the teaching” in 6:20 as if they were a person who could guide, preserve, and converse with a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use similes. Alternate translation: [When you walk about, it will enable you to know what to do; when you lie down, it will enable you to be safe; and you will wake up, it will be advice for you] or [When you walk about, it will be like a guide for you; when you lie down, it will be like someone who preserves you; and you will wake up, it will be like someone who converses with you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:22 (#3)

תנהלך

“it will guide”

The pronoun it in this verse refers to everything that the parents have taught the son, which can be summarized in the word “wisdom.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could use that word here, or you could use a plural pronoun to refer to the parents’ teachings, as in the UST. Alternate translation: [this wisdom will guide you]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 6:22 (#5)

הִתְיָא תְּשִׁיחָה

“it itself will converse with you”

For emphasis, Solomon is stating the pronoun it, whose meaning is already included in the verb translated as converse. If your language can state implied pronouns explicitly for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. Other languages may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. The ULT does so by using the intensive pronoun itself. Alternate translation: [it will be the one that converses with you]

If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [commandment is a lamp, yes, law is a light]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 6:23 (#6)

בְּנֵי & אֲאוּר

“{is} a lamp & {is} a light”

Here Solomon refers to commandment and law enabling people to understand how to live as if they were a lamp and a light that shows people the path in front of them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [enables one to understand ... enables one to perceive the right way to live]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:23 (#9)

תּוֹכַחְתּוֹת מוֹסֵר

“rebukes of instruction”

Proverbs 6:26 (#5)

נִנְפֵשׁ יְקָרָהּ תִּצּוֹד

“hunts a precious life”

Here Solomon speaks of an adulterous woman causing the man she commits adultery with to die as if she hunts him the way a hunter hunts an animal. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [kills a precious life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:26 (#2)

בְּעֵד-אִשָּׁשָׁה זֹנֶנָה

“the price of a prostitute woman”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to refer to the price that a person pays to have sex with a prostitute woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly or use a euphemism for this idea. Alternate translation: [the price to sleep with a prostitute woman]

See: Possession

Proverbs 6:26 (#4)

וְאִשָּׁת אָדָם

“but the wife of a man”

Proverbs 6:29 (#2)

הַהֹבֵא אֵל & הַנִּגְעָה בָּהּ

“is the one going to & one who touches her”

Here, going to and touches both refer to someone having sex with another person. This is a polite way of referring to something that is offensive or embarrassing in some cultures. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different polite way of referring to this act or you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of “enter” in 2:19. Alternate translation: [is the one who has sexual relations with ... one who has sexual relations with her] or [is the one who sleeps with ... one who sleeps with her]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 6:29 (#4)

לֹא יִצְקָהּ

“will not remain blameless”

Here Solomon uses not remain blameless to refer to the outcome of not being blameless, which is being punished for being guilty. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will not avoid punishment] or [will not remain unpunished]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 6:29 (#3)

לֹא יִצְקָהּ

“will not remain blameless”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning positively. Alternate translation: [will certainly be guilty]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 6:32 (#5)

מִשְׁחָתִית נִפְשׁוֹ

“destroying his life”

This clause is the result of what is described in the next clause. Use a natural way in your language to indicate a result. Alternate translation: [his life is destroyed because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 6:32 (#3)

חֲסֵר־לֵב

“is} lacking of heart”

Here Solomon refers to the heart as the place where a person thinks. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is out of his mind] or [is lacking the ability to think]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 6:33 (#6)

לֹא תִמְחָה

“will not be wiped out”

Here Solomon refers to the adulterous man’s shame never ceasing as if shame were a stain that could not be wiped away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will not cease]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:33 (#2)

נִגַע־וְקַלְלִיּוֹן יִמְצָא

“He will find a wound and disgrace”

Here Solomon speaks of the adulterous man receiving a wound and disgrace as if they were objects that a person would find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will receive a wound and disgrace] or [He will become wounded and disgraced]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 6:33 (#1)

נִגַע־וְקַלְלִיּוֹן יִמְצָא וְחֲסֵר־לֵב לֹא תִמְחָה

“He will find a wound and disgrace, and his shame will not be wiped out”

Solomon implies that these things will happen to the adulterous man because he committed adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Because he committed adultery, he will find a wound and disgrace and his shame will not be wiped out]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:33 (#3)

וְקַלְלִיּוֹן & וְחֲסֵר־לֵב

“and disgrace, and his shame”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of disgrace and shame, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [and be disgraced, and how shameful he is]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 6:33 (#4)

לֹא תִמְחָה

“will not be wiped out”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he will never wipe out]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 6:33 (#5)

לֹא תִמְחָה

“will not be wiped out”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will always remain]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 6:34 (#2)

קִנְיָאָה & נָקָם

“jealousy & vengeance”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of jealousy and vengeance, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [being jealous ... being avenged]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 6:34 (#3)

חֵם־אִישׁ

“is the heat of a man”

Here, heat refers to extreme anger, which causes the angry person’s body to become hot. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is the rage of a man]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 6:34 (#6)

וְלֹא-יִחַמְמוֹל

“and he will not spare”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and he will not spare the man who slept with his wife]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:34 (#7)

בְּיוֹם נָקָם

“in the day of vengeance”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the day when vengeance occurs. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [when vengeance occurs]

See: Possession

Proverbs 6:34 (#4)

גָּבַר וְלֹא-יִחַמְמוֹל

“a man, and he will not spare”

Here, man and he refer to the husband who has just found out that his wife has committed adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a husband of an adulterous woman, and that husband will not spare]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:34 (#5)

וְלֹא-יִחַמְמוֹל

“and he will not spare”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [and he will be merciless]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 6:34 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is the reason why what Solomon stated in the previous verse is true. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [This is due to the fact that]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 6:35 (#3)

כֶּכֶּפֶר & שָׂחָד

“ransom & the bribe”

Here, the words ransom and bribe refer to money that a man would give to the husband of the woman he has committed adultery with in order to avoid harm or stop the man from being angry. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [money offered to appease him ... that money]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 6:35 (#1)

לֹא-יִשָּׂא & וְלֹא-יִאָּבֶקֶה

“He will not lift up & and he will not be willing”

In this verse, the pronoun he refers to the man who has just found out that his wife has committed adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The husband of an adulterous wife will not lift up ... and that husband will not be willing]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 6:35 (#4)

וְלֹא-יִאָּבֶקֶה

“and he will not be willing”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and he will not be willing to be appeased] or [and he will not stop being angry]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 6:35 (#2)

לֹא-יִשָּׂא פָנָיו

“He will not lift up the face of”

Here, the phrase lift up the face of is an idiom that means “regard favorably.” If it would be helpful, you could use an idiom with that meaning in your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He will not be impressed by] or [He will not regard favorably]

See: Idiom

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

My son

Occasionally Solomon addresses a series of proverbs to “my son” or “sons.” This does not mean that those proverbs only apply to males. Instead, these phrases are forms used to pass on advice from a father to his son, and the kind of advice in these proverbs is about common temptations of young men.

Adulterous women

This chapter continues the theme about adulterous women and warns young men to avoid any adulterous woman, who is called “strange” and “foreign.” (See: [\[\[rc:///tw/dict/bible/kt/adultery\]\]](http://rc:///tw/dict/bible/kt/adultery))

Translation Issues in This Chapter

The historic present

To call attention to developments in the story, Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in 7:8-13 and 21-22. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense in your translation. (See: Irregular Use of Tenses)

Proverbs 7:1 (#2)

תִּצְפֹּן

“store up”

See how you translated the same use of store up in 2:1.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:1 (#3)

וְאִמְצֹתַי

“and & my commandments”

See how you translated the abstract noun commandments in 2:1.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 7:1 (#1)

שְׁמֹר

“keep”

See how you translated the same use of keep in 5:2.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:2 (#3)

וְאִתּוֹרַתִּי

“and my law”

See how you translated law in 1:8.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 7:2 (#1)

שְׁמֹר מִצְוֹתַי וְחַיֶּה

“Keep my commandments and live”

See how you translated the same clause in 4:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 7:2 (#2)

וְאִתּוֹרַתִּי כְּאִישׁוֹן עֵינֶיךָ

“and my law, as the pupil of your eyes”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply the word from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and keep my law as the pupil of your eyes]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 7:2 (#4)

כְּאִישׁוֹן עֵינֶיךָ

“as the pupil of your eyes”

Here Solomon refers to his law as if it were the pupil of your eyes. He means that people should value wise rules as much as they value their ability to see and protect their eyes. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language with that meaning or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [as the light of your life] or [as supremely valuable to you]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 7:3 (#2)

קִשְׁרָם & כָּתְבָם

“Tie them & write them”

In this verse, them refers to “my commandments,” which are referred to in the previous two verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Tie my commandments ... write my commandments]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 7:3 (#1)

קשרם על-אצבעותיך

“Tie them on your fingers”

Here Solomon speaks of always remembering something as if what should be remembered were an object tied to the person’s fingers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Remember them at all times]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:3 (#3)

כָּתְבֵם עַל־לִבְךָ לִבְךָ

“write them on the tablet of your heart”

See how you translated this clause in 3:3. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a comparable expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [know them by heart] or [continually think about them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:4 (#1)

אָמַר לְחָכְמָה אֶחָתִי אֶת וְאֶת לְבִינָה תִקְרָא

“Say to Wisdom, “You {are} my sister,” and call to Understanding, “Kinsman”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Say to Wisdom, “You {are} my sister,” yes, call to Understanding, “Kinsman”]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 7:4 (#6)

וְאֶת לְבִינָה תִקְרָא

“and call to Understanding, “Kinsman”

Although the term Kinsman is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that could refer to any close relative. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [and call to Understanding, “Family member”]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 7:4 (#2)

אָמַר לְחָכְמָה אֶחָתִי אֶת וְאֶת לְבִינָה תִקְרָא

“Say to Wisdom, “You {are} my sister,” and call to Understanding, “Kinsman”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express these two clauses as indirect quotations. Alternate translation: [Say to Wisdom that she is your sister, and call to Understanding that she is your kinsman]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 7:4 (#3)

לְחָכְמָה & לְבִינָה

“to Wisdom & to Understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 7:4 (#5)

וְאֶת לְבִינָה תִקְרָא

“and call to Understanding, “Kinsman”

Solomon speaks of Understanding as if it were a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and value understanding as if it were someone to whom you would call, “Kinsman”]

See: Personification

Proverbs 7:4 (#4)

אָמַר לְחָכְמָה אֶחָתִי אֶת

“Say to Wisdom, “You {are} my sister”

Solomon speaks of Wisdom as if it were a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Value wisdom as if it were a woman to whom you would say, “You are my sister”]

See: Personification

Proverbs 7:5 (#3)

מִנְכָּרִיָּה אֶמְרֶיהָ הִלִּיקָה

“from the foreign woman who makes her sayings smooth”

See how you translated the same clause in 2:16.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:5 (#1)

מֵאִשָּׁה זָרָה

“from the strange woman”

See how you translated strange woman in 2:16.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:5 (#2)

מִמְנַבְרִיָּה

“from the foreign woman”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [to keep you from the foreign woman]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 7:6 (#2)

בְּחַלְלוֹן בֵּיתִי

“at the window of my house”

Solomon implies that he was standing at the window while looking out of it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly, as in the UST.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:6 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here introduces a story that Solomon tells in 7:6–23 in order to warn his son against committing adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different word or phrase that introduces a story. Alternate translation: [There was a time when]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 7:6 (#4)

אֲשַׁבֵּר

“the window lattice”

A lattice consists of thin strips of wood that cross one another in a slanted pattern and are placed over a window to partially cover it. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of window covering, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the window screen] or [the covering on the window]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 7:6 (#5)

נִשְׁקַפְתִּי

“I looked down”

Here Solomon implies that he was standing at a location that was higher than the street outside. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I looked down at the street outside]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:6 (#3)

בְּחַלְלוֹן בֵּיתִי

“at the window of my house”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a window that is in the side of his house. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [at the window that is in the side of my house]

See: Possession

Proverbs 7:7 (#3)

חֹסֶר־לֵב

“lacking of heart”

See how you translated this phrase in 6:32.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 7:7 (#2)

בְּבָנִים

“among the sons”

Here, sons refers to young men. It does not specifically refer to Solomon's sons. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [among the young men]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:7 (#1)

וַאֲנִי רָאִיתִי בְּכֹנֵיִם אֶת־בְּנֵי־יְהוָה

“And I saw among the naive ones, I discerned among the sons”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. They are both the first part of a sentence, and the next phrase finishes both sentences. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could supply an object for the first phrase, or you could show that the second phrase is stating the first phrase again. Alternate translation: [And I saw a person among the naive ones; I discerned among the sons] or [And I saw among the naive ones, that is, I discerned among the sons]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 7:8 (#3)

וַיֵּדְרֶה בִּיתָהּ יֶעֱדֵד

“and he steps {in} the way of her house”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a way that leads to her house. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and he steps in the way that leads to her house]

See: Possession

Proverbs 7:8 (#4)

יֶעֱדֵד

“he steps {in}”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [he stepped in]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:8 (#2)

פִּנָּהּ

“her corner”

Here, corner refers to the place where two roads intersect. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [her place at the intersection of two streets]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:8 (#1)

פִּנָּהּ & בִּיתָהּ

“her corner & her house”

In this verse, her refers to an adulterous woman, as referred to in 7:5. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the corner where an adulterous woman lives ... that woman's house]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 7:9 (#2)

בְּנֶשֶׁף-בַּעֲרֵב יוֹם בְּאִישׁוֹן לַלַּיְלָה וְאֶפְלָה

“in the twilight breeze, in the evening of day, in the pupil of the night and darkness”

The phrases twilight breeze and evening of day refer to the time when evening begins, but the pupil of the night and darkness refers to the time later in the night. Together these phrases indicate that it was getting progressively darker as the young man went to the adulterous woman's house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the twilight breeze, in the evening of day, and even in the pupil of the night and darkness]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:9 (#1)

בְּנֶשֶׁף-בַּעֲרֵב יוֹם בְּאִישׁוֹן לַלַּיְלָה וְאֶפְלָה

“in the twilight breeze, in the evening of day, in the pupil of the night and darkness”

In this verse, Solomon provides this background information about the time period when the young man went to the adulterous woman's house. Use the natural form in your language for expressing background information. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Now it was the time of the twilight breeze, in the evening of day, in the pupil of the night and darkness]

See: Background Information

Proverbs 7:9 (#3)

בְּאִישׁוֹן לַלַּיְלָה

“in the pupil of the night”

Here, the middle of the night is referred to as a pupil because the pupil is both the middle and the darkest part of the eye. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the middle of the night]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:10 (#1)

וְהִנֵּה

“And behold, {there is}”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [And behold, there was]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:10 (#4)

וְנִצָּצְרַת לֵב

“and guarded of heart”

The phrase guarded of heart is an idiom that refers to hiding one’s intentions or plans from other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an idiom from your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and being wily of heart] or [and she planned to deceive someone]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 7:10 (#3)

לִקְרֹאתָהּ

“to meet him”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [who came out to meet him]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 7:10 (#2)

וְהִנֵּה

“And behold, {there is}”

Here, behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the reader on what is about to happen next in the story. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could use some emphatic term or expression in your language that would have this same effect. Alternate translation: [And pay attention to this: there was]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:11 (#2)

בְּבִיתָהּ לֹא יִשְׁכְּנֵנִי רַגְלֶיהָ

“her feet do not stay in her house”

Solomon is using one part of a person, the feet, to represent the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she did not stay in her house]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 7:11 (#1)

הַמִּיָּה & לֹא יִשְׁכְּנֵנִי

“{is} a loud & do not stay”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [was a loud ... did not stay]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:11–12 (#1)

הַמִּיָּה הִיא וְסָרְרַת בְּבִיתָהּ לֹא יִשְׁכְּנֵנִי רַגְלֶיהָ: פָּעַם אֶחָד וְפָעַם בְּרַחֲבֹת וְאֶצֶּל כָּל-פִּנָּה תֵּאָרֵב

“She {is} a loud and rebellious one; her feet do not stay in her house. At {one} time in the street, at {another} time in the open areas, and beside every corner she lies in wait”

In these two verses, Solomon provides background information about the adulterous woman. In your translation, present this information in a way that makes it clear that this is background information.

See: Background Information

Proverbs 7:12 (#3)

פִּנָּה

“corner”

See how you translated corner in 7:8.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:12 (#5)

תֵּאָרֵב

“she lies in wait”

Here Solomon speaks of the adulterous woman looking for a man to persuade to have sex with her as if she were preparing to attack someone by surprise. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she waited to find a man whom she could persuade to have sex with her]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:12 (#4)

תֵּאָרֵב

“she lies in wait”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [she lay in wait]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:12 (#2)

בְּחֹוֹץ

“in the street”

The word street represents streets in general, not one particular street. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [in the streets]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 7:12 (#1)

פָּעַם אֶבְחֹוֹץ פָּעַם בְּרַחֲבֹת וְאֶצֶל כָּל־פִּנֵּה תֵאָרֵב

“At {one} time in the street, at {another} time in the open areas, and beside every corner she lies in wait”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [She lies in wait at one time in the street, at another time in the open areas, and beside every corner]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 7:13 (#1)

וְהִחֲזִיקָה

“And she grabs”

And here indicates that what follows is the continuation of the narrative from 7:10, which Solomon had interrupted with background information in 7:11-12. If it would be helpful in your language, you could show reference to earlier events by translating this relationship by using a fuller phrase. Alternate translation: [After she meets him, she grabs]

See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

Proverbs 7:13 (#2)

וְהִחֲזִיקָה & וּנְשָׁקָה & הִעֲזָה & וַתִּתְאַמֵּר

“And she grabs & and kisses & she strengthens & and says”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [And she grabbed ... and kissed ... she strengthened ... and said]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:13 (#3)

הִעֲזָה פָּפְנֶיהָ

“she strengthens her face”

Here, strengthens her face means that the woman had a facial expression that showed how shameless or impudent she was. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar expression from your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she has a brazen face] or [she puts a shameless expression on her face]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 7:14 (#1)

וְכִהְיִי שְׁלָמִים עִלָּי

“The sacrifices of peace offerings {are} with me”

The woman implies that she has meat to eat at her home because someone who made peace offerings was allowed to keep some of the meat that was offered to Yahweh in the temple (see Leviticus 7:11-17 and 1 Samuel 9:11-13). If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I have leftover meat from the sacrifices of peace offerings I made to Yahweh in the temple]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:14 (#2)

הַיּוֹם שָׁלַמְתִּי נִדְרִי

“today I paid my vows”

Here, vows refers to the sacrifices of peace offerings that the woman promised to sacrifice to God. According to Leviticus 7:16, the woman would have to eat the meat leftover from paying her vows by the end of the next day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [today I made the sacrifices I promised to give to God]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:15 (#2)

פָּנֶיךָ

“your face”

Here, face refers to being in the presence of the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your presence] or [where you were]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 7:15 (#1)

לְשֹׁחֵר

“to diligently seek”

The woman is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I came out to diligently seek]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 7:16 (#1)

עֲרֹשֶׁתִּי

“my couch”

Here, couch refers to a platform that wealthy people would sit or lie on in order to rest or sleep. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of furniture, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [my place for resting]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 7:16 (#2)

מִמְרֻבָּדִים & חֲלָטְבוֹת אֶטְטוֹן מִצְרַיִם

“with} coverings, colored linen of Egypt”

Here, the woman describes the coverings as being colored linen of Egypt, which is expensive and luxurious fabric. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [with coverings, which are luxurious colored linen of Egypt]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:17 (#2)

מִמֶּר אֶאֱהָלִים וְקִנְמוֹן

“with} myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon”

This mixture of myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon consisted of pleasant-smelling substances that were mixed together and used like perfume. If your readers would not be familiar with these substances, you could use a general expression. Alternate translation: [with pleasant-smelling substances]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 7:17 (#1)

נִנְפַתִּי מִשְׁכַּבִּי

“I have sprinkled my bed”

Alternate translation: [I have scattered on my bed]

Proverbs 7:18 (#1)

נִרְוָה דֹדִים

“let us drink fully of lovemaking”

Here, the woman speaks about satisfying one’s sexual desires as if one were satisfying a thirst. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a more general expression. Alternate translation: [let us satisfy our sexual desires] or [let us satisfy ourselves with sex as a thirsty man drinks wine]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:18 (#2)

דֹדִים & בְּאֵהָבִים

“of lovemaking & with loves”

The words translated as lovemaking and loves are plural to indicate an activity rather than a concept. In this verse, both words refer to passionate sexual activity. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [of passionate lovemaking ... with lustful activity]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:19 (#2)

הָאָדָם

“the man”

Here, the man refers to the woman’s husband. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the man whom I married]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:19 (#3)

בביתו

“in his house”

Here, the woman speaks of the house that she lives in with her husband as if it were his house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in our house]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:19 (#4)

בדרך מרחוק

“on a road far away”

Here, road refers to a journey that would include traveling on a road. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [on a journey to a faraway place]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 7:19 (#1)

בכי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is the reason why the woman thinks that it is safe for the young man to come with her, as she told him in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a reason. Alternate translation: [We can do this because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 7:20 (#4)

ביתו

“his house”

Proverbs 7:20 (#3)

הַלְּבָיָהּ

“full moon”

The phrase full moon refers to the moon when it looks like a perfectly round disk in the sky, shining at its brightest. This occurs at the middle of each month. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the moon shining its brightest]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:20 (#1)

צָרֹר־הַכֶּסֶף לְקַח בְּיָדוֹ

“He took the bag of silver in his hand”

This clause implies that the woman’s husband will be gone for a long time because he took a lot of money with him when he left. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [He will be gone for a long time because he took the bag of silver in his hand]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:20 (#2)

צָרֹר־הַכֶּסֶף

“the bag of silver”

Here, the woman is using the possessive form to describe a bag that is full of silver. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the bag full of silver]

See: Possession

Proverbs 7:21 (#2)

הִהָטְתָּ וּלְקַחָהּ & שִׁשְׁפַּתְתִּיהָ תְּדַיְחֶנּוּ

“She leads him astray & her instruction & her lips she compels him”

She and her in this verse refer to the adulterous woman who spoke in 7:14–20 and him refers to the young man whom she is seducing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The adulterous woman led the young man astray ... that woman’s teaching ... that woman’s lips she compels that man]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 7:21 (#3)

הִהָטְתָּ

“She leads him astray”

Here Solomon speaks of the woman persuading the young man to do something as if she were causing him to change the direction in which he was walking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She persuaded him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:21 (#1)

הִהָטְתּוּ & תְּדִיחֶנּוּ

“She leads him astray & she compels him”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [She led him astray ... she compelled him]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:21 (#6)

תְּדִיחֶנּוּ

“she compels him”

Here Solomon implies that the adulterous woman compelled the young man to commit adultery with her. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [she compelled him to go with her] or [she compelled him to have sex with her]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:21 (#5)

בְּחִלָּהּ שִׁשְׁפָּתֶיהָ

“with the smoothness of her lips”

Here Solomon refers to the seductive speech of the adulterous woman as if it were the smoothness of her lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with her seductive speech]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:21 (#4)

בְּרֹב לִקְהָלָהּ

“with the abundance of her instruction”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to refer to an abundant amount of instruction. This word is used elsewhere in Proverbs for good instruction, but here it is bad instruction. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [with her abundant amount of instruction]

See: Possession

Proverbs 7:22 (#6)

מוֹסֵר

“the correction of”

See how you translated the abstract noun correction in 3:11.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 7:22 (#4)

וְכַעֲעֶכֶם אֶל־מוֹסֵר אֵייל

“and like an ankle chain to the correction of a fool”

The ULT is a translation of the Hebrew text for this clause. However, some ancient translations of this clause read “and like a deer to a trap.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 7:22 (#3)

יֵבֹא

“he goes”

Here Solomon uses the present tense in past narration in order to call attention to a development in the story. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the past tense. Alternate translation: [he went]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 7:22 (#1)

כְּשֹׁר אֶל־טֹטְבָה

“like an ox to slaughter”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [like an ox that is going to slaughter]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 7:22 (#2)

כְּשֹׁר אֶל־טֹטְבָה יֵבֹא

“like an ox to slaughter he goes”

Solomon compares the young man who does not know that he was going to die to an ox that was unknowingly going to be slaughtered. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [like a dumb ox, he unknowingly goes to be killed]

See: Simile

Proverbs 7:22 (#5)

וְיִכְעַעְכֶּם אֶל־מוֹסֶר אֲוִיל

“and like an ankle chain to the correction of a fool”

Here Solomon compares the man not being able to escape his death as if he were a fool who was being led by a chain around his ankle to his correction, which would be some form of severe punishment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the language plainly. Alternate translation: [and like a fool wearing an ankle chain, he goes along to where he will be punished]

See: Simile

Proverbs 7:23 (#1)

יִפְלֹעַ חֲלֹץ כְּבִדּוֹ

“an arrow splits his liver”

Here, liver refers to an organ in one’s body that one needs in order to remain alive. Solomon means that the arrow will kill whomever it strikes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [an arrow pierces his vital organs] or [an arrow kills him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 7:23 (#4)

בְּנִפְשׁוֹ הוּא

“it {was} for his life”

This phrase is an idiom that means that this person will die as a result of what he did. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an idiom with the same meaning from your language or you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it would cost him his life] or [it would kill him]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 7:23 (#2)

כְּמִהָרָה צִפּוֹר אֶל־פֶּתַח

“like a bird rushing into a trap”

Solomon compares the young man who is quickly doing something that will kill him to a bird rushing into a trap. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and he quickly goes to be killed like a bird rushing into a trap]

See: Simile

Proverbs 7:23 (#3)

הוּא

“it”

The pronoun it here refers to committing adultery. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [committing adultery] or [having sex with a married woman]

Proverbs 7:27 (#5)

אֵל־חַדְרֵי־מָוֶת

“descending to the rooms of death”

Here Solomon speaks of a man doing something that would result in his death as if he were going on a path that is descending to the rooms of death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [resulting in a man dying] or [causing a man to die]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:27 (#4)

דַּרְכֵי שְׁאֵל

“is} the ways of Sheol”

Here Solomon is speaking of the woman's house as if it were located on a path leading to Sheol. He means that going there with this woman will result in death for the man, either physical or spiritual or both. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of ways in 3:6. Alternate translation: [is a place where you lose your life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 7:27 (#6)

אֵל־חַדְרֵי־מָוֶת

“descending to the rooms of death”

Here Solomon is speaking of death as if it were a house with rooms. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [going there will cause you to die]

Proverbs - Chapter 8 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Wisdom calls out again * Foolish people can choose to be wise (8:1-11) * Characteristics of wisdom (8:12-21) * God used wisdom in creation (8:22-31) * Rewards of wisdom (8:32-36)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Wisdom calls out

In this chapter and the next chapter, wisdom is referred to as if it were a woman who calls out for all to learn from her. Wisdom is also pictured as a person who was with God when he created the universe. These are poetic ways of saying that God offers wisdom to all people and that he created the universe through his wisdom. In languages where it is possible for something like wisdom to be spoken of as if it were a person who speaks, the translator should translate in this way. However, if direct translation is not possible in your language, you may translate the personification as similes instead. In that case, wisdom would be presented as being like a wise woman. When wisdom speaks in 8:4-36, the notes will use the proper noun “Wisdom” to indicate that the personification of wisdom is speaking. See how you translated similar references to wisdom in 1:20-33. (See: Personification)

Proverbs 8:1 (#6)

תַּתִּינֵן קוֹלָהּ

“give her voice”

Proverbs 8:1 (#2)

הֲלֵא־חֵכְמָה תִּקְרָא וְיָתְבוּנָהּ תַּתִּינֵן קוֹלָהּ

“Does not Wisdom call out, and Understanding give her voice”

Solomon is leaving out some words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply the word from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Does not Wisdom call out, and does not Understanding give her voice]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:1 (#1)

הלא-חכמה תקרא ותבוננה תתנן קולה

“Does not Wisdom call out, and Understanding give her voice”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize that Wisdom is available to everyone. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Surely Wisdom calls out, and Understanding gives her voice!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 8:1 (#3)

הלא-חכמה תקרא ותבוננה תתנן קולה

“Does not Wisdom call out, and Understanding give her voice”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. Both Wisdom and Understanding represent the same imaginary woman. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Does not Wisdom call out, in other words, does not Understanding give her voice] or [Surely Wisdom calls out, yes, surely Understanding gives her voice!]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 8:1 (#5)

תקרא & תתנן קולה

“call out & give her voice”

In this verse and throughout the chapter, Wisdom and Understanding are spoken of as if they were a person. See the discussion of such personification in the Introduction for this chapter. Alternate translation: [call out as if it were a woman ... give her voice as if it were a woman]

See: Personification

Proverbs 8:2 (#5)

נצבה

“she stations herself”

Here, she refers to wisdom as if it were a woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [wisdom stations herself] or [wisdom stations itself as if it were a woman]

Proverbs 8:2 (#3)

בראש-מרומים

“At the head of the heights”

The phrase the head of the heights refers to the top of a hill or elevated place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [At the top of hill] or [At the highest place]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:2 (#4)

בבית נתיבות

“the house of the paths”

This phrase refers to the place where roads intersect. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [where roads intersect] or [the crossroads]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 8:2 (#1)

בראש-מרומים עלי-דרך בבית נתיבות נצבה

“At the head of the heights beside the road, the house of the paths, she stations herself”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [She stations herself at the head of the heights beside the road, the house of the paths]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 8:2 (#2)

בראש-מרומים עלי-דרך בבית נתיבות

“At the head of the heights beside the road, the house of the paths”

The phrases the road and the house of the paths both refer to the same place, which is a place where there would be many people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [At the public place at the head of the heights beside the road, the house of the paths]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 8:3 (#4)

לפי־קקרת

“at the mouth of the city”

Here, mouth refers to the entrance to the city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

If it causes problems in your language for Lady Wisdom to talk about the idea of wisdom, use a verb or other expression here that is different than the name “Wisdom.” Alternate translation: [being wise is better]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:11 (#2)

כִּה

“with her”

The pronoun her refers to wisdom. Since the word wisdom is grammatically feminine in Hebrew, the pronoun that refers to it is also feminine. Because of this, Lady Wisdom can refer to both the idea of wisdom and herself at the same time. If your language must choose to refer to either the woman Wisdom or the idea of wisdom, we recommend that you choose the idea of wisdom as what is more important here. Alternate translation: [with it] or [with that]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 8:12 (#2)

הַחֲכָמָה & עֲרֻמָּה וְיָדָעַת מְזֻמָּנוֹת

“Wisdom & Prudence, and knowledge of discretion”

See how you translated the abstract nouns Wisdom in 1:2, and prudence, knowledge, and discretion in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:12 (#4)

וְיָדָעַת מְזֻמָּנוֹת אֶמְצָא

“and knowledge of discretion I find”

Here, Wisdom speaks of enabling people to have knowledge of discretion as if they were objects that one could find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I enable people to acquire knowledge of discretion] or [What is wise enables you to acquire knowledge of discretion]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:12 (#3)

וידעת מזמרות

“and knowledge of discretion”

Here, Wisdom is using the possessive form to describe a knowledge that is about discretion. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and knowledge about discretion]

See: Possession

Proverbs 8:12 (#1)

שכנתי עִרְמָה

“I dwell with Prudence”

Here, Wisdom speaks of being associated with Prudence as if Prudence were a person with whom Wisdom dwells. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [am associated with what is prudent] or [I am similar to prudence. We are like two people who live in the same house]

Proverbs 8:13 (#4)

וּפִי תִהְיֶה כְּלוֹת

“and the mouth of perverse things”

Here, Wisdom is using the possessive form to describe a mouth that speaks perverse things. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and the mouth that speaks perverse things]

See: Possession

Proverbs 8:13 (#2)

רָרַע גִּלְגָּלָה וְגֵאֹוֹן

“evil. Pride and arrogance”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of evil, Pride, and arrogance, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated evil in 1:16. Alternate translation: [evil things. Being proud and arrogant]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:13 (#5)

וּפִי

“and the mouth of”

Here, mouth represents the perverse things that are said through it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the action of speaking]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 8:14 (#2)

לִי-עֲצָה וְתוֹשִׁיָּה & לִי גְבוּרָה

“Counsel and sound wisdom {are} mine & strength {is} mine”

Here, Wisdom speaks of enabling people to have Counsel, sound wisdom, and strength as if they were objects that belong to Wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I enable you to acquire counsel and sound wisdom ... I enable you to acquire strength] or [What is wise enables you to acquire counsel and sound wisdom ... what is wise enables you to acquire strength]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:14 (#1)

עֲצָה וְתוֹשִׁיָּה & בִּינְיָה & גְבוּרָה

“Counsel and sound wisdom & am} understanding; strength”

See how you translated Counsel in 1:25, wisdom and understanding in 1:2, and strength in 5:10.

Proverbs 8:14 (#3)

אֲנִי בִּינְיָה

“I {am} understanding”

Here Wisdom identifies herself with understanding. As in 8:1, we are meant to understand that both wisdom and understanding are two words for the same thing, and thus they are pictured as the same woman who is known by both names. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this clear. Alternate translation: [I am also known as Understanding]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:15 (#2)

צֶדֶק

“righteousness”

See how you translated the abstract noun righteousness in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:15 (#1)

וְהָרִזְנִים יַחְתַּקְקוּ צֶדֶק

“and dignitaries decree righteousness”

Wisdom is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and by me dignitaries decree righteousness] or [and by what is wise dignitaries decree righteousness]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:16 (#3)

שֹׁשְׁפָטִי צֶדֶק

“judges of righteousness”

Here, Wisdom is using the possessive form to describe judges who are characterized by righteousness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [righteous judges]

See: Possession

Proverbs 8:16 (#1)

וְהַנְדִּיבִים

“and nobles”

Wisdom, the speaker, is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and by me nobles rule] or [and by what is wise, nobles rule]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:16 (#2)

כָּל־שֹׁשְׁפָטִי צֶדֶק

“all judges of righteousness”

This phrase applies to princes and nobles and anyone else who rules by wisdom. It distinguishes all of these judges of righteousness from those who do not rule by wisdom and are not righteous. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the relationship between these phrases more clear. Alternate translation: [that is, all of them who are judges of righteousness]

See: Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding

Proverbs 8:17 (#2)

אֲנִי אֶהֱבֶה אֶהֱבֶה

“I myself love those who love me”

Here, wisdom is depicted as if it were a person who can love and be loved by people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Wisdom benefits those who value it] or [It is as if wisdom were a woman who loves those who love her]

See: Personification

Proverbs 8:17 (#3)

וְהַמְשַׁחֲרִי יִמְצְאוּנִי

“and those who diligently seek me will find me”

Here, wisdom is spoken of as if it were a person whom people can seek and find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and those who diligently try to become wise will become wise]

See: Personification

Proverbs 8:17 (#1)

אֲנִי & אֶהֱבֶה

“I myself love”

Here the word myself emphasizes that Wisdom has only love for those who love her. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this significance. Alternate translation: [As for me, I love]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 8:18 (#3)

וְכִבְדּוֹ & וְצִדְקָה

“and honor & and righteousness”

See how you translated the abstract nouns honor in 3:16 and righteousness in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:18 (#1)

עֲשֶׂה לְךָ כְּבוֹד אִתִּי

“Riches and honor {are} with me”

Here, Wisdom speaks of enabling people to have Riches, honor, surpassing wealth, and righteousness as if they were objects that were with Wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I enable you to have riches, honor, surpassing wealth, and righteousness] or [What is wise enables you to have riches, honor, surpassing wealth, and righteousness]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:18 (#2)

הֵיוֹן עֲלֵתֶיךָ וצִדְקָה

“lasting wealth and righteousness”

Wisdom is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [surpassing wealth and righteousness are with me] or [surpassing wealth and righteousness are with what is wise]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:19 (#2)

מִתְרַוֵּץ וּמִפָּזוּז

“than gold and than refined gold”

The terms gold and refined gold mean similar things. Wisdom is using them together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [than the finest gold]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 8:19 (#3)

מִכְנָסָף נִבְהָר

“than choice silver”

Wisdom is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [is better than choice silver]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:19 (#4)

מִכְנָסָף נִבְהָר

“than choice silver”

Here, choice silver refers to silver that is the best quality. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [than the best silver]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 8:19 (#1)

טָטִיב פִּפְרִי & וְיִתְבוֹאֲתִי

“My fruit {is} better & and my produce”

Here, fruit and produce refer to the benefits that a person receives from having wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [My benefits are better ... they are better] or [The benefits I can give you are better ... yes, they are more]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:20 (#2)

בְּאַרְח־צִדְקָה

“in the path of righteousness”

Here, Wisdom is using the possessive form to describe the path that is characterized by righteousness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the righteous path]

See: Possession

Proverbs 8:20 (#1)

בְּאַרְח־צִדְקָה אֶהְלֵךְ

“I walk in the path of righteousness”

Here Wisdom speaks of behaving righteously as if she were walking on a path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I behave righteously]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:20 (#3)

בְּבִתְלוּד נְתִיבֹת מִשְׁפָּט

“in the midst of the pathways of justice”

Wisdom is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I walk in the midst of the pathways of justice]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:20 (#4)

נתיבות משפט

“the pathways of justice”

Here, Wisdom is using the possessive form to describe the pathways that are characterized by justice. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the just pathways]

See: Possession

Proverbs 8:21 (#2)

ואצרתיהם

“and their treasures”

The word treasures refers to buildings or rooms where people store valuable things. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and their buildings where they store precious things]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 8:21 (#1)

להנחיל אהבבי

“to cause those who love me to inherit”

Here, to indicates that what follows is the purpose for what Wisdom does in the previous verse. Use a natural way in your language for introducing a purpose. You may want to begin a new sentence. Alternate translation: [I do that for the purpose of causing those who love me to inherit]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 8:22 (#3)

קדנני

“possessed me”

Some scholars believe that the word translated as possessed could also mean “created.” Either way, the point is that Yahweh had wisdom before he created the universe. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 8:22 (#2)

יהוה קדנני ראשית דרכיו קדדם מפעליו מאז

“Yahweh possessed me {at} the beginning of his way, before his works from then”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Yahweh possessed me at the beginning of his way, yes, Yahweh possessed me before his works from then]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 8:22 (#4)

דרכו & מפעליו

“his way & his works”

The phrases his way and his works both refer to Yahweh creating the universe. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [his creating ... his creative works]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 8:22 (#1)

יהוה קדנני ראשית דרכיו קדדם מפעליו מאז

“Yahweh possessed me {at} the beginning of his way, before his works from then”

Wisdom is leaving out some words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh possessed me at the beginning of his way; Yahweh possessed me before his works from then]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 8:22 (#5)

מאז

“from then”

Here, then refers to the beginning mentioned in the previous clause, which refers to when Yahweh started creating the universe. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from the beginning]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 8:23 (#3)

נִסְפָּקְתִּי

“I was poured out”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh did the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh poured me out]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 8:23 (#4)

נִסְפָּקְתִּי

“I was poured out”

Here, Wisdom speaks of being established as if she were a liquid that was poured out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I was established]

Proverbs 8:26 (#3)

וְרֹאשׁ

“or the head of”

Here, the head refers to the first part of something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [or the first of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:26 (#1)

עַד-לֵא עָשָׂה אֲרֶץ וְחוּצוֹת וְרֹאשׁ עֶפְרוֹת תֵּבֵל

“before he made the earth or the outside places or the head of the loose soil of the world”

This verse continues the sentence that began in the previous verse. If you divide the previous verse and this verse into separate sentences, then you will need to repeat the main clause from the previous verse. Alternate translation: [I was brought forth before he made the earth or the outside places or the head of the loose soil of the world]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 8:27 (#1)

בְּהִכְיֵנוּ שָׁמַיִם שֶׁשָּׁם אֲנִי

“When he established the heavens, I {was} there”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could change the order of these phrases. This verse is the beginning of a sentence that continues through 8:29. If you make each verse a separate sentence, then you will need to repeat the main clause of this verse in each of those verses. Alternate translation: [I was there when he established the heavens]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 8:27 (#2)

בְּחֻקוֹ הָיוּ עַל-פָּנָי תְּהוֹם

אָדָם

“is} the man”

The word man represents a person in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [is any person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 8:34 (#3)

לִשְׁקֹקֵד עַל־דַּלְתֵּי יוֹם | יוֹם לְלִשְׁמֹמֶר מְזוּזַת פֶּתְחִי

“keeping vigil over my doors day {by} day, keeping watch {over} the doorposts of my entrances”

Here Wisdom speaks of someone being eager to listen to her as if that person were vigilantly waiting at the door to her house, waiting for her to come out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [being extremely eager to hear wise counsel] or [being eager to listen to me as if one were keeping vigil over my doors day by day, keeping watch over the doorposts of my entrances]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 8:34 (#4)

לִשְׁקֶקֶד עַל־דַּלְתֹתַי יוֹם י יוֹם לְלִשְׁמֹמֶר מְזוּזַת פֶּתְחִי

“keeping vigil over my doors day {by} day, keeping watch {over} the doorposts of my entrances”

The author assumes that his readers will understand that Happy is the man also applies to this part of the sentence. You could repeat it here if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [happy is the man keeping vigil over my doors day by day, keeping watch over the doorposts of my entrances]

רַחֲצִיּוֹן

“favor”

See how you translated favor in 3:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:35 (#2)

מֵצֵאִי

“a finder of me”

Here, learning wisdom is spoken of as if wisdom were a person whom someone could find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar phrase in 3:13 and 8:17. Alternate translation: [those who attain wisdom] or [those who become wise]

See: Personification

Proverbs 8:35 (#4)

וַיִּשְׁכֵּץ

“and he obtains”

Although the term he is masculine, Wisdom is using the word in a generic sense that could refer to either a man or woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [and that person obtains]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 8:35 (#1)

בְּכִי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason why someone who listens to Wisdom will be happy, as stated in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [That man will be happy because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 8:35 (#3)

מֵצֵאֵי חַיִּים

“is” a finder of life”

Having a good life is spoken of as if life were an object that a person can find by searching for it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are those who will have good lives]

See: Personification

Proverbs 8:36 (#2)

הַמָּוֶת & מָוֶת

“does violence to & death”

See how you translated the abstract nouns violence in 3:31 and death in 2:18.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 8:36 (#4)

אֶהָבֶה מָוֶת

“love death”

This phrase is an exaggeration that emphasizes that people who hate wisdom choose to live in a way that will cause them to die. It does not mean that people who hate wisdom actually love death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [show by their actions that they choose to die] or [act as if they love death]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 8:36 (#3)

נַפְשִׁי

“his life”

Here, life refers to the person himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [himself]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 8:36 (#1)

וְהָטָאִי

“But a misser of me”

The phrase translated a misser of me refers to someone who misses the goal, which is to find wisdom, as in the previous verse. It does not refer to someone who misses another person in the sense of longing for that person to be present. The phrase could also be translated as “a sinner against me,” since the same word is used both for sinning and for missing the mark or failing to reach a goal. Proverbs - Chapter 9 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Wisdom and folly (9:1-18) * Wisdom invites naive people to a meal (9:1-6) * Wise men become wiser but mockers will suffer (9:7-12) * Folly invites people to her house (9:13-18)

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Wisdom calls out

In this chapter, as in the previous chapter, wisdom is referred to as if it were a woman who prepares a meal and calls out for all to come and learn from her. When wisdom speaks in 9:4-12, the notes will use the proper noun “Wisdom” to indicate that the personification of wisdom is speaking. In languages where it is possible for something like wisdom to be spoken of as if it were a person who speaks, the translator should translate in this way. However, if direct translation is not possible in your language, you may translate the personification as similes instead. In that case, wisdom would be presented as being like a wise woman. See how you translated similar references to wisdom in 1:20-33 and 8:4-36. (See: Personification)

Proverbs 9:1 (#2)

הַצִּבְּרָה עֲמוּדֵיהָ שִׁבְעָה

“she has hewn out her seven pillars”

This clause refers to part of the process of building the house that was mentioned in the previous clause. A house with seven pillars would have been very large. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she has hewn out seven pillars to support the roof of her house]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:1 (#1)

הַחֲכָמוֹת בְּנִתְּנָה בֵּיתָהּ הַצִּבְּרָה עֲמוּדֵיהָ שִׁבְעָה

“Wisdom has built her house; she has hewn out her seven pillars”

In 9:1-12, Wisdom is spoken of as if it were a woman. See the discussion of this in the Chapter Introduction. Alternate translation: [It is as if wisdom were a woman who has built her house and has hewn out her seven pillars]

See: Personification

Proverbs 9:2 (#3)

טָבַחְתָּה טֶטֶבַחָהּ

“She has slaughtered her slaughter”

Here, slaughter refers to the animals that Wisdom has slaughtered so that their meat may be eaten at a meal. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She has slaughtered the animals so that their meat may be eaten at the meal]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 9:2 (#5)

עָרַכְתָּה שְׁלֻחָנָהּ

“she has arranged her table”

This phrase refers to putting the food and eating utensils on a table in order to prepare for a meal. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she has prepared her table for people to eat a meal]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:2 (#2)

טָבַחְתָּה טֶטֶבַחָהּ מִסִּכְכָּה יִיגַגֶּה אֶלֶף עָרַכְתָּה שְׁלֻחָנָהּ

“She has slaughtered her slaughter, she has mixed her wine, also she has arranged her table”

All three of these clauses refer to parts of the process of preparing a special meal for guests. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She has prepared a meal for guests by slaughtering her slaughter, mixing her wine, and arranging her table]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:2 (#1)

טְבַחְתָּהּ טַטְבָּחָהּ מִסְכָּכָה יִיגָה אֵלֶּף עֲרֹכָהּ שְׁלַחְנָהּ

“She has slaughtered her slaughter, she has mixed her wine, also she has arranged her table”

In this verse, wisdom is spoken of as if it were a woman. See the discussion of such personification in the Chapter Introduction. Alternate translation: [It is as if wisdom were a woman who has slaughtered her slaughter, mixed her wine, and arranged her table]

See: Personification

Proverbs 9:2 (#4)

מִסְכָּכָה יִיגָה

“she has mixed her wine”

In ancient Israel, people often prepared wine for special meals by mixing spices into it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she has prepared her wine by mixing spices into it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:3 (#3)

עַל־גִּצְפֵּי מְרֹמֵי

“on the tops of the heights of”

See how you translated the similar phrase “the head of the heights” in 8:2.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:3 (#2)

שְׁלַחְתָּהּ נְעֻרֹתֶיהָ

“She has sent out her young women”

Solomon implies that the young women were sent out in order to invite people to the meal that Wisdom had prepared. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She has sent out her young women to invite people to the meal]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:3 (#1)

שְׁלַחְתָּהּ נְעֻרֹתֶיהָ תִּקְרָא

“She has sent out her young women; she calls out”

In this verse, wisdom is spoken of as if it were a wealthy woman who has servants and calls out in public. See the discussion of such personification in the Chapter Introduction. Alternate translation: [It is as if wisdom were a woman who has sent out her young women and calls out]

See: Personification

Proverbs 9:4 (#4)

חָסֵר־לֵב

“lacking of heart”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 7:7.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 9:4 (#2)

יָסֹר הֵנָּה

“let him turn aside here”

Here, Wisdom implies that the naive person should turn aside and come to her house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [let him leave his path and come to my house]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:4 (#1)

מִי־פֹסֵתִי יָסֹר הֵנָּה חָסֵר־לֵב אֲאָמְרָה לוֹ

“Whoever {is} naive, let him turn aside here,” she says to him lacking of heart”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [She says to him lacking of heart, “Whoever is naive, let him turn aside here.”]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 9:4 (#3)

יָסֹר & לוֹ

“let him turn aside & to him”

Although him is masculine, here it refers to any naive person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [let that person turn aside ... to that person]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 9:4-5 (#1)

מִי־פָסְתִי יִסְסֶר הַהֲנֶה חֶסֶד־לֵלֵב אֲאָמְרָה לוֹ: לָלֶכֶת לְחַמְמוֹ בְּלֶחֱמִי וְשִׁתְּנוּ בִּיָּיִן מִסְקָתִי

“Whoever [is] naive, let him turn aside here,” she says to him lacking of heart. “Come, eat my bread, and drink the wine I have mixed”

In these two verses, Wisdom speaks of people acquiring wisdom as they were turning aside from a path to enter Wisdom’s house, eat Wisdom’s bread, and drink Wisdom’s wine. Just as bread and wine are good and keep people alive, so wisdom also is good and something that enables people to live good lives. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could explain the comparison. Alternate translation: [She says to him lacking of heart, “Whoever is naive, benefit your lives by acquiring wisdom. Doing so is like turning aside here, coming to me, eating my bread, and drinking the wine I have mixed]

See: Biblical Imagery — Extended Metaphors

Proverbs 9:5 (#2)

לָלֶכֶת לְחַמְמוֹ & וְשִׁתְּנוּ

“Come, eat & and drink”

All three of these commands are plural because Wisdom is addressing all the “naive” people at the same time.

See: Forms of You

Proverbs 9:5 (#3)

בִּיָּיִן מִסְקָתִי

“the wine I have mixed”

See how you translated the similar phrase in 9:2.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:5 (#1)

בְּלֶחֱמִי

“my bread”

Here, bread is used to refer to food in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 9:6 (#1)

עֲזַבְבוּ וְחָיִי וְאֲשֶׁרֶרִי

“Forsake & and live; and stride”

All three of these commands are plural because Wisdom is addressing all the naive people at the same time.

See: Forms of You

Proverbs 9:6 (#5)

בִּינָה

“understanding”

See how you translated the abstract noun understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 9:6 (#4)

וְאֲשֶׁרֶרִי בְּדַרְדָּר בִּינָה

“and stride on the way of understanding”

Here, Wisdom speaks of a people behaving in a manner that will enable them to acquire understanding as if they were striding on a path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and behave in a manner that will enable you to acquire understanding]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:6 (#2)

וְחָיִי

“and live”

Here, and indicates that what follows is the purpose for doing what Wisdom commands people to do earlier in this verse. Use a connector in your language that indicates a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of living]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 9:6 (#3)

וְחָיִי

“and live”

Here, live refers to living a life that is long and satisfying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and live a good, long life]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:7 (#4)

קָלָיוֹן

“disgrace”

See how you translated the abstract noun disgrace in 6:33.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 9:7 (#1)

יִסְדֹּר אֶלֶּץ לַקֶּהֱלָה לְלוֹ קַלְלוֹן וּמוֹכְרֵיהָ לְרִשְׁשָׁע מוֹמָיו

“The instructor of a mocker receives disgrace for himself, and the rebuker of a wicked {one}, his injury”

Here, the terms The instructor, a mocker, himself, the rebuker, a wicked one, and his do not refer to specific people, but refer to types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Any instructor of any mocker receives disgrace for that person, and any rebuker of any wicked one, that person’s injury]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 9:7 (#2)

יִסְדֹּר אֶלֶּץ

“The instructor of a mocker”

Since a mocker does not accept instruction, this phrase implies that someone attempted to be an instructor of a mocker. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The one who attempts to instruct a mocker]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:7 (#3)

לַקֶּהֱלָה לְלוֹ קַלְלוֹן

“receives disgrace for himself”

Here, Wisdom speaks of disgrace as if it were an object that a person receives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will himself be disgraced]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:7 (#5)

וּמוֹכְרֵיהָ לְרִשְׁשָׁע מוֹמָיו

“and the rebuker of a wicked {one}, his injury”

Wisdom is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language.

Alternate translation: [and the rebuker of a wicked one receives his injury]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 9:7 (#7)

מוֹמָיו

“his injury”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of injury, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [becomes injured]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 9:7 (#6)

לְרִשְׁשָׁע

“a wicked {one}”

Wisdom is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [a wicked person]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 9:8 (#2)

לֵלֵץ פֹּיִי־שֹׂנְאָאָה & לְחָכְכֶם וַיֹּאדָהָר

“a mocker, lest he hate you & a wise one, and he will love you”

Here, a mocker, he, and a wise one do not refer to specific people, but refer to types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [any mocker, lest that person hate you ... any wise one, and that person will love you]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 9:8 (#1)

אַל־תִּתְּנוּכָה

“Do not rebuke”

This clause states what Wisdom wants people to do as a result of what Wisdom said in the previous verse. Use the most natural way to express an intended result in your language. Alternate translation: [Therefore, do not rebuke]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 9:8 (#5)

וַיֹּאדָהָר

“and he will love you”

Here, and introduces the result of obeying the command stated in the previous phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [and it will result in him loving you]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 9:8 (#3)

הוֹכֵחַ לְלֵחֲכֶם

“rebuke a wise one”

This clause says something that is in contrast to what was said in the previous clause. Use a natural way in your language to express a strong contrast. Alternate translation: [By contrast, rebuke a wise one]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 9:8 (#4)

הוֹכֵחַ לְלֵחֲכֶם וַיֵּאָהֱבֶךָ

“rebuke a wise one, and he will love you”

The word rebuke is an imperative, but it communicates a condition under which something will happen, rather than a command. If it is helpful in your language, use a form that communicates a condition. Alternate translation: [if you rebuke a wise one, then he will love you]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 9:9 (#3)

לְלֵחֲכֶם וַיִּהְיוּ עֲשִׂידִים & לְלִצְדִּיקִים וַיִּזְכָּקוּ

“to a wise {one}, and he will become more wise & a righteous {one}, and he will increase”

Here, a wise one, he, and a righteous one do not refer to specific people but refer to these types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use an expression that would be more natural in your language. Alternate translation: [to any wise one, and that person will become more wise ... any righteous one, and that person will increase]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 9:9 (#1)

תֵּתֵן

“Give”

Wisdom is leaving out a word that a clause would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply this word from the context. Alternate translation: [Give instruction] or [Give what is wise]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 9:9 (#2)

תֵּתֵן & הוֹדִיעַ

“Give & inform”

The words Give and inform are imperatives, but they communicate a condition under which something will happen, rather than a command. If it is helpful in your language, use a form that communicates a condition, as in the UST.

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 9:10 (#2)

הַחֵכְמָה & יְדָעַת & בִּינָה

Proverbs 9:11 (#4)

וַיִּוָּסְפוּ לְלִדְךָ שְׁנֵנוֹת חַיִּים

“and years of life will be added to you”

Here Wisdom speaks of people living for a long time as if the years that they are alive were something that could be added to their lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you will live many more years]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:11 (#3)

יִרְבְּבוּ יָמֶיךָ

“your days will increase”

Here Wisdom speaks of people living for a long time as if the days that they are alive were something that could increase in number. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you will live many more days]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:11 (#6)

וְיוֹסֶפֶת לְךָ

“and & will be added to you”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and ... I will add to you]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 9:11 (#1)

כִּי

“Indeed”

Indeed here indicates that Wisdom is emphasizing what follows in this verse. Use a connector in your language that makes that emphasis clear. Alternate translation: [Truly]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 9:11 (#2)

כִּי-כִבְיִ יִרְבְּבוּ יָמֶיךָ וְיוֹסֶפֶת לְךָ שָׁנֹת חַיִּים

“Indeed, by me your days will increase, and years of life will be added to you”

These two phrases mean very similar things. Wisdom is repeating the same idea with different words to emphasize the idea that the phrases express. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine the phrases and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [Indeed, by me you will live a lot longer]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 9:12 (#2)

לְבַדְּךָ תִּשָּׂא

“you alone will bear {it}”

Here, Wisdom speaks of someone experiencing the consequences of one's bad behavior as if it were a heavy object that one had to carry on one's back. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you alone will experience the consequences]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:12 (#1)

לָלֶדְךָ

“for yourself”

Here, for implies that being wise is for the benefit of the wise person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [for the benefit of yourself]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:13 (#2)

וּבִלְיִידָעָה מְאֹד

“and she does not know anything”

This phrase is an exaggeration that Solomon uses to emphasize how ignorant this woman is. It does not mean that she does not know anything at all. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and she does not know much] or [and she knows very little]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 9:13 (#1)

אֵאָשֶׁת כִּכְסִילוֹת הַמִּיָּה פֹּתִיזוֹת וּבִלְיִידָעָה מְאֹד

“The woman of stupidity {is} loud, naive, and she does not know anything”

The woman of stupidity is referred to from this verse through verse 18. Translate consistently according to which of the following options that you choose. This phrase could refer to: (1) a woman who is characterized by stupidity, in which case this phrase would refer to stupid women in general. Alternate translation: [A stupid woman is loud, naive, and she does not know anything] or [Stupid women are loud, naive, and do not know anything]; (2) stupidity as if it were a woman, which is how wisdom was spoken of in the previous part of this chapter. Alternate translation: [Lady Stupidity is loud, naive, and she does not know anything]

See: Possession

Proverbs 9:14 (#2)

לִפְתָּח בֵּיתָהּ

“at the opening of her house”

See how you translated this phrase in 5:8.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:14 (#1)

נֹשֶׁבֶת לִפְתָּח בֵּיתָהּ עַל-כִּסֵּא מִרְמֵי קֶרֶת

“And she sits at the opening of her house, on a seat {by} the heights of the city”

If you translated the phrase “woman of stupidity” as a plural form in the previous verse, then you should use plural forms in this verse. Alternate translation: [And they sit at the opening of their houses, on seats by the heights of the city]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 9:14 (#3)

עַל-כִּסֵּא

“on a seat”

This clause could refer to: (1) the specific location of the opening of her house. Alternate translation: [which is on a seat]; (2) a second location where she sits. Alternate translation: [or on a seat]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 9:15 (#1)

לִקְרֹא

“to call”

Here, to indicates that what follows is the purpose for the “woman of stupidity” sitting in a public place, as stated in the previous verse. Use a natural way in your language to express a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of calling]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 9:15 (#3)

הֵם מֵיִשְׂרָאֵל אֲרוּחָם

“the ones going straight {on} their paths”

This clause is an idiom that describes people who are only thinking of their own affairs. If this clause does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the ones minding their own business] or [the ones going about their own affairs]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 9:15 (#2)

לְעֹבְרֵי דָגֶרֶד

“to those who pass over the way”

Alternate translation: [to those walking by on the road]

מִי־פִשְׁתִּי יִסָּר הַנָּהָה וְחִסְר־לֵב וְאֶאֱמָרָה לוֹ

“Whoever {is} naive, let him turn aside here!” And she says to him, the lacking of heart”

See how you translated the nearly identical clauses in 9:4. If you are translating the “woman of stupidity” as a person, you could use her name here. Alternate translation: [Whoever is naive, let him turn aside here!] And Lady Stupidity says to him, the lacking of heart]

See: Personification

Proverbs 9:16 (#2)

מִי־פִשְׁתִּי יִסָּר הַנָּהָה וְחִסְר־לֵב וְאֶאֱמָרָה לוֹ

“Whoever {is} naive, let him turn aside here!” And she says to him, the lacking of heart”

If it is more natural in your language, you could put the introduction of the speaker first. Alternate translation: [And she says to him, the lacking of heart, “Whoever {is} naive, let him turn aside here]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 9:17 (#2)

מַיִם־גְּנוּבִים יִמְתְּקוּ וְלֶחֶם סֹתְרִים יִנְעֵם

“Stolen waters are sweet, and bread of secrecies is pleasant”

In this verse, the foolish woman refers to the pleasure of having sex with someone to whom one is not married as if it were as sweet as stolen waters or as pleasant as bread of secrecies. Water and food are also used as euphemisms for sexual activity in 5:15–19 and 30:20. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile: “Having sex with me is truly enjoyable” or “Having sex with me is as enjoyable as drinking stolen waters or eating bread of secrecies”

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 9:17 (#1)

מִיָּם-גְּנוּבִים יִמְתֵּקוּ

“Stolen waters are sweet”

The stupid woman implies that what she says in this verse is the reason why the “naive” should “turn aside” to her. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Turn aside here because stolen waters are sweet]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 9:17 (#2)

וְלֶחֶם סֵתֵרִים

“and bread of secrecies”

The phrase bread of secrecies could refer to: (1) bread that a person secretly eats by himself. Alternate translation: [and bread that is eaten in secrecy]; (2) bread that one obtains through secret deeds, which implies stealing the bread. Alternate translation: [and bread obtained secretly] or [and stolen bread]

Proverbs - Chapter 10 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Outline of Proverbs 10

General proverbs from Solomon contrasting the benefits of being righteous and wise with the trouble that comes to those who are wicked and foolish (10:1–32)

Chapter 10 starts a new section of the book, which is mainly filled with short, individual proverbs that were written by Solomon (10:1–22:16).

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 10:10, 18, 22, and 26, all the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Generic use of “righteous” and “wicked”

These proverbs often contrast the behavior of righteous people and wicked people. They usually refer to all righteous people simply as “the righteous” or “a righteous one.” In the same way, these proverbs often refer to all wicked people by saying, “the wicked” or “a wicked one.” Use a natural expression in your language that refers to any people who can be described in this way.

Proverbs 10:1 (#3)

אָב

“a father”

Here, father refers specifically to the father of the son mentioned earlier in the sentence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly, as in the UST.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 10:1 (#1)

מִשְׁלֵי שְׁלֹמֹה

“The proverbs of Solomon”

See how you translated this phrase in 1:1.

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 10:1 (#2)

בֵּינָם חֶסֶד וְיִשְׁמַח אָבִי וּבֵינָם כִּכְסִּיף תִּוּגַּת אִמּוֹ

“A wise son gladdens a father, but a stupid son {is} the grief of his mother”

Although the terms son and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [Any wise person gladdens that person’s father, but any stupid person is the grief of that person’s mother]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 10:1 (#4)

תִּוּגַּת אִמּוֹ

“{is} the grief of his mother”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of grief, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [grieves his mother]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 10:2 (#3)

וּפִי צִדִּיק וְקוֹל מִמֶּנָּה

“but righteousness & from death”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness in 1:3 and death in 2:18.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 10:2 (#1)

אוֹצְרוֹת רָעָשׁ

“Treasures of wickedness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe Treasures that someone gained by wickedness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Treasures gained in wicked ways] or [Treasures obtained by wicked means]

See: Possession

Proverbs 10:2 (#2)

לֹא יִזְכֹּקוּ

“do not profit”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [do not profit those who possess them]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 10:2 (#4)

תִּצְצִיל

“delivers”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [delivers a person]

Proverbs 10:21 (#5)

לֵב

“heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 6:32.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 10:21 (#1)

שִׁפְתָּי

“The lips of”

Here, lips refers to what people say by moving their lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The sayings of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 10:21 (#4)

בְּחֶסֶד-לֵב יָמוּתוּ

“die by lack of heart”

Here, by indicates that what follows is the reason why fools die. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a reason. Alternate translation: [die as a result of lacking heart]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 10:21 (#3)

רֹעֵהוּ

“shepherd”

Here Solomon speaks of what righteous people say benefitting people as if their words were guiding the hearers the way that a shepherd guides sheep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [guide]

See: Personification

Proverbs 10:22 (#1)

וְלֹא-יִוָּסֶסֶף עִנְיָו עִמָּה

“and striving does not add {more} with it”

The word translated as striving has a broad meaning. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. It can mean: (1) “excessively hard work.” Alternate translation: [and toil does not add to it] or [and hard work does not add more riches to it]; (2) “pain.” In this interpretation, Yahweh would be the subject of the phrase does not add and “pain” would be the object. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh does not add pain to it]

Proverbs 10:23 (#3)

וְהָחֵקְמָהּ & תְּבוּנָהּ

“but wisdom & understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 10:23 (#5)

לְאִישׁ תְּבוּנָהּ

“for a man of understanding”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by understanding. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [for an understanding man] or [for a person who has understanding]

See: Possession

Proverbs 10:23 (#1)

כְּשֶׁחֲתוּק לֵלְכִסִּיל עֲשֻׁשׁוֹת זִמְמָה

“Like laughter for a stupid one {is} doing a wicked plan”

Solomon is saying that doing a wicked plan is like laughter because a stupid one enjoys it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [For a stupid one, doing a wicked plan is as much fun as laughing]

See: Simile

Proverbs 10:23 (#2)

לְהַקְמִיָּה לְאִישׁ תְּבוּנָה

“but wisdom, for a man of understanding”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words in this clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but wisdom is like laughter for a man of understanding]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 10:23 (#4)

לְאִישׁ תְּבוּנָה

“for a man of understanding”

Although man is masculine, here it refers to any person with understanding. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [for a person of understanding]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 10:24 (#5)

יָתֵן

“will be given”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh will do the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will give]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 10:24 (#2)

כִּי־יֵשַׁע הַרְיָא תְבוּאָאֻנֻּי

“the wicked one, it will come to him”

In this verse, the wicked one and him refer to wicked people in general. See how you translated the wicked one in 3:33. Alternate translation: [any wicked person, it will come to that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 10:24 (#3)

הַרְיָא תְבוּאָאֻנֻּי

“it will come to him”

Here Solomon speaks of someone experiencing terror as if terror were a living thing that could come to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it will happen to him]

See: Personification

Proverbs 10:24 (#1)

מְגוֹרָת

“The terror of”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of terror, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [That which terrifies]

Proverbs 10:24 (#4)

יָתֵן

“will be given”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [will be given to them]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 10:25 (#6)

יִסְדּוֹד עוֹלָם

“is} a foundation of eternity”

Here Solomon refers to a righteous one being able to endure disasters as if that person were the foundation of a building that storms do not damage. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [endures to eternity] or [remains forever]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:25 (#3)

וְאִישׁוֹ רָשָׁע

“then there is no {more} wicked”

Here Solomon implies that the whirlwind blew away every wicked one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and there is no wicked one because the whirlwind blew them away]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 10:25 (#7)

יִסְכּוֹד עוֹלָם

“is} a foundation of eternity”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a foundation that lasts to eternity. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is an eternal foundation] or [is a foundation that lasts to eternity]

See: Possession

Proverbs 10:25 (#5)

וְצַדִּיק

“but a righteous one”

Solomon is speaking of righteous people in general, not of one particular righteous person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural phrase. Alternate translation: [but any righteous person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 10:25 (#1)

כַּעֲבֹר סוּפָה

“When a whirlwind passes over”

Here, whirlwind could refer to: (1) any destructive event. Alternate translation: [At the occurring of a disaster] or [When a disaster occurs]; (2) a storm. Alternate translation: [When a storm occurs]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:25 (#2)

וְאֵין רָשָׁע

“then there is no {more} wicked”

The word translated then here indicates that the event it introduces took place as a result of the event stated in the previous clause. Use a natural form in your language for introducing an event that is the result of another event. Alternate translation: [it results in there being no more wicked]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 10:25 (#4)

רָשָׁע

“wicked”

Solomon is using the adjective wicked as a noun to mean wicked people in general. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [wicked person]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 10:26 (#1)

כַּחֲמֶזֶן לְשִׁנַּיִם וְכַעֲשָׂשׁוֹן לְעֵינַיִם

“Like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes”

Solomon is saying that the lazy one is like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes because vinegar irritates teeth and smoke irritates eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Like vinegar is irritating to teeth and smoke is irritating to eyes]

See: Simile

Proverbs 10:26 (#3)

לְשִׁלְחִיו

“to one who sends him”

Here Solomon implies that the lazy one was sent to do some errand for the person who sent him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to one who sends him to do an errand]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 10:26 (#2)

הֵךְ עֵצִי לְשִׁלְחִיו

“is} the lazy one to one who sends him”

In this verse, the lazy one and him refer to lazy people in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [is any lazy person to one who sends that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 10:27 (#5)

וְשָׁנֹת רָשָׁעִים

“but the years of the wicked ones”

Here Solomon uses years to refer to the length of time that a person lives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the lifetimes of the wicked ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:27 (#3)

תוֹסֶסֶיף יָמִימִים

“will add days”

Here Solomon implies that days are added to the length of a person’s life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [will add days to the length of a person’s life]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 10:27 (#1)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“The fear of Yahweh”

See how you translated the fear of Yahweh in 1:7.

See: Possession

Proverbs 10:27 (#2)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה תוֹסֶסֶיף יָמִימִים

“The fear of Yahweh will add days”

Here Solomon speaks as if the fear of Yahweh were a person who could add days to a person’s life. He means that by fearing Yahweh, a person will live a long life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [By fearing Yahweh, the days of a person’s life will increase]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:27 (#4)

תוֹסֶסֶיף יָמִימִים

“will add days”

Here, days represents years that are made up of days. It does not imply a shorter amount of life than is meant by years in the next clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will add days upon days] or [will add years]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 10:28 (#3)

וְתִקְוַת רְשָׁעִים תֵּאָכֵד

“but the expectation of the wicked ones will perish”

Here Solomon speaks of the wicked ones having unfulfilled expectations as if their expectation will perish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the expectation of the wicked ones will remain unfulfilled]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:28 (#1)

תוֹחֵלֶת & שְׂמֵחָה

“The hope of & is} joy”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of hope and joy, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [What is hoped for by ... is what is joyful]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 10:28 (#2)

שְׂמֵחָה

“is} joy”

Here the thing that the righteous ones hope for is referred to by what it produces, which is joy. Alternate translation: [results in joy] or [brings joy]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 10:29 (#2)

לְלֵתָם & אָוֶן

“for the one with integrity & iniquity”

See how you translated the abstract nouns integrity in 1:3 and iniquity in 6:12.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 10:29 (#1)

קִמְעוּז

“A stronghold”

Here Solomon refers to the way of Yahweh protecting people as if it were a stronghold. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Protection]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:29 (#3)

דַּרְךְ יְהוָה

“is} the way of Yahweh”

Here, the way of Yahweh refers to the righteous way that Yahweh teaches people to live. This is the “way of wisdom” that Solomon speaks of in 4:11. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is living by Yahweh’s instruction]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 10:29 (#4)

וְאִם חָתָה

“but ruin”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. The way of Yahweh causes ruin for doers of iniquity because they walk on a different path, as in 4:14. Alternate translation: [but the way of Yahweh causes ruin]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 10:31 (#5)

תִּכְרֹת

“will be cut off”

Here Solomon speaks of the perverse ones not being permitted to speak as if someone cut off their tongues. This does not mean that someone would literally cut off their tongues; it simply means that they will be stopped. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will not be allowed to speak] or [will be stopped]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 10:31 (#2)

יִבְנוּב הַחֲכָמָה

“bears the fruit of wisdom”

Here Solomon refers to a righteous person saying wise things as if his mouth were a plant that bears wisdom as a fruit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [speaks wisdom] or [speaks wisdom like a plant bears fruit]

Proverbs - Chapter 11 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 11 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs. These proverbs continue to contrast the benefits of being righteous and wise with the trouble that comes to those who are wicked and foolish (11:1–31).

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 11:7, 10, 22, 25, and 11:29–31, all the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Proverbs 11:1 (#6)

רִצְיוֹן

“is} his delight”

See how you translated the abstract noun delight in 8:30.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:1 (#4)

תוֹעֲבַת יְהוָה

“are} an abomination to Yahweh”

See how you translated an abomination to Yahweh in 3:32.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:1 (#2)

מֵאֲזַנֵּי מִדְּמָה

“Scales of deceit”

Scales describes an instrument for determining the weight of an object or comparing the weight of two objects. It consists of a central post with a crossbar from which two pans are hung. An object may be placed in one pan and known weights placed in the other pan until the crossbar remains level, indicating that both pans contain an equal weight. Or one object may be placed in one pan and a different object in the other pan; the pan that hangs lower contains the heavier object. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of weighing instrument, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation:

[a balancing scale of deceit] or [a weighing instrument of deceit]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 11:1 (#1)

מֵאֲזִנֵּי מִמְרָמָה תוֹעֵבָה & וְאֶבֶן שְׁלֵמָה

“Scales of deceit {are} an abomination to & but a whole stone”

Solomon does not mean that Yahweh actually hates these Scales or has delight in this whole stone. Rather, he means that Yahweh hates it when people use these Scales and has delight when people use a whole stone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The use of scales of deceit is an abomination to ... but the use of a whole stone]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:1 (#3)

מֵאֲזִנֵּי מִמְרָמָה

“Scales of deceit”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe Scales that are used for deceit. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Scales used to deceive people] or [Scales people use to deceive others]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:1 (#5)

וְאֶבֶן שְׁלֵמָה

“but a whole stone”

Here, whole stone refers to a stone people use as a standard weight on a pair of Scales that accurately weighs the whole amount that people expect it to weigh. Merchants could deceive and cheat their customers by using a stone that was not the correct weight. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but an accurate weight] or [but a stone that weighs the correct weight]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 11:2 (#4)

קִלְיוֹן & חֲכָמָה

“disgrace & is} wisdom”

See how you translated the abstract nouns disgrace in 6:33 and wisdom in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:2 (#1)

כִּאֲ-יִצְדֹן וַיִּבָּא קִלְיוֹן

“When presumptuousness comes, then disgrace comes”

Here Solomon speaks of a person acting with presumptuousness and experiencing disgrace as if presumptuousness and disgrace were living things that come to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [When someone acts with presumptuousness, then that person experiences disgrace]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:2 (#3)

וַיִּבָּא קִלְיוֹן

“then disgrace comes”

The word translated then at the beginning of this phrase indicates that this event happens after the event described in the previous phrase. Use a natural form in your language for introducing the next event in a sequence of events. Alternate translation: [disgrace comes afterward]

See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

Proverbs 11:2 (#2)

כִּאֲ-יִצְדֹן

“When presumptuousness comes”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of presumptuousness, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [When a person is presumptuous]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:3 (#4)

וְסֻלָּה

“but the crookedness of”

See how you translated a similar use of “crooked” in 2:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:3 (#2)

חֲכָמָה

“The integrity of”

See how you translated the abstract noun integrity in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:3 (#3)

וְסִלְתִּי בִּוְגְדֵי יִשָּׁדִים

“but the crookedness of the treacherous ones will destroy them”

Here Solomon speaks of crookedness as if it were a living thing that could destroy a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use similes. Alternate translation: [but when treacherous ones act with crookedness, doing so will destroy them] or [but the crookedness of the treacherous ones is like a person who destroys them]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:3 (#1)

תִּמְנַת יִשְׁרָיִם תְּהַנִּיחֵם

“The integrity of the upright ones will guide them”

Here Solomon speaks of integrity as if it were a living thing that could guide a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [When upright ones act with integrity, doing so will enable them to know what to do] or [The integrity of the upright ones is like a guide for them]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:4 (#2)

לֹא-יִוְצֵעִיל

“will not profit”

See how you translated the same use of profit in 3:14.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:4 (#5)

וְיִצְדָּקְתָּהּ & מִמֶּנֶת

“but righteousness & from death”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness in 1:3 and death in 2:18.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:4 (#1)

לֹא-יִוְצֵעִיל הָיוֹן עֲבָרָהּ וְיִצְדָּקְתָּהּ תִּצְצִיל מִמֶּנֶת

“Wealth will not profit in the day of rage, but righteousness will deliver from death”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages both of these clauses would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Wealth will not profit you in the day of rage, but righteousness will deliver you from death] or [Wealth will not profit people in the day of rage, but righteousness will deliver people from death]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 11:4 (#4)

וְיִצְדָּקְתָּהּ תִּצְצִיל מִמֶּנֶת

“but righteousness will deliver from death”

Here Solomon speaks of righteousness enabling a person to escape death as if righteousness were a living thing that could deliver that person from death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [but righteousness will enable someone to be delivered from death] or [but righteousness is like someone who delivers a person from death]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:4 (#3)

בְּיֹמֵם עֲבָרָהּ

“in the day of rage”

Here, the day of rage refers to any time when God punishes wicked people. It does not necessarily refer to the final Judgment Day. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [when Yahweh punishes wicked people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:5 (#1)

צִדְקָתָהּ & וְיִבְרֹשְׁתָּהּ

“The righteousness of & but by his wickedness”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness in 1:3 and wickedness in 4:17.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:5 (#5)

רָשָׁע

“a wicked one”

See how you translated this phrase in 9:7.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:5 (#3)

תַּתְּמִים

“a blameless one”

Here, a blameless one refers to someone whom Yahweh does not blame for acting wickedly. See how you translated the same use of “blameless ones” in 2:21.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:5 (#6)

יִפּוֹל

“will fall”

Here Solomon speaks of someone experiencing disaster as if that person were falling down. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will experience disaster]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:5 (#2)

תַּתְּמִים

“a blameless one”

The phrase a blameless one represents blameless people in general, not one particular blameless one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [any blameless person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:5 (#4)

תִּישָׁאֵר דְּרַבְּכֹוֹ

“will make his way straight”

Here Solomon refers to enabling someone to live without bad things happening to him as making that person’s way straight. It is a comparison of a person’s life to a path, and righteousness keeps the path from having twists and turns. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar idea in 3:6. Alternate translation: [will cause that person to avoid bad things in life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:6 (#1)

צָדִיקָה

“The righteousness of”

See how you translated the abstract noun righteousness in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:6 (#2)

צָדִיקָה תִּישָׁאֵר יְשָׁרִים תַּצִּילָם

“The righteousness of the upright will deliver them”

Here Solomon speaks of righteousness enabling a person to escape something as if righteousness were a person who could deliver that person from harm. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. See how you translated a similar expression in 11:4. Alternate translation: [The righteousness of the upright ones will enable them to be delivered] or [The righteousness of the upright ones is like someone who delivers them]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:6 (#4)

יִלְכְּדוּ

“they will be captured”

The pronoun they here refers to the treacherous ones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those treacherous ones will be captured]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 11:6 (#5)

יִלְכְּדוּ

“they will be captured”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [they will end up in captivity]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:6 (#3)

יְשָׁרִים & בְּגֵדִים

“the upright & treacherous {ones}”

Solomon is using the adjectives upright and treacherous as nouns to mean people who are upright and treacherous. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with a equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [upright people ... treacherous people]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 11:7 (#5)

ותוֹחֵקֶלֶת

“and the hope of”

See how you translated the abstract noun hope in 10:28.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:7 (#4)

תִּאֲכֹד & אֲכֹדָה

“will perish & perishes”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of expectation and hope remaining unfulfilled as if they were living things that could perish. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use similes. Alternate translation: [will remain unfulfilled ... remains unfulfilled] or [will be like someone who perishes ... is like someone who perishes]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:7 (#2)

אָדָם רָשָׁע

“a wicked man”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a wicked person]

Proverbs 11:8 (#4)

מִצָּרָה

“from distress”

See how you translated the abstract noun distress in 1:27.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:8 (#1)

צַדִּיק מִצָּרָה נִחְלָץ וַיִּבָּא רָשָׁע תַּחְתָּיו

“A righteous {one} is drawn away from distress, and a wicked {one} enters instead of him”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of avoiding and experiencing distress as if distress were a place that someone could be drawn away from or enter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A righteous one is prevented from experiencing distress, but a wicked one experiences distress instead of him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:8 (#3)

צַדִּיק & נִחְלָץ

“A righteous {one} is drawn away”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh does the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh draws away a righteous one]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:8 (#2)

צַדִּיק & רָשָׁע

“A righteous {one} & a wicked {one}”

See how you translated A righteous {one} in 9:9 and a wicked {one} in 9:7.

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 11:8 (#5)

וַיָּבֹא רָשָׁע

“and a wicked {one} enters”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but a wicked one enters distress]

See: Ellipsis

הָחִנּוּף

“a godless {one}”

Here, a godless one refers to any person who rebels against God or behaves as if God did not exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a person who rebels against God]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:9 (#4)

רֵעֵהוּ

“his neighbor”

Although the term his is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [that person’s neighbor]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 11:9 (#6)

וַיִּבְדֹּעַת צַדִּיקִים יִחְלְצוּ

“but with knowledge, the righteous will be delivered”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [but knowledge will deliver the righteous]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:9 (#2)

הָחִנּוּף

“a godless {one}”

The phrase a godless {one} represents godless people in general, not one particular godless {one}. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [any godless person]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 11:9 (#7)

צַדִּיקִים

“the righteous”

Solomon is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [righteous people]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 11:10 (#2)

תִּעְלֶזֶן קָרְיָהּ

“a city exults”

Here, city refers to the people who live in a city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the people of a city exult]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:10 (#3)

וּבְאַבְבֵּד רְשָׁעִים רִנָּה

“and when the wicked perish, a shout of joy”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and when wicked ones perish, there is a shout of joy] or [and when wicked ones perish, a the people give a shout of joy]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 11:10 (#1)

בְּטוֹב צַדִּיקִים

“In the good of the righteous”

Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the good things that happen to the righteous ones. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [In the good things that happen to righteous ones,] or [When good things happen to the righteous ones,]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:11 (#4)

וּבִפְּתִי

“but with the mouth of”

See how you translated the same use of mouth in 10:11.

Proverbs 11:11 (#5)

תִּהְרָס

“it is torn down”

Here Solomon uses a city being torn down to refer to it being destroyed, which could include tearing down its walls and buildings. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a city is destroyed]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:11 (#3)

תִּרְנוּם קִקְרָה

“a city is raised up”

Here Solomon refers to a city becoming great as if it were raised up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a city is made great]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:11 (#2)

בְּבִרְכַּת יוֹשְׁרִים

“With the blessing of the upright”

Here, the blessing of the upright could refer to: (1) the blessing that the upright give to a city. Alternate translation: [With the blessing given by the upright ones]; (2) the blessing that God gives the upright. Alternate translation: [With the blessing that God gives to the upright ones]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:11 (#1)

בְּבִרְכַּת יוֹשְׁרִים תִּרְנוּם קִקְרָה וּבִפְּתִי רְשָׁעִים תִּהְרָס

“With the blessing of the upright a city is raised up, but with the mouth of the wicked it is torn down”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [The blessing of the upright raises up a city, but the mouth of the wicked tears down a city]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:12 (#1)

בִּזְלִצְעָהוּ

“One despising his neighbor”

Contrasting this clause with the second clause indicates that Solomon is referring to someone despising his neighbor by what he says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who vocally despises his neighbor] or [One who despises his neighbor in what he says]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:12 (#2)

לְרַעְיָהוּ & וְאִישׁ תְּבוּנָהוּ

“his neighbor & but a man of understandings”

Although his and man are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that could refer to either a man or woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [that person's neighbor ... but a person of understanding]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 11:12 (#3)

חסר־לֵב

“is} lacking of heart”

See how you translated this phrase in 6:32.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:12 (#4)

וְאִישׁ תְּבוּנָה

“but a man of understandings”

Solomon is using this possessive form to mean that a characteristic of this man is that he understands many things. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. See how you translated the similar “a man of understanding” in 10:23. Alternate translation: [but a man who understands things]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:12 (#5)

תְּבוּנָה

“understandings”

Here Solomon is using the plural understandings where he could have used the singular form. This suggests that he is using the plural form to emphasize the breadth or depth of this person's understanding. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the singular and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [great understanding] or [deep understanding]

Proverbs 11:15 (#2)

רַע־יָרוּעַ

“One will be harmed {with} harm”

For emphasis, Solomon is using a construction in which a verb and its object come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [One will come to great harm]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 11:15 (#4)

וְשֹׂנֵא תִקְעָעִים

“but one hating hand clasps”

By hating hand clasps, Solomon means specifically clasping hands to agree to pay a debt for someone. He is not referring to clasping hands in greeting or to make another kind of agreement. You could indicate this explicitly in your translation if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [but one who rejects this kind of agreement]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 11:23 (#3)

תִּקְוַת רָשָׁעִים עֲבָרָה

“the expectation of the wicked {is} rage”

Solomon does not mean to communicate here that the wicked do wicked things because they expect rage. He means to communicate that it is as though they expect rage, because that is what they get. If a speaker of your language would not do that, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation:

[whatever the wicked ones might expect, rage is all that they will get]

אֵד-לְמַחְסוֹר

“yet to poverty”

Here, yet introduces the unexpected result of what was stated in the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate an unexpected result. Alternate translation: [but only comes to poverty as a result]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 11:24 (#6)

אֵד-לְמַחְסוֹר

“yet to poverty”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [yet he comes to poverty]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 11:25 (#3)

נָפֵשׁ

“A life of”

Here, life refers to the person himself. See how you translated the same use of life in 8:36.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:25 (#5)

תִּדְשֵׁשׁוּן & יוֹרָא

“will be fattened & will be drenched”

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh will do the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will fatten ... Yahweh will drench]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:25 (#4)

בְּרִכָּה

“blessing”

Here Solomon implies that the blessing is given to other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [blessing other people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:25 (#2)

נְפֶשׁ־בִּרְכָּה

“A life of blessing”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a life that is characterized by blessing. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A life that blesses]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:25 (#1)

נְפֶשׁ & וְאִמְרָנוֹהָ & הָהוּא

“A life of & and the one who drenches, he”

In this verse, A life, the one, and he refer to types of people in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any life of ... and any person who drenches, that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:25 (#6)

תִּדְשֵׁן

“will be fattened”

Here Solomon refers to a person becoming prosperous as if they were fattened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will become prosperous]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:25 (#7)

וְאִמְרָנוֹהָ גַם־הָהוּא יִרְאֶה

“and the one who drenches, he also will be drenched”

Here Solomon refers to someone giving and receiving a generous amount of the good things of life as if the people were plants giving and receiving abundant rain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the one who freely gives to others will also freely receive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:26 (#3)

וְאִבְרַכָּה לְרֹאשׁ

“but a blessing {is} for the head of”

See how you translated the similar expression in 10:6.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 11:26 (#4)

מִשְׁבִּיר

“the seller”

Here Solomon implies that the seller sells grain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the one who sells his grain]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:26 (#1)

מִמְנֹעַ & יִקְבְּהוּ & מִשְׁבִּיר

“One withholding & will curse him & the seller”

In this verse, One, him, and the seller refer to types of people in general. They do not refer to specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any person who withholds ... will curse that person ... any seller]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:26 (#2)

מִמְנֹעַ דָּגָר

“One withholding grain”

Here Solomon implies that this person is selfishly withholding grain in order to sell it later for a greater profit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who is withholding grain in order to sell it later for a higher price]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:27 (#2)

שֹׁשֶׁהָר & וְדֹרֵשׁ

“One diligently seeking & but one searching {for}”

In this verse, Solomon refers to people trying to do good and trying to do evil as if good and evil were objects that someone seeks or searches for. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [One who diligently tries to do good ... but one who tries to do evil]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:27 (#3)

טוב & רצון & רעה

“good & favor & evil”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of good, favor, and evil, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [what is good ... to be favored ... what is evil]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 11:27 (#1)

שׂוֹמֵר וְדֹרֵשׁ & תְּבוּאָה

“One diligently seeking & but one searching {for & it will come {to} him”

In this verse, One diligently seeking, one searching for, and him refer to types of people in general. They do not refer to specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any person who diligently seeks ... but any person who searches for ... it will come to that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:27 (#6)

תְּבוּאָה

“it will come {to} him”

Here Solomon speaks of someone experiencing evil as if evil were a person who could come to that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will experience it] or [it will happen to him]

See: Personification

Proverbs 11:27 (#5)

יִבְקֹשׁ רָצוֹן

“seeks favor”

Solomon says that someone diligently seeking good also seeks favor because that is what that person receives from Yahweh and other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [finds favor from Yahweh and people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:27 (#4)

טוב

“good”

Solomon is using the adjective good as a noun to mean good things. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [to do good things]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 11:28 (#3)

הֵרֹא יִפֹּל

“he himself will fall”

See how you translated the same use of fall in 11:5.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:28 (#4)

וְכַעֲלֵלָה צַדִּיקִים יִפְרֹחוּ

“but like a leaf, the righteous will sprout”

Solomon is saying that the righteous are like a leaf that sprouts out of a plant because they prosper and thrive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [but righteous ones prosper like a leaf that sprouts and grows]

See: Simile

Proverbs 11:28 (#5)

וְכַעֲלֵלָה

“but like a leaf”

Solomon refers to a green leaf that is growing, rather than a fallen or withered leaf. If it would be helpful in your language, or if your language uses different words for a fresh or withered leaf, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but like a healthy leaf]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:28 (#1)

בְּיָמָיו בְּרֵעֵשְׁרוֹ הֵרֹא יִפֹּל

“One trusting in his riches, he himself will fall”

One, his, and he in this verse refer to a type of person in general. They do not refer to a specific person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any person who trusts in that person's own riches, that person will fall]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:28 (#2)

הָהוּא יִפֹּל

“he himself will fall”

In the original, Solomon adds the pronoun “you,” the meaning of which is already included in the verb translated as fall. This adds emphasis to what he is saying. If your language uses explicit pronouns for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. Other languages may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. The ULT does so by using the intensive pronoun himself. Alternate translation: [that very person will fall]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 11:29 (#4)

לְחִכְמֵ-לֵב

“to the wise of heart”

See how you translated wise of heart in 10:8.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 11:29 (#2)

בְּבֵיתוֹ

“his house”

Here, house represents the family who lives in his house. See how you translated the same use of house in 3:33.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 11:29 (#3)

יִנְחַל-רִיחַ

“will inherit wind”

Here Solomon speaks of wind as if it were property that someone could inherit. He means that someone who troubles his house will not inherit anything. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will inherit nothing]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:29 (#1)

עוֹכֵכֵר בְּבֵיתוֹ

“One troubling his house”

One and his in this verse refer to a type of person in general. They do not refer to a specific person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Any person who troubles that person's own house]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:30 (#3)

צַדִּיק & וְלִקְחָה נַפְשׁוֹת

“the righteous & one taking souls”

In this verse, the righteous and the one taking souls refer to types of people in general. They do not refer to specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. See how you translated the righteous in 10:3. Alternate translation: [any righteous person ... and any person who takes souls]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:30 (#1)

פְּרִי-צַדִּיק

“The fruit of the righteous”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe fruit that is produced by the righteous one. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [The fruit produced by the righteous one]

See: Possession

Proverbs 11:30 (#2)

פְּרִי-צַדִּיק

“The fruit of the righteous”

Here Solomon refers to what righteous people do as if it were fruit that they produced. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [What righteous people do]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:30 (#4)

עֵץ חַיִּים

“is} a tree of life”

See how you translated this phrase in 3:18. Here Solomon speaks of what righteous people say and do as if it were a tree that gives life to those who eat its fruit. He means that the actions and teaching of righteous people help others to live a long and happy life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [offers a good life to people] or [is like a fruit tree that sustains the lives of people]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:30 (#5)

וְלִקְחָהּ נַפְשׁוֹת

“and one taking souls”

Here, one taking souls refers to someone who influences other people. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the one who wins hearts] or [and the one who influences others]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 11:31 (#4)

יִשְׁלַח

“will be repaid”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh will do the action. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will repay]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 11:31 (#3)

בְּאֶרֶץ

“in the land”

Here, the land refers to the earth in general. It does not refer to the land of Israel, as it does in 2:21-22 and 10:30. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the earth]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 11:31 (#5)

יִשְׁלַח

“will be repaid”

Here Solomon refers to people receiving what they deserve for their actions as if they were being repaid for what they have done. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will receive what is due to them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:31 (#6)

אֵלֶּף כִּי־רָשָׁע וְחוֹטֵא

“how much more a wicked {one} and a sinner”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [how much more will a wicked one and a sinner be repaid]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 11:31 (#2)

צַדִּיק & רָשָׁע וְחוֹטֵא

“a righteous {one} & a wicked {one} and a sinner”

In this verse, a righteous {one}, a wicked {one}, and a sinner refer to types of people in general. They do not refer to specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use expressions that would be more natural in your language. See how you translated “a righteous {one}” in 9:9 and “a wicked {one}” in 9:7. Alternate translation: [any righteous person ... any wicked person and any sinner]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 11:31 (#1)

הִנֵּן

“Behold”

See how you translated the same use of Behold in 1:23.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 11:31 (#7)

רָשָׁע וְחוֹטֵא

“a wicked {one} and a sinner”

The terms a wicked {one} and a sinner mean similar things and refer to the same person, who represents this kind of people. Solomon is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [a very wicked person]

Proverbs - Chapter 12 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 12 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 12:7, 14, and 28, all of the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Proverbs 12:1 (#1)

מְמוּכָר & דִּדְעָה & תוֹכַחַת

“correction & knowledge & rebuke”

See how you translated the abstract nouns correction in 3:11, knowledge in 1:4, and rebuke in 1:25.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 12:2 (#2)

הַרְצוֹן

“favor”

See how you translated the abstract noun favor in 3:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 12:2 (#4)

וְאִישׁ מְזַמְמוֹת

“but a man of schemes”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who makes schemes. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [but a man who schemes]

See: Possession

Proverbs 12:2 (#3)

וְאִישׁ

“but a man of”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that could refer to either a man or woman. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [but a person of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 12:2 (#1)

טוֹב

“A good one”

A good one here does not refer to a specific person, but refers to this type of person in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural phrase. Alternate translation: [Any good person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 12:3 (#4)

בְּרָעָה

“by wickedness”

See how you translated the abstract noun wickedness in 4:17.

Proverbs 12:17 (#4)

וְעֵד שְׁקָרִים מְרִמָּה

“but a witness of falsehoods, deceit”

Solomon is leaving out a word in this clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but a witness of falsehoods tells deceit]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 12:17 (#5)

וְעֵד שְׁקָרִים

“but a witness of falsehoods”

Although a witness here is singular, it refers to any witness of falsehoods in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different form. Alternate translation: [but any witness of falsehoods]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 12:17 (#2)

יִפְתִּיחַ

“He who breathes out”

See how you translated the same use of breathes out in 6:19. Here Solomon speaks of someone who easily and habitually tells the truth as if that person breathes out faithfulness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who easily speaks]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 12:18 (#2)

כְּמַדְקָרוֹת הַחֶרֶב

“like the thrusts of a sword”

Solomon is saying that what people who speak thoughtlessly say is like the thrusts of a sword because it hurts people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and hurting others as if he stabbed them with a sword]

See: Simile

Proverbs 12:18 (#4)

וּלְשׁוֹן

“but the tongue of”

The word tongue represents tongues in general, not one particular tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [but the tongues of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 12:18 (#1)

בְּבוֹטָה

“one speaking thoughtlessly”

Here, one refers to a type of person. It does not mean that there is only one person who does this thing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a type of person who speaks thoughtlessly]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 12:18 (#3)

וּלְשׁוֹן חֲכָמִים מְרַפָּא

“but the tongue of the wise ones—healing”

“In the path of righteousness”

See how you translated the path of righteousness in 8:20.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 12:28 (#7)

אֶל־מָוֶת

“is} no death”

Here, no death could refer to: (1) a person not dying earlier than expected, which is the opposite way of saying the same idea used for life in the previous clause. Alternate translation: [is not dying early]; (2) a person having immortality. Alternate translation: [is immortality]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 12:28 (#6)

וְדֶרֶךְ נְתִיבָה

“and the way of the beaten path”

Here, the way of the beaten path refers to the path of righteousness in the previous clause. Solomon refers to living righteously as if one were walking on a beaten path that is safe because it was made well.

If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and living righteously]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 12:28 (#5)

וְדֶרֶךְ נְתִיבָה

“and the way of the beaten path”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to indicate that the way is the beaten path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and the way that is the beaten path]

See: Possession

Proverbs 12:28 (#1)

בְּאֶרֶץ צְדָקָה חַיִּים וְדֶרֶךְ נְתִיבָה אֶל־מָוֶת

“In the path of righteousness {is} life, and the way of the beaten path {is} no death”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [In the path of righteousness is life, yes, the way of the beaten path is not death]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 12:28 (#3)

חַיִּים & אֶל־מָוֶת

“is} life & is} no death”

In this verse, is indicates that what follows is the result of the preceding phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [results in life ... results in no death]

Proverbs - Chapter 13 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 13 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 13:14, all the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Proverbs 13:1 (#3)

ממוסר & גְּעִיָּה

“the instruction of & rebuke”

See how you translated the abstract nouns instruction in 1:2 and rebuke in 1:25.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 13:1 (#2)

בֶּן־חָכָם

“A wise son”

See how you translated the same use of son in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 13:1 (#4)

אָב

“a father”

Here, father refers to the father of the son mentioned earlier in the clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [his father]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 13:1 (#5)

וְלִצְלָץ

“but a mocking {one}”

Here, a mocker refers to this type of person in general, not a specific mocker. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [but any mocker]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 13:1 (#1)

בֶּן־חָכָם מִמּוֹסֵר אָב

“A wise son, the instruction of a father”

Solomon is leaving out words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [A wise son listens to the instruction of a father]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 13:1 (#6)

וְלִצְלָץ

“but a mocking {one}”

Solomon is using the adjective mocking as a noun to mean a certain kind of person. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [but a mocker]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 13:2 (#1)

מִפֶּי־אִישׁ

“From the fruit of the mouth of a man”

See how you translated the same phrase in 12:14.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 13:2 (#5)

וְהַאֲבִיב

“but the appetite of”

Here Solomon refers to the desire of the treacherous ones as if it were their appetite. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the desire of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 13:2 (#2)

יֵאָכֵל טוֹב

“he eats good”

Here, Solomon is speaking of a man receiving good things as though he were eating them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he receives good things]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 13:2 (#3)

טוֹב

“good”

Solomon is using the adjective good as a noun to mean good things. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate this adjective with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [good things]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 13:2 (#4)

וְגִבּוֹרֵשׁ וְהָמָס

“but the appetite of & violence”

See how you translated the abstract nouns appetite in 6:30, and violence in 3:31.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 13:2 (#6)

הָמָס

“violence”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply this word from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [eats violence] or [craves violence]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 13:3 (#3)

שֹׁמֵר נַפְשׁוֹ

“keeps his life”

Here Solomon speaks of someone preserving one's life as if one's life were an object that one keeps. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [preserves his life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 13:3 (#1)

נֹצֵץ פִּיּוֹ שֹׁמֵר נַפְשׁוֹ פֹּשֵׁק שְׂפָתָיו מִחֲתָהּ לּוֹ

“One guarding his mouth keeps his life; one opening his lips, ruin for him”

One guarding his mouth, his, one opening his lips, and him here do not refer to specific people, but to types of people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Anyone who guards one's mouth keeps one's life; anyone who opens one's lips is ruin for that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 13:3 (#6)

פֹּשֵׁק שְׂפָתָיו

“one opening his lips”

The phrase opening his lips is an idiom that could refer to: (1) speaking carelessly, which would be in contrast to the meaning of guards his mouth in the previous clause. Alternate translation: [one who talks without thinking]; (2) speaking too much. Alternate translation: [one who talks too much]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 13:3 (#5)

פֹּשֵׁק שְׂפָתָיו מִחֲתָהּ לּוֹ

“one opening his lips, ruin for him”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [one who opens his lips keeps ruin for himself]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 13:3 (#2)

נֹצֵץ פִּיּוֹ

“One guarding his mouth”

Proverbs 13:24 (#1)

חֹשֶׁשֶׁד שֶׁשָׁכְטוֹ שׂוֹנֵא בְּנֵי אֱהָבָיו שֶׁחֲרָרָו מִסֵּר

“One who withholds his rod hates his son, but one who loves him diligently seeks him {with} discipline”

Here the terms One who withholds, his, one who loves, and him do not refer to specific people, but refer to these types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Those who withhold their rods hate their sons, but those who love them diligently seek them with discipline]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 13:25 (#1)

צַדִּיק & נֶפֶשׁוֹ

“A righteous {one & his appetite}”

A righteous one and his here do not refer to specific people, but refer to a type of person in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any righteous one ... that person's appetite]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 13:25 (#2)

יִבְטֵן

“but the stomach of”

The word stomach represents stomachs in general, not one particular stomach. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [but the stomachs of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 13:25 (#3)

יִבְטֵן רְשָׁעִים תֶּחֱסֵר

“but the stomach of the wicked will lack”

Here Solomon refers to the wicked always being hungry as if their stomachs lack. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the wicked ones will not have enough] or [but the hunger of the wicked ones will not be satisfied]

Proverbs - Chapter 14 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 14 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 14:7, 10, 13, 17, 26, 27, and 34, all the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Proverbs 14:1 (#2)

בְּנִיתָהּ בֵּיתָהּ

“builds her house”

Here Solomon refers to a woman making her family prosper as if she were building a house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes her family to prosper]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:1 (#5)

בְּיָדֶיהָ

“with her hands”

Here, hands refers to what a person does, which often involves using hands. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [by her deeds] or [by what she does]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:1 (#1)

חֲכַמְמוֹת נָשִׁים בְּנִתְתָּה בֵּיתָהּ

“The wisest of women builds her house”

The wisest of women and her here do not refer to a specific person, but refer to a type of person in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Those women who are most wise build their houses]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:1 (#3)

וְאִנּוּלֵת בְּיָדֶיהָ תִּהְרָסֶנּוּ

“but a foolish woman tears it down with her hands”

Here, a foolish woman and her do not refer to a specific person, but refer to a type of person in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [but those women who are foolish tear it down with their hands]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:1 (#4)

תִּהְרָסֶנּוּ

“tears it down”

Here Solomon refers to a woman ruining her family as if she were tearing down a house. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [harms it] or [destroys it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:2 (#2)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ בְּבִישָׁרוֹ

“The one walking in his uprightness”

Here Solomon refers to someone behaving in an upright manner as if that person were walking in his uprightness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar use of “walk” in 3:23. Alternate translation: [One who conducts his life in an upright manner]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:2 (#3)

וְנִלְוֹז דְּרָכָיו

“but the one crooked in his ways”

Here Solomon uses the phrase crooked in his ways to refer to someone who acts deceptively. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of crooked in 2:15. Alternate translation: [but one who is deceptive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:2 (#1)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ בְּבִישָׁרוֹ & וְנִלְוֹז דְּרָכָיו

“The one walking in his uprightness & but the one crooked in his ways”

One walking, his, and the one crooked refers to types of people in general, not to any specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who walks in uprightness ... but any person who is crooked in his ways]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:3 (#4)

וְשִׁפְתֵיהִי

“but the lips of”

See how you translated the same use of lips in 10:21.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:3 (#3)

הַחֲטֹר גִּאֲוָה

“is} a rod of pride”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a rod that is used to punish someone for having pride. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is a rod for punishing proud people]

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:3 (#5)

תְּשִׁמּוֹרֶם

“will preserve them”

Alternate translation: [will keep them from harm] or [will keep them safe]

Proverbs 14:3 (#1)

בְּפִי־אֲוִיל הַחֶסֶד נִצְוָה

“In the mouth of a fool {is} a rod of pride”

In this clause, Solomon refers to what a fool says with his mouth resulting in him being punished with a rod as if he were offering the rod for his punishment along with the words that come out of his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Because of what a fool says, he is punished for pride] or [A fool is punished because of the proud things he says]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:3 (#2)

בְּפִי־אֲוִיל

“In the mouth of a fool”

Here, mouth represents what a person says with his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [In what a fool says]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:4 (#6)

שׁוֹר

“an ox”

Here, the word ox represents oxen in general, not one particular ox. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression, as in the UST.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:4 (#3)

וְרֵב

“but an abundance of”

See how you translated the abstract noun abundance in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 14:4 (#2)

אֲבָבוֹס

“is} a trough of”

A trough is a container that holds food for domesticated animals such as cattle. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal food container, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [is a food container of]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 14:4 (#5)

בְּכֹחַ שׁוֹר

“is} by the strength of an ox”

Here, strength refers to the work an ox does that involves using strength. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is by the work done by a strong ox]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:4 (#1)

אֲבָבוֹס בָּבֶר

“is} a trough of cleanness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a trough that is characterized by cleanness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is a clean trough]

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:4 (#4)

בְּכֹחַ שׁוֹר

“is} by the strength of an ox”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [is produced by the strength of an ox]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 14:5 (#3)

וַיִּפְתֹּחַ כְּזָבִים

“but & breathes out lies”

See how you translated breathes out lies in 6:19.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 14:5 (#2)

נִעַד שֶׁקֶר

“a witness of falsehood”

See how you translated this phrase in 6:19.

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:5 (#1)

עֵד אֱמֻנָה

“A witness of faithfulness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a witness who is characterized by faithfulness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A faithful witness]

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:6 (#2)

בִּקֵּשׁ

“seeks”

Here, wisdom is described as if it were an object that people, trying to be wise, could “seek.” See how you translated the same use of seeks in 11:27.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:6 (#3)

חֵכְמָה וְדַעַת

“wisdom & but knowledge”

See how you translated a mocker in 9:7 and the understanding one in 1:5.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:6 (#5)

דַּעַת

“but knowledge”

Solomon is leaving out a word that, in many languages, a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but finding knowledge] or [but acquiring knowledge]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 14:6 (#4)

וְאֵין

“and there is none”

Here Solomon means that a mocker cannot acquire wisdom, not that wisdom does not exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and he cannot find it] or [and there is no wisdom for him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 14:7 (#5)

שִׁפְתֵי־דָעַת

“lips of knowledge”

Here, lips refers to what people say by moving their lips. Solomon is referring to words that express knowledge. See how you translated the same use of lips in 10:18. Alternate translation: [words that express knowledge]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:7 (#3)

לְאִישׁ כְּסִיל

“a man of stupidity”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by stupidity. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a stupid man]

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:7 (#4)

לְאִישׁ

“a man of”

Here, a man represents a type of people in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [any person of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:7 (#1)

לֵךְ מִמִּנְגַּד לְאִישׁ כְּסִיל וּבִלְ־יִדְעַת שִׁפְתֵי־דָעַת

“Go before a man of stupidity, and you will not know lips of knowledge”

Here, Go is an imperative, but it begins a conditional statement rather than a command. It is a warning; it is not something that Solomon wants anyone to do. Use a form in your language that communicates a conditional statement. Alternate translation: [If you go before a man of stupidity, then you will not know lips of knowledge]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 14:7 (#2)

לֵּלֶךְ מִמֶּנֶּה

“Go before”

Here, Go before means to go into the presence of this person, not to go somewhere in front of this person or to go somewhere in advance of this person. Alternate translation: [Go into the presence of]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 14:8 (#3)

דֶּרֶכְוֹ

“his way”

See how you translated the same use of way in 1:15.

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 14:14 (#2)

ססוג ללב

“A backsliding heart”

Here Solomon refers to the person who has stopped behaving righteously and is now behaving wickedly as if that person were a backsliding heart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The person who stops living righteously]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:14 (#6)

ואמץליו אאיש טוב

“but a good man, from his deeds”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but a good man will be filled from his deeds]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 14:14 (#4)

ישבע

“will be filled”

Proverbs 14:22 (#1)

הָלוֹא־יִתְעוּ הַחֲרָשִׁי רָגַע

“Do not devisers of evil go astray”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize what he is saying. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Devisers of evil certainly go astray!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 14:22 (#3)

וְהִתְקַד וְאִמְמָת הַחֲרָשִׁי טוֹב

“But covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness {are} devisers of good”

The relationship between covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness and devisers of good is unspecified. This line could mean: (1) covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness are characteristics of the devisers of good. Alternate translation: [But devisers of good show covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness] or (2) covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness are benefits that devisers of good will receive from others. Alternate translation: [But covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness will benefit devisers of good]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 14:23 (#2)

וְדִבְרֵ־שִׁשְׁפֹּתַיִם

“but the word of lips”

Here Solomon implies that this refers to the word of lips without any toil. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but the word of lips without toil] or [but the word of lips by itself]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 14:23 (#3)

וְדִבְרֵ־שִׁשְׁפֹּתַיִם

“but the word of lips”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the word that is spoken with lips. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [but the word spoken by lips]

See: Possession

Proverbs 14:23 (#5)

אֲדֹרֶה לְמַחְסוֹר

“is} only for lack”

Here, is only indicates that lack is the result of the preceding phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [results only in lack]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 14:23 (#4)

וּדְבַר־שִׁפְתֵי תָיִם

“but the word of lips”

Here, the word of lips represents what people say by using their lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. See how you translated the similar use of word in 12:25. Alternate translation: [but just talking]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 14:24 (#3)

אֲנִילָה & אֲנִילָה

“the folly of & is} folly”

בְּיִרְאַת יְהוָה מִבְטָח־עֹז

“In the fear of Yahweh {is} strong confidence”

Here Solomon refers to someone having confidence because that person has the fear of Yahweh as if the fear of Yahweh were a location in which confidence resided. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [People who fear Yahweh have strong confidence in him] or [By fearing Yahweh, people have strong confidence in him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:26 (#5)

וּלְבָנָיו

“and for his sons”

Although the term sons is masculine, Solomon is using the word here in a generic sense that could refer to either male or female children. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [and for his children]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 14:26 (#7)

מִחֻסָּה

“a refuge”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of refuge, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [someone who protects them]

See: Abstract Nouns

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 14:29 (#5)

מָרִים

“lifts up”

Here Solomon speaks of someone publicly showing folly as if folly were an object that someone lifts up for everyone to see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [publicly displays] or [lets everyone observe]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:29 (#4)

וּקְצֵר־רִיחַ

“but one short of spirit”

The phrase short of spirit is an idiom that refers to a type of person who gets angry quickly. Your language and culture may also associate anger with a particular part of the body. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but a short-tempered person] or [but one who becomes angry quickly]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 14:29 (#2)

אָנְדֶר אַפִּים

“One long of nostrils”

The phrase long of nostrils is an idiom that refers to a type of person who does not become angry quickly. The word “nostrils” means “anger” by association with the way that a person who is angry breathes heavily through his nose, causing his nostrils to open wide. Your language and culture may also associate anger with a particular part of the body. If so, you could use an expression involving that part of the body in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [One who does not easily vent his spleen] or [One who does not become angry quickly]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 14:30 (#5)

וְרִקְקָב עֲצָמֹת קִנְיָה

“but envy {is} the decay of bones”

Here Solomon is saying that envy harms a person's health like a disease that causes the decay of bones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [but envy ruins a person's health] or [but envy harms one's health like disease decays one's bones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 14:30 (#6)

קִנְיָה

“envy”

Proverbs - Chapter 15 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 15 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Contrasting parallelism

Except for 15:3, 10–12, 16–17, 23–24, 30–31, and 33, all the proverbs in this chapter consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other.

Proverbs 15:1 (#3)

יִשְׁיֵב חֶמְדָּה

“turns back heat”

The phrase is an idiom that refers to decreasing a person's anger as if that anger were heat that someone turns back. The word heat means “anger” by association with the way that an angry person's body increases in heat. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [decreases anger] or [causes an angry person to become calm]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 15:1 (#5)

יִעֲלֶה-אָף

“lifts up a nose”

The phrase is an idiom that refers to increasing a person's anger. The word nose means “anger” by association with the way that a person who is angry breathes heavily through his nose. Your language and culture may also associate anger with a particular part of the body. If so, you could use an expression involving that part of the body in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [increases anger] or [causes an angry person to become angrier]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 15:1 (#1)

מַעֲנֵה־רֹדֶף יִשְׁׁיב חֲמָמָה וְדִבְר־עֲלֹצָב יַעֲלֶה־אָף

“A gentle answer turns back heat, but a word of pain lifts up a nose”

In this verse, Solomon implies that the gentle answer and word of pain are spoken to an angry person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [A gentle answer spoken to an angry person turns back that person's heat, but a word of pain spoken to an angry person lifts up that person's nose]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 15:1 (#2)

מַעֲנֵה־רֹדֶף & וְדִבְר־עֲלֹצָב

“A gentle answer & but a word of pain”

A gentle answer and a word of pain refer to types of things people say, not to a specific answer or word. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any gentle answer ... but any word of pain]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 15:1 (#4)

וְדִבְר־עֲלֹצָב

“but a word of pain”

The phrase a word of pain refers to something that is spoken harshly, as if what is spoken would cause pain to the listener. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but what is spoken harshly] or [a hurtful word]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 15:2 (#3)

דָּדָעַת & אִוְלָת

“knowledge & folly”

See how you translated the abstract nouns knowledge in 1:4 and folly in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 15:2 (#4)

וּפְּגִי כְּכִסִּילִלִים יִבְבִּיעַ אִוְלָת

“but the mouth of the stupid gushes forth folly”

Here Solomon refers to stupid people always saying foolish things as if their mouths were places from which folly gushes forth like flowing water. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the mouths of stupid ones are always speaking folly]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 15:2 (#2)

תִּישְׁׁיב דָּדָעַת

“makes knowledge good”

The phrase makes knowledge good refers to speaking knowledge in a way that makes knowledge pleasant or attractive to others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [makes knowledge pleasing to others]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 15:2 (#1)

לִשְׁׁוֹן חֲחֻכִּים & וּפְּגִי כְּכִסִּילִלִים

“The tongue of the wise & but the mouth of the stupid”

The tongue of the wise ones and the mouth of stupid ones refer to what these types of people say using their tongues and mouths, not to a specific tongue or mouth. See how you translated similar phrases in 12:18 and in 10:6. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 15:3 (#1)

בְּכָל־מְמָקוֹם עֵינֵי יְהוָה

“The eyes of Yahweh {are} in every place”

Here Solomon refers to Yahweh's ability to see everything as if Yahweh had eyes that were located in every place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh sees what is happening everywhere]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 15:3 (#2)

רָעָעִים וְטוֹבִים

“the evil and the good”

Solomon is using the adjectives evil and good as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases, as in the UST.

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 15:4 (#3)

עֵץ חַיִּים

“is} a tree of life”

See how you translated a tree of life in 3:18.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 15:4 (#5)

שִׁשְׁבֶּר בְּרוּחַ

“is} a breaking in the spirit”

The phrase a breaking in the spirit is an idiom that refers to making a person despair. If it would be helpful, you could use an equivalent idiom from your language or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [makes a person feel down in the dumps] or [makes a person despair]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 15:4 (#1)

מִרְפָּא לְלִשׁוֹן & וְסִלְלָהּ בִּבְהָ שִׁשְׁבֶּר בְּרוּחַ

“A healing tongue & but crookedness in it {is} a breaking in the spirit”

A healing tongue, it, and a breaking in the spirit do not refer to specific things but represent these things in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any healing tongue ... but crookedness in any such tongue is what breaks spirits]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 15:4 (#4)

וְסִלְלָהּ בִּבְהָ

“but crookedness in it”

Here Solomon refers to deceitful speech as if it were a crooked tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the deceitful thing someone says]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 15:5 (#2)

Proverbs - Chapter 16 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 16 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 10–15 mostly contain proverbs that consist of two parallel clauses that contrast with each other. Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 16 also contains contrasting parallelism (16:1, 2, 9, 14, 22, 33) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (16:11, 16, 18, 30). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 16:1 (#4)

לֵב

“the heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:1 (#8)

וּמִי־יְהוָה

“but & is} from Yahweh”

Here, the phrase is from Yahweh indicates that Yahweh is who determines the answer of the tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is determined by Yahweh]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:1 (#2)

מַעֲרָכֵי־לֵב & מַעֲנֵה לְשׁוֹן

“The arrangements of the heart & the answer of the tongue”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of arrangements and answer, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated answer in 15:1. Alternate translation: [Things that the heart arranges ... what the tongue answers]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:1 (#5)

לְאִדָּם

“are} a man’s”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe arrangements that are determined by the person who makes them. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [are determined by a man] or [are determined by those who make them]

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:1 (#6)

מַעֲנֵה לְשׁוֹן

“the answer of the tongue”

Here, the answer of the tongue refers to the answer that someone speaks by using the tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of tongue in 6:17. Alternate translation: [what one says in reply] or [the spoken answer]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:1 (#3)

מַעֲרָכֵי־לֵב

“The arrangements of the heart”

The arrangements of the heart here could mean: (1) arrangements about what to say, which is suggested by the phrase the answer of the tongue in the next clause. Alternate translation: [The arrangements of the heart regarding what to say]; (2) human arrangements in general. Alternate translation: [The arrangements of the heart about something]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:1 (#7)

מַעֲנֵה לְשׁוֹן

“the answer of the tongue”

Here, the answer of the tongue could refer to: (1) an answer related to the arrangements in the previous clause. Alternate translation: [the answer of the tongue about those arrangements]; (2) an answer in general. Alternate translation: [any answer of the tongue]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:1 (#1)

לִאָדָם מִעֲרֵכֵי־לֵב וְיִמְיָהוּהָ מִצְנָנָה לְשׁוֹן

“The arrangements of the heart {are} a man’s, but the answer of the tongue {is} from Yahweh”

Here, the heart, a man’s, the answer, and the tongue refer to these things and people in general, not a specific thing or person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [The arrangements of any man’s heart belongs to that man, but the answers of any man’s tongue are from Yahweh]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:2 (#3)

בְּעֵינָיו

“in his eyes”

See how you translated the same use of eyes in 3:4.

Here, examines refers to judging or evaluating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but Yahweh judges]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:2 (#2)

אָאִישׁ & בְּעֵינָיו

“a man & in his eyes”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [any person ... in that person’s eyes]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 16:2 (#5)

רוּחַתָּו

“spirits”

Here, spirits refers to the thoughts and motives of people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people’s thoughts]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:3 (#1)

גָּגַל אֶל־יְהוָה מַעֲשֵׂאֵיךָ

“Roll to Yahweh your works”

Here Solomon refers to people depending on Yahweh for the outcome of their works as if those works were objects that one could Roll to Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Depend on Yahweh to direct your works]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:3 (#3)

וְיִכָּלְנוּ מַחְשַׁבְתֶּיךָ

“and your plans will be established”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh will establish your plans]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 16:3 (#4)

וְיִכָּלְנוּ

“and & will be established”

Here Solomon uses established to refer to something being achieved or successful. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and ... will be successful]

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of purpose and evil, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated evil in 1:16. Alternate translation: [for what they will accomplish ... what is evil]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:4 (#3)

וְגַם־רָשָׁע

“and even a wicked {one}”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh has even made a wicked one]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 16:4 (#1)

כָּל & לְמַעַן

“all for its purpose”

Solomon is using the adjective all as a noun to mean everything that exists. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [all things for their own purposes]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 16:4 (#5)

לְיוֹם רָעָה

“for the day of evil”

Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a day that is characterized by evil. This refers to a time when Yahweh will punish wicked people, either in this life or on the final day of judgment. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [for the time of their punishment]

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:6 (#1)

בְּהֶחֱסֵד וּבְאֱמֻנָה יִכַּפֵּר עֲוֹן

“By covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness, iniquity is atoned {for}”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [By a person having covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness, a person's iniquity is atoned for]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 16:6 (#2)

בְּהֶחֱסֵד וּבְאֱמֻנָה יִכַּפֵּר עֲוֹן

“By covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness, iniquity is atoned {for}”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. This appears to mean that a person shows that he has repented of his iniquity by his covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness. In response, Yahweh forgives him of his iniquity. Since both the person and Yahweh are involved in the atoning, use the passive construction if possible. Alternate translation: [Covenant faithfulness and trustworthiness atone for iniquity] or [A person atones for his iniquity by being faithful to his responsibilities to others and by being trustworthy]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 16:6 (#3)

בְּהֶחֱסֵד וּבְאֱמֻנָה

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:8 (#3)

בְּצִדְקָה

“with righteousness”

Here Solomon refers to being righteous as if that righteousness were an object that someone could have with a little. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while having righteousness] or [while being righteous]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:8 (#5)

בְּלֹא מִשְׁפָּט

“with no justice”

Here Solomon refers to a lack of justice as if justice were an object that someone did not have with an abundance of produce. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and not having justice] or [while having no justice]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:8 (#1)

טוֹב-מִמְעַט בְּצִדְקָה מִרַב תְּהַבֹּאֹת בְּלֹא מִשְׁפָּט

“Better {is} a little with righteousness than an abundance of produce with no justice”

The author assumes that his readers will understand that a little refers to the things needed to maintain life. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [It is better for a person to have a little of what they need with righteousness than for a person to have an abundance of produce with no justice] or [A person who has a little of what they need with righteousness is better off than a person who has an abundance of produce with no justice]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:10 (#1)

קִלְקָסִים | עַל-שִׁפְתֵי-מֶלֶךְ

“Divination {is} on the lips of a king”

Divination usually refers to the practice of trying to get information from spirits, which is a practice that Yahweh prohibited. However, Solomon uses the word here to refer to a king correctly communicating God’s decisions as God’s representative. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Divinely inspired decisions are on the lips of a king]

Proverbs 16:10 (#4)

מֶלֶךְ

“a king”

This verse describes the traits of an ideal, righteous king, not any king in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [an ideal king]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:10 (#5)

מַלְכָּהּ & פִּי

“a king & his mouth”

Here, the words king and his represent righteous kings, not one particular king. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any good king ... that king’s mouth]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:10 (#7)

לֹא יִמְעַל

“must not act unfaithfully”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning by using positive words. Alternate translation: [will certainly act faithfully]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 16:10 (#2)

קֶדֶם & בְּרִמְשֵׁפֹט

“Divination & in judgment”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of Divination and judgment, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [God’s message ... when he judges]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:10 (#6)

לֹא יִמְעַל-פִּי

“his mouth must not act unfaithfully”

Solomon is using his mouth to represent what a king says by using his mouth to announce his judgment. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression from your culture or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he must not speak unfaithfully]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:11 (#6)

כָּל-אֲבִנֵי-כִּס

“all the stones of the bag”

The phrase stones of the bag refers to the weights that were placed on the scales in order to determine the weight of an object. These stones were carried by merchants in a bag. The scales consisted of a central post with a crossbar from which two pans were hung. An object would be placed in one pan and these stones that had specific weights were placed in the other pan until the crossbar remained level, meaning that both pans contain an equal weight. If your readers would not be familiar with this method of determining weight, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [all the weights] or [all the stones used for determining weight]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 16:11 (#2)

פָּפְלִים | וּמֵאֲזִנֵּי מִשְׁפָּט לַיהוָה מִמְעֵשֵׁהוּ כָל-אֲבִנֵי-כִּס

“A scale with the two balances of justice {belong} to Yahweh; all the stones of the bag {are} his work”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [A scale with its two balances of justice belong to Yahweh; yes, all the stones of the bag are his work]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 16:11 (#5)

לַיהוָה מִמְעֵשֵׁהוּ

“belong} to Yahweh & are} his work”

In this verse, the phrases belong to Yahweh and are his work indicate that the idea of honest weighing instruments originated with him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [come from Yahweh ... are his design] or [originated with Yahweh ... are designed by him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:11 (#1)

פָּפְלִים | וּמֵאֲזִנֵּי מִשְׁפָּט לַיהוָה מִמְעֵשֵׁהוּ כָל-אֲבִנֵי-כִּס

“A scale with the two balances of justice {belong} to Yahweh; all the stones of the bag {are} his work”

The implication of the references to a balance, scales, and stones in this verse is that God wants people to be honest when selling or buying things. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [A scale with its two balances of justice belong to Yahweh; all the stones of the bag are his work, so be honest]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:11 (#3)

פְּסָלִים | וּמֵאֲזִנֵּי מִשְׁפָּט

“A scale with the two balances of justice”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a scale with its two balances that are characterized by justice. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A just scale with its two balances]

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:11 (#4)

פְּסָלִים | וּמֵאֲזִנֵּי

“A scale with the two balances of”

A scale is an instrument that is used for determining the weight of an object or comparing the weight of two objects. The two balances are the pans that hang from either end of the bar of the scale. This bar sits on a middle support, so that when the weights in the two pans are equal, the pans stay level with each other. A merchant who sells things by weight would use a scale to determine their value. he would have stones that were of a standard weight to place on one side of the scale, and the article for sale on the other. A dishonest merchant might use stones that were lighter than the standard and thus cheat his customer, against Yahweh's design. See how you translated scales in 11:1. Alternate translation: [Weighing instruments of]

Proverbs 16:26 (#4)

פִּיהוּ

“his mouth”

Here, mouth refers to the desire to eat, which involves using one’s mouth. It has the same meaning as appetite in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his hunger] or [his desire to eat]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:26 (#3)

עֲמֵלָה לָלוּ

“labors for him”

Here Solomon speaks of The appetite of the laborer benefitting the laborer as if The appetite were a person who labors on his behalf. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [benefits him] or [is like a person who helps him while he is working]

See: Personification

Proverbs 16:26 (#1)

נִנְפֶשׁ עֲמֵל עֲמֵלָה לָלוּ כִּי־אֹכְלָה עָלָיו פִּיהוּ

“The appetite of the laborer labors for him, for his mouth presses on him”

The appetite, the laborer, him, and his here refer to appetites and laborers in general, not to any particular appetite or laborer. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [The appetites of laborers labor for them, for their mouths press on them]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:26 (#5)

אִכְכָּרָה עָלָיו פִּיהוּ

“his mouth presses on him”

Here Solomon is using presses on him as a common expression of his culture to mean “urges him on.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his mouth is his master] or [being hungry urges him to keep working]

Proverbs 16:27 (#4)

רָעָה

“evil”

Here, evil refers to trouble or harm that someone experiences as a result of the planning done by A man of worthlessness. See how you translated the same use of evil in 12:21.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:27 (#3)

כִּרְרָה רָעָה

“digs up evil”

Here Solomon speaks of a person planning how to harm other people as if that person were digging evil out of the ground. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [plans how to harm people] or [plans how to harm people as if he were digging up evil]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:27 (#6)

כְּאֵשׁ צָרָבָה

“it is} like a scorching fire”

Solomon is saying that the evil things that A man of worthlessness says are like a scorching fire because both can hurt people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [it hurts people like a scorching fire]

See: Simile

Proverbs 16:27 (#5)

וְעַל־שִׁפְתָיו כְּאֵשׁ צָרָבָה

“and on his lips {it is} like a scorching fire”

Here, on his lips refers to what a person says while moving his lips. See how you translated the same use of lips in 10:13. Alternate translation: [and what he says is like a scorching fire]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:27 (#2)

אִישׁ בְּבִלְעֵל & שִׁפְתָיו

“A man of worthlessness & his lips”

A man of worthlessness and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person of worthlessness ... that person's lips]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:28 (#3)

יִשְׁלַח מִדָּוִן

“lets loose strife”

Here Solomon refers to A man of perverse things causing strife between other people as if strife were an animal that he lets loose. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes strife]

See: Personification

Proverbs 16:28 (#2)

אִישׁ תַּתְּהַפְכוֹת

“A man of perverse things”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by saying perverse things. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A perverse man] or [A man who says perverse things]

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:28 (#5)

וְהַרְגֵּן

“and a murmurer”

Here Solomon calls a person who gossips or tells harmful rumors about people a murmurer because that person speaks quietly when he gossips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a gossip] or [and one who whispers gossip]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:28 (#6)

מִפְרִיד

“separates”

Here Solomon refers to causing friends to no longer be friends as if someone separates them from each other. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is one who destroys the friendships of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:28 (#1)

אִישׁ תַּתְּהַפֹּכֹת & וְהַרְגֵּן מִפְרִיד אֶלּוּף

“A man of perverse things & and a murmurer separates the friendly”

A man of perverse things, a murmurer, and the friendly here refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any man of perverse things ... and any murmurer is a person who separates close friends]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:28 (#7)

מִפְרִיד אֶלּוּף

“separates the friendly”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that this phrase refers to separating people who were friendly from each other. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [is one who separates a close friend from his friend] or [is one who separates close friends]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:28 (#4)

מִדְּוִי

“strife”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of strife, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [arguments] or [confrontations]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 16:29 (#2)

אִישׁ הַחֶמֶס

“A man of violence”

See how you translated this phrase in 3:31.

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:29 (#1)

אִישׁ הַחֶמֶס & רֵעֵהוּ וְהוֹלִיכֵהוּ

“A man of violence & his neighbor, and he leads him”

A man of violence, his neighbor, he, and him here refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person of violence ... that person's neighbor, and that person leads that neighbor]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:29 (#3)

וְהוֹלִיכֵהוּ בַדֶּרֶךְ

“and he leads him on a road”

Here Solomon refers to A man of violence causing his neighbor to behave in a manner that is not good as if he were leading his neighbor along a road. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of road in 1:15. Alternate translation: [and he causes him to behave in a manner]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:29 (#4)

בַּדֶּרֶךְ לֹא־טוֹב

“on a road {that is} not good”

This could refer to: (1) behavior that is not good. Alternate translation: [to behave in a manner that is not good]; (2) behavior that results in something not good happening to that person. Alternate translation: [to behave in a manner that causes results which are not good]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:29 (#5)

לא־טוֹב

“that is} not good”

Here Solomon is using a figure of speech that emphasizes the meaning by using a negative word, not, together with good, which is a word that is the opposite of the intended meaning. He does this to emphasize how bad this road is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could emphasize the meaning without “not” in another way. Alternate translation: [that is very bad]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 16:30 (#3)

רָעָה

“evil”

Here, evil refers to an evil action that one who compresses his lips had planned to do. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [an evil act he had planned]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:30 (#1)

עֲצָצָה עֲעִינִי לְהַשְׁשִׁיב & קִרְרִץ שִׁשְׁפֹּתֶתִי כִלְלָה רָעָה

“One who shuts his eyes plans & one who compresses his lips brings evil to completion”

One who shuts his eyes and one who compresses his lips here refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [People who shut their eyes plan ... people who compress their lips bring evil to completion]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:30 (#2)

עֲצָצָה עֲעִינִי & קִרְרִץ שִׁשְׁפֹּתֶתִי

“One who shuts his eyes & one who compresses his lips”

The phrases shuts his eyes and compresses his lips both describe facial gestures which people could use to signal to others that they were about to do something evil that they had planned. If this would not be clear to your readers, you could explain the meaning of these actions in the text or in a footnote or use similar facial expressions that do have that meaning. Alternate translation: [One who signals to others by shutting his eyes ... one who signals to others by compressing his lips] or [One who winks his eyes ... one who extends his tongue]

See: Symbolic Action

Proverbs 16:31 (#1)

שֵׂיבָה

“Gray hair”

Gray hair here refers to old age, which is when people’s hair usually becomes Gray. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Old age]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 16:31 (#2)

עֲטֹטֶת תְּפָאֶרֶת

“is} a crown of splendor”

Here Solomon refers to the honor of being an old person as if the old person’s Gray hair were a crown of splendor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning or use a simile. See how you translated a crown of splendor in 4:9. Alternate translation: [is a great honor] or [is like a crown of splendor on an old person’s head]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:31 (#5)

תִּמְצָא

“it is found”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a person finds it]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 16:31 (#3)

בְּדֶרֶךְ

“on the road of”

See how you translated the same use of road in 1:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:31 (#6)

תמצא

“it is found”

Here Solomon refers to becoming old, which Gray hair represents, as if it were an object that a person could find. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it is obtained]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:31 (#4)

בדרך צדקה

“on the road of righteousness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a road that is characterized by righteousness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [on the righteous road]

See: Possession

Proverbs 16:32 (#2)

אָרֶךְ אַנְפִּים

“is} one long of nostrils”

See how you translated one long of nostrils in 14:29.

Proverbs 16:32 (#6)

מלכוד עיר

“than one capturing a city”

Here Solomon speaks of a person conquering a city and capturing the people who live in it as if the city were a person who could be captured. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [than one who conquers a city]

See: Personification

Proverbs 16:32 (#4)

וּמְשִׁיֵּל בְּרוּחֹהוּ

“and one ruling his spirit”

Here Solomon speaks of a person controlling his spirit as if it were a person who could be ruled over. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and one who controls his spirit]

See: Personification

Proverbs 16:32 (#7)

מלכוד עיר

“than one capturing a city”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that one who captures a city is very mighty. You could include this information if it would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [than one mighty enough to capture a city]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:32 (#3)

וּמְשִׁיֵּל בְּרוּחֹהוּ

“and one ruling his spirit”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and better is one ruling his spirit]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 16:32 (#1)

אָרֶךְ אַנְפִּים מִגִּבּוֹר וּמְשִׁיֵּל בְּרוּחֹהוּ מִלִּכְדָּ

“is} one long of nostrils than a mighty one, and one ruling his spirit than one capturing”

Here, one long of nostrils, a mighty one, one ruling his spirit, and one capturing represent these types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [is any person long of nostrils than any mighty person, and any person who rules over his own spirit than any person who captures]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 16:32 (#5)

בְּרוּחֹהוּ

“his spirit”

Here, spirit refers to a person's emotions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his emotions]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 16:33 (#2)

בַּבְּחִיק יוֹטֵטֵל אֶת־הַגּוֹרָל

“Into the lap a lot is cast”

A lot was a marked stone that was thrown or rolled on the ground in order to help decide something. People believed that God would guide the lot so that it showed them what to do. If your culture has a similar object, you could use the word for that in your language here. Alternate translation: [A marked stone is cast into the lap] or [People throw dice]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 16:33 (#3)

בַּבְּחִיק יוֹטֵטֵל אֶת־הַגּוֹרָל

“Into the lap a lot is cast”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A person throws a lot into a lap]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 16:33 (#4)

כָּל־מִשְׁפָּטָיו

“its every judgment”

Here, judgment refers to the decision that is made based on the result of casting lots. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [its every decision] or [whatever happens with the lot]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 16:33 (#1)

בַּבְּחִיק יוֹטֵטֵל אֶת־הַגּוֹרָל

“Into the lap a lot is cast”

The terms a lot, the lap, and its refer to these things in general, not to a specific lot and lap. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Lots are cast into people’s laps]

Proverbs - Chapter 17 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 17 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 17 also contains contrasting parallelism (17:9, 22, 24) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (17:21, 28). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 17:1 (#5)

זֶבַח

“sacrifices of”

Here, sacrifices refers to feasts in which Israelites would eat the meat from the sacrifices they had offered to Yahweh at the temple in Jerusalem. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [feasting on meat with]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:1 (#3)

וְשִׁלְוָה־בְּכָל־הַיּוֹם

“and ease with it”

Here Solomon refers to feeling peaceful as if that ease were an object that someone could have with a dry morsel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while feeling ease] or [while feeling peaceful]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:1 (#4)

מִמִּבְּבֵית מְלֵאָה

“than a house full of”

Here Solomon refers to a house in which people frequently eat meat from sacrifices as if the house were full of sacrifices. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [than a house in which people frequently have]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:1 (#1)

פֶּתַת תְּחִירָה & מִמִּבְּבֵית מְלֵאָה

“is} a dry morsel & than a house full of”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. See how you translated the same use of these phrases in 15:16–17. Alternate translation: [is having a dry morsel ... than having a house full of]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 17:1 (#6)

זבחי־ריב

“sacrifices of quarreling”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe feasts that are characterized by quarreling. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [feasts characterized by quarreling]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:1 (#2)

ושלום

“and ease”

Here, ease refers to a situation in which someone feels peaceful because there is no quarreling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and a peaceful situation]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:2 (#2)

ובתנוד אֲחָיוֹתָיו

“and in the midst of brothers”

Here Solomon refers to the servant having equal status with these brothers as if he were in the midst of them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and as an equal of the son’s brothers]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:2 (#1)

בבֶּן מִבְּיֹשׁ & אֲחָיוֹתָיו

“a shameful son & brothers”

Here Solomon implies that a son and brothers refer to the children of the master who owns the servant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [his master’s shameful son ... the brothers of his master’s son]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:2 (#3)

בְּחֵלָה

“an inheritance”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of inheritance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [what people inherit]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:3 (#6)

לבָּבוֹת

“hearts”

See how you translated the same use of “heart” in 2:2.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:3 (#4)

וּבְחֵסֶן לִבָּבוֹת יְהוָה

“and Yahweh tests hearts”

Solomon uses and here to indicate that he is making a comparison between the first clause and the second clause. How Yahweh tests hearts is similar to how The smelting-pot and furnace are used to test silver and gold to see how pure they are. If this connection is not clear, you may want to use a connecting word to show how this statement relates to what came before it. Alternate translation: [likewise, Yahweh tests hearts]

See: Connecting Words and Phrases

Proverbs 17:3 (#2)

מִצֶּרֶף

“The smelting-pot”

A smelting-pot is a container in which metals are melted at a very high temperature so that impurities may be discovered and removed from the metal. Since the second clause mentions tests, most likely Solomon is referring to using the pot to discover impurities. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of container, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [The pot used for testing and refining metal]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 17:3 (#5)

וּבְחֵסֶן לִבָּבוֹת יְהוָה

“and Yahweh tests hearts”

Here Solomon speaks of Yahweh evaluating what people think as if their hearts were metal that he was testing to discover impurities. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh evaluates peoples' hearts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:3 (#3)

מִצֶּרֶת לְלֶכֶסֶף וְכִכּוּר לְזָהָב

“The smelting-pot {is} for the silver and the furnace {is} for the gold”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that the smelting-pot and furnace are used to refine and test the purity of silver and gold. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [The smelting-pot is for testing and refining the silver, and the furnace is for testing and refining the gold]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:3 (#1)

מִצֶּרֶת לְלֶכֶסֶף וְכִכּוּר לְזָהָב

“The smelting-pot {is} for the silver and the furnace {is} for the gold”

The terms The smelting-pot, the silver, the furnace, and the gold represent these things in general, not any specific things. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any smelting-pot is for silver and any furnace is for gold]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:4 (#1)

מִמְרַע & שִׁפְת־אֲוֶן שֶׁשֶׁקֶר & לְשׁוֹן הָרָע

“The evildoer & the lips of iniquity; a liar & a tongue of destruction”

The evildoer, the lips of iniquity, a liar, and a tongue of destruction represent types of people and things in general, not specific people or things. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any evildoer ... any lips of iniquity; any liar ... any tongues of destruction]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:4 (#5)

לְשׁוֹן הָרָע

“a tongue of destruction”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a tongue that is characterized by destruction. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a destructive tongue]

See: Possession

Proverbs 17:4 (#4)

מְעִיזִין

“gives ear”

The phrase give ear refers to listening carefully to what someone is saying as if the listener were giving his ear to the person speaking. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a similar expression from your language or express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [listens carefully]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:4 (#2)

שִׁפְת־אֲוֶן

“the lips of iniquity”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe lips that are characterized by iniquity. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [sinful lips]

See: Possession

Proverbs 17:5 (#2)

חָרַרְךָ עֲשֵׂהוּ

“taunts his maker”

See how you translated this phrase in 14:31.

לִיעֵג לְלֶדֶשׁ חָרַרְךָ עֲשֵׂהוּ שְׂמִימָה לְאֵאִיד

“A mocker of one who is poor taunts his maker; one glad at calamity”

The terms A mocker, one who is poor, his, and one glad at calamity represent types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any mocker of any poor person taunts that person’s maker; any person glad at calamity]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:6 (#1)

עֲטֹטָרַת

“The crown of”

Here Solomon speaks of honor as if it were a crown upon the heads of old ones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. See how you translated a similar use of crown in 4:9. Alternate translation: [The honor of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:6 (#4)

וְתַפְאֲרַת בְּנֵי אֲבוֹתָם

“and the splendor of sons {is} their fathers”

Since the word translated as splendor is parallel to crown in the previous clause, here the splendor of sons refers to the honor or pride that sons feel for their fathers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and the honor that sons feel is for their fathers]

See: Possession

Proverbs 17:6 (#3)

בְּנֵי בְנִים & בְּנֵי אֲבוֹתָם

“is} sons of sons & sons {is} their fathers”

Although sons and fathers are masculine, here Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [are children of children ... children is their parents]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 17:6 (#2)

עֲטֹטָרַת זִקְנִים בְּנֵי בְנִים

“The crown of the old {is} sons of sons”

The crown of the old could refer to: (1) the honor or pride that the old feel for their sons of sons. Alternate translation: [The honor that old people feel is for their sons of sons]; (2) the honor that the old receive from others because they have sons of sons. Alternate translation: [Old people are honored because of their sons of sons] or [Sons of sons cause others to honor old people]

See: Possession

Proverbs 17:7 (#3)

שִׁפְת־שֶׁקֶר

“a lip of falsehood”

See how you translated the same use of “a lip of falsehood” in 10:18.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:7 (#2)

שִׁפְת־יִתֵּר

“A lip of excess”

The phrase lips of excess refers to excellent or eloquent speech that people say by moving their lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Fine speech] or [Speaking excellently]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:7 (#1)

לִנְכֹבֵל & לְנֹדֵב

“for a worthless {one & for a noble”

Here a worthless one and a noble represent these types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [for worthless ones ... for nobles]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:8 (#2)

בְּעֵינָי

“in the eyes of”

See how you translated this phrase in 3:4.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:8 (#3)

יִשְׁכִּיל

“he succeeds”

Here, he succeeds refers to what the owner of a bribe thinks would happen as a result of giving people bribes. It does not refer to something that is true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [he thinks that he succeeds]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:8 (#4)

אֶל-כָּל-אֲשֶׁשׁ יִפְנֶה

“to all that he turns”

Here Solomon refers to everything that the a person does as if it were all the places that he turns toward. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in whatever he does]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:8 (#1)

אֶבֶן-חֵסֶד

“A stone of favor”

A stone of favor refers to an object that someone thinks is magical and will make its owner successful. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A lucky rabbit's foot] or [A charm]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 17:9 (#3)

פָּשַׁע & אֶהְבֵּה

“a transgression & love”

See how you translated the abstract nouns transgression in 10:19 and love in 10:12.

Proverbs 17:9 (#6)

מִפְרִיד אֱלֹוֹהִי

“separates a close friend”

See how you translated this phrase in 16:28.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:9 (#5)

וְשִׁנְיָה בְּבִדְבָר

“but one who repeats a matter”

The phrase one who repeats a matter refers to someone who repeatedly speaks about a past situation in which that person or a friend was hurt or offended. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but one who repeatedly mentions a past offense]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:9 (#1)

מְכַסֶּה-פָּשַׁע & וְשִׁנְיָה בְּבִדְבָר & אֱלֹוֹהִי

“One who covers a transgression & but one who repeats a matter & a close friend”

One who covers, a transgression, one who repeats, a matter, and a close friend represent these things and people in general, not specific things or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who covers any transgression ... but any person who repeats any matter ... close friends]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:9 (#2)

מְכַסֶּה

“One who covers”

Here Solomon speaks of forgiving someone for a transgression as if it were an object that someone covers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [One who forgives]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:10 (#1)

גְּעִרָה בְּמַבְיֵן & כְּסִיל

“A rebuke & into an understanding one & a stupid one”

Here, a rebuke, an understanding one, and a stupid one represent this thing and these types of people in general, not one particular rebuke or person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [Any rebuke ... into any understanding person ... any stupid person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:10 (#3)

תִּתְחַת & בְּמַבְיֵן

“goes down into an understanding one”

Here Solomon refers to an understanding one learning from a rebuke as if it were an object that goes down into that person’s mind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [teaches an understanding one]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:10 (#4)

מְהַכֹּת כְּסִיל מֵאָה

“more than striking a stupid one a hundred {times}”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [more than striking a stupid one a hundred times goes down into that stupid one] or [more than striking a stupid one a hundred times teaches that stupid one]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:11 (#1)

רָגַע וּמִלְאָאֵד אֶאֱכֹרְרִי & בּוֹ

“An evil one & and a cruel messenger & against him”

An evil one, a cruel messenger, and him represent types of people in general, not one particular evil one or messenger. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any evil person ... and any cruel messenger ... against that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:11 (#3)

מִרְרִי

“rebellion”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rebellion, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [being rebellious]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:11 (#5)

וּמִלְאָאֵד אֶאֱכֹרְרִי וְשִׁלַּח

“and a cruel messenger will be sent”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and someone will send a cruel messenger]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 17:11 (#6)

ישלח־בו

“will be sent against him”

Here, against him implies that the messenger will punish the evil one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [will be sent to punish him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:11 (#4)

ומלאַנגד אַצקורר־י

“and a cruel messenger”

Here, and introduces the result of an evil one rebelling. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [As a result, a cruel messenger]

באולתו

“in his folly”

See how you translated the abstract noun folly in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:12 (#6)

דִּבְּ

“a female bear”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that a female bear robbed of offspring would be extremely angry and violent. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [an angry female bear]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:12 (#2)

פגגוש דִּבְּ שפכּוּל באַאִיש וְאַל־כָּכסִיל באולתו

“Let a female bear robbed of offspring meet a man and not a stupid one in his folly”

In this verse, Solomon implies that meeting a female bear robbed of offspring is better than meeting a stupid one in his folly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [A female bear robbed of offspring meeting a man is better than a stupid one in his folly meeting the man]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:12 (#4)

דִּבְּ & באַאִיש & כָּכסִיל באולתו

“a female bear & a man & a stupid one in his folly”

Here, a female bear, a man, a stupid one, and his represent bears and types of people in general, not one particular bear or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any female bear ... any person ... any stupid person in that person's folly]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:12 (#7)

שפכּוּל

“robbed of offspring”

Although the word offspring is singular in form, here it refers to all of a bear's cubs as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [robbed of cubs]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:12 (#1)

פגגוש דִּבְּ שפכּוּל באַאִיש וְאַל־כָּכסִיל באולתו

“Let a female bear robbed of offspring meet a man and not a stupid one in his folly”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words to the second clause from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Let a female bear robbed of offspring meet a man. Do not let a stupid one in his folly meet a man]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 17:12 (#5)

דִּבְּ שפכּוּל

“a female bear robbed of offspring”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a female bear from which someone has stolen offspring]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 17:12 (#3)

פגגוש דדב שפכול באאיש ואל-ככססיל באולתו

“Let a female bear robbed of offspring meet a man and not a stupid one in his folly”

Solomon is making this comparison between an angry bear and a fool as an extreme statement for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [Sometimes it seems like it would be better to meet a female bear robbed of offspring than to meet a stupid person doing something stupid]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:14 (#2)

פפוטטר ממים

“is} the releasing of water”

Here Solomon speaks of the difficulty in stopping a quarrel after it starts as if the the beginning of a quarrel were water that began to leak from a container or dam. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is difficult to stop] or [is as difficult to stop as water leaking from a container]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:14 (#4)

הרתגללע

“it breaks out”

Here Solomon refers to a quarrel starting as if it were water that suddenly breaks out of a container or dam. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it suddenly begins]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 17:14 (#3)

הרריב נטוש

“leave the dispute”

Here Solomon refers to stopping a dispute before it begins as if the dispute were a place that someone could leave. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [avoid the dispute] or [end the dispute]

Proverbs 17:26 (#4)

לְהַכּוֹת נְדִיבִים

“to strike nobles”

The parallelism with the previous clause indicates that Solomon is referring to striking nobles who did not do anything wrong. Here, nobles refers to people who have a position of ruling and also have noble character. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to wrongly strike noble people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:26 (#2)

לְצַדִּיק

“the righteous”

Solomon is using the adjective righteous as a noun to mean righteous people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate this word with an equivalent phrase. Alternate translation: [the righteous ones] or [people who act righteously]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 17:27 (#3)

דָּעַת & תְּבוּנָה

“knowledge & understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns knowledge in 1:4 and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 17:27 (#2)

אֶמְרֵי

“his words”

See how you translated the same use of words in 1:23.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:27 (#1)

חושש ויודע & וקרירון איש תבונה

“One restraining & is} one knowing & and the cool of spirit {is} a man of understanding”

One restraining, one knowing knowledge, the cool of spirit, and a man of understanding represent types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated One who restrains in 10:19 and a man of understanding in 10:23. Alternate translation: [Any person who restrains ... is a person who knows ... and any person who is cool of spirit is a person of understanding]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:27 (#4)

וקרירון

“and the cool of spirit”

Here, the cool of spirit is an idiom that refers to someone who controls their emotions. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the coolheaded person] or [and someone who controls his emotions]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 17:28 (#6)

אטטם שפתתיו

“one shutting his lips”

Here Solomon refers to someone who refrains from speaking unnecessarily as if that person shuts his lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [one who does not speak unnecessarily]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 17:28 (#2)

אטטם שפתתיו נבון

“a fool & one shutting his lips—understanding”

Here, a fool and one shutting his lips represent types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a fool in 7:22. Alternate translation: [any fool ... any person who shuts his lips—an understanding person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 17:28 (#1)

גם אנויל ממחריש חככם יהושב אטטם שפתתיו נבון

“Even a fool keeping silent will be considered wise; one shutting his lips—understanding”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Even a fool keeping silent will be considered wise; yes, one shutting his lips—understanding]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 17:28 (#3)

ממחריש

“keeping silent”

This phrase refers to someone who refrains from speaking unnecessarily. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [who does not speak unnecessarily]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 17:28 (#4)

יהושב

“will be considered”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [people will consider to be]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 17:28 (#5)

אטטם שפתתיו נבון

“one shutting his lips—understanding”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [one shutting his lips will be considered understanding]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs - Chapter 18 Introduction

Chapter 18 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 18 also contains contrasting parallelism (18:2, 12, 14, 23, 24) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (18:7, 15, 20). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 18:1 (#3)

לְתַאֲנָה יִבְקֶקֶשׁ

“seeks for desire”

Here Solomon implies that this person seeks to fulfill his own desire. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [seeks to fulfill his own desire]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:1 (#2)

וַיִּפְרָד

“One who separates himself”

Here Solomon implies that this person separates himself from other people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who keeps away from other people]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:1 (#5)

בְּכָל-תִּתְּוֹשִׁיָּהּ

“against all sound wisdom”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of sound wisdom, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [against anything that is soundly wise]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:1 (#1)

לְתַאֲנָה יִבְקֶקֶשׁ נִפְרָד & יִתְגַּלֵּעַ

“One who separates himself seeks for desire & he breaks out”

One who separates himself and he refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [People who separate themselves seek for desire ... those people break out]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:1 (#4)

בְּכָל-תִּתְּוֹשִׁיָּהּ יִתְגַּלֵּעַ

“against all sound wisdom, he breaks out”

Here Solomon describes a person who breaks out into a quarrel with anyone who offers him sound wisdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated breaks out in 17:14. Alternate translation: [he breaks out into a quarrel with anyone who speaks to him with sound wisdom]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:2 (#5)

בְּהִתְגַּלְלוֹת לִבּוֹ

“in his heart revealing itself”

Here Solomon refers to a stupid one telling people what he thinks as if his heart were revealing itself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated heart in 2:2. Alternate translation: [in telling people his opinion]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:2 (#2)

לֹא-יִחְפֹּץ & בְּהִיבִינָה

“does not delight in understanding”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [detests understanding]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 18:2 (#4)

בְּהִתְגַּלְלוֹת לִבּוֹ

“in his heart revealing itself”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [a stupid one delights in his heart revealing itself]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 18:2 (#1)

כְּכִסִּיל & לִבּוֹ

“A stupid one & his heart”

A stupid one and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any stupid person ... that person's heart]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:2 (#3)

בְּתִבּוּנָה

“in understanding”

See how you translated the abstract noun understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:3 (#2)

בְּבוֹז & קָלְלוֹן הָרָפָה

“contempt & shame, reproach”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of contempt, shame, and reproach, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated contempt in 12:8 and shame in 6:33. Alternate translation: [feeling contemptuous ... feeling shameful, being reproached]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:3 (#1)

כָּבֹא גַם־בְּבוֹז

“contempt also comes”

Here Solomon speaks of experiencing contempt as if it were a person who can come to a location. This could mean: (1) people show contempt towards a wicked

one. Alternate translation: [people feel contempt for him]; (2) a wicked one shows contempt for others. Alternate translation: [he shows his contempt for other people]

See: Personification

Proverbs 18:3 (#3)

וְעִם־קָלְלוֹן הָרָפָה

“and with shame, reproach”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and with shame comes reproach]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 18:3 (#4)

וְעִם־קָלְלוֹן הָרָפָה

“and with shame, reproach”

Here Solomon speaks of a shameful person coming as though shame itself were coming, and of people acting reproachfully toward that person as though reproach were also a person that was arriving. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and when a shameful person comes, people will reproach that person]

See: Personification

Proverbs 18:4 (#6)

חֵכְמָה

“wisdom”

See how you translated the abstract noun wisdom in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:4 (#4)

מַמִּים עֲמֻקִּים

“are} deep waters”

Here Solomon speaks of a wise man's words being profound as if they were deep waters. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [are profound] or [are deep like deep waters]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:4 (#5)

מקקור חכמה

“a fountain of wisdom”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a fountain that gives wisdom. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a fountain that gives wisdom]

See: Possession

Proverbs 18:4 (#2)

דבריו פי־איש

“The words of the mouth of a man”

The second clause indicates that Solomon is referring to wise words spoken by a wise man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The wise words of the mouth of a wise man]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:4 (#3)

פי־איש

“the mouth of a man”

Here, the mouth and a man represent mouths and people in general, not one particular mouth and man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [the mouths of people]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:4 (#1)

דבריו פי־איש

“The words of the mouth of a man”

This phrase refers to the words that a man says by using his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The words that a man says with his mouth]

See: Possession

Proverbs 18:4 (#7)

נגחל נובע מקקור חכמה

“a fountain of wisdom {is} a gushing stream”

Here Solomon speaks of a wise person having plentiful wisdom as if wisdom sprang out of him like water out of a fountain that became a gushing stream. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [he speaks wise sayings in abundance] or [He is a source of plentiful wisdom like a fountain that produces a gushing stream]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:5 (#3)

שאאת פני

“to lift the face of”

Here, to lift the face is an idiom that means “to show partiality” or “to favor”. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to show favoritism to] or [to be partial to]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 18:5 (#4)

רשע & צדדיק

“the wicked & the righteous”

In this verse, the wicked refers to someone who is guilty of doing something wicked and the righteous refers to someone who is innocent of doing something wicked. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of wicked and righteous in 17:15. Alternate translation: [the guilty one ... the innocent one]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:5 (#7)

להטות

“to turn aside”

Here, depriving an innocent person of a just judgment is spoken of as if the righteous one were made to turn aside when judged in court. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to deprive of justice]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:5 (#2)

שאאת פני־רשע & צדדיק במשפט

“to lift the face of the wicked & the righteous in the judgment”

Here, the face, the wicked, the righteous, and the judgment represent these things and people in general, not specific things and people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [to lift the faces of the wicked ones ... the righteous ones in the judgments]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:5 (#1)

לא־טוֹב

“It is} not good”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [It is surely bad]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 18:5 (#8)

בַּמִּשְׁפָּט

“in the judgment”

Here, the judgment refers to the verdict of a judge in a legal case. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [regarding the verdict of his case] or [when his case is decided]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:5 (#6)

לְהִטָּוֶה

“to turn aside”

Here, to marks turn aside as the goal or purpose of lifting the face of the wicked one. Use a natural way in your language to express a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of turning aside]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 18:5 (#5)

רָשָׁע & צַדִּיק

“the wicked & the righteous”

Solomon is using the adjectives wicked and righteous as nouns to mean certain kinds of people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you can translate these adjectives with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [wicked people ... righteous people]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 18:6 (#2)

יִבְאֹז בְּרִיב

“enter into a dispute”

Here Solomon speaks of what a stupid one says with his lips causing that person to start a dispute as if his lips were a person who could enter into a dispute. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [results in him starting an argument]

See: Personification

Proverbs 18:6 (#3)

וּפִי יִקְרָא לְמַהֲלָמוֹת יִקְרָא

“and his mouth calls for blows”

Here Solomon speaks of what a stupid one says with his mouth, causing people to want to beat him as if he were inviting them with his mouth to strike him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and what he says causes people to want to beat him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:6 (#1)

כְּכִסִּיל & בְּרִיב וּפִי

“a stupid one & into a dispute, and his mouth”

Here, a stupid one, a dispute and his refer to stupid people and disputes in general, not one particular stupid one or dispute. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any stupid one ... into disputes, and that person’s mouth]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:7 (#5)

נַפְשׁוֹ

“his life”

Here, life refers to the person himself. See how you translated the same use of life in 8:36.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:7 (#2)

פִּי & וּשְׂפָתָיו

“The mouth of & and his lips”

See how you translated the same use of mouth and lips in the previous verse.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:7 (#1)

פִּי-כָבֵדִים לִלְוֹ וּשְׂפָתָיו מוֹקֵקֶשׁ בְּפִשׁוֹ

“The mouth of a stupid one {is} ruin for him, and his lips {are} a snare of his life”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The mouth of a stupid one is ruin for him, yes, his lips are a snare of his life]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 18:7 (#3)

מִהֲתָה-לָּלוּ

“{is} ruin for him”

Here, is indicates that what follows is the result of what a stupid one says. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [causes ruin for him] or [will result in his ruin]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 18:7 (#4)

מוֹקֵקֶשׁ בְּפִשׁוֹ

“{are} a snare of his life”

Here Solomon speaks as if his lips were a snare that traps a stupid one when speaking of how what he says with his lips causes him trouble. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [will threaten his life] or [are like a snare that traps him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:8 (#1)

דְּבָרָיו

“The words of”

See how you translated the same use of words in 1:23.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:8 (#3)

וְהֵם יֵרָדּוּ חֲדָרֵי-בֶטֶן

“and they themselves go down into the rooms of the belly”

Here Solomon speaks of the words of a murmurer staying in a person’s mind and affecting that person’s thoughts as if they were food that goes down into a person’s stomach. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they enter a person’s mind and affect his thoughts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:8 (#2)

כְּמִתְלַהֲמָמִים

“{are} like things swallowed greedily”

Solomon is saying that the words of a murmurer are like things swallowed greedily because people are eager to hear gossip. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [are listened to eagerly]

See: Simile

Proverbs 18:8 (#5)

חֲדָרֵי-בֶטֶן

“the rooms of the belly”

Here, the rooms of the belly refers to the innermost part of a person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the innermost part of a person]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:8 (#4)

וְהֵם יֵרָדּוּ

“and they themselves go down into”

The intensive pronoun themselves represents the pronoun “they” that Solomon uses in the original even though the verb translated as go down already includes this meaning. Doing this emphasizes how significant it was that what murmurers said was listened to by others. If your language uses explicit pronouns for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. Other languages may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. Alternate translation: [and those very words go down into]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 18:9 (#1)

מתרפפה במלאכתו אָחָה הִוא לְבַבֵּעַל מִשְׁחִית

“one who slacks in his work, he {is} a brother to an owner of destruction”

Here, one who slacks, his, a brother, and an owner of destruction represent types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any person who slacks in that person's work, that person is a brother to any owner of destruction]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:9 (#2)

אָחָה

“is} a brother”

Here Solomon speaks of the one who slacks being similar to an owner of destruction as if he were that person's brother. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is closely related] or [is very similar]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:9 (#3)

לְבַבֵּעַל מִשְׁחִית

“to an owner of destruction”

Here Solomon refers to a person who destroys things as if that person were an owner of destruction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to a person who destroys everything] or [to someone who is always destructive]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 18:10 (#1)

שֵׁם יְהוָה

“The name of Yahweh”

Here, name of Yahweh refers to Yahweh himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:10 (#2)

מִגְדַּל-עֹז

“is} a tower of strength”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a tower that is characterized by strength. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is a tower characterized by strength]

See: Possession

Proverbs 18:10 (#4)

צַדִּיק

“the righteous {one}”

Here, the righteous one represents righteous people in general, not one particular righteous one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [any righteous person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:10 (#5)

וְנִשְׁבָּר

“and is set on high”

Here Solomon speaks of a person being safe as if that person were set on high at the top of a tower where no one could harm him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and is secure]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:10 (#3)

מִגְדַּל-עֹז & בּוֹ-יָרֵוּן צַדִּיק וְנִשְׁבָּר

“is} a tower of strength; the righteous {one} runs into it and is set on high”

Here Solomon speaks of Yahweh protecting his people as if he were a tower into which they could run and take refuge on high above their enemies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [protects righteous people and keeps them safe from their enemies] or [protects his people like a strong tower provides protection for those who are inside]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:11 (#1)

הָרוֹךְ עֲשִׂיר קָרִיִּית עֹזוֹ

“The wealth of the rich one {is} the city of his strength”

See how you translated the same clause in 10:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:11 (#2)

וְכַחֲמִמָּה נִשְׁגָּבָה

“and like a wall set on high”

Solomon is saying that the wealth of a rich one is like a wall set on high because the rich one thinks that his wealth will protect him from enemies, as a high wall protects. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and it will protect him like a wall set on high]

See: Simile

Proverbs 18:11 (#3)

בְּמַשְׁכִּיתוֹ

“in his imagination”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of imagination, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [according to what he imagines]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:12 (#3)

לֵב

“the heart of”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:12 (#5)

וְלִפְנֵי קִבְדּוֹ עֲנִיָּה

“but to the face of honor—humility”

See how you translated the same clause in 15:33.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:12 (#2)

יִגְבֶּה לֵב-אָדָם

“the heart of a man is exalted”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [a man exalts his heart]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 18:12 (#4)

אָדָם

“a man”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a person]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 18:12 (#1)

לִפְנֵי-שִׁשְׁבָּר

“To the face of breaking”

Here and in the next clause Solomon is using the expression to the face of to mean “before” or “previous to.” Here, breaking refers to being ruined or destroyed. See how you translated this phrase in 16:18. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Before he is ruined]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:13 (#4)

אִיגִלָּת & וּכְלָמָה

“is} folly & and shame”

See how you translated the abstract nouns folly in 5:23 and shame in 6:33.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:13 (#1)

מִשְׁשִׁיב הַדָּבָר בְּטֶטֶרֶם יִשְׁמָע & לֹא

“One who returns a word before he listens & to him”

One who returns, a word, he, and him refer to a type of person and word in general, not one particular person or word. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who returns any word before listening ... to that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:13 (#2)

מִשְׁשִׁיב הַדָּבָר

“One who returns a word”

Here, returns refers to replying to what someone has said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who replies with an answer]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:13 (#3)

דַּבָּר

“a word”

See how you translated the similar use of word in 12:25. Alternate translation: [an answer]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:14 (#2)

יִכְלֶכֶל

“will endure”

Here Solomon implies that a person’s spirit enables that person to endure his illness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [will enable him to endure]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:14 (#1)

רוּחַ & נִרְוָה נִכְבָּאָה

“The spirit of & but a crushed spirit”

In this verse, spirit refers to a person’s attitude. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The attitude of ... but a crushed attitude]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:14 (#3)

נִרְוָה נִכְבָּאָה

“but a crushed spirit”

Here Solomon refers to a person who despairs as if that person’s spirit were crushed by something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression in 15:13. Alternate translation: [but an attitude of despair]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:14 (#5)

יִשְׁאֲנֶה

“can lift it”

Here Solomon refers to helping a depressed person feel better as if one could lift that person’s spirit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [can restore it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:14 (#4)

מִי יִשְׁאֲנֶה

“who can lift it”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize the difficulty of helping a depressed person feel better. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [surely no one can lift it!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 18:15 (#6)

תִּבְקֹשׁ

“seeks”

See how you translated the same use of seeks in 11:27.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:15 (#4)

דָּעַת & דַּעַת

“knowledge & knowledge”

See how you translated the abstract noun knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:15 (#1)

לֵב נִבְוִן יִקְנֶה דָּעַת וְאָזְן חָכָם יִבְקֹשׁ דָּעַת

“The heart of an understanding one acquires knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeks knowledge”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word other than and that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The heart of an understanding one acquires knowledge, yes, and the ear of the wise ones seeks knowledge]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 18:15 (#2)

לֵב נָבוֹן יִקְנֶה-דָּעַת וְאִזְנוֹ הַחֲכָמִים תִּבְקֶשׁ-דָּעַת

“The heart of an understanding one acquires knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeks knowledge”

The heart, an understanding one, and the ear represents these things and type of people in general, not specific things or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [The hearts of understanding ones acquire knowledge, and the ears of the wise seek knowledge]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:15 (#3)

לֵב נָבוֹן יִקְנֶה

“The heart of an understanding one acquires”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s intentions and desires exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 15:14. Alternate translation: [An understanding one desires to acquire]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:15 (#5)

וְאִזְנוֹ הַחֲכָמִים תִּבְקֶשׁ

“and the ear of the wise seeks”

Here, ear refers to the way that a person learns by listening. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the wise ones seek to hear]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:16 (#4)

וְלִפְנֵי

“and before the face of”

See how you translated the same use of before the face of in 14:19.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:16 (#3)

יִרְהִיב

“will make room”

Here, make room is an idiom that means “create an opportunity.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will open doors] or [will create an opportunity]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 18:16 (#2)

מִתְּתֹן אָדָם

“The gift of a man”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a gift that is given by a man. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [What a man gives]

See: Possession

Proverbs 18:16 (#5)

יְהַדְּיֵהוּ

“it will guide him”

Here it refers to The gift. Solomon speaks of this gift as if it were a living thing that could guide the person who gives it. He means that giving a gift could result in a person meeting great ones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [it will enable him to go]

See: Personification

Proverbs 18:16 (#1)

מִתְּתֹן אָדָם & לָלוֹ & יְהַדְּיֵהוּ

“The gift of a man & for him & it will guide him”

The gift, a man, him, and it refer to gifts and people in general, not one particular gift or person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [A gift of any person ... for that person ... it will guide that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:17 (#1)

צָדִיק הָרִאשִׁשׁוֹן בְּרִיבּוֹ וּבֹא-רֵצֵעֵהוּ וְחֻקָּרוֹ

“The first one with his case {is} right; then his neighbor comes and examines him”

This verse refers to a dispute in which one person states his case that seems to be right until that person’s neighbor examines him by asking him questions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [When people dispute, the first one states his case and seems to be right. Then his neighbor comes and questions what he said]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:17 (#3)

הָרִאשׁוֹן

“The first one”

If your language does not use ordinal numbers, you could use a cardinal number here or an equivalent expression. Alternate translation: [Person one]

See: Ordinal Numbers

Proverbs 18:17 (#2)

הָרִאשׁוֹן בְּרִיבּוֹ & רִרְעֵהוּ וְחָקְרוּ

“The first one with his case & his neighbor & and examines him”

The first one, his, and him refer to a type of person, not a particular first one. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who first brings his case ... that person's neighbor ... and examines that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:17 (#4)

וְכֵאֲרִרְעֵהוּ

“then his neighbor comes”

Solomon implies that there is a contrast between the idea of the previous clause and this clause. Solomon implies that the results of examining the first one will be that his case is not right. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [but then his neighbor comes]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 18:18 (#3)

מִמְדֹּנִים

“quarrels”

See how you translated the abstract noun quarrels in 6:14.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:18 (#2)

הַגֹּרֶל

“The lot”

See how you translated lot in 16:33.

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 18:18 (#4)

יִפְרִיד

“it makes a separation”

The phrase makes a separation refers to discerning which of the mighty ones is correct in an argument. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [it discerns who is correct]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:18 (#1)

הַגֹּרֶל

“The lot”

The lot refers to casting lots in general, not a specific lot. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [Casting lots]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:19 (#4)

וּמְדֹנִים

“and quarrels”

See how you translated the abstract noun quarrels in 6:14.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:19 (#6)

כְּבַרְיָה

“are} like the gate bar of”

A gate bar was a large piece of metal or wood that was placed across a gate in order to make the gate difficult to break down or open. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bar, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [are like the large beam placed across the gate of]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 18:19 (#3)

מִקְרֵית־עֶזָּה

“is} more than a city of strength”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a city that is characterized by strength. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is more than a strong city]

See: Possession

Proverbs 18:19 (#1)

אָח

“A brother”

Here, brother refers to any relative or close friend. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A relative]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:19 (#2)

מִקְרִית־עֹז

“is} more than a city of strength”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word or phrase if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [is more unyielding than a city of strength] or [is more difficult to approach than a city of strength]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 18:19 (#5)

כְּבָרִית אֶרְמוֹן

“are} like the gate bar of a fortress”

This could mean: (1) quarrels cause people to stay away from each other as though a bar blocking the gate of a fortress were between them. Alternate translation: [separate people like the gate bar of a fortress]; (2) resolving quarrels is as difficult as trying to enter a fortress that has a bar across its gate. Alternate translation: [are as difficult to resolve as breaking the gate bar of a fortress]

See: Simile

Proverbs 18:20 (#3)

מִפִּרְיֵי פִי־אִישׁ

“From the fruit of the mouth of a man”

See how you translated this phrase in 12:14.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:20 (#1)

מִפִּרְיֵי פִי־אִישׁ תִּשְׂבֹּבֶעַ בְּטֶנְגוֹ תְּבוֹאֵאת שְׁפִתָּיו יִשְׂבֹּעַ

“From the fruit of the mouth of a man his belly is satisfied; {with} the produce of his lips, he is satisfied”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [From the fruit of the mouth of a man his belly is satisfied; yes, with the produce of his lips, he is satisfied]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 18:20 (#5)

תְּבוֹאֵאת שְׁפִתָּיו יִשְׂבֹּעַ

“{with} the produce of his lips, he is satisfied”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [the produce of his lips satisfies him]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 18:20 (#6)

תְּבוֹאֵאת שְׁפִתָּיו

“{with} the produce of his lips”

Here Solomon refers to what a person says as if it were produce from that person's lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [with what he says]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:20 (#2)

מִפִּרְיֵי פִי־אִישׁ תִּשְׂבֹּבֶעַ בְּטֶנְגוֹ

“From the fruit of the mouth of a man his belly is satisfied”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [The fruit of the mouth of a man satisfies his belly]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 18:20 (#4)

תִּשְׂבֹּבֶעַ בְּטֶנְגוֹ

“his belly is satisfied”

Here Solomon is using one part of a person, his belly, to mean all of him in the act of being satisfied with fruit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will eat enough to feel satisfied]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 18:21 (#4)

לְשׁוֹן

“the tongue”

See how you translated the same use of tongue in 6:17.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 18:21 (#2)

מָמוֹת וְחַיִּים

“Death and life”

See how you translated the abstract nouns Death in 2:18 and life in 8:36.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:21 (#1)

מָמוֹת וְחַיִּים בְּיַד לְשׁוֹן

“Death and life {are} in the hand of the tongue”

Here Solomon speaks of a person’s tongue as if it were a person who held Death and life in his hand. He means that what people say can cause people to die or stay alive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A person’s death and life can be determined by what a person says]

See: Personification

Proverbs 18:21 (#3)

בְּיַד

“are} in the hand of”

Solomon is using in the hand of as a common expression of his culture to mean “determined by.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are determined by] or [are in the power of]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 18:21 (#5)

וְאֵהֶבְתָּהּ יֶאֱכֹל פִּרְיָהּ

“and those who love it will eat its fruit”

Here, it refers to the tongue, which represents what someone says by using the tongue. Solomon speaks of having respect for what one says and speaking well as loving the tongue. Those who speak well, recognizing and using well the power of their words, will eat the fruit of speaking well. Eating the fruit represents receiving the consequences for what they say, as also in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and those who speak well will benefit from the words that they say]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:22 (#4)

רָצוֹן

“favor”

Here, favor could refer to: (1) Yahweh being pleased with the man who finds a wife, as in the identical phrase in 8:35. Alternate translation: [approval]; (2) the wife mentioned in the previous clause, in which case favor would mean “gift.” Alternate translation: [a gift]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:22 (#3)

טוֹב וְרָצוֹן

“good & favor”

See how you translated the abstract nouns good in 11:27 and favor in 3:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 18:22 (#2)

מֵצֵא & מְצָא

“He who finds & finds”

Obtaining a wife and something good are spoken of as if they are objects that a person finds by searching. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [He who obtains ... obtains]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:22 (#1)

מֵצֵא אִשָּׁה & וְיֵצֵא

“He who finds a wife & and he obtains”

He who finds, a wife, and he refer to people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who finds a wife ... and that person obtains]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:23 (#2)

תְּהַנִּיחַ יְדָבָר

“speaks pleas”

The phrase speaks pleas refers to someone humbly asking or begging for mercy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [pleads for mercy]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:23 (#3)

יַעֲנֶה

“answers”

Here Solomon implies that a rich one answers the pleas of One who is poor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [answers the poor one]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:23 (#1)

רָשׁ וְאִשְׁשִׁיר

“One who is poor & but a rich one”

One who is poor and a rich one refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any poor person ... but any rich person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 18:24 (#6)

דָּבַק מֵאָח

“clinging more than a brother”

Here Solomon refers to a person's friend being more loyal than a brother as if that friend were clinging to him more than a brother would cling. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [more faithful than family]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 18:24 (#3)

אִישׁ רָרָעִים

“A man of companions”

This phrase could refer to: (1) a person who has false or unreliable companions who harm him, which contrasts with one who loves in the next clause. Alternate translation: [A man with unreliable companions]; (2) a person who has too many companions. Alternate translation: [A man with too many companions]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 18:24 (#2)

אִישׁ רָרָעִים

Proverbs - Chapter 19 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 19 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 19 also contains contrasting parallelism (19:4, 12, 14, 16, 21) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (19:5, 9). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 19:1 (#3)

בְּתִמְמוֹ

“in his integrity”

See how you translated the abstract noun integrity in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:1 (#2)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ בְּתִמְמוֹ

“who walks in his integrity”

Here Solomon speaks of a person behaving with integrity as if integrity were a place that person walks in. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar use of “walk” in 3:23. Alternate translation: [who behaves with integrity]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:1 (#4)

מֵעֵקֶשׁ שְׁשִׁפְתָּיו

“than one who is crooked [in] his lips”

Here Solomon uses the phrase crooked in his lips to refer to someone who speaks deceptively. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of crooked in 2:15. Alternate translation: [than one who speaks with deception]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:1 (#1)

רָשׁ & בְּתִמְמוֹ מֵעֵקֶשׁ שְׁשִׁפְתָּיו וְהָיָא כְּסִיל

“is} one who is poor & in his integrity than one who is crooked {in} his lips and he {is} a stupid one”

Here, one who is poor, his, one who is crooked, he, and a stupid one all refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [is a poor person ... in that person’s integrity than a person who is crooked in that one’s lips and is a stupid person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:2 (#3)

דִּדְעָה

“knowledge”

See how you translated the abstract noun knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:2 (#4)

לֹא־טוֹב

“is} not good”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [is extremely bad]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 19:2 (#6)

חֹטֵא

“misses {the way”

Here the word translated as misses the way could refer to: (1) someone making a mistake. Alternate translation: [makes a mistake] or [errs]; (2) someone acting sinfully, which this word often means in other contexts. Alternate translation: [acts sinfully]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:2 (#1)

וְאֶזְרָא

“and one who hurries”

Here, one who hurries refers to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [and any person who hurries]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:2 (#2)

זֶהְרָא

“zeal”

Here, the word translated as zeal could refer to: (1) a person's desire or emotions. Alternate translation: [desire]; (2) a person's life. Alternate translation: [a person]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:2 (#5)

וְאֶזְרָא בְּרַגְלָיִם חֹטֵא

“and one who hurries with feet misses {the way”

Here Solomon speaks of a person doing something too hastily with the result that he makes mistakes as if he hurries by running with his feet and so he misses the way that he should have gone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and one who acts too quickly makes mistakes]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:3 (#1)

אִנְיָלָה

“The folly of”

See how you translated the abstract noun folly in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:3 (#5)

וְעַל-יְהוָה יִצְעַק לְבוֹ

“and his heart will rage against Yahweh”

Here Solomon implies that the foolish man rages against Yahweh because he blames Yahweh for his destruction. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation:

[and his heart will rage against Yahweh because he blames Yahweh for his destruction]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:3 (#2)

אָדָם & דֶּרֶכְוֹ & לֵבֹ

“a man & his way & his heart”

Although man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [a person ... that person's way ... that person's heart]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 19:3 (#4)

דֶּרֶכְוֹ

“his way”

Here, way refers to a person's life circumstances. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [his life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:3 (#6)

לֵבֹ

“his heart”

Here, heart refers to the whole person, with emphasis on that person's emotions. See how you translated the same use of heart in 15:14.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 19:3 (#3)

תִּסְלַחַף

“will lead astray”

Here, folly is spoken of as if it were a person who could lead someone astray. This expression means that foolish people will ruin their lives because they act foolishly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will result in ruining]

See: Personification

Proverbs 19:4 (#3)

וְלִדְלוֹ

“but a lowly one”

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:5 (#4)

לֹא יִנְקָה

“will not be blameless”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will certainly be guilty]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 19:5 (#2)

עֵד שֶׁשָּׁקָרִים & וְיֹפֶיָּה כְּזֹבָבִים

“A witness of falsehoods & and he who breathes out lies”

A witness of falsehoods and he who breathes out lies refer to types of people, not a specific person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any witness of falsehoods ... and any person who breathes out lies]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:5 (#6)

לֹא יִמָּלֵט

“will not escape”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will certainly be caught]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 19:6 (#2)

פְּנֵי־נָדָבִים & הָהָרֵץ לְאִישׁ מִתָּן

“the face of a noble & is} the friend of a man of gift”

Here, the face, a noble, the friend, and a man of gift refer to faces and types of people in general, not a specific face or person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [the faces of any noble ... is any friend of any man of gift]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:6 (#7)

לְאִישׁ מִתָּן

“of a man of gift”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by giving gifts. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [of a man who gives gifts]

See: Possession

Proverbs 19:6 (#6)

הָהָרֵץ

“is} the friend”

Here Solomon implies that everyone wants to be the friend of a man of gift. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [wants to be the friend]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:6 (#1)

רַבִּים

“Many”

“A lazy one & his, and he will not even return it to his mouth”

A lazy one, his, and he refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. See how you translated A lazy one in 10:26. Alternate translation: [Any lazy one ... that person's hand ... that person will not even return it to that person's own mouth]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:24 (#2)

טִמְמָן & יָדוֹ בַּצֶּלֶחַת

“hides his hand in the dish”

In Solomon's culture, people usually ate with their hands and put their hands in a dish in order to pick up food and eat it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [puts his hand in the dish in order to pick up food]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:24 (#3)

גַּם-אֶל-פִּי־הוּ לֹא יָשִׁיבָנָה

“he will not even return it to his mouth”

Here Solomon implies that A lazy one does not return his hand to his mouth because he is too lazy to do so. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but he is too lazy to even bring his hand up to his mouth to feed himself]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:25 (#4)

דָּעַת

“knowledge”

See how you translated the abstract noun knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:25 (#2)

לֵלִין & וּפְפֹתִי לְלִנְבֹּן יִבְיִין

“a mocker and a naive one & an understanding one—he will understand”

Here, a mocker, a naive one, an understanding one, and he refer to a types of person in general, not to specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a mocker in 9:7, a naive one in 14:15, and an understanding one in 17:10. Alternate translation: [any mocker and any naive one ... any understanding one—that person will understand]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:25 (#1)

לֵלִין תַּתְּכֶה

“You strike a mocker”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that Strike refers to a way of punishing a mocker. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [Punish a mocker by striking him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:25 (#3)

וּפְפֹתִי יִצְרָהֶם

“and a naive one will become prudent”

Solomon assumes that his readers will understand that a naive one will become prudent as the result of seeing someone Strike a mocker. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [and a naive one will see this happen and become prudent]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:26 (#1)

מִשְׁדָּד & מַבְבִּישׁ וּמַחְפִּיר

“One who does violence & who causes shame and causes embarrassment”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of violence, shame, and embarrassment, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated violence in 3:31 and shame in 6:33. Alternate translation: [One who is violent ... who shames and embarrasses]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:26 (#3)

אָאָב & אָאָם

“to} a father & a mother”

Solomon implies that father and mother here refer to the father and mother of the One who does violence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to his father ... his mother] or [to that person's father ... that person's mother]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 19:26 (#2)

מִשְׁדָּד

“One who does violence”

One who does violence here refers to this type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who does violence]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:26 (#4)

בֶּן־

“is} a son”

Although son is masculine, Solomon is using those words in a generic sense that could refer to either a male or female child. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [is a child]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 19:27 (#1)

בְּרִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 19:27 (#7)

מֵאֲמַר־דָּעַת

“from the words of knowledge”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe words that are characterized by knowledge. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [from the words that give knowledge]

See: Possession

Proverbs 19:27 (#6)

לְשִׁגְיוֹת מֵאֲמַר־דָּעַת

“to stray from the words of knowledge”

Here Solomon refers to a person straying or wandering from the words of knowledge to mean that the person is no longer heeding those words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to stop accepting the words of knowledge]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:27 (#2)

קָדַל & לְשִׁמְמָע מוֹסְסָר לְשִׁגְיוֹת מֵאֲמַר־דָּעַת

“cease to hear instruction to stray from the words of knowledge”

Here Solomon is using an imperative sentence to introduce a condition. He is pointing out that if his son ceases to hear instruction, the result will be a life without knowledge. If a speaker of your language would not use an imperative to introduce a condition, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if you cease to hear instruction, you will stray from the words of knowledge] or [do not cease to hear instruction, and you will not stray from the words of knowledge]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 19:27 (#3)

מוֹסְסָר

“instruction”

See how you translated the abstract noun instruction in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:27 (#4)

דָּעַת

“knowledge”

See how you translated the abstract noun knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:27 (#5)

לְשִׁגְיוֹת

“to stray”

Here, to indicates that what follows is the purpose of doing what was stated in the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate that this is the ironic purpose of refusing to hear instruction. Alternate translation: [in order to stray] or [and then you will be far]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 19:27 (#8)

מֵאִמְרֵי

“from the words of”

See how you translated the similar use of words in 1:23. Alternate translation: [from the sayings of] or [from the messages of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 19:28 (#3)

בְּלִיעַל & מִשְׁפָּט & אֵוֶן

“worthlessness & justice & iniquity”

See how you translated the abstract nouns worthlessness and iniquity in 6:12 and justice in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:28 (#4)

וּפְּפֵי רָשָׁעִים יִבְלַע־אֵוֶן

“and the mouth of the wicked ones swallows iniquity”

Here Solomon speaks of the wicked ones enjoying doing iniquity as if iniquity were delicious food that they could swallow with their mouths. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [the wicked ones enjoy iniquity] or [the wicked enjoy doing iniquity as much as they enjoy eating food]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 19:28 (#1)

עֵד בְּלִיעַל & וּפְּפֵי רָשָׁעִים יִבְלַע

“A witness of worthlessness & and the mouth of the wicked ones swallows”

A witness of worthlessness and the mouth here refer to this type of people and mouths in general, not a specific witness or mouth. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any witness of worthlessness ... and the mouths of the wicked ones swallow]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:28 (#2)

עֵד בְּלִיעַל

“A witness of worthlessness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a witness who is characterized by worthlessness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a worthless witness]

See: Possession

Proverbs 19:29 (#1)

נִכְוֹנוּ לְלִצְצִים שְׁפֹטִים

“Judgments are prepared for the mockers”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of Judgments, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [Yahweh is prepared to judge mockers]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 19:29 (#3)

לְגִבִּי

“for the back of”

The word back represents the backs of stupid ones in general, not one particular back. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [for the backs of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 19:29 (#2)

וְהִמְקִלְמֹת

“and blows”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and blows are prepared]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs - Chapter 20 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 20 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 20 also contains contrasting parallelism (20:3, 6, 14, 15, 17, 29) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (20:23). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 20:1 (#3)

שֹׁשְׁבֵי

“who staggers”

Here, staggers refers to someone who staggers because they are intoxicated. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [who staggers drunkenly]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:1 (#5)

לֹא יָחִי

“is not wise”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [is quite foolish]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 20:1 (#4)

בְּיוֹ

“by it”

Here, it refers to wine and beer, both mentioned in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [by drinking too much alcohol]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 20:1 (#1)

לִלְצֵי הַבַּיִין

“The wine {is} a mocker”

Here Solomon speaks of people who drink too much wine as if they were wine itself. Alternate translation: [Someone who drinks too much wine is a mocker]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:1 (#2)

הַמְתֵּה שֹׁכֵר

“beer {is} a brawler”

Here Solomon speaks of people who drink too much beer as if they were beer itself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [someone who drinks too much beer is a brawler]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:2 (#3)

נִגְהַם כְּכִפְיֹר

“{is} a growling like the young lion”

See how you translated the same expression in 19:12.

See: Simile

Proverbs 20:2 (#1)

אֲיֵמָה

“The terror of”

See how you translated the abstract noun terror in 10:24.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:2 (#4)

הוֹטֵטָא נִפְשׁוֹ

“{is} one who wrongs his life”

Here, in a polite way Solomon refers to causing one's own death by using the phrase wrongs his life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [will cause his end] or [will cause himself to be killed]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 20:2 (#2)

כְּכִפְיֹר & מִמֶּלֶךְ מִתְעַבְרֵר הוֹטֵטָא נִפְשׁוֹ

“a king & like the young lion; one who infuriates him {is} one who wrongs his life”

Here, a king, the young lion, one who infuriates, him, and his refer to types of people and young lions in general, not to specific people or a specific young lion. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any king ... like any young lion ... any person who infuriates that king forfeits that person's own life]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:3 (#1)

כְּבָבוֹד & שְׁשֻׁבַת מִרְגִּיב

“Honor & {is} cessation from strife”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of Honor, cessation and strife, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Being honorable ... is ceasing to strive]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:3 (#2)

לְאִישׁ

“for a man”

The word man represents people in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more natural expression. Alternate translation: [for a person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:3 (#3)

יִתְגַּלֵּעַ

“breaks out”

Here Solomon refers to a fool eagerly starting an argument as if the argument were something that suddenly breaks out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [eagerly gets into an argument] or [welcomes a quarrel]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:4 (#4)

וְשֹׂאֵל

“and he begs”

Here Solomon refers to a lazy one looking carefully for crops in his field as if he were begging the field to provide crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he searches his fields carefully for crops]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:4 (#2)

מִמְחֹרֶף

“from winter”

The phrase from winter refers to the time when the people in Solomon’s area would prepare their fields to grow crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [during the proper time to plow]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:4 (#1)

עֲצָצָה & וְשֹׂאֵל

“A lazy one & and he begs”

A lazy one and he here refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any lazy person ... and that person begs]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:4 (#6)

וְאֵין

“but there is nothing”

Here Solomon implies that there is nothing for the lazy one to harvest in the harvest. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but has nothing to harvest]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:4 (#5)

בְּקִצְרֵי

“in the harvest”

Here, the harvest refers to the time of year when farmers harvest their crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [during the time of year when farmers harvest crops]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:4 (#3)

וְשֹׂאֵל

“and he begs”

Here, Then introduces the result of what happened in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [and, because of that, he begs]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 20:5 (#1)

עֲצָצָה

“Counsel”

See how you translated the abstract noun Counsel in 1:25.

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:5 (#4)

מַמְיָם עֲצֻמִּים & יִדְלָהּ

“is} deep waters & will draw it out”

Here Solomon speaks of how difficult it is to discern a person’s Counsel as if it were waters that one must draw out from a deep well. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is difficult to understand ... is able to understand it] or [is as difficult to obtain as deep water ... is able to draw it out]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:5 (#3)

אִישׁ וְאִישׁ

“a man & but a man of”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a person ... and a person of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 20:6 (#2)

חֶסֶדְךָ

“his covenant faithfulness”

See how you translated the abstract noun covenant faithfulness in 3:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:6 (#1)

אֲדָם & אִישׁ חֶסֶדְךָ וְאִישׁ

“a man & each} man, his covenant faithfulness, but a man of”

Although man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [a person ... each person, that person’s covenant faithfulness, but a person of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 20:6 (#4)

וְאִישׁ אֱמָנוּתִים

“but a man of faithful acts”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by doing faithful acts. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [but a man who does faithful acts]

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:6 (#3)

וְאִישׁ אֱמָנוּתִים מִמִּי יִמְצָא

“but a man of faithful acts, who can find”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize how few people act faithfully. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [but it is very difficult to find a man of faithful acts!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 20:7 (#3)

בְּתַמְמוֹ

“in his integrity”

See how you translated the abstract noun integrity in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:7 (#1)

בְּתַמְמוֹ צְדִיק & בְּנֵי אֱתָרִיו

“A righteous {one & in his integrity & are} his sons after him”

A righteous one, his, sons, and him refer to people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a righteous one in 9:9.

Alternate translation: [Any righteous person ... in that person's integrity ... are that person's children after that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:7 (#2)

מִתְהַלֵּל בְּתַמּוֹמוֹ

“walks about in his integrity”

Here Solomon speaks of a person behaving with integrity as if integrity were a place in which that person walks about. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated a similar phrase in 19:1. Alternate translation: [who behaves with integrity]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:7 (#4)

אַחֲרָיו

“after him”

Here, after him means that his sons were born after he was born. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [who exist after him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:8 (#4)

דִּין & רֶעַ

“judgment & evil”

See how you translated the abstract nouns judgment in 16:10 and evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:8 (#3)

כִּסֵּא־דִין

“the throne of judgment”

This phrase could refer to: (1) a throne that a king sits on for the purpose of judgment. Alternate translation: [the throne for judgment]; (2) a throne that is characterized by “justice,” which is another possible translation for the word judgment. Alternate translation: [the just throne]

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:8 (#5)

מִזְרָה

“is} one who winnows”

Here Solomon speaks of a king removing evil from his kingdom as if that evil were chaff that a farmer winnows out of the grain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is one who removes] or [is one who removes like someone winnowing grain]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:8 (#2)

מִמֶּלֶךְ & כִּסֵּא־דִין מִזְרָה בְּעֵינָיו כָּל־רָע

“A king & the throne of judgment {is} one who winnows all evil with his eyes”

A king, the throne, one who winnows, and his refers to righteous kings and their thrones, not a specific king or throne. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any good king ... the throne of judgment is a king who winnows all evil with his eyes]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:8 (#1)

מִמֶּלֶךְ

“A king”

This verse describes the traits of an ideal, righteous king, not any king in general. See how you translated the same use of king in 16:10.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:8 (#6)

בְּעֵינָיו

“with his eyes”

Here, eyes refers to seeing, and seeing is a metaphor for perceiving something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [according to his perception] or [according to what he perceives]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:9 (#4)

לִבִּי

“my heart”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:9 (#6)

מִחֲטָאתִי

“from my sin”

See how you translated abstract noun sin in 5:22.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:9 (#5)

טָטַהֲרֵתִי מִחֲטָאתִי

“I am clean from my sin”

Here Solomon refers to a person who no longer sins as if that person were clean from his sin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [I no longer sin]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:9 (#1)

מִי־יֹאמַר זִכְרִיתִי לְבָבִי טָטַהֲרֵתִי מִחֲטָאתִי

“Who can say, “I have made my heart pure; I am clean from my sin”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize that no one is sinless. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Certainly no one can say, “I have made my heart pure; I am clean from my sin”!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 20:9 (#2)

מִי־יֹאמַר זִכְרִיתִי לְבָבִי טָטַהֲרֵתִי מִחֲטָאתִי

“Who can say, “I have made my heart pure; I am clean from my sin”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [Who can say that he has made his heart pure, that he is clean from his sin]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 20:9 (#3)

זִכְרִיתִי לְבָבִי

“I have made my heart pure”

Here Solomon refers to a person who no longer thinks sinfully as if that person made his heart pure. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Now I only have good thoughts]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:10 (#4)

תוֹעֲבַבֶּת יְהוָה

“are} an abomination to Yahweh”

See how you translated this phrase in 3:32.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:10 (#1)

אֶאֱכֹל נֹאֶכֶן אִי־פָּה וְאִי־פָּה

“Stone and stone, ephah and ephah”

Stone and stone here refers to two different stones used for weighing goods (See this use of stone in 11:1). The phrase ephah and ephah refers to two different measurements used for measuring amounts of grain. Solomon is referring to different weights and measurements that a merchant pretends are the same in order to deceive a customer. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Unequal weights and unequal measurements]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 20:10 (#5)

שְׁנֵיהֶם

“the two of them”

This phrase refers to the unequal weights and measurements called Stone and stone and ephah and ephah earlier in the verse. However, Solomon does not mean that Yahweh actually hates these weights and measurements. Rather, he means that Yahweh hates people using these things dishonestly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [of these dishonest practices]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:10 (#3)

אִי־פָּה וְאִי־פָּה

“ephah and ephah”

An ephah is a measurement of volume equivalent to 22 liters of dry solids (such as grain). However, Solomon is using the word here to refer to volume measurement in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a general expression in your translation for volume measurement. Alternatively. Alternate translation: [measurement and measurement]

See: Biblical Volume

Proverbs 20:10 (#2)

אֶאָכֵן נֹאכֵן אִיפְפָּה וְאִיפְפָּה

“Stone and stone, ephah and ephah”

Solomon implies that these unequal weights and measurements are used to benefit the dishonest person who uses them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Unequal weights and unequal measurements that people use dishonestly]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:11 (#1)

בְּמַעֲלָלָיו יתְנַכֵּר-נַעַר & פָּעֵלוֹ

“a young man will make himself known by his deeds & is} his behavior”

Here, a young man, himself and his refer to a young person in general, not a specific young man. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [youths will make themselves known by their deeds ... is their behavior]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:11 (#2)

יתְנַכֵּר

“will make himself known”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [will make other people know him]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 20:12 (#1)

אֵאָזֵן שְׁמַעַת וְעֵינַי רֹאֶה & גַּם-שְׁנֵיהֶם

“A hearing ear and a seeing eye & both the two of them”

Here, ear and eye represent these body parts in general, not one particular ear and eye. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Hearing ears and seeing eyes ... all of them]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:13 (#6)

לֶחֶם

“bread”

Here, bread is used to refer to food in general. See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 20:13 (#3)

פָּקְדָה עֵינָיִךְ

“Open your eyes”

Here Solomon says open your eyes to refer to staying awake. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [remain awake]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:13 (#4)

פָּקְדָה עֵינָיִךְ

“Open your eyes”

Here Solomon implies that the person who opens his eyes does so in order to work. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Open your eyes to do your work]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:13 (#1)

אַל-תֹּאהֲרֵב שֵׁנָה

“Do not love sleep”

The phrase love sleep means to sleep a lot because one enjoys sleeping. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not sleep a lot]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:13 (#5)

שָׂבַע-לֶחֶם

“be satisfied {with} bread”

This phrase states the result of obeying the command to open your eyes in the previous phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. Alternate translation: [you will be satisfied with bread]

Proverbs 20:13 (#2)

פִּתְּחָה עֵינֶיךָ שְׂבַע-לֶחֶם

“Open your eyes; be satisfied {with} bread”

The idea of this clause is in contrast with the idea of the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [Instead, open your eyes; be satisfied with bread]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 20:14 (#1)

רָרַע רָרַע יֹאמֵר הַקּוֹנֵן

“Bad! Bad!” says the buyer

Here, a buyer is criticizing the quality of something that he wants to buy in order to get the seller to decrease its price. Bad refers to bad quality. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [“These goods are bad quality! Bad quality!” says the buyer criticizing the seller’s goods]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:14 (#5)

וְאֵתָּל לָלוּ אֶצֶל יְתֵהָלֵל

“but when he departs on his way, then he praises himself”

Here Solomon implies that the buyer bought the item and boasts to his friends about the good price he paid for it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but when he departs on his way after buying that thing, he boasts about the bargain that he got]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:14 (#2)

רָרַע רָרַע יֹאמֵר הַקּוֹנֵן

“Bad! Bad!” says the buyer

Solomon is repeating the same word twice for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [“It is really bad quality!” says the buyer]

See: Reduplication

Proverbs 20:14 (#4)

הַקּוֹנֵן וְאֵתָּל לָלוּ אֶצֶל יְתֵהָלֵל

“the buyer, but when he departs on his way, then he praises himself”

Here, the buyer, he, his, and himself represent buyers in general, not one particular buyer. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any buyer, but when that buyer departs on his way, then that buyer praises himself]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:14 (#3)

רָרַע רָרַע יֹאמֵר הַקּוֹנֵן

“Bad! Bad!” says the buyer

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [The buyer says that it is very bad]

See how you translated corals in 3:15.

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 20:15 (#5)

וּכְלֵי יִקְוָר

“but & are} a vessel of preciousness”

Solomon contrasts abundance in the previous clause with preciousness in this clause in order to imply that lips of knowledge are rarer and more valuable than gold and corals. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but ... are a vessel that is even more precious than those]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:15 (#2)

וּכְלֵי יִקְוָר שִׁפְתֵי-דָעַת

“but lips of knowledge {are} a vessel of preciousness”

Here Solomon speaks of the value of lips of knowledge as if they were a vessel of preciousness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but lips of knowledge are as valuable as a vessel of preciousness]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:15 (#4)

וּבְלִלִי יִקָּקֵר

“but & are} a vessel of preciousness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a vessel that is characterized by preciousness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [but ... are a precious vessel]

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:16 (#4)

עָעֵרֵב זָזָר

“he has pledged {for} a stranger”

See how you translated the same use of “he pledges for a stranger” in 11:15.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:16 (#6)

חִבְלָהּ

“hold it in pledge”

Here, it refers to his garment in the previous clause. Solomon is referring to the practice of holding on to something that someone has given as a pledge to repay someone's debt. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [hold onto his garment as a guarantee of repayment]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 20:16 (#3)

לְקַח־בְּבִגְדוֹ כִּי־עָעֵרֵב זָזָר

“Take his garment when he has pledged {for} a stranger”

When someone borrowed money in Solomon's culture, the lender would take something such as a garment from the borrower as a guarantee of repayment. The lender would return the garment after the money was repaid. If the borrower was too poor, someone else could give something to the lender as a pledge for the poor person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Take a garment as security from the one who guarantees that what a stranger has borrowed will be paid back]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:16 (#1)

לְקַח־בְּבִגְדוֹ כִּי־עָעֵרֵב זָזָר וּבְעֵד נָכְרִיָּה חִבְלָהּ

“Take his garment when he has pledged {for} a stranger, and on behalf of a foreign woman hold it in pledge”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Take his garment when he has pledged for a stranger, yes, on behalf of a foreign woman hold it in pledge]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 20:16 (#2)

בְּבִגְדוֹ כִּי־עָעֵרֵב זָזָר וּבְעֵד נָכְרִיָּה

“his garment when he has pledged {for} a stranger, and on behalf of a foreign woman”

Here, his, he, a stranger and a foreign woman refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [a person's garment when that person has pledged for any stranger, and on behalf of any foreign woman]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:16 (#5)

וּבְעֵד נָכְרִיָּה

“and on behalf of a foreign woman”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and when he has pledged on behalf of a foreign woman]

עֲרֵיב

“Sweet”

Here Solomon speaks of a person being pleased by eating bread of falsehood as if the bread were Sweet. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Pleasant] or [Pleasant like something sweet]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:17 (#6)

וּמִלֵּא־פִּיָּהּ חֶצֶץ

“his mouth will be filled {with} gravel”

Here Solomon speaks of a person experiencing bad results because of eating bread of falsehood as if his mouth were filled with gravel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [he will experience unpleasantness] or [he will have bad results as if his mouth were filled with sand]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:17 (#3)

לֶחֶם אִשְׁקָר

“is} bread of falsehood”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe bread that is obtained by falsehood. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [bread obtained by falsehood]

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:17 (#2)

לְאִישׁ & פִּיָּהּ

“to a man & his mouth”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [to a person ... that person's mouth]

“One who goes about {as} a gossip reveals a secret, and with one who opens his lips”

One who goes about, a gossip, a secret, and one who opens his lips refer to types of people and secrets in general, not a specific person or secret. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [Any person who goes about as a gossip reveals secrets, and with any person who opens his lips]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 20:19 (#3)

וּלְפִתָּהּ

“and with one who opens”

This clause states what Solomon wants people to do as a result of what he said in the previous clause. Use the most natural way to express an intended result in your language. Alternate translation: [therefore, with one who opens]

Proverbs 20:29 (#4)

שִׁיבָה

“is} gray hair”

Here, gray hair refers to the wisdom or experience often found in people who have lived long enough to have gray hair. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is their wisdom]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 20:29 (#3)

וְהַדְדָּר

“and the adornment of”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of adornment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and what adorns]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:29 (#2)

וְהַדְדָּר זְקֵנִים שִׁיבָה

“and the adornment of old ones {is} gray hair”

The idea of this clause is in contrast with the idea of the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [However, the adornment of old ones is gray hair]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 20:30 (#3)

כָּרַעַ

“evil”

See how you translated the abstract noun evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 20:30 (#5)

חֲדָרֵי-בֶטֶן

“the rooms & the belly”

See how you translated this phrase in 18:8.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 20:30 (#1)

חֲבֵרֹת פֶּצַע

“Blows of a wound”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe severe Blows that cause a wound. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Blows that cause a wound]

See: Possession

Proverbs 20:30 (#2)

תִּמְרִיק כָּרַעַ

“cleanse away evil”

Here Solomon refers to beatings that cause a person to stop doing evil things as if the beatings were cleaning away the evil from the person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [stop a person from doing evil]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 20:30 (#4)

וּמַכּוֹת חֲדָרֵי-בֶטֶן

“and strikes, the rooms of the belly”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language.

Alternate translation: [and strikes cleanse away evil from the rooms of the belly]

Proverbs - Chapter 21 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

Chapter 21 continues the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 21 also contains contrasting parallelism (21:2, 5, 8, 15, 17, 20, 26, 28, 29, 31) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (21:14). (See: Parallelism)

Proverbs 21:1 (#2)

לֵב

“The heart of”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:1 (#3)

פֶּלֶג־מַמִּים & בְּיַד-יְהוָה & יִטְנוּ

“is] channels of water in the hand of Yahweh; he steers it”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of Yahweh using the heart of a king to accomplish his purposes as if the heart were water streams that he steers to go to the places where he wants them to go. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a synonym. Alternate translation: [is controlled by Yahweh to do] or [is controlled by Yahweh like a farmer controls streams to act]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:1 (#1)

לֵב-מֶלֶךְ

“The heart of a king”

The heart of a king refers to the heart of any king in general, not a specific king. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [The heart of any king]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:2 (#1)

דֶּרֶךְ

“way of”

See how you translated the same use of way in 1:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:2 (#5)

לִבָּבוֹת

“hearts”

See how you translated the same use of hearts in 15:11.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:2 (#4)

וְתִבְכֶּן & יְהוָה

“but Yahweh examines”

See how you translated this phrase in 16:2.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:2 (#3)

יֵשׁׁוּר בְּעֵינָיו

“is} right in his eyes”

See how you translated the same phrase in 12:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:2 (#2)

אָאִישׁ & בְּעֵינָיו

“a man & in his eyes”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [any person ... in that person's eyes]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 21:3 (#1)

צְדָקָה וּמִשְׁפָּט & מִזְבֵּחַ

“righteousness and justice & more than a sacrifice”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness and justice in 1:3 and sacrifice in 15:8.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:3 (#2)

נִבְחָר לַיהוָה

“is preferred to Yahweh”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [Yahweh prefers]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 21:4 (#1)

רוֹם-עֵינַיִם

“Height of eyes”

Here Solomon refers to pride as Height of eyes, which is a characteristic facial expression of proud people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression “uplifted eyes” in 6:17. Alternate translation: [Pride]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:4 (#4)

נֵר רְשָׁעִים

“the lamp of wicked ones”

Here, the word translated as lamp could refer to: (1) the sins mentioned in the previous clause being like a lamp that shows wicked ones what to do. Alternate translation: [what guides the wicked ones]; (2) the sins in the previous clause being like “uncultivated ground” (another possible meaning for the Hebrew word used here) that produces nothing good. Alternate translation: [the fruitlessness of the wicked ones]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:4 (#3)

נֵר רְשָׁעִים

“the lamp of wicked ones”

This phrase gives further information about the two sins described in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make the relationship between these phrases clearer. Alternate translation: [that is, the lamp of the wicked ones]

See: Distinguishing Versus Informing or Reminding

Proverbs 21:4 (#2)

ורחב־לֵב

“and broadness of heart”

Here, broadness of heart refers to thinking arrogantly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and thinking arrogantly]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 21:5 (#3)

לְמוֹתֶתֶר & לְמַחְסוֹר

“to profit & to lack”

See how you translated the abstract nouns profit in 3:14 and lack in 6:11.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:5 (#4)

אַעֲזֹב

“hurrying about”

Here, hurrying about refers to doing things more quickly than they should be done. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [who hurries about too quickly]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:5 (#1)

הַחֲרוּץ

“the diligent {one}”

The phrase the diligent one represents diligent people in general, not one particular diligent one. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [any diligent one]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:5 (#2)

לְמוֹתֶתֶר & לְמַחְסוֹר

“to profit & to lack”

Here, the phrases are to and is to indicate that what follows is a result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [result in profit ... results in lack]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 21:6 (#2)

בְּלִשְׁוֹן שִׁשְׁקָר

“by a tongue of falsehood”

See how you translated this phrase in 6:17.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:6 (#1)

פִּעֵל אֲאוּצְרוֹת

“The making of treasures”

Here Solomon speaks of acquiring wealth as if it were treasures that someone makes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Acquiring wealth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:6 (#4)

מְבַקְשֵׁי מוֹת

“seekers of death”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and they that seek such treasures are seekers of death]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:6 (#3)

הַתֵּבַל נִנְדָּדָה

“is} scattered vapor”

Here Solomon speaks of the disappearance of treasures as if they were a vapor that quickly goes away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [will cause them to disappear quickly] or [will be as unsuccessful as trying to hold scattered vapor]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:6 (#5)

מְבַקְשֵׁי מוֹת

“seekers of death”

Here Solomon speaks of people doing something that will kill them as if they were seekers of death. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [leading such people to their deaths] or [they act as though they are seeking death]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:7 (#1)

שד & מושפט

“The violence of & justice”

See how you translated the abstract nouns violence in 3:31 and justice in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:7 (#2)

שד-רשעים

“The violence of the wicked”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the violence done by the wicked. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [The violence done by wicked people]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:7 (#3)

יגורם

“will drag them away”

Here Solomon speaks of the wicked being destroyed because they act violently as if their violence were a person who could drag them away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will cause others to take them away]

See: Personification

Proverbs 21:8 (#1)

דגדג

“is} the way of”

See how you translated the same use of way in 1:15.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:8 (#2)

אאיש וזכר ויששר פכלו

“a guilty man, but the pure {one}, upright {is} his behavior”

Here, a guilty man, the pure one, and his refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions. Alternate translation: [any guilty man, but any pure person, upright is that person's behavior]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:9 (#2)

מאאשת מלדיננים

“than {with} a woman of quarrels”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a woman who is characterized by quarrels. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [than with a quarrelsome wife]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:9 (#3)

ובבית חקר

“and a house of companionship”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a house in which people live together. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and live together in one house]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:9 (#1)

פנת-נגג

“the corner of a roof”

Houses in Solomon's time had flat roofs on which people could walk. Sometimes residents would build a shelter on a corner of the roof, providing an additional place in which a person could sleep. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could include this information in a note. Alternate translation: [the corner of a flat roof]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:10 (#3)

רגע

“evil”

See how you translated the abstract noun evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:10 (#2)

רגשע & בעיני רעהו

“the wicked {one & his neighbor & in his eyes”

Here, the wicked one, his, and neighbor refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated the wicked one in 3:33. Alternate translation: [any wicked person ... that person's neighbor ... in that person's eyes]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:10 (#4)

לֹא־יִתֵּן בְּעֵינָיו רָעָהוּ

“his neighbor is not shown grace in his eyes”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [his eyes do not show grace to his neighbor]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 21:10 (#1)

נִפְשׁוֹ

“The soul of”

Here, soul refers to the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 21:10 (#5)

בְּעֵינָיו

“in his eyes”

Here, in his eyes refers to the person's judgment or attitude. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [because of this attitude] or [by him]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:14 (#3)

יִכְפֹּה-אָאָרְ

“subdues nose”

Here, subdues nose refers to stopping a person from being angry. The word nose here means “anger” by association with the way that a person who is angry breathes heavily through his nose. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes angry people to stop being angry]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 21:14 (#5)

בַּבֹּסֶם

“in the bosom”

Here, in the bosom indicates that a bribe is given to someone secretly, as if it were hidden in a person’s clothes near that person’s bosom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of “from the bosom” in 17:23. Alternate translation: [in secret]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:14 (#4)

וְשִׁשְׁחָד בַּבֹּסֶם חֲמָמָה עֲזָה

“and a bribe in the bosom, strong heat”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and a bribe given in the bosom subdues strong heat]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:14 (#1)

מִתְתֵּן בַּבֹּסֶם יִכְפֹּה-אָאָרְ וְשִׁשְׁחָד בַּבֹּסֶם חֲמָמָה עֲזָה

“A gift in secrecy subdues nose, and a bribe in the bosom, strong heat”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [A gift in secrecy subdues nose; yes, a bribe in the bosom, strong heat]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 21:14 (#2)

מִתְתֵּן בַּבֹּסֶם

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:15 (#1)

שִׂמְחָה לְלִצְדִּיק & יִמְחָתָה

“A joy for the righteous & but a terror”

A joy, the righteous, and a terror refer to these things and people in general, not to specific things or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Joy is for righteous ones ... but terror]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:15 (#3)

וְיִמְחָתָה לְפֹעֲלֵי אָוֶן

“but a terror for doers of iniquity”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but doing justice is a terror for doers of iniquity]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:16 (#2)

תַּנוּצָה מִדֶּדֶרֶךְ הַשְׂכֵּל

“wandering from the way of understanding”

Here Solomon refers to a person who stops behaving wisely as if the right way to behave were a way that he wanders from. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of way in 1:15. Alternate translation: [no longer living wisely]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:16 (#3)

בְּקִהְלֵי רָפָאִים יָנוּחַ

“will rest in the assembly of the spirits of the dead”

In this clause, Solomon refers to a person dying. The phrase the assembly of the spirits of dead ones refers to the place where people’s spirits go when they die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will end up in the place where the spirits of dead people dwell] or [will end up dead]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:16 (#1)

אָדָם

“A man”

A man refers to people in general, not to a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:17 (#1)

אָיִשׁ מִמַּחְסוֹר אֶהְיֶה שְׂמֵחָה אֶהְיֶה יַיִן־וַיֵּשֶׁן לֹא יִצְעֵר

“A man of lack loves joy; a lover of wine and oil will not become rich”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [A man of lack loves joy; yes, a lover of wine and oil will not become rich]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 21:17 (#2)

אָיִשׁ & אֶהְיֶה

“A man of & a lover of”

A man and a lover refer to types of people in general, not to a specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person of ... any lover of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:17 (#3)

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by lacking wealth. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A man who lacks goods] or [A man characterized by poverty]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:17 (#4)

שְׂמֵחָה

“joy”

Here, joy refers to things and activities that cause people to feel joy. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what pleases him]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:17 (#5)

יַיִן־וַיֵּשֶׁן

“wine and oil”

wine and oil represent good food and drink. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or plain language. Alternate translation: [rich food and drink]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:18 (#2)

לְצַדִּיק רֶשֶׁעַ

“for the righteous {one} {is} a wicked {one}”

See how you translated the righteous one in 10:3 and a wicked one in 9:7.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:18 (#1)

כִּכְפָּר לְצַדִּיק רֶשֶׁעַ

“A ransom for the righteous {one} {is} a wicked {one}”

Here Solomon refers to a wicked one who is punished instead of the righteous one as if a wicked one were a ransom that is paid on behalf of the righteous one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A wicked one is punished instead of a righteous one]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:18 (#4)

בֹּגֵד

“one who acts treacherously”

Here, one who acts treacherously represents this type of people in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [any person who acts treacherously]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:18 (#3)

וְתַתַּחַת יִשְׂרָאֵל בֹּגֵד

“and instead of the upright, one who acts treacherously”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and instead of upright ones, one who acts treacherously is a ransom] or [and instead of upright ones, one who acts treacherously is punished]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:19 (#1)

בְּאֶרֶץ־מִדְבָּר

“in a land of wilderness”

Since the wilderness is a place without people, Solomon implies dwelling alone in that place. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [by oneself in a land of wilderness]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:19 (#2)

מֵאִשָּׁת מְדוּנִים

“than {with} a woman of quarrels”

Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a woman that is characterized by quarrels and vexation. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. See how you translated a woman of quarrels in 21:9. Alternate translation: [than with a woman who constantly argues and complains]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:20 (#1)

חֲכָמָם וְכִסְיִל אֲדָמָה

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:20 (#3)

יִבְלַעְנֻ

“swallows it up”

The pronoun it refers to the treasure and the oil. Use an expression for this that would be natural in your language. Alternate translation: [swallows them up] or [wastes them]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 21:21 (#3)

צָדִיקָה וְחֹסֶד & חֹסֶד וְצָדִיקָה וְכָבוֹד

“righteousness and covenant faithfulness & life, righteousness, and honor”

See how you translated the abstract nouns righteousness in 1:3, covenant faithfulness in 3:3, life in 10:16, and honor in 3:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:21 (#2)

רֹדֵף

“A pursuer of”

See how you translated the same use of pursuer in 15:9.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:21 (#4)

יִמְצָא

“will find”

See how you translated the same use of find in 8:35.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:21 (#1)

רֹדֵף

“A pursuer of”

A pursuer represents a type of person in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any pursuer of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:22 (#5)

עֵז מִבְטָחָהּ

“the strength of its confidence”

Here, strength refers to the strong walls and towers around the city mentioned in the previous clause. Here, its refers to the people in the city. They have confidence in the walls and do not think anyone will be able to destroy them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the strong fortifications in which they are confident]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:22 (#4)

וַיִּרֶד

“and he brings down”

Here, brings down refers to the wise one leading his soldiers to destroy the fortifications that protect the city mentioned in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and he causes his soldiers to destroy]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:22 (#3)

עִיר גִּבּוֹרִים

“a city of mighty ones”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a city that is defended by mighty ones. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a city defended by mighty ones]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:22 (#2)

עִיר & עָלָהּ

“ascends a city of”

Here, ascends refers to attacking a city and climbing over its wall. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [successfully attacks a city of] or [overruns a city of]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:22 (#1)

עִיר & הַכֶּכֶם וְהַיִּרֶד

“A wise {one & a city of & and he brings down”

A wise one, a city, and he represent a type of person and city in general, not one particular person and city. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any wise one ... any city of ... and that person lowers]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:23 (#5)

מִצָּרָהּ

“from distress”

See how you translated the abstract noun distress in 1:27.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:23 (#2)

שֹׁמֵר

“One who keeps”

Here Solomon refers to a person being careful about what he says with his mouth and his tongue as if they were objects that he keeps. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [One who is careful with]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:23 (#3)

פִּי וּלְשׁוֹנִי

“his mouth and his tongue”

The terms mouth and tongue mean similar things. They both refer to what a person says. Solomon is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [whatever he says]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 21:23 (#1)

שֹׁמֵר פִּי וּלְשׁוֹנִי שֹׁמֵר & נַפְשׁוֹ

“One who keeps his mouth and his tongue keeps his life”

One who keeps and his refer to a type of person in general, not one specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who keeps that person's own mouth and tongue keeps that person's life]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:23 (#4)

נַפְשׁוֹ

“his life”

Here, life refers to the person himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [himself]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:24 (#3)

בְּעִבְרִית זָדוֹן

“with the rage of presumption”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe rage that is characterized by presumption. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [with presumptuous rage]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:24 (#2)

שֵׁמוֹ

“is} his name”

Here, name refers to what people call a presumptuous, haughty one, not that person's actual name. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is what people call him]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:24 (#4)

בְּעִבְרִית זָדוֹן

“with the rage of presumption”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of rage or presumption, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [in an arrogantly furious manner]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:24 (#1)

זָדוֹן יְהִיר & שֵׁמוֹ

“A presumptuous, haughty one & is} his name”

A presumptuous, haughty one and his represent a type of person in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any presumptuous, haughty one ... is that person's name]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:25 (#1)

עֲצֵל תִּמְיָתָנּוּ & יָדָיו

“the lazy one causes him to die & his hands”

Here, the lazy one, him, and his refer to lazy people in general, not one specific lazy one. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any lazy one causes that person to die ... that person's hands]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:25 (#2)

מֵאֲנֵי יָדָיו

“his hands refuse”

Here, hands refers to the whole person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [he refuses]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 21:26 (#3)

יָצַד־יָדָיו

“but a righteous {one}”

See how you translated a righteous one in 9:9.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:26 (#4)

אֵתֵתֵן וְלֹא יִקְשֹׁךְ

“gives and does not withhold”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [gives what he has and does not withhold it]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:26 (#1)

הִתְאֲנִיחַ תְּאֲנִיחָה

“he desires desire for himself”

Here, he and himself refer to the lazy person mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the lazy person desires desire for himself]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 21:26 (#2)

הִתְאֲנִיחַ תְּאֲנִיחָה

“he desires desire for himself”

Here, desires desire is an emphatic construction that uses a verb and its object that come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [he adds desire onto desire for himself] or [he constantly desires things for himself]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 21:26 (#5)

אֵתֵתֵן וְלֹא יִקְשֹׁךְ

“gives and does not withhold”

The terms gives and does not withhold mean the same thing. Solomon is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [gives freely]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 21:27 (#2)

זָבַח

“The sacrifice of”

See how you translated the abstract noun sacrifice in 15:8.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:27 (#5)

בְּזִמְמָה

“with a wicked plan”

Here Solomon speaks of someone having a wicked plan while bringing a sacrifice as if the plan were an object that he brought with him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [while having a wicked plan]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:27 (#1)

זָבַח & תּוֹעֵבָה & בְּזִמְמָה יְבִיאֶנּוּ

“The sacrifice of & is} an abomination & he brings it with a wicked plan”

The sacrifice, an abomination, he, it, and a wicked plan refer to things and a type of person in general, not to a specific person or thing. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [The sacrifices of ... are abominations ... they bring them with wicked plans]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:27 (#6)

בְּזִמְמָה

“with a wicked plan”

Here, plan refers to a purpose or motive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [with a wicked purpose] or [with wicked intent]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:27 (#3)

תועבבה

“is} an abomination”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of abomination, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is abominable]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:27 (#4)

אֵלֶּכָּה כִּי

“how much more when”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [how much more of an abomination is it when] or [how very abominable is it when]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 21:28 (#1)

עֵד־קִזְבִּים & וְאִישׁ שֹׁמֵמֶעַ

“A witness of lies & but a listening man”

A witness of lies and a listening man refer to types of people in general, not to specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any witness of lies ... but any person who listens]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:28 (#2)

עֵד־קִזְבִּים

“A witness of lies”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a witness who tells lies. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A lying witness]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:28 (#3)

לְנֶצַח יִדְבֵּר

“will speak to perpetuity”

The context of this proverb is a legal setting, warning against witnesses who lie and commending the person who listens carefully to what the witnesses say. This last clause may be referring to the person listening to the lying witness in order to catch him in his lies, or it may be referring to the person listening to all of the witnesses in order to understand what happened. In either case, what this person says decides the case. The word translated as to perpetuity could mean: (1) for the duration, that is, until the end of the case. Alternate translation: [will speak until the end] or (2) successfully. Alternate translation: [will speak successfully]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:29 (#4)

דרכיו

“his ways”

See how you translated the same use of ways in 3:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 21:29 (#3)

יִבְרִין דרכיו

“considers his ways”

Many ancient manuscripts read he considers his ways, as in the ULT. Other ancient manuscripts read “he establishes his way.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

See: Textual Variants

Proverbs 21:29 (#1)

הַעֵלֵז אִישׁ רָשָׁע בְּפָנָיו וְיִשְׁשָׁר הָהוּא | יִבְרִין דרכיו

“A wicked man strengthens his face, but an upright one, he considers his ways”

A wicked man, his, an upright one, and he refer to types of people in general, not to specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated A wicked man in 11:7. Alternate translation: [Any wicked person strengthens his own face, but any upright person considers his own ways]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:29 (#2)

הַעֲזֹז & בְּפָנָיו

“strengthens his face”

Here, strengthens his face means that the wicked man acts boldly and stubbornly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a similar expression from your language or express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar expression “strengthens her face” in 7:13. Alternate translation: [puts on a bold front] or [appears confident]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 21:30 (#1)

חָכְמָה & תְּבוּנָה & עֲצָצָה

“wisdom & understanding & counsel”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2 and counsel in 1:25.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 21:30 (#2)

לִפְנֵי

“in front of”

The word translated in front of could mean: (1) “before” or “in the presence of.” In this sense, all human wisdom is useless compared to Yahweh’s wisdom. Alternate translation: [that can stand before Yahweh] or [that compares to that of Yahweh]; (2) “in opposition to.” In this sense, there is no true wisdom that contradicts the wisdom of Yahweh. Alternate translation: [that contradicts the wisdom of Yahweh]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 21:31 (#5)

הַתְּשׁוּעָה

“the salvation”

Here, the salvation refers to being saved from defeat in battle, which is another way of saying “the victory.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the victory] or [being saved from defeat]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:31 (#3)

סוֹס

“A horse”

A horse is a large animal that armies used to pull carts from which soldiers would fight. Armies with horses were usually more powerful than armies without horses. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term for something that soldiers use for fighting. Alternate translation: [An animal used for fighting] or [Fighting equipment]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 21:31 (#6)

אֱלֹהֵינוּ

“but & is} of Yahweh”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to indicate that Yahweh is the source of the salvation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [but ... is from Yahweh]

See: Possession

Proverbs 21:31 (#1)

סוֹס & לַיּוֹם מִלְחָמָה

“A horse & for the day of battle”

A horse and the day of battle refer to these things in general, not a specific horse or day of battle. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any horse ... for any day of battle]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 21:31 (#4)

לַיּוֹם מִלְחָמָה

“for the day of battle”

Here, day refers to a point in time when something happens. It does not refer to a 24-hour length of time. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for the time of battle]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 21:31 (#2)

סוֹס מְמוּדָּן

“A horse is made ready”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A soldier makes a horse ready]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs - Chapter 22 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Proverbs from Solomon (10:1–22:16)
2. Sayings from wise men (22:17–24:22)
 - Introduction to the sayings (22:17–21)
 - The sayings (22:22–24:22)

Chapter 22 concludes the section of the book written by Solomon that is filled mainly with short, individual proverbs. Solomon wrote all 375 proverbs in 10:1–22:16. In 22:17–21, it seems that Solomon himself introduces a section of proverbs written by an unknown group of people called “the wise ones.” Most of the proverbs of “the wise ones,” found in 22:22–24:22, are longer than one verse. Each of these longer proverbs will be marked in the notes.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 16–22 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 22 also contains contrasting parallelism (22:3, 12) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (22:1, 24, 26). (See: Parallelism)

Rhetorical questions

In 22:20–21 and 27, the author uses rhetorical questions to emphasize the importance of what he is saying. (See: Rhetorical Question)

Proverbs 22:1 (#6)

חֵן

“favor”

See how you translated favor in 3:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:1 (#4)

מִכְכָּסָּף וְאִמְזֵהָב חֵן טוֹב

“favor {is} better than silver and than gold”

This clause could also be translated as “good favor more than silver and than gold,” with is to be chosen implied from the previous clause. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [good favor is to be chosen more than silver and than gold] or [people should choose being favored by others rather than having silver and gold]

Proverbs 22:1 (#1)

נִבְחָר שֵׁם מִזְעָשָׁר רַב מִכְכָּסָּף וְאִמְזֵהָב חֵן טוֹב

“A name is to be chosen more than abundant riches; favor {is} better than silver and than gold”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [A name is to be chosen more than abundant riches; yes, favor is better than silver and than gold]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 22:1 (#2)

שֵׁם

“A name”

Here, name refers to a person’s reputation. Solomon implies that it is a good reputation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A good reputation]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:1 (#3)

נִבְחָר שֵׁם

“A name is to be chosen”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A person should choose having a good name]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 22:1 (#5)

מִכְכָּסָּף וְאִמְזֵהָב חֵן טוֹב

“favor {is} better than silver and than gold”

Here Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply these words from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [having favor is better than having silver and gold] or [choosing favor is better than choosing silver or gold]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:2 (#2)

נִפְגְּגוּ שׁוּ

“meet together”

Here Solomon speaks of people having something in common as if those people meet together. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [have something in common]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:2 (#1)

עֲשֵׂי יֶרֶשׁ וְרֵשׁ

“A rich one and a poor one”

A rich one and a poor one represent types of people in general, not a particular rich one and poor one. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any wise person and any rich person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:3 (#1)

עָרוּם

“A prudent {one}”

See how you translated this phrase in 12:16.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:3 (#4)

וְנִעְבְּדוּ

“and they are fined”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and they pay a penalty]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 22:3 (#3)

עָבָרָו

“pass on”

Here, pass on contrasts with sees evil and hides himself in the previous clause to indicate that naive ones walk right into a dangerous situation without noticing that they are in danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [unknowingly walk into a dangerous situation]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:3 (#5)

וְנִעְנְשׁוּ

“and they are fined”

Here, fined refers to experiencing the negative consequences of not avoiding danger. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and they experience the consequences]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:3 (#2)

רָעָה

“evil”

Here, evil refers to danger caused by something evil happening. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [danger]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 22:4 (#3)

יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“the fear of Yahweh”

See how you translated this phrase in 1:7.

See: Possession

Proverbs 22:4 (#4)

עֲשֵׂר וְכִבְדּוֹ

“{is} riches and honor”

See how you translated riches and honor in 3:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:4 (#2)

עֲנָוָה

“humility”

See how you translated the abstract noun humility in 15:33.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:4 (#1)

עֲנִיּוּת יִרְאַת יְהוָה

“humility, the fear of Yahweh”

This could mean: (1) humility here refers specifically to the fear of Yahweh, as also suggested by the parallelism of these expressions in 15:33. Alternate translation: [humility, that is, the fear of Yahweh]; (2) humility and the fear of Yahweh are two different things. Alternate translation: [humility and the fear of Yahweh]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:4 (#5)

וְחַיִּים

“and life”

Here, life refers to a life that is long and good. See how you translated the same use of life in 10:16.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:5 (#3)

עֲקָשׁ

“the crooked”

Here Solomon uses the word crooked to refer to being deceptive. See how you translated the same use of crooked in 2:15.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:5 (#5)

שׁוֹמֵר בְּנִפְשׁוֹ

“one guarding his life”

Here Solomon speaks of a person who wants to stay alive as if his life were something that he is guarding. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar phrase “protects his life” in 16:17. Alternate translation: [one who tries to keep himself alive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:5 (#2)

צַנְחִים כְּפִתְחֵי בְדִדְרֵי עֲקָשׁ

“Thorns, traps {are} in the way of the crooked”

Here Solomon speaks of bad things that the crooked will experience during their lifetimes as if their lives consisted of a path with Thorns and traps on it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of way in 15:19. Alternate translation: [The crooked will experience many troubles during their lifetimes] or [Crooked people will have a difficult life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:5 (#6)

מֵהֶם

“from them”

Here, them refers to the Thorns and traps mentioned in the previous phrase. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from those thorns and traps]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 22:5 (#1)

בְּדִדְרֵי עֲקָשׁ שׁוֹמֵר בְּנִפְשׁוֹ

“are} in the way of the crooked; one guarding his life”

Here, the way, the crooked, and one guarding his life represent ways and types of people in general, not a specific way or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [are in the ways of the crooked ones; those who guard their lives]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:5 (#4)

שׁוֹמֵר בְּנִפְשׁוֹ

“one guarding his life”

The content of this clause is in contrast to the content of the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [by contrast, one guarding his life]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 22:6 (#1)

לְנֶעֱר & דְּרָכָו & יִזְקֶקִין לֹא-יִסְכּוּר

“the boy & his way & he is old, he will not turn away”

Here, the boy, his, and he refer to children in general, not a specific boy. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any child ... that child’s way ... that person is old, that person will not turn away]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:6 (#4)

לֹא-יִסְוֶה מִמֶּנָּה

“he will not turn away from it”

Here Solomon speaks of a person continuing to behave a certain way as if that person were not turning away from the right path. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the phrase turn away from in 3:7. Alternate translation: [he will continue behaving that way]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:6 (#2)

עַל-פִּי דְרָכָיו

“upon the mouth of his way”

Solomon is using upon the mouth of as a common expression of his culture to mean “according to.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [according to his way]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:6 (#3)

עַל-פִּי דְרָכָיו

“upon the mouth of his way”

Here, Solomon is speaking of the proper behavior of a child as his way, as in 1:15. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to live how he should live] or [to live in the right way]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:7 (#2)

וְעֹבֵד לַלְוִיָּה לְאִישׁ מְלוֹה

“and a borrower {is} a slave to a man who lends”

Here Solomon implies that the borrower is borrowing money. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and a borrower of money is a slave to a man who lends money]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:7 (#1)

וְעֹשִׂיר & וְעֹבֵד לַלְוִיָּה לְאִישׁ מְלוֹה

“A rich one & and a borrower {is} a slave to a man who lends”

A rich one, a borrower, a slave, and a man who lends all refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any rich person ... and any borrower is a slave to any person who lends]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:7 (#3)

וְעֹבֵד לַלְוִיָּה לְאִישׁ מְלוֹה

“and a borrower {is} a slave to a man who lends”

Here, Solomon is speaking as if a person who borrows money or goods actually became a slave to the lender. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a borrower comes under the control of the man who lends to him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:8 (#3)

עֲוֹנָה

“iniquity”

See how you translated the abstract noun iniquity in 6:12.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:8 (#4)

וְשִׁשְׁבֶּט עֲבָרָתָיו

“and the rod of his rage”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a rod that a sower of iniquity uses to express his rage by oppressing people. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and the rod he uses to oppressively express his rage]

See: Possession

Proverbs 22:8 (#5)

וְשִׁשְׁבֶּט

“and the rod of”

Here Solomon refers to a person's authority over other people as if it were a rod. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the authority of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:8 (#2)

זֹרֵרֶעַ עֲשׂוּלָה יִקְצוֹר־אֲאִנִּן

“A sower of iniquity will reap disaster”

Here Solomon speaks of someone who does iniquity experiencing disaster as if iniquity were a seed that he plants and disaster were the plant that the seed becomes and that he harvests. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [A doer of iniquity will experience the consequences of that iniquity] or [A doer of iniquity will experience disaster as though he had planted disaster as a seed and harvested it as a crop]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:8 (#1)

זֹרֵרֶעַ עֲשׂוּלָה & עֲבָרָתוֹ

“A sower of iniquity & his rage”

A sower of iniquity and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any sower of iniquity ... that person's rage]

Proverbs 22:9 (#3)

הֵהוּא יִבְרָכֶה

“he will be blessed”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. If you need to say who will do the action, it is clear from the context that it is Yahweh. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will bless him]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 22:9 (#2)

טוֹב־עֵינַן

“The one good of eye”

Here, good of eye refers to seeing what other people need and generously helping them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The generous one] or [The person who is generous to those in need]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:9 (#1)

טוֹב־עֵינַן הֵהוּא & נָתַתָּן מִלֶּחֶמְמוֹ

“The one good of eye, he & he gives from his bread”

The one good of eye, he, and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person good of eye, that person ... that person gives from that person's own bread]

“but he overturns”

Here Solomon refers to Yahweh preventing the words of treacherous people from accomplishing their purposes as if he overturns them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he prevents the success of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:12 (#5)

בָּגָד

“a treacherous one”

Here, a treacherous one refers to this type of person in general, not a specific treacherous person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural phrase in your language. Alternate translation: [any person who is treacherous]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:12 (#1)

עֵינֵי יְהוָה

“The eyes of Yahweh”

This phrase refers to Yahweh himself, giving the sense of his watchfulness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 22:12 (#2)

נִנְצְרוּ דְבָרָיו

“guard knowledge”

Here Solomon speaks of knowledge as if it were an object that Yahweh guards. He means that Yahweh maintains true knowledge against those who would want to promote lies, as in the following line. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [watch over] those who speak what is true] or [give success to those who have true knowledge]

Proverbs 22:13 (#1)

עָצֵל

“A lazy one”

See how you translated this phrase in 13:4.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:13 (#3)

אָמַר

“says”

In this verse, Solomon implies that what the lazy one says is not true. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [says falsely]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:13 (#5)

אָרְצָה

“I will be killed”

Here, the lazy one implies that he will be killed if he goes outside. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [If I go outside, then I will be killed]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:13 (#4)

אָרְצָה

“I will be killed”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [The lion will kill me]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 22:13 (#2)

אָמַר & אָרְצָה בַּחֲזוֹן בְּתוֹךְ רִחְבּוֹת אֶרֶץ

“says, “A lion {is} outside! I will be killed in the midst of the open areas”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [says that a lion is outside and he will be killed in the midst of the open areas]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 22:14 (#3)

זָרָה

“a strange woman”

See how you translated this phrase in 2:16.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:14 (#1)

פִּי זָרָה וְעֵינַי אֶהְיֶה

“The mouth of a strange woman & one who is cursed of Yahweh”

The mouth, a strange woman, and one cursed of Yahweh refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Mouths of strange women ... people who are cursed of Yahweh]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:14 (#4)

שׁוֹחֲטָה עֲמֻקָּה & יְפוֹל-שָׁם

“{is} a deep pit & will fall there”

Here Solomon speaks of the danger of obeying the seductive speech of a strange woman as if it were a deep pit that a person could fall into and die if they obeyed that speech. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is extremely dangerous ... will die because of it] or [is dangerous like a deep pit ... will fall there and die]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:14 (#5)

וְעֵינַי אֶהְיֶה

“one who is cursed of Yahweh”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [one whom Yahweh has cursed]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 22:14 (#2)

פִּי

“The mouth of”

Here, mouth refers to the seductive things that a strange woman says with her mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The seductive speech of]

Proverbs 22:15 (#2)

קִשּׁוּרָה בִּלְבָב

“is bound up in the heart of”

Here Solomon refers to a boy inherently thinking foolishly as if Folly were an object bound up in that person’s heart. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is inherently within the mind of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:15 (#7)

יִרְחֵק מִמֶּנּוּ

“will cause it to be far away from him”

Here Solomon speaks of discipline causing a child to stop being foolish as if Folly were an object that the rod of discipline could cause to go far away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will result in him ceasing from folly]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:15 (#5)

שִׁנְיָה מִדּוֹסָה

“the rod of discipline”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a rod that is used to discipline someone. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the rod used for discipline]

See: Possession

Proverbs 22:15 (#4)

בְּנֵי אָדָם וּמִמֶּנּוּ

“a boy & from him”

Here, a boy and him refer to a child in general, not a specific boy. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any child ... from that child]

Proverbs 22:16 (#5)

נֹתֵן לְלֵעֲשָׂרִי

“one giving to the rich”

Solomon is leaving out some words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context and previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [one who gives gifts to a rich one to increase wealth]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 22:16 (#1)

עֲשֶׂה דָדִל לְהַרְבֵּיחוֹ לְלֵעֲשָׂרִי

“One oppressing a lowly {one} to increase for him, one giving to the rich”

One oppressing, a lowly one, one giving, and the rich refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural phrases in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who oppresses any lowly person to increase for himself, any person who gives to any rich person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:16 (#3)

להרבבות

“to increase”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [to increase wealth]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 22:16 (#6)

למחסור

“will be} to lack”

Here, will be to indicates that what follows is the result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [will result in poverty]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 22:16 (#4)

להרבבות ללו

“to increase for him”

The pronoun him refers to: (1) the person who is oppressing the lowly one. Alternate translation: [to increase for himself]; (2) the lowly person. In this case, the statement describes an unexpected result of oppressing a lowly one, just as surely will be to lack is the unexpected result of giving to the rich. Alternate translation: [yet increases for him]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:17 (#3)

וְלִבְךָ תִּשְׁשִׁית לְדַעְתִּי

“and you must set your heart to my knowledge”

Here, set your heart to is an idiom that means “think carefully about.” The word heart here refers to a person’s mind, as in 2:2. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you must think carefully about my knowledge]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:17 (#4)

לְדַעְתִּי

“to my knowledge”

Here, knowledge refers to the knowledge that Solomon wants his readers to know. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [to what I want you to know]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:18 (#4)

יִכְנְנוּ יַחְדָּם עַל־שִׁפְתֶּיךָ

“they are ready together on your lips”

This clause refers to an additional condition for it being pleasant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly, as in the UST.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:18 (#5)

יִכְנְנוּ יַחְדָּם עַל־שִׁפְתֶּיךָ

“they are ready together on your lips”

Here Solomon speaks of someone always being able to repeat “the words of the wise” as if they were objects on someone’s lips that are ready to come out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and if you are prepared to say them all]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:18 (#3)

תשמרם & יכנוי

“you keep them & they are ready”

Here, them and they refer to “the words of the wise” and “my knowledge” in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [you keep those words ... those words are ready]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 22:18 (#2)

תשמרם בבטןך

“you keep them in your inner parts”

Here Solomon speaks of remembering something as if it were an object that someone should keep inside that person’s inner parts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [you remember them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:18 (#1)

כי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do these things because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 22:19 (#3)

הודעתיד

“I have caused you to know”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from 22:17 if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [I have caused you to know the words of the wise]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 22:19 (#2)

הודעתיד

“I have caused you to know”

Solomon uses the past tense here in order to refer to something that is happening while he is writing these verses, which is the time he calls today. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the present tense. Alternate translation: [I am causing you to know]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 22:19 (#1)

להיות בבינה מבטחך הודעתיד היום אף-אתה

“For} your trust to be in Yahweh, I have caused you to know today, even you”

The first clause of this verse is the purpose for the second clause. If it would be more natural in your language, you may want to put the second clause before the first clause and connect them in a way that makes it clear that For your trust to be in Yahweh is the purpose of the teaching. Alternate translation: [I have caused you to know these things today, even you, in order for your trust to be in Yahweh]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 22:19 (#4)

אף-אתה

“even you”

Here Solomon repeats the pronoun you to emphasize to whom he is teaching these proverbs. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [Yes, this is for you]

See: Reduplication

Proverbs 22:20 (#2)

הללא כתבת

“Have I not written”

Solomon uses the past tense here in order to refer to something that is happening while he is writing these verses, which is the time he calls today in the previous verse. If it would not be natural to do that in your language, you could use the present tense. Alternate translation: [Am I not writing]

See: Irregular Use of Tenses

Proverbs 22:20 (#1)

הֲלֹא כָתַבְתִּי

“Have I not written”

This phrase indicates that Solomon is using the question form in this verse and the next verse in order to emphasize the truth of what he is saying. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I have surely written]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 22:20 (#5)

בְּמִוְעֶצֶת וְדַעַת

“with counsels and knowledge”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of counsels and knowledge, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated knowledge in 1:4. Alternate translation: [that can counsel you and make you knowledgeable]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:20 (#4)

בְּמִוְעֶצֶת וְדַעַת

“with counsels and knowledge”

Here, counsels and knowledge refer to what the 30 things are. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that are counsels and knowledge]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:20 (#3)

שְׁלִישִׁים

“30 things”

The word translated as 30 things could also refer to a type of military officer, which might imply that these are “excellent things.” Some translations follow that interpretation. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:21 (#6)

לְהַשִּׁיב

“to return”

Here Solomon refers to replying to someone with trustworthy words as if they were objects that one returns to someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and to reply with]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:21 (#3)

אִמְרֵי אֱמֻנָה

“the words of trustworthiness”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe words that are characterized by trustworthiness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the trustworthy words]

See: Possession

Proverbs 22:21 (#5)

לְהַשִּׁיב

“to return”

Here, to indicates that what follows is a second purpose for Solomon writing these “words of the wise.” Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a second purpose. Alternate translation: [and to return]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 22:21 (#1)

להודיעך

“to cause you to know”

This verse continues the rhetorical question that began in the previous verse. If you divide these two verses into separate sentences, then you will need to repeat part of the previous sentence. If a speaker of your language would not use the question form to explain the purpose of writing something, you could translate this as a statement or as an exclamation rather than as a question. Alternate translation: [I have surely written these things to cause you to know]

“Do not rob a lowly {one} because he {is} a lowly {one}, and do not crush an afflicted {one} at the gate”

22:22–23 is Saying 1 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 22:22 (#4)

וְאַל־תִּדְכֶּא

“and do not crush”

Here the writer refers to oppressing an afflicted one as if someone were crushing that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:22 (#2)

דל & דל־הוא & עֲנִי

“a lowly {one & he {is} a lowly {one & an afflicted {one}”

Here, a lowly one, he, and an afflicted one refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any lowly person ... that person is lowly ... any afflicted person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:22 (#5)

בַּשָּׁעַר

“at the gate”

Here, the gate refers to the place in a city where people settled legal arguments (see Ruth 4:1–12). If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [at the place for settling legal arguments]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:23 (#3)

רִיבָם

“their dispute”

See how you translated the abstract noun dispute in 15:18.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 22:23 (#1)

יְהוָה יִרְרִיב רִיבָם

“Yahweh will plead their dispute”

Here, the writer refers to Yahweh protecting “an afflicted one” as if he were a lawyer defending that person in court. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Yahweh will protect them] or [Yahweh will protect them like a lawyer who defends them in court]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:23 (#4)

וְקִבֵּעַ & נָפֶשׁ

“and he will plunder of life”

Here, the writer refers to Yahweh killing a person who tries to plunder a poor person as if he were a thief who plunders that person’s life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will cause to die]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:23 (#2)

רִיבָבָם & אֶת־קִבְצֵיהֶם

“their dispute & those who plunder them”

In this verse, their and them refer to the afflicted and poor people referenced in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the dispute of poor people ... those who plunder poor people]

Proverbs 22:24 (#5)

אִישׁ הַחֲמוֹת

“a man of heat”

See how you translated this phrase in 15:18.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 22:24 (#1)

אַל־תִּתְּתֶרַע אֶת־בִּבְעַל אָאָף וְאֶת־אִישׁ הַחֲמוֹת לֹלֵא תְּבוּאָה

“Do not befriend an owner of nose, and do not go {with} a man of heat”

22:24–25 is Saying 2 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 22:24 (#4)

אֶת־בִּבְעַל אָאָף

“an owner of nose”

The phrase is an idiom that refers to a person who is characteristically angry. The word nose means “anger” by association with the way that a person who is angry breathes heavily through his nose. Your language and culture may also associate anger with a particular part of the body. If so, you could use an expression involving that part of the body in your translation. You could also use plain language. Alternate translation: [an angry person]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:24 (#3)

אֶת־בִּבְעַל אָאָף & אִישׁ הַחֲמוֹת

“an owner of nose & a man of heat”

Here, an owner of nose and a man of heat refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any owner of nose ... any person of heat]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:24 (#2)

אַל־תִּתְּתֶרַע אֶת־בִּבְעַל אָאָף וְאֶת־אִישׁ הַחֲמוֹת לֹלֵא תְּבוּאָה

“Do not befriend an owner of nose, and do not go {with} a man of heat”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Do not befriend an owner of nose, yes, do not go with a man of heat]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 22:25 (#2)

תִּשְׁלַח אֶרְחֻמֵּי

“you learn his paths”

Here, the writer speaks of someone behaving like someone else as if that person learns the paths that the other person walks on. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of paths in 2:15. Alternate translation: [you behave like him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:25 (#3)

וְלִקְחֵת מוֹקֶשׁ לְנַפְשְׁךָ

“and you take a snare for your life”

Here, the writer speaks of a person causing his life to be in danger as if that person were an animal that gets caught in a snare. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [and you will put your life in danger] or [and you will be like an animal that gets caught in a snare and cannot escape]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:25 (#1)

פֶּן־תִּשְׁלַח אֶרְחֻמֵּי וְלִקְחֵת מוֹקֶשׁ לְנַפְשְׁךָ

“lest you learn his paths and you take a snare for your life”

Here, lest introduces an outcome that the speaker does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives his hearers in verse 24 an instruction to follow so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction of verse 24. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this a new sentence. Alternate translation: [Do not do that, so that you do not learn his paths or take a snare for your life]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 22:26 (#5)

בְּתִקְצֵי כַּכָּר

“among those who clasp a palm”

See how you translated the same idiom in 6:1 and 17:18.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:26 (#6)

בְּבַעֲרֵבִים

“among those who pledge for”

See how you translated the same use of pledge in 6:1.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:26 (#1)

אֶל־תִּהְיֶה בְּתִקְצֵי כַּכָּר בְּבַעֲרֵבִים מִשְׁאֵזֹת

“Do not be among those who clasp a palm, among those who pledge for loans”

22:26–27 is Saying 3 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 22:26 (#2)

אֶל־תִּהְיֶה בְּתִקְצֵי כַּכָּר בְּבַעֲרֵבִים מִשְׁאֵזֹת

“Do not be among those who clasp a palm, among those who pledge for loans”

In the second clause, the writer is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Do not be among those who clasp a palm; do not be among those who pledge for loans]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 22:26 (#3)

אֶל־תִּהְיֶה בְּתִקְצֵי כַּכָּר בְּבַעֲרֵבִים מִשְׁאֵזֹת

“Do not be among those who clasp a palm, among those who pledge for loans”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Do not be among those who clasp a palm; yes, do not be among those who pledge for loans]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 22:26 (#4)

אֶל־תִּהְיֶה בְּתִקְצֵי כַּכָּר

“Do not be among those who clasp a palm”

The phrase do not be among could refer to: (1) not participating in what those who clasp a palm do, which is promise to pay the debts of others. Alternate translation: [Do not be like those who clasp a palm] or [Do not clasp a palm]; (2) not associating with those who clasp a palm. Alternate translation: [Do not associate with those who clasp a palm]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:27 (#4)

יִקַּח מִמִּשְׁכְּבִיךָ מִתַּחְתֶּיךָ

“should he take away your bed from under you”

This clause refers to a person who loaned money taking away the bed of someone because that person was unable to pay the loan that he had promised to pay for someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [should the lender take away your bed from under you because you were not able to repay the loan]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:27 (#3)

לָמָּה יִקַּח מִמִּשְׁכְּבִיךָ מִתַּחְתֶּיךָ

“why should he take away your bed from under you”

The writer is using the question form to emphasize what will happen if a person cannot repay a loan for someone else. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [surely he will take away your bed from under you!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 22:27 (#2)

אִין־לֶדֶג לְשֹׁלֵם

“there is nothing to you to make payment”

Here, the writer is referring to repaying the loans mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [there is no money for you to repay the loan]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:27 (#1)

אם

“if”

This verse gives a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do not do those things because if]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 22:28 (#1)

אַל־תַּתְּסֵג גְבוּל עוֹלָם אֲשֶׁר עָשׂוּ אֲבוֹתֶיךָ

“Do not move the ancient boundary that your fathers made”

22:28 is Saying 4 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 22:28 (#4)

אֲבוֹתֶיךָ

“your fathers”

Here, fathers means “ancestors.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [your ancestors]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 22:28 (#3)

גְבוּל עוֹלָם

“the ancient boundary”

The phrase ancient boundary refers to stones that people used to mark the boundaries of the land that they owned. These boundaries were ancient because they were originally placed by the landowner’s ancestors. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of boundary marker, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the stones placed long ago that mark the borders of someone’s land]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 22:28 (#2)

אַל־תַּתְּסֵג גְבוּל עוֹלָם

“Do not move the ancient boundary”

The writer implies that someone moves the ancient boundary in order to cheat the landowner by changing the boundaries of his land. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Do not cheat a landowner by moving the ancient boundary]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 22:29 (#1)

הִזְיִית אָאִישׁ | מְמַהֵרִיר בְּמִלְאֲכָתּוֹ לִפְנֵי־מְלָכִים וְיִתְצָצֵב בְּלִי־תִיַצֵּב לִפְנֵי חֹשְׁפִים

“You see a skilled man in his work. He will station himself before the face of kings; he will not station himself before the face of obscure ones”

22:29 is Saying 5 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 22:29 (#4)

לִפְנֵי & יִתְצָצֵב בְּלִי־תִיַצֵּב לִפְנֵי

“He will station himself before the face of & he will not station himself before the face of”

The phrase station himself before the face of is an idiom that means “to enter the service of.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will enter the service of ... he will not enter the service of]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 22:29 (#3)

אָאִישׁ | מְמַהֵרִיר בְּמִלְאֲכָתּוֹ & יִתְצָצֵב בְּלִי־תִיַצֵּב

“a skilled man in his work. He will station himself & he will not station himself”

Here, a skilled man, his, he, and himself refer to a type of person in general, not a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [people skilled in their work; those people will station themselves ... they will not station themselves]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 22:29 (#2)

הִזְיִית אָאִישׁ | מְמַהֵרִיר בְּמִלְאֲכָתּוֹ

“You see a skilled man in his work”

Although the Hebrew text is not worded as a question, several translations make this clause into a rhetorical question. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this as a question. Alternate translation: [Have you seen a man skilled in his work?]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs - Chapter 23 IntroductionStructure and Formatting

1. Sayings from wise men (22:17–24:22)

- Introduction to the sayings (22:17–21)
- The sayings (22:22–24:22)

Chapter 23 continues the section of 30 sayings by “the wise ones” that began in 22:22. This chapter mostly contains longer proverbs, except for 23:9 and 23:12.

Proverbs 23:1 (#1)

כִּי־תֵתֶשֶׁב לֶלְחָמוֹם אֶת־מוֹשָׁל בְּרִין תִּתְבָּרִין אֶת־אֲשָׁשָׁר לִפְנֶיךָ

“When you sit to eat {with} a ruler, consider carefully what {is} before your face”

23:1–3 is Saying 6 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:1 (#2)

מוֹשָׁל

“a ruler”

The word ruler represents rulers in general, not one particular ruler. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [any ruler]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:1 (#3)

אֶת־אֲשָׁשָׁר

“what”

This could refer to: (1) the food that is put in front of you. Alternate translation: [what food] or [the food that]; (2) the person seated in front of you. Alternate translation: [who] or [the person who]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:2 (#1)

וְשִׁמְתָה שֶׁכִּינ בְּלִעְגָךָ

“and you should put a knife at your throat”

This phrase is an idiom that means “restrain yourself.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you should cut down your appetite] or [and you should control yourself]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:2 (#2)

בְּבֶעַל נַפְשִׁי

“are} an owner of appetite”

The phrase an owner of appetite refers to a person who likes to eat a lot. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [have a big appetite] or [are a person who likes to eat]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:3 (#4)

לֶלְחֶם

“bread of”

See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 23:3 (#1)

לְמִטְעֵמוֹתָיו

“his delicious morsels”

Here, his refers to the “ruler” mentioned in 23:1. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that ruler’s delicious morsels]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 23:3 (#3)

לֶלְחֶם כְּזָבִים

“bread of lies”

Here, the writer is using the possessive form to refer to bread that someone gives for the purpose of lies. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [is bread for deception]

See: Possession

Proverbs 23:3 (#2)

וְהָיָה

“for it {is”

Although it is singular, it refers to the delicious morsels in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this with a plural form. Alternate translation: [for they are]

Proverbs 23:4 (#1)

אֲלֹתֵיגָעַע לְהַעֲשִׂיר מִבִּינְתֶּךָ חֵדֶל

“Do not weary yourself to gain riches; from your understanding, cease”

23:4–5 is Saying 7 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:4 (#2)

מִבִּינְתֶּךָ חֵדֶל

“from your understanding, cease”

This phrase could mean: (1) because you have understanding, you should cease. Alternate translation: [cease because of your understanding]; (2) you should cease from having an incorrect understanding, which would be thinking that it is good to weary yourself to gain riches. Alternate translation: [cease from your wrong understanding about gaining riches]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:5 (#3)

בָּבוֹ וְאַאֲיָנְנוּ & יַעֲשֶׂה-לָּלוּ & יַעֲשֶׂה

“to it, but it is not there & it will make & for itself & it will fly {into”

In this verse, it and itself refers to the riches mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to the riches, but they are not there ... those riches will make ... for themselves ... those riches will fly into]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 23:5 (#6)

עָשָׂה יַעֲשֶׂה-לָּלוּ כְּנַפַּיִם כְּכַנְנֶשֶׁר יַעֲשֶׂה הַשָּׁמַיִם

“making, it will make wings for itself; like an eagle, it will fly {into} the sky”

Here, the writer speaks of a person quickly losing his wealth as if that wealth made wings for itself and flew away into the sky like an eagle. Just as eagles fly quickly, the wealth will disappear quickly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [it will surely disappear quickly] or [it will surely disappear as if it had wings and flew away quickly, as an eagle flies into the sky]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:5 (#7)

כְּכַנְנֶשֶׁר

“like an eagle”

An eagle is a bird that can fly rapidly. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bird, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [like a quick bird]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 23:5 (#5)

עָשָׂה יַעֲשֶׂה

“making, it will make”

The writer is repeating the verb make in order to intensify the idea that it expresses. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [it will surely make]

See: Reduplication

Proverbs 23:5 (#2)

הֲתִתִּיעִיר עֵינֶיךָ בָּבוֹ

“Will you cause your eyes to fly to it”

Here, the writer speaks of someone looking at riches as if his eyes were a bird that could fly to the riches. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Will you look at it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:5 (#4)

וְאַאֲיָנְנוּ

“but it is not there”

The writer implies that a person loses his wealth as soon as he sees it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but it is lost]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:5 (#1)

הַתַּעֲרִיף עֵינֶיךָ בָּבוֹ וְאֵלֶיךָ יִגָּנוּ

“Will you cause your eyes to fly to it, but it is not there”

The writer is using the question form to emphasize how easily wealth is lost. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [You will surely cause your eyes to fly to it, but it will not be there!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 23:6 (#2)

אֶת-לֶחֶם

“the bread of”See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 23:6 (#1)

אֶל-תִּלְחָחֶם אֶת-לֶחֶם רַע עֵינֶיךָ וְאַל-תִּתְאוּ לְמִטְעָמָיו

“Do not eat the bread of {one} evil of eye, and do not desire his delicious morsels”

23:6–8 is Saying 8 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:6 (#5)

לְמִטְעָמָיו

“his delicious morsels”

See how you translated this phrase in 23:3.

Proverbs 23:6 (#4)

רַע עֵינֶיךָ

“one} evil of eye”

The phrase one evil of eye is an idiom that means “a stingy person.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [one who is stingy]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:6 (#3)

רַע עֵינֶיךָ & לְמִטְעָמָיו

“one} evil of eye & his delicious morsels”

Here, one evil of eye and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any person evil of eye ... that person’s delicious morsels]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:7 (#5)

וְלִבְבוֹ כֹּל-עִמָּךְ

“but his heart {is} not with you”

The phrase his heart is not with you is an idiom that means “he is not being sincere with you.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but he is not speaking sincerely to you] or [but he is not being honest with you]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:7 (#3)

בְּנִפְשׁוֹ

“in his soul”

Here, the writer uses soul to refer a person’s inner being or mind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in his inner being] or [in his mind]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:7 (#2)

כְּמוֹ-שֹׁעֵר

“like one who calculates”

The writer is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [like one who calculates the cost of the food]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 23:7 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here indicates that what follows is a reason for the commands in the previous verse. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [Do not do those things because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 23:7 (#4)

אֲכַל וְשָׁתָה יֹאמַר לְךָ

“Eat and drink!” he will say to you”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [He will tell you to eat and drink]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 23:8 (#5)

דְּבַר־יָד הַנְּעִימִים

“your pleasant words”

See how you translated the similar use of words in 1:23.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:8 (#2)

תִּקְיֹאֲנָה

“You will vomit up”

The writer could imply that the person vomits or feels like vomiting because he is so disgusted at the attitude of the stingy person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [You will feel disgusted with him and vomit up]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:8 (#3)

פִּתְדִּי

“your morsel”

Here, morsel most likely refers to a small amount of food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [your bit of food] or [your small amount of food]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:8 (#4)

וְשִׁחַתָּהּ

“and you will ruin”

Here, the writer refers to speaking words in vain as if they were objects that one could ruin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and that will negate]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:8 (#1)

פִּתְדִּי־אֲכַלְתָּ תִּקְיֹאֲנָה

“You will vomit up your morsel you ate”

This clause could mean: (1) the person feels like vomiting, in which case this clause is an exaggeration. Alternate translation: [You will feel like vomiting up what you ate]; (2) the person feels so bad that he actually vomits.

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 23:9 (#5)

מִלִּיד

“your words”

See how you translated the similar use of words in 1:23.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:9 (#3)

כְּכִסִּיל & יִבְבוֹ

“a stupid {one & he will show contempt”

See how you translated the same use of a stupid one and he in 10:18.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:9 (#4)

לְשֹׁשֶׁכַּל

“for the insight of”

See how you translated the abstract noun insight in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:9 (#1)

בְּאָזְנוֹי כְּכִסִּיל אֶל־תִּדְבֹּר כִּי־יִבְבוֹ לְשֹׁשֶׁכַּל מִלִּיד

“Do not speak in the ears of a stupid {one}, for he will show contempt for the insight of your words”

23:9 is Saying 9 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:9 (#2)

בְּאָזְנוֹי & אֶל־תִּדְבֹּר

“Do not speak in the ears of”

The phrase speak in the ears refers to speaking directly to someone so that the person can clearly hear with his ears what is being said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not speak directly to]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:10 (#1)

אַל-תַּתְּסֵג גְבוּל עוֹלָם וּבְשָׂדֵי יְתוּמִים אַל-תִּבָּא

“Do not move an ancient boundary, and do not enter into the fields of fatherless ones”

23:10–11 is Saying 10 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:10 (#2)

אַל-תַּתְּסֵג גְבוּל עוֹלָם

“Do not move an ancient boundary”

See how you translated this clause in 22:28.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:10 (#4)

יְתוּמִים

“fatherless ones”

The phrase fatherless ones refers to children who have lost their fathers and so do not have anyone to protect them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [children without fathers to protect them]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:10 (#3)

וּבְשָׂדֵי יְתוּמִים אַל-תִּבָּא

“and do not enter into the fields of fatherless ones”

The connection with the previous clause indicates that the phrase enter into here refers to taking over or using the land that belongs to someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [do not take over the fields of fatherless ones] or [do not encroach on the fields of fatherless ones]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:11 (#4)

אֶת-רִיבָם

“their dispute”

See how you translated the abstract noun dispute in 15:18.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:11 (#2)

הוּא-יִרְרִיב אֶת-רִיבָם אִתְּךָ

“he himself will plead their dispute against you”

Here, the writer refers to Yahweh protecting “the fatherless ones” as if he were a lawyer who defends them in a legal dispute. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he himself will defend the orphans against you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:11 (#3)

הוּא-יִרְרִיב

“he himself will plead”

The writer uses the word himself to emphasize how significant it was that Yahweh defends the defenseless. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this significance. Alternate translation: [he indeed will plead]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 23:11 (#1)

גֹּאֲלָם

“their redeemer”

Here, their redeemer refers to Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [their redeemer, Yahweh,]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:12 (#6)

וְאָזְנוֹךָ

“and your ear”

See how you translated the same use of ear in 22:17.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:12 (#1)

הִבִּי־אָה לְמוֹסֵר לִבְבְּךָ וְאָזְנוֹךָ לְאִמְרֵי-דָעַת

“Bring your heart to correction and your ear to words of knowledge”

23:12 is Saying 11 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:12 (#5)

לְמוֹסֵר

“to correction”

See how you translated the abstract nouns correction in 3:11.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:12 (#7)

לְאִמְרֵי־דַעַת

“to words of knowledge”

See how you translated words of knowledge in 19:27.

See: Possession

Proverbs 23:12 (#4)

הַבְּרִיאָה לְמוֹסֵר לִבֶּךָ

“Bring your heart to correction”

Here, bring your heart to is an idiom that means “think carefully about.” The word heart here refers to a person’s mind, as in 2:2. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of the phrase “set your heart to” in 22:17. Alternate translation: [Think carefully about correction]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:12 (#3)

הַבְּרִיאָה לְמוֹסֵר לִבֶּךָ וְאִזְנוֹךָ לְאִמְרֵי־דַעַת

“Bring your heart to correction and your ear to words of knowledge”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Bring your heart to correction; yes, bring your ear to words of knowledge]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:12 (#2)

הַבְּרִיאָה לְמוֹסֵר לִבֶּךָ וְאִזְנוֹךָ לְאִמְרֵי־דַעַת

“Bring your heart to correction and your ear to words of knowledge”

The writer is leaving out a word in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply the word from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language.

Alternate translation: [Bring your heart to correction and bring your ear to words of knowledge]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 23:13 (#3)

מוֹסֵר

“discipline”

See how you translated the abstract noun discipline in 13:24.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:13 (#1)

אַל־תִּמְנַע מִנּוֹעַר מוֹסֵר כִּי־תִכְנֹנוּ בִבְשִׁשָּׁבֶט לֹא יָמוּת

“Do not withhold discipline from a boy; when you strike him with the rod, he will not die”

23:13–14 is Saying 12 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:13 (#4)

מִנּוֹעַר & תִּכְנֹנוּ & לֹא יָמוּת

“from a boy & you strike him & he will not die”

Here, a boy, him, and he refer to children in general, not to a specific boy. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated the same use of boy and he in 22:6. Alternate translation: [from any child ... you strike that child ... that child will not die]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:13 (#2)

אַל־תִּמְנַע & מוֹסֵר

“Do not withhold discipline”

Here, the writer speaks of refusing to discipline a child as if discipline were an object that a parent refuses to give to his child. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not hold back discipline]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:13 (#5)

תִּכְנֹנוּ בִבְשִׁשָּׁבֶט

“you strike him with the rod”

This phrase refers to a form of punishment that involved hitting a person with a wooden stick of some kind. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a general expression for physical punishment. Alternate translation: [you punish him physically] or [you punish him by hitting him with a stick]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:14 (#2)

בְּשֵׁבֶט תִּכְכֶּנּוּ

“with the rod you will strike him”

See how you translated this phrase in the previous verse.

Proverbs 23:14 (#4)

וְיִנְפֹשֶׁשׁוּ מִשְׁאֲאוֹל תִּצִּיר

“and you will rescue his life from Sheol”

Here, the writer speaks of someone preventing his child from dying as if he were rescuing his life from Sheol, which was considered to be the place where people’s spirits go when they die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and you will keep him alive]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:14 (#3)

וְיִנְפֹשֶׁשׁוּ & תִּצִּיר

“and you will rescue his life”

Here, and introduces the result of doing what was stated in the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [If you do this, then you will rescue his life] or [This will result in you rescuing his life]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 23:14 (#1)

אַתָּה

“You”

Here, the speaker includes the pronoun you even though the verb translated as strike already includes this meaning. Doing this adds emphasis to what he is saying. If your language uses explicit pronouns for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. Other languages may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. Alternate translation: [You must consider this]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 23:15 (#2)

בְּבִנִי

“My son”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 23:15 (#1)

בְּבִנִי אִם־הִכְכֶּם לִבְבִּי יִשְׂמַח לִבִּי גַם־אֲנִי

“My son, if your heart {is} wise, my heart, even myself, will be glad”

23:15–16 is Saying 13 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:15 (#3)

לִבְבִּי & לִבִּי

“your heart & my heart”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 14:10.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:16 (#2)

שְׁשִׁפְתֶּיךָ

“your lips”

Here, lips represent the person in the act of speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:16 (#1)

כְּלִי־תִי

“my inner parts”

Here, inner parts is used as a parallel expression to “heart” in the previous verse, and so it also represents where a person’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST. Alternate translation: [my inner being]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:17 (#4)

בִּירְאַת־יְהוָה

“in the fear of Yahweh”

See how you translated the fear of Yahweh in 1:7.

See: Possession

Proverbs 23:17 (#1)

אַל־יִקְנֶנָּה לְלִבְךָ בְּחַטָּאִים כִּי אִם־בִּירְאַת־יְהוָה כָּל־הַיּוֹם

“Do not let your heart be envious of sinners, but rather in the fear of Yahweh all the day”

23:17–18 is Saying 14 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:17 (#2)

לְלִבְךָ

“your heart”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s thoughts, feelings, and desires exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 14:10. Alternate translation: [yourself]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:17 (#3)

כִּי אִם־בִּירְאַת־יְהוָה

“but rather in the fear of Yahweh”

The writer is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [but rather, continue in the fear of Yahweh] or [but rather, let your heart be in the fear of Yahweh]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 23:18 (#4)

וְיִתְקַדְּךָ

“and your hope”

See how you translated the abstract noun hope in 10:28.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:18 (#1)

כִּי אִם־יֵשׁ אַחֲרָיִית

“Surely there is a future”

Here the writer implies that the contents of the verse are true if the person has “the fear of Yahweh” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [If you have the fear of Yahweh, then surely there is a future]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:18 (#2)

יֵשׁ אַחֲרָיִית

“there is a future”

Here, the writer implies that the future is good and is for the person addressed as your in the next clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [there is a good future for you]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:18 (#3)

וְיִתְקַדְּךָ לֹא תִכָּרֵת

“and your hope will not be cut off”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. The context implies that Yahweh will do the action. Alternate translation: [and Yahweh will not cut off your hope]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 23:18 (#6)

לֹא תִכָּרֵת

“will not be cut off”

The writer is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will surely become reality]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 23:18 (#5)

לֹא תִכָּרֵת

“will not be cut off”

Here, the writer speaks of hope as if it were an object that could be cut off. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will not remain unfulfilled] or [will not fail to become reality]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:19 (#1)

שִׁמְעֵ-אֶת־נַתְנָה בְּנִי וְחָכְמָם וְאִשְׁשֶׁר בְּדַדְרָד לִבִּי

“Listen, you my son, and be wise, and lead your heart in the way”

23:19–21 is Saying 15 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:19 (#2)

בְּנִי

“my son”

See how you translated the same use of son in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 23:19 (#4)

וְאִשְׁשֶׁר בְּדַדְרָד לִבִּי

“and lead your heart in the way”

Here the writer refers to a person deciding to think about the right way to behave as if that person were leading his heart to go on a certain path. The word heart here refers to a person’s thoughts, as in 2:2, and way refers to right human behavior. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and decide to think about right behavior]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:19 (#3)

וְחָכְמָם

“and be wise”

Here, and introduces the purpose for listening. Use a connector in your language that indicates a purpose. See how you translated this phrase in 6:6.

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 23:20 (#1)

אֶל־תְּהִי בְּסָבְאִי

“Do not be among drinkers of much”

See how you translated the same use of Do not be among in 22:26.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:20 (#3)

בְּשֹׁשֶׁר

“flesh”

Here, flesh refers to meat, which is animal flesh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 23:20 (#2)

בְּזֹלְלֵי בְּשֹׁשֶׁר

“among gluttonous eaters of flesh”

The writer is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and do not be among gluttonous eaters of flesh]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 23:21 (#2)

סָבְאָ וְזֹלֵל

“one who drinks much and one who eats gluttonously”

The writer implies that these people drink too much wine and gluttonously eat too much meat. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. See how you translated the similar phrases “drinkers of much wine” and “gluttonous eaters of flesh” in the previous verse. Alternate translation: [one who drinks too much wine and one who gluttonously eats too much meat]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:21 (#1)

סָבְאָ וְזֹלֵל

“one who drinks much and one who eats gluttonously”

Here, one who drinks much and one who eats gluttonously refer to types of people in general, not to specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any person who drinks much and any person who eats gluttonously]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:21 (#3)

וְיִקְרַע עֲלֵיָם תְּלַבְבִּישׁ נֹמָה

“and slumber will clothe {with} rags”

Here, the writer refers to people becoming poor because they sleep too much as if slumber were a person who clothes those people with rags. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they will be clothed with rags because they slept too much]

See: Personification

Proverbs 23:21 (#4)

וְיִקְרַע עֲלֵיָם תְּלַבְבִּישׁ נֹמָה

“and slumber will clothe {with} rags”

Here, clothe with rags indicates that a person is so poor that they only have rags for clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and slumber will make one so poor that he only has rags to wear]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:22 (#1)

שְׁמַע לְאָבִיךָ יְהוָה יִלְדֶּיךָ וְאַל־תִּתְּבֹז כִּי־זָקְנָה אִמְךָ

“Listen to your father, this {one} begot you, and do not despise your mother when she {is} old”

23:22–25 is Saying 16 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:22 (#2)

וְאַל־תִּתְּבֹז

“and do not despise”

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word despise. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [and respect]

See: Double Negatives

Proverbs 23:23 (#2)

אֱמֻנָה & חִכְמָה וּמוֹסָר וּבִינָה

“truth & wisdom and instruction and understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns truth in 8:7 and wisdom, instruction, and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:23 (#1)

אֱמַת קִנְיָה וְאַל־תִּמְכַּר

“Acquire truth and do not sell”

Here the writer speaks of learning and remembering truth as if it were an object that someone can Acquire and sell. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Learn truth and do not forget it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:23 (#4)

חִכְמָה וּמוֹסָר וּבִינָה

“wisdom and instruction and understanding”

The writer is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and acquire wisdom and instruction and understanding]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 23:23 (#3)

וְאַל־תִּמְכַּר

“and do not sell”

This is a double negative, consisting of the negative particle not and the negative word sell. If it would be clearer in your language, you could use a positive expression to translate this. Alternate translation: [and keep it]

See: Double Negatives

Proverbs 23:24 (#1)

גִּיל גִּיל אָבִי צַדִּיק וְיִלְלֵד הַחֲכָמִים וְשִׂמְחָבוּ

“The father of a righteous one, rejoicing, will rejoice, and one who begets a wise one, he will be glad in him”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [The father of a righteous one, rejoicing, will rejoice; yes, one who begets a wise one, he will be glad in him]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:24 (#2)

אֲבִי צַדִּיק וְיֹלֵד חֲכָמִים & בֶּן

“The father of a righteous one & and one who begets a wise one & in him”

The father, a righteous one, one who begets, a wise one, and him refer to types of people in general, not to specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any father of any righteous person ... and any person who begets any wise person ... in that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:24 (#3)

גָּגִיל יִגִּיל

“rejoicing, will rejoice”

The writer is repeating the verb rejoice in order to intensify the idea that it expresses. If your language can repeat words for intensification, it would be appropriate to do that here in your translation. If not, your language may have another way of expressing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [he will greatly rejoice]

See: Reduplication

Proverbs 23:24 (#4)

בֶּן

“in him”

The word translated as in indicates that what follows is the reason for what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a reason for what came before. Alternate translation: [on account of him]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 23:25 (#1)

יְשׁוּעָה-אֲבִיךָ וְיֹלֵדְךָ וְיֹלֵדְךָ

“May your father and your mother be glad, and may she who bore you rejoice”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [May your father and your mother be glad; yes, may she who bore you rejoice]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:25 (#3)

יְשׁוּעָה-אֲבִיךָ וְיֹלֵדְךָ

“May your father and your mother be glad”

This verse states the intended result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is what should be the result of what came before. Alternate translation: [Therefore, may your father and your mother be glad]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 23:25 (#2)

יְשׁוּעָה-אֲבִיךָ וְיֹלֵדְךָ וְיֹלֵדְךָ

“May your father and your mother be glad, and may she who bore you rejoice”

The writer is using an appeal statement to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words using a command form. Alternate translation: [Cause your father and your mother to be glad, and cause she who bore you to rejoice]

See: Statements — Other Uses

Proverbs 23:26 (#1)

תִּנְהַבְנִי לִבִּי לְלִי וְעֵינַיִךְ דֹּרְכֵי תִצְרֶנָּה

“My son, give your heart to me, and may your eyes watch my ways”

23:26–28 is Saying 17 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:26 (#5)

דֹּרְכֵי

“my ways”

See how you translated the same use of ways in 3:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:26 (#2)

תִּנְהַבְנִי & לִבִּי לְלִי

“give your heart to me”

Here, the writer refers to paying careful attention to someone as if the son were to give his heart to him.

The word heart here refers to a person's thoughts, as in 2:2. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [pay careful attention to me]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:26 (#3)

וְעֵינֶיךָ דֹרְכֵי תַצְרֶנָּה

“and may your eyes watch my ways”

The writer is using an appeal statement to give a command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words using a command form. Alternate translation: [and make your eyes watch my ways]

See: Statements — Other Uses

Proverbs 23:26 (#4)

וְעֵינֶיךָ & תַצְרֶנָּה

“and may your eyes watch”

Here, eyes represent the ability of a person to learn through observation. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and may you look carefully at]

See: Metonymy

“is} a deep pit”

See how you translated this phrase in 22:14.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:27 (#5)

וּבִאָאָר צָרָה

“and & is} a narrow well”

Here, the writer speaks of the inescapable danger of a foreign woman as if she were a narrow well that a person could fall into and not get out of. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [and ... is dangerous] or [and ... is dangerous like a narrow well]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:27 (#2)

שְׂוִתָּה עֲמֻקָּה זֹנְגָה וּבִאָאָר צָרָה נְכָרִיָּה

“a prostitute {is} a deep pit, and a foreign woman {is} a narrow well”

Here, a prostitute, a deep pit, a foreign woman, and a narrow well refer to these things and types of people in general, not to specific things or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any prostitute is a deep pit, and any foreign woman is a narrow well]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 23:27 (#1)

כִּי־שְׂוִתָּה עֲמֻקָּה זֹנְגָה וּבִאָאָר צָרָה נְכָרִיָּה

“For a prostitute {is} a deep pit, and a foreign woman {is} a narrow well”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [For a prostitute is a deep pit: yes, a foreign woman is a narrow well]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:27 (#4)

נְכָרִיָּה

“a foreign woman”

See how you translated this phrase in 2:16. As there, the woman is “strange” or foreign not because she is from a different ethnic group, but because she belongs to another man; she is a foreigner to the son's own marriage. Alternate translation: [the wife of another man]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:28 (#4)

בְּאֶדָּם

“among man”

In this verse, the word man is singular in form, but it refers to all men as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly, as in the UST.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 23:28 (#2)

הִיא & תִּצְרֶב

“she herself lies in wait”

The writer uses the word herself to emphasize who it is who harms men. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this significance. Alternate translation: [she is the very one who lies in wait]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 23:28 (#3)

וַיִּבְגְּדֵם & תוֹכֶה

“and she adds to the treacherous ones”

Here the writer speaks of an immoral woman causing men to act unfaithfully as if she were adding them to a group of treacherous ones. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and she increases the number of those who betray their wives]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:28 (#1)

הִיא כְּחֹתֶמֶת תֹּאגֵר

“she herself lies in wait like a robber”

Here, the writer compares an immoral woman to a robber who lies in wait to actively attack him and take something from him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. See how you translated lies in wait in 7:12. Alternate translation: [she herself lies in wait like a robber to take from a man what is valuable]

Proverbs 23:29 (#1)

לִמְמֵי אֶאֱוִי לִמְמֵי אֶבְבֹּי לִמְמֵי מְדוּנִים | לִמְמֵי שְׁשִׁיחַ לִלְמֵי פִצְעִים
חֲנָגָם לִלְמֵי חֲכָלִלּוֹת עֵינַיִם

“For whom {is} woe? For whom {is} sorrow? For whom {are} quarrels? For whom {is} a lament? For whom {are} wounds without reason? For whom {is} dullness of eyes”

23:29–35 is Saying 18 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 23:29 (#2)

לִמְמֵי אֶאֱוִי לִמְמֵי אֶבְבֹּי לִמְמֵי מְדוּנִים | לִמְמֵי שְׁשִׁיחַ לִלְמֵי פִצְעִים
חֲנָגָם לִלְמֵי חֲכָלִלּוֹת עֵינַיִם

“For whom {is} woe? For whom {is} sorrow? For whom {are} quarrels? For whom {is} a lament? For whom {are} wounds without reason? For whom {is} dullness of eyes”

The writer uses these questions to prepare the reader for the point he is about to make about “those who linger over wine” in the next verse. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I will tell you what kind of person has woe, sorrow, quarrels, lament, wounds without reason, and dullness of eyes.]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 23:29 (#4)

חֲכָלִלּוֹת עֵינַיִם

“is} dullness of eyes”

The phrase dullness of eyes refers to eyes that look red because a person drank too much alcohol. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is red eyes, like the color of blood] or [is bloodshot eyes]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:29 (#3)

לִמְמֵי אֶאֱוִי לִמְמֵי אֶבְבֹּי לִמְמֵי מְדוּנִים | לִמְמֵי שְׁשִׁיחַ

“For whom {is} woe? For whom {is} sorrow? For whom {are} quarrels? For whom {is} a lament”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of woe, sorrow, quarrels, and lament, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [Who is woeful? Who is sorrowful? Who is quarrelsome? Who laments?]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 23:30 (#4)

מִמְסָד

“mixed wine”

In ancient Israel, people often prepared wine for drinking by mixing it with water. See how you translated “mixed her wine” in 9:2 and the similar expression in 9:5.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:30 (#3)

לְלִבְאֵאִים לְחַקֵּר מִמְסָד

“for those coming to search out mixed wine”

Here, the writer implies that these people search out mixed wine in order to drink it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [for those coming to search out and drink mixed wine]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:30 (#2)

למאחרים עליהנין

“For those who linger over wine”

Here the writer refers to people who spend a lot of time drinking a lot of wine as if they were lingering over wine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [For those who spend many hours drinking wine] or [For those who drink more and more wine]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:30 (#1)

למאחרים עליהנין

“For those who linger over wine”

This verse answers the rhetorical questions in the previous verse. If you did not use questions in the previous verse, then you may need to adjust this sentence. Alternate translation: [The kind of people who do these things are those who linger over wine]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:31 (#3)

יתתן בכוס עינן

“its eye gives in the cup”

The phrase its eye gives refers to the way wine gleams or reflects light inside a cup. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [it gleams in the cup]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 23:31 (#2)

כפי ותאצדדם כיייתתן בכוס עינן ויתהללך במישרים

“when it is red; when its eye gives in the cup, it goes with evenness”

These three clauses give reasons why someone is tempted to drink wine, in contrast to the command to not look at it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this contrast more explicit. Alternate translation: [despite it being red, giving its eye in the cup, and going with evenness]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 23:31 (#4)

ויתהללך במישרים

“it goes with evenness”

Here, the writer implies that the wine goes down a person’s throat smoothly when he drinks it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [it flows down one’s throat smoothly]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:31 (#1)

אלתפרא יין

“Do not look {at} wine”

The writer says Do not look at wine as an overstatement for emphasis. He is warning the reader not to be enticed by the attractive qualities of wine that he describes here. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [Do not be enticed by the attractiveness of wine]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 23:32 (#1)

אאחריתו כנהחש יששף וכצפענגי יפרש

“Its end bites like a snake, and it stings like a viper”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Its end bites like a snake; yes, it stings like a viper]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:32 (#2)

אאחריתו

“Its end”

Its end refers to the result of drinking too much wine. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The result of drinking too much of it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:32 (#3)

כנהחש יששף וכצפענגי יפרש

“bites like a snake, and it stings like a viper”

The writer is saying that the result of drinking too much wine is like a snake or a viper biting the person, because it is painful and harms that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [hurts as badly as a snakebite]

See: Simile

Proverbs 23:33 (#1)

עֵינַיִךְ

“Your eyes”

In this verse, eyes refers to the capability of a person to see. In this case, the person will see things that are not there. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of eyes in 23:26.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 23:33 (#2)

וְלִבְךָ יְדַבֵּר תְּהַפְּכוֹת

“and your heart will speak perverse things”

Here, heart refers to the person’s thoughts, in which case the person is thinking or imagining things that are not real. Alternate translation: [and you will think things that are not real] or [and your mind will be confused]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 23:33–35 (#1)

עֵינַיִךְ יִרְאוּ זָרִים

“Your eyes will see strange things”

The writer implies that what is described in these verses is what someone experiences when he drinks too much alcohol. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [These things will happen if you drink too much wine: your eyes will see strange things]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 23:34 (#2)

כְּשֹׁכֵב בְּלִבָּיִם

“like one who lies down in the heart of the sea”

The writer is saying that a drunk person is like someone who lies down in the heart of the sea because that person feels dizzy, nauseous, and unsteady, like someone on a boat in the middle of the ocean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [dizzy and nauseous]

See: Simile

Proverbs 23:34 (#4)

וְכַשְׁכֵּב בְּרֹאשׁ הַמַּסְ

“and like one who lies down at the head of a mast”

The writer is saying that a drunk person is like someone who lies down at the head of a mast, because that person feels dizzy and stumbles like someone who sways back and forth at the top of the mast of a ship in the ocean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and swaying from side to side]

See: Simile

Proverbs 23:34 (#1)

וְהָיִיתָ כְּשֹׁכֵב בְּלִבָּיִם וְכַשְׁכֵּב בְּרֹאשׁ הַמַּסְ

“And you will be like one who lies down in the heart of the sea and like one who lies down at the head of a mast”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [And you will be like one who lies down in the heart of the sea; yes, like one who lies down at the head of a mast]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 23:34 (#3)

בְּלִבָּיִם

“in the heart of the sea”

Here, heart refers to the middle of the sea, which is far away from land. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the middle of the sea] or [far out in the ocean]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:34 (#5)

בְּרֹאשׁ הַמַּסְ

“at the head of a mast”

The phrase head of a mast refers to the top of a long, wooden pole to which a very large cloth, called a sail, was attached. Wind blown into the sail propelled the ship. The top of the mast would sway back and forth more than any other part of the ship, so someone at the head of a mast could easily become dizzy and nauseated. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of mast, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [at the highest point on a ship]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 23:35 (#1)

הכּוֹנֵן

“They struck me”

This verse describes what a drunk person would say. That person was referred to as “you” in the previous two verses. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation.

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 23:35 (#6)

אֲנוֹסֵסִיף אֶבְקֶשׁ שָׁנִי עוֹד

“I will add, I will seek it again”

The words add and seek it again express a single idea. The word add emphasizes the repetition of seeking more wine to drink. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [I will seek it yet again]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 23:35 (#5)

מִתְנִי אֶקְרִי

“When will I awake”

Here, wake up refers to the drunk person becoming sober again. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [When will I become sober]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 23:35 (#4)

מִתְנִי אֶקְרִי

“When will I awake”

The drunk person uses a question in order to emphasize his desire to be awake. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I want to wake up!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 23:35 (#2)

הִכּוֹנֵנִי בַל־הִלִּיתִי

“They struck me. I was not hurt”

The drunk person implies a strong contrast between the first clause and the second. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [They struck me. However, I was not hurt]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 23:35 (#3)

הִלְמֹנִי בַל־יִדְדָּעִי

“They beat me. I did not know”

The drunk person implies a strong contrast between the first clause and the second. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [They beat me. However, I did not know]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 23:35 (#7)

אֲנוֹסֵסִיף אֶבְקֶשׁ שָׁנִי עוֹד

“I will add, I will seek it again”

The drunk person implies that he will seek more wine and drink it to add to the wine he has already drunk. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I will seek more wine to drink again]

Proverbs - Chapter 24 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Sayings from wise men (22:17–24:22)

- Introduction to the sayings (22:17–21)
- The sayings (22:22–24:22)

1. More sayings from wise men (24:23–34)

24:1–22 finishes the section of 30 sayings by “the wise ones” that began in 22:22. This section mostly contains longer proverbs, except for 24:7 and 24:10.

24:23–34 contain an additional short collection of sayings by “the wise ones.” This section contains proverbs of varying lengths, the longest being 24:30–34.

Proverbs 24:1 (#1)

24:1–2 is Saying 19 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:1 (#3)

בְּאִנְשֵׁי

“of men of”

Although the term men is masculine, the writer is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [of people of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 24:1 (#2)

בְּאִנְשֵׁי רָעָה

“of men of evil”

Here the writer is using the possessive form to describe men who are characterized by evil. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [of evil men]

See: Possession

Proverbs 24:2 (#3)

שֹׁשֶׁן

“violence”

See how you translated the abstract noun violence in 3:31.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:2 (#1)

יְהַגֵּה לִבָּם

“their heart plots”

Although heart is singular, it refers to all the hearts of the people who plot violence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use the plural form. Alternate translation: [their hearts plot]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 24:2 (#5)

וְעָמְלָה

“and & trouble”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of trouble, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [and ... what troubles people]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:2 (#2)

לִבָּם

“their heart”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and intentions exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly, as in the UST. Alternate translation: [their mind]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:2 (#4)

שִׁפְתֵיהֶם

“their lips”

Here, lips represents what people say with their lips. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:3 (#1)

בְּחָכְמָה יִבְנֶה בַּיִת וּבִתְבוּנָה יִתְכַּוֵּן

“By wisdom a house is built, and by understanding it is established”

24:3–4 is Saying 20 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:3 (#2)

בְּחָכְמָה & וּבִתְבוּנָה

“By wisdom & and by understanding”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom and understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:3 (#3)

יִתְכַּוֵּן & בְּחָכְמָה

“a house is built & it is established”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [someone builds a house ... someone establishes it]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 24:3 (#4)

יִתְכַּוֵּן

“it is established”

Here, the word translated as established refers to being stable and secure. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [it is secure]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:4 (#1)

וּבְדַעַת

“And by knowledge”

See how you translated the abstract noun knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:4 (#3)

חֲדָרִים

“the rooms”

The writer implies that these are the rooms in the house described in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the rooms of that house]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:4 (#2)

חֲדָרִים יִמְלֵאֵי

“the rooms are filled”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [someone fills the rooms]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 24:5 (#1)

24:5–6 is Saying 21 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:5 (#4)

חֲכָמָה בְּעֶזְרָה & יָדָעַת & כֹּחַ

“wisdom {is} with strength & knowledge & power”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of wisdom, strength, knowledge, and power, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated wisdom in 1:2 and knowledge in 1:4. Alternate translation: [what is wise is with what is strong ... what is knowledgeable ... what is powerful]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:5 (#2)

גִּבּוֹר־חֲכָמָה & וְאִישׁ-יָדָעַת

“A man of wisdom & and a man of knowledge”

Although the term man is masculine, the writer is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [Any person of wisdom ... and any person of knowledge]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 24:5 (#3)

גִּבּוֹר־חֲכָמָה

“A man of wisdom”

Here, the writer is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by wisdom. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A wise man]

See: Possession

Proverbs 24:5 (#5)

וְאִישׁ-יָדָעַת

“and a man of knowledge”

Here, the writer is using the possessive form to describe a man who is characterized by knowledge. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and a knowledgeable man]

וְהַשְׁוֹעָה בְּרִבְבֵּי יוֹעֵץ

“and salvation {is} in an abundance of counsel”

See how you translated the same clause in 11:14.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:6 (#2)

תַּעֲשֶׂה-לְדָךְ מִלְחָמָה

“you make war for yourself”

The writer implies fighting a successful war. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [you successfully make war for yourself]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:7 (#1)

24:7 is Saying 22 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:7 (#4)

בַּבְּשִׁיעַר

“at the gate”

See how you translated the same use of gate in 22:22.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:7 (#2)

רְאֵמֹת לְאִנּוּיִל

“are too} high for a fool”

Here, high is an idiom that means “too difficult to understand.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are over the head of a fool] or [are too difficult for a fool to understand]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 24:7 (#5)

לֹא יִפְתַּח-פִּיהוּ

“he will not open his mouth”

Here, open his mouth refers to a person speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will not speak]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:7 (#3)

לְאִנּוּיִל & לֹא יִפְתַּח-פִּיהוּ

“for a fool & he will not open his mouth”

Here, a fool, he, and his represent fools in general, not a specific fool. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [for any fool ... that person will not open that person’s own mouth]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 24:10 (#2)

הִתְרַפִּית

“If} you make yourself slack”

The word yourself indicates that the object of the verb is the same as the subject of the verb. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate that the same person fills two roles in the sentence. Alternate translation: [If you falter]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 24:11 (#1)

24:11-12 is Saying 25 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:11 (#5)

לְמָוֶת & לְלֶהָרֹג

“for the death & to the slaughter”

See how you translated the abstract nouns death in 2:18 and slaughter in 7:22.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:11 (#4)

לְקַחְתִּים

“those being taken”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [those whom people take]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 24:11 (#3)

לְקַחְתִּים לְמָמוֹת וּמִטְטִים לְלֶהָרֶג

“those being taken for the death, and those staggering to the slaughter”

The writer implies that these people are wrongfully taken to the death and stagger to the slaughter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those who are wrongfully take to the death, and those who stagger to wrongful slaughter]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:11 (#7)

אִם־תִּחְשָׁוּ

“if you hold back”

Here, the writer refers to allowing the slaughter of these people as if one were holding oneself back from helping them. You may have a similar expression in your language, or you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [if you do nothing] or [if you do not stop it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:11 (#2)

הִצֵּל לְקַחְתִּים לְמָמוֹת וּמִטְטִים לְלֶהָרֶג אִם־תִּחְשָׁוּ

“Rescue those being taken for the death, and those staggering to the slaughter if you hold back”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Rescue those being taken for the death, yes, those staggering to the slaughter if you hold back]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 24:11 (#6)

וּמִטְטִים לְלֶהָרֶג

“and those staggering to the slaughter”

The writer is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You can supply this word from the context if that would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and rescue those staggering to the slaughter]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 24:12 (#6)

חֹתֶכֶן לִבָּוֹת

“the examiner of hearts”

Here, the writer speaks of one who discerns what people are thinking as if he were an examiner of hearts. The word hearts here refers to human minds, as in 15:11. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the discerner of minds]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:12 (#3)

זֶה

“this”

Here, this refers to what is happening to “those who are taken for the death,” who are also “those who stagger to the slaughter” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that those people were being taken to die] or [that those people were being unjustly killed]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 24:12 (#8)

וְהִשָּׁיב לְאָדָם

“and he, give back to a man”

Here, the writer refers to Yahweh causing a man to receive what he deserves for his work as if Yahweh were giving something back to that man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [And he will make sure a man receives what is due to him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:12 (#5)

הֲלֹא־תִתְּכֶן לִבָּוֹת הוּא־יִבְיִין וְנִצְצָר נִנְפָשָׁה הִהוּא יִדְעֵה וְהִשָּׁיב

“does not he, the examiner of hearts, understand, and he, the guard of your life, know, and he, give back”

In this verse, he refers to Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [does not Yahweh, the examiner of hearts, understand, and Yahweh, the guard of your life, know; and Yahweh will give back]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 24:12 (#7)

וְנִצְצָר נִנְפֶשֶׁד הָהוּא

“and he, the guard of your life”

Here, the writer speaks of someone who keeps a person alive as if he were the guard of that person’s life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he, the one who preserves your life]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:12 (#1)

כִּי־תֹאמַרְמָר

“If you say”

Here, the writer implies that the speaker did know and is lying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [If you lie by saying]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:12 (#4)

הֲלֹא־תִתְכַכֵּן לַבְּבוֹת ׀ הוּא־יִבְרִין וְנִצְצָר נִנְפֶשֶׁד הָהוּא יִדְדֵעַ וְהִשְׁשִׁיב לְאֲדָדָם כְּפָעִלָּו

“does not he, the examiner of hearts, understand, and he, the guard of your life, know, and he, give back to a man according to his work”

The writer is using the question form to emphasize the truth of what he is saying. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [he, the examiner of hearts, surely understands, and he, the guard of your life, surely knows, and he will surely give back to a man according to his work!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 24:12 (#9)

לְאֲדָדָם כְּפָעִלָּו

“to a man according to his work”

Although man and he are masculine, the writer is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [a person according to that person’s work]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 24:12 (#2)

הִנֵּה

“Behold”

The speaker is using the term Behold to focus attention on what he is about to say, which is an objection to an unspoken accusation. Your language may have a comparable expression that you could use in your translation. Alternate translation: [Listen] or [But look]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:13 (#1)

24:13–14 is Saying 26 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:13 (#2)

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:16 (#3)

יִפְּוֹל & יִקָּם

“falls and rises up”

Here, the writer speaks of someone experiencing disaster as if that person falls, and he speaks of recovering from that disaster as if that person rises up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will experience disaster and recover from it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:17 (#1)

24:17–18 is Saying 28 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:17 (#3)

בְּנִפְּלֹת אֹיְבֶיךָ & וּבִשְׁלָלָיו

“When your enemy falls & and when he stumbles”

Here, falls and stumbles both refer to experiencing disaster. See how you translated the same use of falls and “stumble” in the previous verse.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:17 (#2)

בְּנִפְּלֹת אֹיְבֶיךָ אַל־תִּשְׂמַח וּבִשְׁלָלָיו אַל־יִגְּלֹל לִבְךָ

“When your enemy falls, do not be glad, and when he stumbles, do not let your heart rejoice”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [When your enemy falls, do not be glad; yes, when he stumbles, do not let your heart rejoice]

לִבְךָ

“your heart”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 14:10. Alternate translation: [your spirit]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:18 (#3)

וְרָע בְּעֵינָיו

“and {it be} evil in his eyes”

The phrase evil in his eyes refers to having a negative opinion about something or someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of in his eyes in 3:4. Alternate translation: [and he will think negatively of it]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 24:18 (#2)

יִרְאֶה יְהוָה

“Yahweh see”

Here, see refers to perceiving something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh perceive]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:18 (#4)

וְהִשְׁטִיב

“and he turn away”

Here, and introduces the result of something being evil in his eyes. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [As a result, he will turn away]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 24:18 (#1)

כִּי־יִרְאֶה יְהוָה וְרָע בְּעֵינָיו וְהִשְׁטִיב מִעַלְלֵיו אָפוּ

“lest Yahweh see, and {it be} evil in his eyes, and he turn away his nose from upon him”

Here, lest indicates that what follows is what the writer does not want to happen, but it would happen if someone does not obey the instruction of verse 17. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [otherwise, Yahweh will see, and it will be evil in his eyes, and he may turn away his nose from upon him]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 24:18 (#5)

וְהִשְׁטִיב מִעַלְלֵיו אָפוּ

“and he turn away his nose from upon him”

Here, nose refers to anger, as in 15:1. It also implies the punishment that Yahweh does to those with whom he is angry. Alternate translation: [and he ceases from being angry with him] or [and he ceases punishing him]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:19 (#1)

24:19–20 is Saying 29 of the 30 “words of the wise ones.”

Proverbs 24:19 (#2)

אַל־תִּתְחַתֵּר

“Do not make yourself hot”

Here, hot refers to an intense emotion, which causes a person’s body to become hot. This emotion could be: (1) worry or anxiety. Alternate translation: [Do not make yourself fret]; (2) anger, as does “heat” in 6:34. Alternate translation: [Do not make yourself angry]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:20 (#4)

נֵר רָשָׁעִים יִדָּעַךְ

“the lamp of the wicked will be extinguished”

See how you translated the same clause in 13:9.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:20 (#2)

אַחֲרִית

“a future”

Here, the writer refers to a future that is good. See how you translated the same use of future in 23:18.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 24:21 (#4)

שֹׂשׁוֹנִים

“ones who change”

Here, ones who change refers to people who change from respecting authorities, such as Yahweh and the king, to rebelling against them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [ones who rebel]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:22 (#1)

אִידָּם

“their calamity”

See how you translated the abstract nouns calamity in 1:26.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:22 (#5)

שְׁשִׁי־הֵהֱם

“the two of them”

This phrase refers to “Yahweh and the king” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Yahweh and the king]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:22 (#2)

יְקָרִים

“will arise”

Here, the writer speaks of calamity occurring as if it were an object that arises. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [will occur]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:22 (#3)

וּפְּקִיד שְׁשִׁנִּיהֶם מִמִּי יוֹדֵעַ

“and who {is} knowing the destruction of the two of them”

The writer is using the question form to emphasize how terrible the destruction will be. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [and no one knows how terrible the destruction will be from the two of them!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 24:22 (#4)

וּפְּקִיד שְׁשִׁנִּיהֶם

“and & the destruction of the two of them”

the writer is using the possessive form to describe a destruction that is brought about by the two of them. If a speaker of your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could express this idea in another way. Alternate translation: [how destructive the two of them can be]

See: Possession

בְּלִטּוֹב

“is} not good”

See how you translated the same use of not good in 16:29.

See: Litotes

Proverbs 24:23 (#2)

הַכֹּרֶ-פָּנִים

“Recognizing faces”

Recognizing faces is an idiom that means “to show partiality” or “to favor” someone. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of “lift the face” in 18:5. Alternate translation: [Giving pride of place to certain people] or [Being partial to certain people]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 24:23 (#1)

גַּם־אֵלֶּה לְחֻכְמִים

“These also {are} of the wise ones”

These here refers to a new collection of proverbs that continues from this verse to the last verse of this chapter. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The following proverbs are additional sayings of the wise ones]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:23 (#3)

בְּמִשְׁפָּט

“in judgment”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of judgment, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [when judging]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:24 (#3)

לְרָשָׁעִים צַדִּיק

“to a wicked {one & are} righteous”

In this verse, wicked refers to being guilty of doing something wicked and righteous refers to being innocent of doing something wicked. See how you translated the same use of wicked and righteous in 17:15.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:24 (#4)

עַמִּים

“peoples”

Proverbs 24:24 (#1)

אֶמְאָרִי לְרָשָׁעִים יִקְבְּלוּ & יִזְעַמְמוּהוּ

“One saying to a wicked {one & will curse him & will denounce him”

One who says, the wicked one, and him refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who says to any wicked person ... will curse that person ... will denounce that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 24:24 (#5)

לְאֻמִּים

“nations”

Here, nations refers to the people who live in those nations. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [entire nations of people]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:24 (#2)

אֲמַמֶּר | לְרָשָׁע צְדִיק אֶתֶּה

“One saying to a wicked {one}, “You {are} righteous”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [One who says to a wicked one that he is righteous]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 24:25 (#1)

וְלְמוֹכִיחֵתִים

“But for the rebukers”

Here, the rebukers refers to judges who rightly condemn guilty people for the wicked things they have done. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [But for those who convict the guilty ones]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:25 (#4)

בְּרַכְת־טוֹב

“a blessing of goodness”

Here, the writer is using the possessive form to describe a blessing that is characterized by goodness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a good blessing]

See: Possession

Proverbs 24:25 (#2)

יִנְעָם

“it will be pleasant”

Here, it refers to the lives of the rebukers. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [life will be pleasant]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 24:25 (#3)

וְעַל־יְהוָהּ תִּבְרָכָא בְּרַכְת־טוֹב

“and over them will come a blessing of goodness”

Here, the writer refers to people experiencing a blessing as if it were a large covering that could come over those people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and they will experience a blessing of goodness]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:26 (#2)

מִמִּשְׁפָּיִב דְּבָרִים נְכוּחִים

“who returns straightforward words”

Here the writer refers to someone speaking an honest reply to someone else as if he were returning straightforward words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who speaks an honest reply]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 24:26 (#1)

שִׁפְתֵי־נִים יִשְׁשֶׁק

“He kisses lips”

Here, kissing someone’s lips is a symbolic action to show true friendship and loyalty. If this would not be clear to your readers, you could explain the significance of this action in the text or in a footnote. Alternate translation: [He confirms his loyalty by kissing one’s lips]

See: Symbolic Action

Proverbs 24:27 (#2)

אַחֲרָיִךְ וּבִנְיָיִךְ

“and after, you will build”

Solomon is using a future statement to give an instruction or command. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate these words using a command or instruction form. Alternate translation: [and only after, build]

See: Statements — Other Uses

Proverbs 24:27 (#1)

הִתְכַּנֵּן בַּחוּץ | מְלַאכְתְּךָ וְעִתְדֶךָ בַּשָּׂדֶה לְךָ

“Prepare your work in the outdoors, and make it ready for yourself in the field”

The implication in this verse is that the primary work of men is farming. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Do your job outside and prepare your fields for farming]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:28 (#2)

בִּשְׂפָתֶיךָ

“with your lips”

Here, lips refers to what people say by using their lips. See how you translated the same use of lips in 10:18. Alternate translation: [through the things you say]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:28 (#1)

וְהִתְחַתִּיתָ בִּשְׂפָתֶיךָ

“And would you deceive with your lips”

The writer is using the question form to emphasize what a person should not do. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [And you should surely not deceive with your lips!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 24:29 (#3)

עָשָׂה & אֶעֱשֶׂה & כָּפַעְלוּ

“he did & I will do & according to his deed”

The speaker implies that this deed was something bad or harmful to the person speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [he did something bad ... I will do something bad ... according to his bad deed]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:29 (#2)

עָשָׂה & לָלוּ & לְאִישׁ כָּפַעְלוּ

“he did & to him & to the man according to his deed”

Although he, him, the man, and his are masculine, the writer is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful, you could use phrases that make this clear in your language. Alternate translation: [a person did ... to that person ... to that person according to that person's deed]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 24:29 (#1)

אֶל־תֹּאמַר כְּאִשְׁנִי עָשָׂה־לִּי כֵּן אֶעֱשֶׂה־לָּלוּ אֲשִׁיב לְאִישׁ כָּפַעְלוּ

“Do not say, “Just as he did to me, so I will do to him; I will return to the man according to his deed”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [Do not say that you will do to him just as he did to you, or that you will return to the man according to his deed]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 24:30 (#2)

אָדָם חִסֵּר־לֵב

“a man lacking of heart”

See how you translated this phrase in 17:18.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:30 (#1)

עַל־שָׂדֶה אִישׁ־עֲצָל עִבְרָתִי וְעַל־כָּפָרִם אָדָם חִסֵּר־לֵב

“I passed over the field of a lazy man and over the vineyard of a man lacking of heart”

Verses 24:30–24:34 are one long proverb that warns against being lazy.

Proverbs 24:31 (#1)

וְהִנֵּה

“And behold”

Here, behold is a term meant to focus the attention of the reader to what is about to happen next in the story. See how you translated the same use of behold in 7:10.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 24:31 (#3)

כָּלֵלָו & פָּנָיו

“all of it & its face”

Here, it and its refer to all the land that includes both the field and vineyard mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [all of that land ... that land’s face]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 24:31 (#5)

פָּנָיו

“its face”

Here, face refers to the surface of the ground. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [its surface]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 24:31 (#4)

כָּסָפוֹ פָּנָיו חָרְלָלִים

“its face was covered {with} weeds”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [weeds covered its face]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 24:31 (#7)

נִהָרְסָה

“was torn down”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [had collapsed]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 24:31 (#6)

וַיִּגְדֵּר אֲבָנִים

“and the wall of its stones”

Here the writer is using the possessive form to describe a wall that is made of stones. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and the wall made of stones]

See: Possession

Proverbs 24:31 (#2)

עָלְלָה כָּלֵלָו | קָמְשָׁנִים

“all of it went up {with} thorns”

SPEAKER is using all of it went up as a common expression of his culture to mean “it was all overgrown.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [all of it was overgrown with thorns] or [thorns had grown up everywhere]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 24:32 (#3)

אֲשַׁשִּׁית לִבִּי

“I set my heart”

Proverbs 24:32 (#4)

לִקְקַחְתִּי מוֹסֵר

“I received instruction”

See how you translated the same use of instruction in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 24:32 (#5)

לִקְקַחְתִּי מוֹסֵר

“I received instruction”

The writer assumes that his readers will understand that what follows in the next two verses is the instruction he refers to here. You could include this information if that would be helpful to your readers. Alternate translation: [I received the following instruction] or [I learned the following lesson]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 24:32 (#1)

וַאֲחִיזָה אֲנִי & רָאִיתִי

“And I myself looked & I saw”

The writer is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous two verses if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [And I myself looked at that field and vineyard ... I saw them]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 24:32 (#2)

וְאֶחָדָם אֶעְיָן

“And I myself looked”

Here, the writer uses the word myself to emphasize the significance of his observations about the lazy person’s land. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this significance. Alternate translation: [And I looked with my own eyes]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 24:33 (#1)

מִעֲעֵט שְׁנָנוֹת מִעֲעֵט תְּנוּמָמוֹת מִעֲעֵט חֲבִיבִּים יָדָיוֹם לְשָׁקֵב

Proverbs - Chapter 25 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Hezekiah’s proverbs from Solomon (25:1–29:27)

- Warnings and admonitions (25:1–27:27)
- Contrastive wise sayings (28:1–29:27)

Chapter 25 begins the section of the book containing proverbs written by Solomon that were copied by scribes during the reign of Hezekiah. This section contains two parts, the first part in 25:1–27:27 mostly contains proverbs that warn or admonish.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 25–27 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 25 also contains one instance of contrasting parallelism (25:2). (See: Parallelism)

Metaphors

Solomon uses many different metaphors in this chapter to warn his readers against acting unwisely. (See: Metaphor)

Proverbs 25:1 (#2)

מִשְׁלָלִי שְׁלֵמָה

“are} proverbs of Solomon”

See how you translated proverbs of Solomon in 1:1.

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:1 (#4)

הִקְצַת־תִּיקוֹ

“copied”

Here, copied implies that the men of Hezekiah copied these proverbs from a scroll that was written by Solomon or one of his scribes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [copied from a scroll written by Solomon]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:1 (#3)

אֲנָשֵׁי חֲזָקִיָּה

“the men of Hezekiah”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe the men who served Hezekiah. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the men who served Hezekiah]

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:1 (#1)

גַּם־אֵלֶּה מִשְׁלָלִי שְׁלֵמָה

“These also {are} proverbs of Solomon”

These here refers to a new collection of proverbs that continues from this verse to the last verse of chapter 29. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The following proverbs are additional sayings of Solomon]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:2 (#2)

הַסִּתֵּי־דָבָר

“is} to hide a matter”

Here Solomon speaks of God making a matter that is mysterious or difficult to understand as if he were hiding it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is to make a matter mysterious]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:2 (#4)

חִקְקֵה דָבָר

“is} to search out a matter”

Here Solomon speaks of kings explaining a matter that is mysterious or difficult to understand as if they search for it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is to explain a mysterious matter]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:2 (#1)

כְּבוֹד & וּכְבוֹד

“The glory of & but the glory of”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of glory, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [What is glorious about ... but what is glorious about]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:2 (#3)

דָּבָר & דָּבָר

“a matter & a matter”

The word matter represents matters in general, not one particular matter. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [any matter ... that matter]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:3 (#5)

וְלֵלֶב

“and the heart of”

See how you translated the same use of “hearts” in 15:11.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:3 (#2)

לָרוֹם & לְעֵמֶק

“for height & for depth”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of height and depth, you could express the same ideas in other ways. Alternate translation: [for what is high ... for what is deep]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:3 (#6)

אֵין חִקְוֵה

“is not searchable”

Here Solomon speaks of it being difficult to understand the heart of kings as if it were something that could not be searched for. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is difficult to comprehend]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:3 (#1)

שָׁמַיִם לָרוֹם וָאָרֶץ לְעֵמֶק

“Heavens for height and earth for depth”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Heavens are an example of height and earth is an example of depth]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 25:3 (#3)

וְלֵלֶב מִן־לְבָבִים

“and the heart of kings”

Here, and introduces a comparison between what follows and what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that the heart of kings cannot be fully known, just like the extent of the Heavens and earth cannot be fully known. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way the heart of kings]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:3 (#4)

וְלֵב מִמְלָכִים אֵינוֹ חָקֵר

“and the heart of kings is not searchable”

The word heart represents the hearts of kings in general, not one particular king’s heart. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [and the hearts of kings are not searchable]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:4 (#4)

לְצַרְרֵךְ

“for the refiner”

Here, the refiner refers to someone who removes unwanted material from metal by melting the metal and taking the dross out of the melted metal. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of person, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the person who removes unwanted material from metal]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 25:4 (#3)

וַיֵּצֵא לְצַרְרֵךְ כֶּלִי

“and a vessel comes out for the refiner”

Here Solomon refers to the refiner making a vessel from the silver mentioned in the previous clause as if that vessel comes out from the silver. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a vessel is made by the refiner]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:4 (#1)

סִיגִימִם

“dross”

The word dross refers to material in metal that people do not want, so the refiner removes the impurities by melting the metal and taking the dross out of the melted metal. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of process, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the unwanted material]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 25:4 (#2)

וַיֵּצֵא & כֶּלִי

“and a vessel comes out”

The word translated and at the beginning of this clause indicates that the event in the previous clause happens before the event in the second clause can happen. Use a natural form in your language to introduce the next event in a story. Alternate translation: [before a vessel comes out] or [so then a vessel can come out]

See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

Proverbs 25:5 (#4)

וַיִּכְסֶּן בַּצִּדִּיק כִּסְאוֹ

“and his throne will be established by righteousness”

See how you translated the similar phrase “by righteousness is a throne established” in 16:12.

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 25:5 (#3)

לְפָנַי

“to the face of”

See how you translated the same use of this phrase in 14:19.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:5 (#2)

רָשָׁע & מַמְלֵךְ & כִּסְאוֹ

“a wicked one & the king & his throne”

Here, a wicked one, the king, and his refer to types of people in general, not to specific people. See how you translated the same use of a wicked one in 9:7 and the king and his in 16:13.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:5 (#1)

הִגְדִּי

“Remove”

In this verse, Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous verse. In the same way that “dross” must be removed from silver in order to make a vessel, a wicked one must be removed from before the face of the king in order for that king’s throne to be established by righteousness.

If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Similarly, remove] or [So also remove]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:6 (#2)

לפני־מַלְכוֹת

“to the face of the king”

See how you translated this phrase in the previous verse.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:6 (#1)

אַל־תִּתְהַדָּדֶר לִפְנֵי־מַמְלָכָה וּבִמְקוֹמָם גָּדֵד־לָלִים אֶל־תַּעֲמֹד

“Do not honor yourself to the face of the king, and in the place of the great ones do not stand”

The two clauses in this verse say similar things, but the phrases in the second clause are in reverse order. This is a literary device called a chiasm. Here, the writer does this in order to emphasize the importance of not honoring yourself in front of kings. See the discussion of chiasms in the book introduction.

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 25:6 (#3)

וּבִמְקוֹמָם גָּדֵד־לָלִים אֶל־תַּעֲמֹד

“and in the place of the great ones do not stand”

This could refer to: (1) considering oneself to be a great person who belongs to a group of great ones. Alternate translation: [and do not consider yourself to be one of the great ones] or [and do not consider yourself to be a great one]; (2) standing among a group of great ones. Alternate translation: [and among the great ones do not stand]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:7 (#6)

לִפְנֵי

“to the face of”

See how you translated this phrase in the previous verse.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:7 (#7)

אֲשֶׁשֶׁר רָאִיו עֵינֶיךָ

“whom your eyes have seen”

This clause could refer to: (1) the noble mentioned in the previous clause. Alternate translation: [whom your eyes have observed]; (2) what someone sees that causes them to begin the dispute mentioned in the next verse, in which case whom would be translated as “what,” and this clause would start a new sentence that continues into the next verse. Alternate translation: [What your eyes have witnessed]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:7 (#3)

עָלֶיךָ הִתְנַהֵּב

“Come up here”

Come up here means to move to a place near the king, which is a great honor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Come up here, near the king]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:7 (#5)

מִמַּהֲשֵׁפְפִי־לֶךְ

“than to humiliate you”

Solomon implies that this humiliation is due to someone telling the person to move farther away from the king in order for more important people to be near him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [than to humiliate you by telling you to take a lower place]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:7 (#4)

מִמַּהֲשֵׁפְפִי־לֶךְ

“than to humiliate you”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [than for a person to humiliate you]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 25:7 (#1)

טוֹב אֶמְרֶי־לֶךְ

“better to say to you”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [it is better for a person to say to you] or [it is better for the king to say to you]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 25:7 (#2)

לֹדֶךָ עָלְלָה הַמֶּלֶךְ

“to you, “Come up here”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [to you that you should come up there]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 25:7 (#8)

עֵינֶיךָ

“your eyes”

Here, eyes represents the ability of a person to see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly, as in the UST. See how you translated the same use of eyes in 23:26.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:8 (#2)

מִה־תִּתְנַעֵשׂ בְּאַחֲרֵיתָהּ בְּהַכְלִים אֶת־דֶּךָ רָעָד

“what will you do in its end when your neighbor humiliates you”

Solomon is using the question form to make the reader consider what would happen if they lose the dispute. The way in which the neighbor might put the reader to shame can be stated plainly. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [you will not know what to do in its end when your neighbor humiliates you!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 25:8 (#3)

בְּהַכְלִים אֶת־דֶּךָ רָעָד

“when your neighbor humiliates you”

Solomon implies that your neighbor humiliates you because you lose the legal dispute. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [when you lose and your neighbor humiliates you]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:8 (#1)

לְרִיב

“to dispute”

Here, dispute refers to arguing a legal case against someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to argue a legal case against your neighbor]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:9 (#3)

וְסִסְוֹד אַחֶתֶר אֶל־תִּגְלֵל

“and the secret of another do not uncover”

See how you translated the similar phrase “uncovering a secret” in 11:13.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:9 (#1)

הַרִיבִיד הַרִיב

“Dispute your dispute”

Here, Dispute your dispute is an emphatic construction that uses a verb and its object that both come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis.

See: Poetry

Proverbs 25:9 (#4)

וְסִסְוֹד אַחֶתֶר אֶל־תִּגְלֵל

“and the secret of another do not uncover”

Here, another could refer to: (1) your neighbor. Alternate translation: [and the secret of that neighbor]; (2) someone other than your neighbor, which would indicate telling someone else’s secret to win the dispute against one’s neighbor. Alternate translation: [and the secret of another person]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:9 (#2)

הַרִיבִיד הַרִיב

“Dispute your dispute”

Dispute is an imperative, but it introduces a conditional situation. Use a form in your language that communicates this, such as in the UST.

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 25:10 (#5)

לֹא תָשׁוּב

“not turn back”

Solomon is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [will keep going] or [will continue to spread]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 25:10 (#2)

שִׁמְעָה

“one who hears”

Here, one who hears represents a type of person in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [anyone hears]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:10 (#1)

כִּן

“lest”

Here, lest indicates that what follows would be an undesirable outcome of doing what Solomon prohibited in the previous verse. See how you translated the same use of lest in 24:18.

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 25:10 (#3)

וְלִדְבָרְךָ

“and the rumor {of} you”

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:10 (#4)

לֹא תָשׁוּב

“not turn back”

Here Solomon speaks of a rumor, meaning the news that a secret has been betrayed, as if it were a person who continues to travel. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [spreads continually]

See: Personification

Proverbs 25:11 (#3)

תְּפִיחַתִּי יִזְהַב בְּמִשְׁכִּינֵי כֶסֶף

“Apples of gold in sculptures of silver”

Here Solomon is using possessive forms to describe Apples made from gold and sculptures made from silver. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use different expressions. Alternate translation: [Apples made of gold in sculptures made of silver]

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:11 (#2)

תְּפִיחַתִּי יִזְהַב בְּמִשְׁכִּינֵי כֶסֶף

“Apples of gold in sculptures of silver”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of a word spoken according to its circumstance pleasing those who hear it as if it were Apples of gold in sculptures of silver. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Very pleasing] or [Like apples of gold in sculptures of silver]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:11 (#6)

דִּבְרָה

“spoken”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [someone speaks]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 25:11 (#4)

בְּמִשְׁכִּינֵי כֶסֶף

“in sculptures of silver”

Here, the word translated as sculptures refers to silver that someone carved into a beautiful shape. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in beautiful carvings of silver]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:11 (#5)

דִּבְכָּר

“is} a word”

Here, word refers to what someone speaks by using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is something] or [are words]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:11 (#7)

עַל-אֶפְנִי

“according to its circumstance”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of circumstance, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [appropriately]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:11 (#1)

תְּפִיחַתִּי זָהָב בְּמִשְׁפָּיִת כָּסֶף דִּבְכָּר דְּבָר עַל-אֶפְנִי

“Apples of gold in sculptures of silver {is} a word spoken according to its circumstance”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [A word spoken according to its circumstance is apples of gold in sculptures of silver]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:12 (#3)

נָגַם זָהָב וְחִלִּי-כֶכֶתֶם

“A ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold”

Here Solomon is using possessive forms to describe a ring made from gold and jewelry made from fine gold. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use different expressions. Alternate translation: [A ring made of gold and jewelry made of fine gold]

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:12 (#2)

נָגַם זָהָב וְחִלִּי-כֶכֶתֶם

“A ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of a wise rebuke being valuable to those who hear it as if it were A ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Very valuable] or [Like a ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:12 (#4)

מוֹכִיחַ הָחֶכֶם עַל

“is} a wise rebuke to”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of rebuke, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [is when someone wisely corrects]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:12 (#1)

נָגַם זָהָב וְחִלִּי-כֶכֶתֶם מוֹכִיחַ הָחֶכֶם עַל-אָזְנוֹ שְׁמִיעַת

“A ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold {is} a wise rebuke to a listening ear”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [A wise rebuke to a listening ear is a ring of gold and jewelry of fine gold]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:12 (#5)

אָזְנוֹ שְׁמִיעַת

“a listening ear”

Here, a listening ear refers to someone who not only hears the rebuke, but accepts it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of ear in 18:15. Alternate translation: [someone who accepts it]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:13 (#4)

וַיָּבֹא אֲדֹנָיו חַיִּים

“and he brings back the life of his masters”

The phrase brings back the life is an idiom that refers to causing a tired person to feel refreshed or strong again. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and he causes his masters to feel refreshed]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 25:13 (#3)

צִירִי שְׁלֵחַת־יָדָיו וְנִפְשׁ אֲדֹנָיו יָשִׁיב

“is} a faithful envoy for his senders, and he brings back the life of his masters”

Here, a faithful envoy, his, and he refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [is any faithful envoy for that person’s senders, and that brings brings back the life of that person’s masters]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:13 (#1)

כְּצִנֹּת־שֶׁשֶׁלֶג | בַּיּוֹם קִצְצִיר

“Like the coolness of snow in the day of harvest”

Here Solomon compares a faithful envoy to the coolness of snow on the day of harvest because both are refreshing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly: Alternate translation: [Very refreshing] or [Refreshing like the coolness of snow in the day of harvest]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:13 (#2)

בַּיּוֹם קִצְצִיר

“in the day of harvest”

Here, day refers to a period of time when something happens. It does not refer to a single 24-hour length of time. This probably refers to the time of the wheat and barley harvest in May-June, when the weather is hot and snow very unlikely, which is why it would be welcome and refreshing. See how you translated the same use of day in 21:31.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:14 (#2)

נִשְׂיֵאָאִים נִרְוִיחַ וְגִגְשָׁם אֵאִין

“Clouds and wind but without rain”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of the man who boasts in a gift of falsehood being disappointing as if he were Clouds and wind but without rain. Clouds and wind usually indicate that there will also be rain, so Clouds and wind without rain would disappoint farmers who need rain for their crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Very disappointing] or [Like clouds and wind but no rain]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:14 (#4)

בְּמַתַּת־שֶׁקֶר

“in a gift of falsehood”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a gift that is characterized by falsehood. This refers to a gift the someone promises to give but does not give. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [in a false gift] or [in a gift that he falsely promises to give]

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:14 (#3)

אִישׁ

“is} the man”

The word man represents people in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [is any person]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:15 (#1)

בְּאֶרְךְ אַאֲפִים

“By length of nostrils”

The phrase length of nostrils refers to being patient and not getting angry quickly. The word nostrils means “anger” by association with the way that a person who is angry breathes heavily through his nose, causing his nostrils to open wide. Your language and culture may also associate anger with a particular part of the body. If so, you could use an expression involving that part of the body in your translation. You could also use plain language. See how you translated the similar phrase “long of nostrils” in 14:29. Alternate translation: [By keeping a cool head] or [By not getting angry quickly]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 25:15 (#4)

וְלִשְׁוֹן רֹכֶכֶה

“and a soft tongue”

Here Solomon is speaking of something spoken in a gentle manner as if someone were speaking with a soft tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and speaking gently]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:15 (#5)

תִּשְׁבֹּר־גֵּרֶם

“can break a bone”

Here Solomon speaks of overcoming strong opposition as if someone were breaking a bone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [can overcome strong opposition]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:15 (#2)

יִפְתָּה קֶצֶץ

“a commander may be persuaded”

Proverbs 25:16 (#1)

דִּבְרֵשׁ מִמְצָאָה

“If} you find honey”

Here Solomon refers to someone unexpectedly discovering wild honey. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [If you happen to come across honey]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:16 (#4)

תִּתְשַׂבֵּעַ עִנּוּ

“you become satiated with it”

Here, the word translated as satiated refers to someone overeating to the degree that he becomes sick. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [you eat yourself sick with it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:16 (#2)

אֲכַל דִּימָד

“eat enough {for} you”

Here Solomon implies that someone should only eat enough and not more than that. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [only eat enough for you]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:16 (#3)

כִּן־תִּתְשַׂבֵּעַ עִנּוּ וְהִקְאִתוּ

“lest you become satiated with it and you vomit it up”

Solomon is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives the instruction to follow so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [otherwise you will become satiated with it and vomit it up]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 25:17 (#1)

הַקָּר

“Make rare”

In this verse, Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous verse. In the same way that a person must not eat too much honey, a person must also avoid visiting his neighbor's house too frequently. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Similarly, make rare] or [So also make rare]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:17 (#2)

הַקָּר רַגְלְךָ מִבֵּית רֵעֶךָ

“Make rare your foot from the house of your neighbor”

Alternate translation: [Prevent your foot from frequently being in the house of your neighbor]

Proverbs 25:17 (#5)

יִשְׂבָּעְךָ

“he become satiated with you”

Here, Solomon is comparing the visitor to a food of which the neighbor has eaten too much. This expression refers to people being annoyed with someone because that person visits them too frequently. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. If your language has a word that can be used for both this occurrence of satiated and the occurrence in the previous verse, consider using it here. Alternate translation: [he become sick of you] or [he become tired of seeing you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:18 (#4)

עֲנֵה בְרֵעֲךָ עֵד שְׁקָר

“who answers a testimony of falsehood against his neighbor”

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:18 (#3)

אִישׁ עֲנֵה בְרֵעֲךָ

“is” a man who answers & against his neighbor”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear. Alternate translation: [is a person who answers ... against that person's neighbor]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 25:18 (#5)

עֵד שְׁקָר

“a testimony of falsehood”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a testimony that is characterized by falsehood. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a false testimony]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:20 (#4)

חֹמֶץ עַל־נֹגֶת

“vinegar on natron”

The substance natron is a naturally-occurring mineral salt that is mostly sodium carbonate. In the ancient world, it was used for cleaning and some other things. When mixed with vinegar, it causes a violent chemical reaction. Therefore, this clause refers to two things that should not be put together. If your readers would not be familiar with these two materials, you could use the names of similar things in your area, or you could use a more general term. See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:22 (#1)

גִּחְלָלִים אֲתָהּ הֹתֵתָה עַל־רֹאשׁוֹ

“you are heaping embers on his head”

Here, Solomon is speaking of causing an enemy to feel the pain of shame and embarrassment as if he were causing the physical pain of heaping embers on his head. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [you are causing him to feel ashamed for what he has done] or [you are making him feel ashamed, as if you were heaping embers on his head]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:23 (#1)

רַחֲוֵה צָפוֹן

“The wind of the north”

Here, wind of the north refers to cold wind that came from the north. In Israel, this type of wind often brought rain. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The cold wind that comes from the north]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:23 (#3)

וּפָנִים נִזְעָמִים

“and indignant faces”

In this verse, Solomon compares The wind of the north bringing rain to a tongue of secrecy bringing indignant faces. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly: Alternate translation: [and similarly, indignant faces]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:23 (#2)

וּפָנִים נִזְעָמִים לְשׁוֹן סֵתֶר

“and indignant faces, a tongue of secrecy”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. Here, the first phrase is the result of the second phrase. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and a tongue of secrecy brings forth indignant faces] or [and a tongue of secrecy causes indignant faces]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 25:23 (#5)

לְשׁוֹן סֵתֶר

“a tongue of secrecy”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a tongue that tells the secrets of others. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [a tongue that tells the secrets of others]

See: Possession

Proverbs 25:23 (#4)

וּפָנִים נִזְעָמִים

“and indignant faces”

Here, faces refers to the people whose faces show that they are indignant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and indignant people]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 25:23 (#6)

לְשׁוֹן סֵתֶר

“a tongue of secrecy”

Here, tongue refers to the person who speaks with his tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a person who tells secrets]

“so {is} good news”

See how you translated good news in 15:30.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 25:25 (#2)

נֶפֶשׁ עֵיפָה

“a weary soul”

Here Solomon implies that this soul is weary with thirst. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [a soul weary from thirst]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:25 (#1)

ממים קצרים על הנפש ציפפה ושמועה טובתה מארץ מרחק

“Cool water over a weary soul, so {is} good news from a distant land”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [Good news from a distant land is like cool water over a weary soul]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:25 (#4)

ושמועה טובתה מארץ מרחק

“so {is} good news from a distant land”

Solomon is saying that good news from a distant land is like Cool water over a weary soul because both of these are refreshing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [so also is good news from a distant land refreshing]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:26 (#4)

צדדיק & רשע

“is} a righteous {one & a wicked {one”

See how you translated a righteous one in 9:9 and a wicked one in 9:7.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 25:26 (#5)

ממט

“swaying”

Here, swaying refers to a righteous one yielding to the influence of a wicked one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who yields] or [who gives in]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:26 (#2)

מענין הנפש ומקור משחת

“A spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of a righteous one swaying before the face of a wicked one being bad as if that person were A spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Very bad] or [Like a spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:26 (#6)

לפני

“to the face of”

See how you translated the same use of to the face of in 14:19.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:26 (#3)

מענין הנפש ומקור משחת

“A spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled”

If your language does not use these passive forms, you could express the ideas in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [A spring someone muddied by trampling and a fountain someone spoiled]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 25:26 (#1)

מענין הנפש ומקור משחת צדדיק ממט לפני רשע

“A spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled {is} a righteous {one} swaying to the face of a wicked {one”

If it would be helpful in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [A righteous one swaying before the face of a wicked one is a spring muddied by trampling and a fountain spoiled]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 25:27 (#4)

וחקר כבודם

“also the searching out {of} their honor”

Here Solomon speaks of someone trying to get other people to honor him as if honor were an object that a person could search for. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and trying to make other people honor you]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:27 (#2)

וְהִתְקַר כְּבִדָּהּ כְּבוֹד

“also the searching out {of} their honor, honor”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and the searching out of their honor is not honor]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 25:27 (#3)

וְהִתְקַר

“also the searching out {of}”

In this verse, Solomon compares eating much honey to searching out one’s own honor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly: Alternate translation: [and similarly, the searching out of]

See: Simile

Proverbs 25:27 (#1)

לֹא־טוֹב

“is} not good”

See: Litotes

Proverbs 25:28 (#2)

עֵינֵי פְּרוּצָה אֵינִי חֹמְמָה

“A breached city without a wall”

In this verse, Solomon speaks of a man who has no restraint for his spirit being defenseless or unprotected as if that person were A breached city without a wall. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Very defenseless] or [Like a breached city without a wall]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:28 (#3)

עֵינֵי פְּרוּצָה אֵינִי חֹמְמָה

“A breached city without a wall”

Here Solomon implies that there is no wall because it was broken down when people breached the city. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [A city whose walls an army has knocked down]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 25:28 (#5)

אִשׁוֹר אֵינִי מְעַצֵּר לְרוּחִי

“who has no restraint for his spirit”

Here Solomon refers to someone who lacks self-control as if that person were not able to restrain his spirit. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who has no self-control]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 25:28 (#4)

אִישׁ & לְרוּחוֹ

“is} a man & for his spirit”

Although the terms man and his are masculine, Solomon is using these words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use phrases that make this clear in your language. Alternate translation: [is a person ... for that person’s spirit]

Proverbs - Chapter 26 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Hezekiah’s proverbs from Solomon (25:1–29:27)

- Warnings and admonitions (25:1–27:27)

- Contrastive wise sayings (28:1-29:27)

Chapter 26 continues the section of the book containing proverbs written by Solomon that were copied by scribes during the reign of Hezekiah. This section contains two parts, the first part in 25:1-27:27 mostly contains proverbs that warn or admonish.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 25-27 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 26 contains only this type of parallelism. (See: Parallelism)

Similes

Solomon uses many different similes in this chapter to warn his readers against acting unwisely. (See: Simile)

Proverbs 26:1 (#4)

כבוד

“honor”

See how you translated the abstract noun honor in 3:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 26:1 (#3)

כַּשֵּׁשֶׁלֶג אֶבְקָרִיז וְכַמְטָטָר בְּקִצְצִיר

“Like the snow in the summer and like the rain in the harvest”

The words Like and so in this verse indicate that Solomon is comparing snow in the summer and rain in the harvest with honor for a stupid one. The point is that all three of these are not suitable or inappropriate. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [Just as the snow in the summer or the rain in the harvest are not suitable]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:1 (#2)

כַּשֵּׁשֶׁלֶג אֶבְקָרִיז וְכַמְטָטָר בְּקִצְצִיר & לְכֶסֶסִּיל

“Like the snow in the summer and like the rain in the harvest & for a stupid one”

Here, the snow, the summer, the rain, the harvest, and a stupid one, refer to these things and that type of person in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [Like any snow in any summer and like any rain in any harvest ... for any stupid person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:1 (#1)

כַּשֵּׁשֶׁלֶג אֶבְקָרִיז וְכַמְטָטָר בְּקִצְצִיר כִּכְּבוֹד

“Like the snow in the summer and like the rain in the harvest, so honor {is} not suitable for a stupid one”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [Honor is not suitable for a stupid one like the snow in the summer and like the rain in the harvest]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 26:2 (#5)

בְּדֶרְדֹר

“like the swallow”

A swallow is a small bird that quickly flies back and forth. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bird, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [as the quickly moving small bird]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 26:2 (#4)

כַּצִּפּוֹר לְלִנּוּד בְּדֶרְדֹר לְעֵעוּף

“Like the bird for fluttering, like the swallow for flying”

The phrases the bird for fluttering and the swallow for flying mean similar things. Solomon is using the two phrases together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [As birds that are flying around]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 26:2 (#2)

כַּצִּפּוֹר לְלִנּוּד בְּדֶרְדֹר לְעֵעוּף כִּכְּלָלִית

“Like the bird for fluttering, like the swallow for flying, so a curse”

Here, the bird, the swallow, and a curse refer to these things in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Like any bird for fluttering, and like any swallow for flying, so any curse]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:2 (#3)

בַּצִּפּוֹר לְלִנּוּד בְּדֶרְדֹר לְעֵנָף

“Like the bird for fluttering, like the swallow for flying”

The words Like and so in this verse indicate that Solomon is comparing the bird for fluttering and the swallow for flying with a curse without cause. The point is that a curse does not affect a person who does not deserve it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [Just like the fluttering bird and the flying swallow do not land]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:2 (#6)

לֹא תָבֹא

“does not come”

Here Solomon speaks of a person not being affected by a curse as if that curse were a person who does not come. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [does not occur]

See: Personification

Proverbs 26:2 (#1)

בַּצִּפּוֹר לְלִנּוּד בְּדֶרְדֹר לְעֵנָף כִּכְנָן קִלְלַת הָחַיִּים לֹא תָבֹא

“Like the bird for fluttering, like the swallow for flying, so a curse without cause does not come”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [A curse without cause does not come, like the bird for fluttering, like the swallow for flying]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 26:3 (#4)

וְשִׁשְׁבֶט לִגְגּוֹ

“and a rod for the back of”

See how you translated the same use of rod for the back in 10:13.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 26:3 (#3)

וְשִׁשְׁבֶט

“and a rod”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that people must hit stupid ones with a rod in order to control them, just like they must use a whip to control horses and a bridle to control donkeys. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way a rod]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:3 (#2)

שִׁשְׁבֶט לִלְסוֹם מִמֶּתֶג לַחֲמֹר וְשִׁשְׁבֶט לִגְגּוֹ כְּסִילִים

“A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and a rod for the back of stupid ones”

A whip, the horse, a bridle, the donkey, a rod, and the back refer to these things and animals in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Whips are for horses, bridles are for donkeys, and rods are for backs of stupid ones]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:3 (#1)

שִׁשְׁבֶט לִלְסוֹם מִמֶּתֶג לַחֲמֹר וְשִׁשְׁבֶט לִגְגּוֹ כְּסִילִים

“A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and a rod for the back of stupid ones”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [A whip is for the horse, a bridle is for the donkey, and a rod is for the back of stupid ones]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 26:4 (#3)

בְּאִוְלֵתוֹ

“according to his folly”

See how you translated the abstract noun folly in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 26:4 (#1)

כְּכִסִּיל בְּאִוְלֵתוֹ & לָלוֹ

“a stupid one according to his folly & him”

Here, a stupid one, his, and him refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [any stupid person according to that person's folly ... that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:4 (#5)

תְּשׁוּנָה & גַּם־אֶתָּה

“you yourself also become like”

Solomon uses the word yourself to emphasize how important it is to not become like a stupid one. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this significance. Alternate translation: [even you become like]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 26:4 (#2)

בְּאֵלֶיךָ

“according to his folly”

This could mean: (1) according to the reasoning of a stupid one. Alternate translation: [according to his foolish reasoning]; (2) in the same manner as a stupid one. Alternate translation: [in a foolish manner]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:4 (#4)

כְּתְשׁוּנָה־לְלֹו גַּם־אֶתָּה

“lest you yourself also become like him”

Solomon is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives the instruction to not answer a stupid one so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [otherwise you might become like him]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 26:4–5 (#1)

אֶל־תִּתֶּנֶן בְּכִסִּיל בְּאֵלֶיךָ & עֲנֵה בְּכִסִּיל בְּאֵלֶיךָ

“Do not answer a stupid one according to his folly & Answer a stupid one according to his folly”

These two proverbs appear to contradict each other. It may be that we are to understand the command in 24:4 to apply in some situations and the command in 24:5

to apply in other situations. Or it may be that we are to understand according to his folly in different senses in the two verses, such as “Do not answer a stupid one with more of the same foolishness” in verse 4, and “Answer a stupid one who is saying foolish things” in verse 5. But it appears that Solomon intended his readers to read the same words and to ponder how both could be true.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:5 (#2)

בְּכִסִּיל בְּאֵלֶיךָ

“a stupid one according to his folly”

See how you translated this phrase in the previous verse.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:5 (#4)

הַכֶּכֶם בְּעֵינָיו

“wise in his eyes”

See how you translated the same use of eyes in 3:7.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:5 (#1)

בְּכִסִּיל בְּאֵלֶיךָ פֶּן־יִהְיֶה הַכֶּכֶם בְּעֵינָיו

“a stupid one according to his folly, lest he become wise in his eyes”

Here, a stupid one, his, and he refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [any stupid person according to that person's folly, lest that person become wise in that person's own eyes]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:5 (#3)

פֶּן־יִהְיֶה הַכֶּכֶם בְּעֵינָיו

“lest he become wise in his eyes”

Solomon is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first gives the instruction to Answer a stupid one so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [otherwise he might become wise in his eyes]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 26:6 (#5)

הַמָּמָס

“violence”

See how you translated the abstract noun violence in 3:31.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 26:6 (#3)

מִקְצָצָה רַגְלִים הַמָּמָס שֶׁתֵּתָה

“One cutting off feet, one drinking violence”

Here Solomon implies that a person cuts off his own feet and drinks violence against himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who cuts off his own feet, one who drinks violence against himself]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:6 (#2)

מִקְצָצָה רַגְלִים הַמָּמָס שֶׁתֵּתָה שְׁלַלֵּחַ דְּבָרִים בְּיַד־כְּסִיל

“One cutting off feet, one drinking violence, {is} one sending words by the hand of a stupid {one}”

One who cuts off, one who drinks, one who sends, the hand, and a stupid one refer to types of people and hands in general, not specific people or a specific hand. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [Any person who cuts off feet, any person who drinks violence, is any person who sends words by a hand of any stupid person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:6 (#4)

מִקְצָצָה רַגְלִים הַמָּמָס שֶׁתֵּתָה

“One cutting off feet, one drinking violence”

Here Solomon refers to someone who does something that harms himself as if that person cuts off his own feet and drinks violence. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [One who harms himself] or [Like one who cuts off his feet or drinks violence]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:6 (#6)

שְׁלַלֵּחַ דְּבָרִים

“{is} one sending words”

Here Solomon refers to a message that is communicated by using words. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is one who sends a message]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 26:6 (#1)

מִקְצָצָה רַגְלִים הַמָּמָס שֶׁתֵּתָה שְׁלַלֵּחַ דְּבָרִים בְּיַד־כְּסִיל

“One cutting off feet, one drinking violence, {is} one sending words by the hand of a stupid {one}”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [One who sends words by the hand of a stupid one is one who cuts off feet, one who drinks violence]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 26:6 (#7)

בְּיַד־כְּסִיל

“by the hand of a stupid {one}”

Here, hand represents the control that a person has. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [in the care of a stupid one]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 26:7 (#1)

דָּלְיוֹ

“dangle”

Here Solomon implies that these Legs dangle uselessly because the legs of a lame one do not function. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [dangle uselessly]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:7 (#3)

וְאִמְשָׁל

“and a proverb”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that a proverb in the mouth of stupid ones is like the Legs of a lame one because it is useless. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way a proverb]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:7 (#4)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל בְּפִי

“and a proverb in the mouth of”

Here, a proverb and the mouth refer to proverbs and mouths in general, not a specific proverb or mouth. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any proverb in the mouths of]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:7 (#2)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל

“and a proverb”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and a proverb dangles]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 26:7 (#5)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל בְּפִי

“and a proverb in the mouth of”

Here, mouth refers to what a person says by using his mouth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a proverb spoken by]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 26:8 (#5)

לְכֶסֶדִּי

“to a stupid one”

See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:8 (#2)

כְּצִרְרוֹר אֶאָבֵן בְּמִרְגָּמָה

“Like tying a stone in a sling”

The words Like and so in this verse indicate that Solomon is comparing tying a stone in a sling with giving honor to a stupid one. The point is that both of these are useless. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [Just as tying a stone in a sling is useless]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:8 (#4)

נוֹתֵתֵן & כְּבוֹד

“is} one who gives honor”

Here Solomon refers to honoring someone as if honor were an object that someone gives to someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is one who honors]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:8 (#3)

כְּצִרְרוֹר אֶאָבֵן בְּמִרְגָּמָה

“Like tying a stone in a sling”

A sling is a weapon used to throw a stone at someone. The act of tying a stone in a sling would make that sling useless. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of weapon, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [Like tying an arrow to a bow] or [Like a weapon that cannot hurt anyone]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 26:8 (#1)

כְּצִרְרוֹר אֶאָבֵן בְּמִרְגָּמָה כִּי־נוֹתֵתֵן לְכֶסֶדִּי כְבוֹד

“Like tying a stone in a sling, so {is} one who gives honor to a stupid one”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [One who gives honor to a stupid one is like tying a stone in a sling]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 26:9 (#4)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל בְּפִי כְסִילִים

“and a proverb in the mouth of stupid ones”

See how you translated this clause in 26:7.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:9 (#3)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל

“and a proverb”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that a proverb in the mouth of stupid ones is like A thorn that goes up into the hand of a drunkard because it is harmful. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way a proverb is harmful]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:9 (#2)

וּמִשְׁשָׁל

“and a proverb”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and a proverb goes up]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 26:9 (#1)

הַחֹמֶץ עָלֶיָּהּ בְּיַד־שׁוֹכָר

“A thorn goes up into the hand of a drunkard”

This could refer to: (1) a drunkard picking up a thorn or a thorn bush to swing it at people (the word translated as thorn could also refer to a thorn bush). Alternate translation: [A thorn bush waved around in the hand of a drunkard]; (2) a thorn pricking the hand of a drunkard. Alternate translation: [A thorn pricking the hand of a drunkard]

Proverbs 26:10 (#3)

וְשׁוֹכֵר כָּסֶסִּיל וְשׁוֹכֵר עֹבְרִים

“so {is} one hiring a stupid {one} and hiring passersby”

The word so here indicates that Solomon is comparing An archer piercing everyone with one hiring a stupid one and hiring passersby. The point is that both of these are dangerous. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [so one who hires a stupid one and hires those passing by is dangerous]

כְּכֹלֵב שָׁשָׁב עַל־קִיאָאוֹ כָּסֶסִּיל שׁוֹנֶה בְּאוֹלָתוֹ

“Like a dog returning to its vomit {is} a stupid {one} who repeats his folly”

Here, a dog, its, a stupid one, and his refer to dogs and a type of person in general, not a specific dog or person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. See how you translated a stupid one in 10:18. Alternate translation: [Like any dog that returns to that dog's vomit is any stupid person who repeats that person's own folly]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:11 (#4)

שָׁשֶׁב עַל-קִאָאָו

“returning to its vomit”

Here Solomon implies that the dog returns to its vomit in order to eat it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that returns to eat its vomit]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:11 (#3)

כְּכֶלֶב

“Like a dog”

A dog is an animal that is considered to be unclean and disgusting by Jews and many cultures of the Ancient Near East. Therefore, comparing someone to a dog is insulting. If dogs are unfamiliar to your culture and you have a different animal that is considered unclean and disgusting or whose name is used as an insult, you could use the name of that animal instead.

חָכָם בְּעֵינָיו

“wise in his eyes”

Here Solomon implies that this man is not actually wise. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [wise in his eyes who is not really wise]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:12 (#1)

רְאִיתָ אִישׁ חָכָם בְּעֵינָיו

“You see a man wise in his eyes”

Although the Hebrew text is not marked as a question, many translations consider this clause to be a rhetorical question. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this as a question. See how you translated the similar use of You see in 22:29. Alternate translation: [Have you seen a man wise in his eyes?]

Proverbs 26:14 (#4)

וְעָצֵל

“and a lazy {one}”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that a lazy one on his bed is like a door that turns on its hinge because both move without going anywhere. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way, a lazy one]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:14 (#2)

וְעָצֵל עַל-מִטָּתוֹ

“and a lazy {one} on his bed”

Solomon is leaving out a word that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and a lazy one turns on his bed]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 26:14 (#1)

הַדֶּלֶת תִּסְכּוֹב עַל-צִירָהּ

“The door turns on its hinge”

A hinge is a metal or leather piece attached to a door in order to allow the door to swing back and forth. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of item, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [The door swings back and forth] or [The door swings open and shut]

If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT. Alternate translation: [is one passing by, infuriating himself]

Proverbs 26:18 (#1)

כְּמִתְלַהֵלֶה הַיִּרְגָה זִקְקִים חֲצָצִים וּמִנֹּת

“Like an insane {one} shooting firebrands, arrows, and death”

Like in this verse and so in the next verse indicate that Solomon is comparing an insane one who shoots arrows, firebrands, and death with a man who deceives his neighbor and says, “Was I not joking?”

The point is that these are harmful and dangerous acts. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [Just as an insane one who shoots firebrands, arrows, and death is reckless]

See: Simile

Proverbs 26:18 (#2)

זִקְקִים חֲצָצִים וּמִנֹּת

“firebrands, arrows, and death”

The words firebrands, arrows, and death are used together here to emphasize a single idea. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [burning arrows that kill] or [deadly, burning arrows] or [deadly arrows, even burning ones]

כרה־ששחת בבה יפול

“One who digs a pit will fall into it”

Here Solomon implies that the person digs a pit in order to trap someone in it, but then ends up falling into that pit himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [One who digs a pit to trap someone will fall into that pit]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:27 (#5)

וגגלל אבן

“and one who rolls a stone”

Here Solomon implies that the person pushed a large stone up a hill so that it would roll down and crush someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and one who rolls a stone up a hill so that it will roll down and crush someone]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:27 (#1)

כִּרְה־שִׁשְׁחַת כְּבִהַ יִפְּלֹ

“One who digs a pit will fall into it”

Here Solomon uses One who digs a pit to refer to anyone who tries to harm another person, and he uses fall into it to refer to that person being harmed as a result. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [One who tries to harm someone will be harmed instead] or [One who tries to harm someone is like one who digs a pit and falls into it]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:27 (#3)

כִּרְה־שִׁשְׁחַת & וְגִלְגַּל אֶבֶן אֵלָיו

“One who digs a pit & and one who rolls a stone & to him”

One who digs a pit, one who rolls a stone, and him refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who digs a pit ... and any person who rolls a stone ... to that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 26:27 (#4)

וְגִלְגַּל אֶבֶן אֵלָיו תָּשׁוּב

“and one who rolls a stone, it will come back to him”

Here Solomon uses one who rolls a stone to refer to anyone who tries to harm another person. Solomon uses come back to him to refer to that person being harmed as a result. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning carefully or use a simile. Alternate translation: [and one who tries to harm someone will be harmed instead] or [One who tries to harm someone is like one who rolls a stone, and the stone comes back to him]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:27 (#6)

אֵלָיו תָּשׁוּב

“it will come back to him”

Here Solomon implies that the person himself will be crushed by the stone that he rolled up a hill to crush someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [it will roll down and crush him]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 26:28 (#5)

מִדָּהָ

“calamity”

See how you translated the abstract noun calamity in 1:26.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 26:28 (#1)

לְשׁוֹן־שֶׁשָּׁקֶר

“A tongue of falsehood”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe a tongue that is characterized by falsehood. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. See how you translated the similar use of this phrase in 6:17. Alternate translation: [A false tongue]

See: Possession

Proverbs 26:28 (#4)

הַחֶלֶקֶל

“smooth”

Here Solomon speaks of this person speaking flatteringly as if he were making what he says smooth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [flattering]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 26:28 (#2)

לְשׁוֹן & דִּכְּקִי

“A tongue of & its oppressed ones”

Here, tongue and its refer to what a person says with his tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A person speaking with ... that person's oppressed ones]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 26:28 (#3)

וּפִתּוֹ הַחֲלָלֵק

“and a smooth mouth”

As with tongue, mouth also refers to what a person says. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of mouth in 4:5. Alternate translation: [and a person who speaks smoothly]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs - Chapter 27 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Hezekiah's proverbs from Solomon (25:1-29:27)

- Warnings and admonitions (25:1-27:27)
- Contrastive wise sayings (28:1-29:27)

Chapter 27 continues the section of the book containing proverbs written by Solomon that were copied by scribes during the reign of Hezekiah. This section contains two parts, the first part in 25:1-27:27 mostly contains proverbs that warn or admonish.

Translation Issues in This Chapter

Parallelism

Chapters 25-27 mostly contain proverbs in which the second of two parallel clauses completes, emphasizes, or qualifies the idea of the first clause. Chapter 27 also contains contrasting parallelism (27:3, 27:4, 6, 7, 12) and parallelism in which both clauses have the same meaning for emphasis (27:2, 23). (See: Parallelism)

Similes

Solomon uses many different similes in this chapter to warn his readers against acting unwisely. (See: Simile)

Proverbs 27:1 (#1)

יָגִיד יוֹם

“a day will bring forth”

Here Solomon refers to what will happen on a certain day as if that day were a person who brings forth that event. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [what will occur on a day]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:2 (#2)

יְהַלְלֶךָּ זָר וְלֹא-פִתּוֹ וְאֶל-שִׁפְתָּיִךְ

“Let a stranger praise you and not your mouth, a foreigner and not your lips”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word that shows that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Let a stranger praise you and not your mouth; yes, let a foreigner praise you and not your lips]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 27:2 (#1)

יְהַלְלֶךָּ זָר וְלֹא-פִתּוֹ וְאֶל-שִׁפְתָּיִךְ

“Let a stranger praise you and not your mouth, a foreigner and not your lips”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words in the second clause that a sentence would need in many languages to be complete. If it would be helpful in your language, you could supply these words from the first clause. Alternate translation: [Let a stranger praise you and not your mouth; let a foreigner praise you and not your lips]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 27:2 (#3)

זָר & נָכְרִי

“a stranger & a foreigner”

Here, a stranger and a foreigner refer to unfamiliar people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any stranger ... any foreigner] or [any other person ... any outsider]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:2 (#4)

פִּתּוֹ & שִׁפְתָּיִךְ

“your mouth & your lips”

In this verse, mouth and lips refer to what a person says using his mouth and lips. See how you translated the same use of mouth in 4:5 and lips in 23:16.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:3 (#1)

כִּבְד־אֲבָבָן וּנְגִטִל הַחֲחֹלִי

“The heaviness of a stone and the weightiness of the sand”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to state that a stone is heavy and sand is weighty. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A stone is heavy and sand is weighty]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:3 (#2)

וְכִכְעֵס אֶאֱוִיל כְּבִבְדּוֹ מִשְׁנֵיהֶם

“yet the vexation of a fool {is} heavier than the two of them”

Here Solomon refers to how vexing fools are to other people as if the vexation they cause were heavier than the weight of a stone and sand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [yet the vexation of a fool is harder to tolerate than lifting either of them] or [yet the vexation of a fool is like something heavier than the two of them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:3 (#3)

וְכִכְעֵס אֶאֱוִיל

“yet the vexation of a fool”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe the vexation that is caused by a fool. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [yet how vexing a fool can be]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:4 (#2)

חֲמָה & אָאָף

“heat & nose”

Here, heat and nose refer to anger. See how you translated the same use of heat and nose in 15:1.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:4 (#6)

קִנְיָה

“jealousy”

See how you translated the abstract noun jealousy in 6:34.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 27:4 (#3)

וְשִׁשְׁטָף אֶאָף

“and a flood of nose”

Here Solomon speaks of the destructive power of anger as if it were a flood. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and anger destroys like a flood]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:4 (#1)

אֶכְזָרִיּוּת חֲמָה וְשִׁשְׁטָף אֶאָף

“Cruelty of heat and a flood of nose”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe heat that is characterized by Cruelty and nose that is characterized by a flood. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Heat is cruel and nose is a flood]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:4 (#5)

יִצְמַד לִפְנֵי

“can stand to the face of”

Here, stand to the face of means “resist.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [can successfully oppose]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 27:4 (#4)

וּמִמִּי יִצְמַד לִפְנֵי קִנְיָה

“but who can stand to the face of jealousy”

Solomon is using the question form to emphasize how dangerous jealousy is. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [but surely no one can stand before the face of jealousy!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 27:5 (#2)

תּוֹכִיחַת & מֵאֲדָבָה

“is & rebuke than & love”

See how you translated the abstract nouns rebuke in 1:23 and love in 10:12.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 27:5 (#1)

מגללה & מסתרת

“open & hidden”

Here, open refers to a rebuke that someone notices, while hidden refers to love that someone does not notice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [noticeable ... unnoticeable]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:6 (#3)

פצעעי אוהרב

“are} the wounds of one loving”

Here Solomon speaks of the sadness that a person feels when one loving rebukes that person as if it were wounds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is the sadness caused by one who loves and rebukes]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:6 (#7)

נשיקקות

“are} the kisses of”

Here, kisses is a symbolic action that shows friendship and loyalty. See how you translated the same use of the word in 24:26.

See: Symbolic Action

Proverbs 27:6 (#6)

נשיקקות שונא

“are} the kisses of one hating”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe kisses that are given by one hating. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [are the kisses given by one who hates]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:6 (#1)

נאמנים פצעעי אוהרב

“Faithful {are} the wounds of one loving”

Here Solomon speaks of the faithfulness of the one loving as if the wounds he causes were a Faithful person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [The wounds of one who loves show his faithfulness] or [The wounds of one who loves show how faithful he is]

See: Personification

Proverbs 27:6 (#2)

פצעעי אוהרב

“are} the wounds of one loving”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe wounds that are caused by one loving. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [are the wounds caused by one who loves]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:6 (#4)

וְנִבְעָתָרוֹת נְשִׁיקוֹת שׁוֹנֵא

“but deceptive {are} the kisses of one hating”

Here Solomon speaks of the deceptiveness of the one hating as if the kisses themselves were being deceptive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but the kisses of one who hates show his deceptiveness] or [but the kisses of one who hates show how deceptive he is]

See: Personification

Proverbs 27:6 (#5)

וְנִבְעָתָרוֹת

“but deceptive”

The word translated as deceptive can also mean “excessive.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 27:7 (#3)

וְנִבְעָתָרוֹת & וְנִבְעָתָרוֹת

“appetite & but {for} the appetite of”

See how you translated the abstract noun appetite in 6:30.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 27:7 (#4)

תִּבְבוֹס נֶפֶת & מְחֹק

“tramples fresh honey & is} sweet”

Here Solomon implies that the satiated person tramples fresh honey because he is not hungry and does not want to eat it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [shuns fresh honey because he is not hungry]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:7 (#1)

נִגְנַשׁ שְׁשֶׁבַעַה & וְנִגְנַשׁ רֶךְ-עֵבֶה

“A satiated appetite & but {for} the appetite of a hungry one”

A satiated appetite and the appetite of a hungry one refers to these appetites in general, not specific appetites. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any satiated appetite ... but for any appetite of any hungry person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:7 (#2)

נִגְנַשׁ שְׁשֶׁבַעַה

“A satiated appetite”

Here, appetite refers to the whole satiated person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [A person who is satisfied] or [A person who has eaten enough to be full]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 27:7 (#5)

וְנִגְנַשׁ רֶךְ-עֵבֶה

“but {for} the appetite of a hungry one”

Here, appetite refers to the whole hungry one. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but a person who is hungry]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 27:7 (#6)

כָּל-מִמֶּר מְתוּק

“everything bitter {is} sweet”

Here, bitter and sweet refer to how things taste. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [everything that usually tastes bitter seems to taste sweet]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:8 (#2)

אֵלֶּיךָ & מִמְּקוֹמוֹ

“is} a man & from his place”

See how you translated the same use of a man and his in 6:27.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 27:8 (#1)

כְּצִפּוֹר נוֹדֵדֶת מִן-קִנְיָהּ כִּן-אִישׁ נוֹדֵד מִמְּקוֹמוֹ

“Like a bird wandering from her nest, so {is} a man who wanders from his place”

The point of this comparison is that just as it is not good for a bird to wander far from its nest, so it is not good for a man to wander far from his home and family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [Just as it is dangerous for a bird to wander from her nest, so it is for a man to wander from his place]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:9 (#3)

וּמִמֶּתְקִי

“and the sweetness of”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. In the same way that Oil and incense gladden the heart, the sweetness of his friend is from the counsel of the soul. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and similarly, the sweetness of]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:9 (#1)

שֶׁשֶׁמֶן וְזָקָתָהּ

“Oil and incense”

Oil and incense here refers to pleasant-smelling substances that are put on a person's skin. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Pleasant-smelling oils and perfumes]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:9 (#4)

וּמִמֶּתְקָה

“and the sweetness of”

Here Solomon speaks of the kindness of a friend as if it were sweetness. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the kindness of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:9 (#2)

יְשַׂמְחֵה-לֵלֶב

“gladden the heart”

Here Solomon speaks of a person feeling glad as if that person’s heart were a person who could be gladdened. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [make a person happy]

See: Personification

Proverbs 27:9 (#5)

רֵאֵעִיָּהוּ

“his friend”

Although his is masculine, here it refers to a person in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [any person’s friend]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 27:9 (#6)

מִעֲצַת-נֶפֶשׁ

“is} from the counsel of the soul”

The phrase counsel of the soul could refer to: (1) sincere advice. Alternate translation: [is from sincere counsel]; (2) one’s own (internal) advice. Alternate translation: [is better than one’s own counsel]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 27:10 (#2)

בְּיָוֶם

“in the day of”

Here, day refers to a time when something happens. It does not refer to a 24-hour length of time. See how you translated the same use of day in 21:31.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:10 (#1)

רָעַדְךָ וְרֵעֶךָ & וּבֵבִית אֶחָיִיד אֶל-תֵּתְבוֹא & שְׂכֵנְךָ קִרְרֹב מֵאַחַח רְחֹוק

“your friend and the friend of & and do not enter the house of your brother & is} a nearby inhabitant than a distant brother”

Here, friend, house, brother, a nearby inhabitant, and a distant brother represent these things and people in general, not specific things or people. In this verse, brother refers to relatives in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any friend of yours and any friend of ... and do not enter any house of any relative of yours ... is any nearby inhabitant than any distant relative]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:10 (#4)

טוֹב שְׂכֵנְךָ קִרְרֹב מֵאַחַח רְחֹוק

“Better {is} a nearby inhabitant than a distant brother”

Here Solomon implies that this situation is true in the day of your calamity, as mentioned in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [When you need help, a nearby inhabitant is better than a distant brother]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:10 (#3)

אִתִּיךָ

“your calamity”

See how you translated the abstract noun calamity in 1:26.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 27:11 (#1)

בְּרֵנִי

“my son”

See how you translated the same use of son in 1:8.

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 27:11 (#5)

דָּבָר

“a word”

See how you translated the similar use of word in 12:25.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:11 (#3)

וְאֶשְׁׁיבָהּ & דְּבַר

“and I shall return a word”

Here Solomon refers to replying to someone as if the word spoken were an object that one returns to that other person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I shall reply with a word]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:11 (#6)

חֹרֶפְכִּי

“to one reproaching me”

Here, one who reproaches me represents a person in general, not one particular person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [to any person who reproaches me]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:11 (#4)

וְאֶשְׁׁיבָהּ

“and I shall return”

Here, and introduces the result of the son being wise. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate result. You may need to start a new sentence. Alternate translation: [As a result, I shall return]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 27:11 (#2)

וְשִׂמְחָה לִבִּי

“and gladden my heart”

Here, the heart represents where a person’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 14:10. Alternate translation: [make my spirit happy]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 27:12 (#1)

עָרֹם וְרֵאָהָה רָעָה נִסְתַּתֵּר פִּתְאִיִּם עֲבָרָיו נִעְנָשׁוּ

“A prudent one sees evil, he hides himself; naive ones pass on, they are fined”

See how you translated the nearly identical sentence in 22:3.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:13 (#1)

קַח-בִּבְגְדֹךָ כִּי-צִעַרְבָּ זָר וּבְעֵד נְכַרִּיָּה חֲבִלָּהּ

“Take his garment when he has pledged {for} a stranger, and on behalf of a foreign woman hold it in pledge”

See how you translated the identical sentence in 20:16.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:14 (#3)

בִּבְקֹר הַשֶּׁכֶּמֶת

“in the rising morning”

Here Solomon refers to the early morning as if it were rising because the sun appears to rise on the horizon at dawn. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at dawn]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:14 (#1)

מְבָרֵךְ רֵעֵהוּ & בִּבְקֹר הַשֶּׁכֶּמֶת & לוֹ

“One who blesses his neighbor & in the rising morning & to him”

One who blesses, his neighbor, the rising morning, and him represent types of people and mornings in general, not a specific people or morning. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who blesses any neighbor ... in any rising morning ... to that neighbor]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:14 (#4)

קָלָל לְלֵה תִּחְתָּשׁב לוֹ

“it will be considered a curse to him”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that neighbor will consider it to be a curse]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 27:14 (#2)

בְּקוֹל גָּדוֹל

“with a great voice”

Here, great refers to the voice being loud. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [with a loud voice]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:15 (#2)

וְאִשָּׁת מְדוֹנִים

“and a woman of quarrels”

See how you translated a woman of quarrels in 21:9.

Proverbs 27:15 (#1)

דִּדְלֵי טַחֲרֵד בְּיָוֶם סִגְרָרִיר וְאִשָּׁת מְדוֹנִים נִשְׁתָּה

“A continual dripping on a day of steady rain and a woman of quarrels are alike”

Here, alike indicates that Solomon is comparing a woman of quarrels to continually dripping water on a rainy day because both are annoying. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of dripping in 19:13. Alternate translation: [Both-ersome as a continual dripping on a day of steady rain is a woman of quarrels] or [As annoying as a continual dripping of water on a rainy day is a woman of quarrels]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:16 (#2)

צִפְנִיָּה

“The one hiding her”

Here, her refers to “a woman of quarrels” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [The one who hides a woman of quarrels]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 27:16 (#4)

צִפְנֵי-רֵיחַ וְשֶׁמֶן יִמְיְנֵוּ יִקְרָא

“hides the wind, and oil meets his right hand”

Here Solomon speaks of hiding a quarrelsome woman as if one were trying to hide the wind or grasp oil in his hand, both of which are impossible tasks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is doing something impossible] or [is like one who tries to hide the wind or grasp oil in his right hand]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:16 (#3)

צִפְנִיָּה & יְמִינֵהּ

“The one hiding her & his right hand”

The one who hides and his represent any man with a quarrelsome wife in general, not a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who hides her ... that person’s right hand]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:16 (#1)

צִפְנִיָּה צִפֵּן

“The one hiding her hides”

The word translated as hiding and hides in this verse is considered by some scholars to also mean “restrains.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 27:17 (#1)

בְּרִזָּל בְּכַרְזֵּל יִחַד וְאִישׁ יִחַד פְּנֵי-רֵעֵהוּ

“Iron sharpens against iron, and a man sharpens the face of his neighbor”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what he says in the second clause to what he says in the first clause. In the same way that Iron sharpens against iron, a man sharpens the face of his neighbor. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [Iron sharpens against iron; similarly, a man sharpens the face of his neighbor]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:17 (#3)

וְאִישׁ & רֵעֵהוּ

“and a man & his neighbor”

Although a man and his are masculine, Solomon is using the words in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful, you could use phrases that make this clear in your language.

Alternate translation: [and a person ... that person's neighbor]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 27:17 (#2)

בְּרוֹזָל בְּכִרְזָל יִתֵּד וְאִישׁ יִתֵּד פְּנֵי-רֵעֵהוּ

“Iron sharpens against iron, and a man sharpens the face of his neighbor”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could change the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [A man sharpens the face of his neighbor as iron sharpens against iron]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 27:17 (#4)

יִתֵּד פָּנָי

“sharpens the face of”

Here Solomon uses sharpens to refer to developing or improving someone, and face to refer to a person's character or how a person thinks. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [helps to improve the character of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:18 (#2)

וְשֹׁמֵר

“and one protecting”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. Solomon is saying that one protecting his master is like One guarding a fig tree because both receive a reward for their work. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and in the same way, one who protects]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:18 (#1)

נֹצֵר תְּתֹאֲנָה יֵאָכֵל פְּרִיָּהּ וְשֹׁמֵר אֲדָנָיו

“One guarding a fig tree will eat its fruit, and one protecting his master”

One guarding, a fig tree, its, one protecting, and his represent fig trees and types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who guards any fig tree will eat the fruit of that tree, and any person who protects that person's master]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:18 (#3)

יִכָּבֵד

“will be honored”

If your language does not use the passive form in this way, you could state this in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [that master will honor]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 27:19 (#2)

כַּמַּיִם הַפְּנִינִים לַפְּנִינִים כֵּן לִב־הָאָדָם לָאָדָם

“As the water, the face to the face, so the heart of the man, to the man”

The words As and so in this verse indicate that Solomon is comparing water with the heart of a man. The point is that both reveal what someone really is. If it would be helpful in your language, you could make this more explicit. Alternate translation: [Just like the water shows the face to the face, so the heart of a man shows to the man who he really is]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:19 (#3)

כַּמַּיִם הַפְּנִינִים לַפְּנִינִים כֵּן לִב־הָאָדָם לָאָדָם

“As the water, the face to the face, so the heart of the man, to the man”

Here, the water, the face, the heart, and the man refer to things and people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [As water reflects any face to itself, so any person's heart reflects to that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:19 (#1)

כַּמַּיִם הַפְּנִינִים לַפְּנִינִים כֵּן לִב־הָאָדָם לָאָדָם

“As the water, the face to the face, so the heart of the man, to the man”

Solomon is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [As the water reflects the face to the face, so the heart of the man reflects to the man]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 27:19 (#4)

לב

“the heart of”

See how you translated the same use of heart in 2:2.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:20 (#1)

שְׁאֵלוֹל וְאַבְדּוֹן

“Sheol and Abaddon”

See: Doublet

Proverbs 27:20 (#4)

וְעֵינֵי הָאָדָם לֹא תִשְׂבַּעַנָּה

“and the eyes of the man are not satisfied”

Here, and indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. In the same way that Sheol and Abaddon are not satisfied, the eyes of the man are not satisfied. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [and similarly, the eyes of the man are not satisfied]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:20 (#2)

לֹא תִשְׂבַּעַנָּה & לֹא תִשְׂבַּעַנָּה

“are not satisfied & are not satisfied”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [no one can satisfy ... no one can satisfy]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 27:20 (#6)

הָאָדָם

“the man”

Although the term man is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [a person] or [any person]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 27:20 (#5)

וְעֵינֵי הָאָדָם לֹא תִשְׂבַּעַנָּה

“and the eyes of the man are not satisfied”

Here the eyes refers to desires. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and the desires of the man are not satisfied]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:20 (#3)

לֹא תִשְׂבַּעַנָּה

“are not satisfied”

Here Solomon speaks of Sheol and Abaddon never lacking room for more dead people as if those places were people who are not satisfied with what they already have. He means that there will always be people who die. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [never lack space] or [always have room for more]

See: Personification

Proverbs 27:21 (#1)

מִצְרֵף לְזָכָה וְכִנּוֹר לְזָהָב

“The smelting-pot {is} for the silver and the furnace {is} for the gold”

See how you translated the identical clause in 17:3.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:21 (#5)

לִפְּי

“for the mouth of”

Here, mouth refers to what the person who praises him says. See how you translated the same use of mouth in 10:6.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:21 (#4)

לִפְּי מְהֻלָּל

“for the mouth of one who praises him”

Solomon implies that a man is tested by the mouth of one who praises him, just as silver and gold are tested by someone melting them in a smelting-pot or furnace. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [tested by the mouth of one who praises]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:21 (#2)

וְאִישׁ

“so {is} a man”

Here, so indicates that Solomon is comparing what follows to what he said in the previous clause. In the same way that the smelting-pot reveals the impurities in silver and the furnace reveals the impurities in gold, the character of a man is revealed by how he responds to the mouth of one who praises him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state that explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the same way, a man is]

See: Simile

Proverbs 27:21 (#3)

וְאִישׁ לִפְּמִי מְהָלְיוֹ

“so {is} a man for the mouth of one who praises him”

Here, a man and one who praises him refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [so is any person for the mouth of any person who praises that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:22 (#5)

אוֹלְתוֹ

“his folly”

See how you translated the abstract noun folly in 5:23.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 27:22 (#2)

תִּכְתּוֹשׁ-אֶת-הָאוֹלִיל בַּמִּכְתֵּשׁ בְּתַנּוּךְ הַהֲרִיפּוֹת בְּעֵלְלִי

“you pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle in the midst of ground grains”

The terms mortar and pestle refer to hard tools that are smashed together to crush grains. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of tool, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [you pound a fool with tools used for crushing grain]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 27:22 (#4)

לֹא-תִסְקֹר מִמַּעַלְלֵיוֹ אוֹלְתוֹ

“his folly will not turn away from on him”

Here Solomon speaks of a person being unable to stop behaving foolishly as if his folly were a person who will not turn away from on him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he will not stop his folly]

See: Personification

Proverbs 27:22 (#3)

אֶת-הָאוֹלִיל & מִמַּעַלְלֵיוֹ אוֹלְתוֹ

“a fool & his folly & from on him”

Here, a fool, his, and him refer to fools in general, not one particular fool. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any fool ... that fool's folly ... from on that fool]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 27:22 (#1)

אֲנִי תִכְתּוֹשׁ-אֶת-הָאוֹלִיל בַּמִּכְתֵּשׁ בְּתַנּוּךְ הַהֲרִיפּוֹת בְּעֵלְלִי

“Even if you pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle in the midst of ground grains”

Solomon introduces an imaginary situation to help explain how futile it is to try to stop a fool from being foolish. Use a natural method in your language for introducing an imaginary situation. Alternate translation: [Suppose you were to pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle in the midst of ground grains]

See: Hypothetical Situations

Proverbs 27:23 (#4)

שְׁשִׁית לֵלְבָדְךָ

“set your heart”

See how you translated this phrase in 22:17.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 27:23 (#3)

צֹאנְךָ

“your flock”

In this verse, the word flock is singular in form, but it refers to all sheep or goats as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly.

Alternate translation: [your group of sheep]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 27:23 (#2)

פָּנֵי

“the faces of”

Here, faces refers to what the animals in the flock look like, which would indicate the condition of their health. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the condition of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 27:23 (#1)

יָדָעַתְּ תִתְּנֶדַע פָּנֵי צֹאֲנֶיךָ שְׂשִׁית לִלְבְּדֶךָ לְעֶדְרִים

“Know well the faces of your flock; set your heart to the herds”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the clauses with a word that shows that the second clause is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Know well the faces of your flock; yes, set your heart to the herds]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 27:23 (#5)

לְעֶדְרִים

“to the herds”

The parallelism with the previous clause indicates that Solomon is referring to the condition of the herds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to the condition of the herds]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:24 (#2)

לְדֹר וָדֹר

“for generation and generation”

This is an idiom that means “forever.” If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 27:24 (#1)

כִּנּוֹר

“a crown”

Here, crown refers to a king’s rule over his kingdom. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a king’s rule]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 27:25 (#1)

גִּלְגַּל הַחֲצִיר

“The grass disappears”

Here Solomon implies that the grass disappears because the farmer harvested it in order to feed it to livestock. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Then grass disappears when you harvest it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:25 (#4)

עֲשֻׁבֹת הָהָרִים

“the herbs of the mountains”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe the herbs that grow on the mountains. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the herbs that grow on the mountains]

See: Possession

Proverbs 27:25 (#3)

וַיֵּרָא הָחֲצִיר הַחֲדָשׁ וַיִּגָּדְפוּ עֲשֻׁבֹת הָהָרִים

“and fresh grass is seen, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and you see fresh grass, and you gather the herbs of the mountains]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 27:25 (#2)

וַיֵּרָא הָחֲצִיר הַחֲדָשׁ

“and fresh grass is seen”

The word translated and at the beginning of this phrase indicates that this event happened after the event described in the previous phrase. Use a natural form in your language for introducing the next event in a series of events. Alternate translation: [and next, fresh grass is seen]

See: Connect — Sequential Time Relationship

Proverbs 27:25–26 (#1)

גִּלְגֵּלָה הַחֲצִיר וְנִרְאָה־דֶּשָׁא וְנִאֲסָפּוּ עֲשֻׁבֹת הָרִים׃ כִּבְשֵׁשִׁים לְבֹשֶׁשֶׁשׁ וּמִחֲתִיר שְׂשֻׁדָּה עֲתוּדִים׃

“The grass disappears, and fresh grass is seen, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered;lambs {will be} for your clothing, and male goats the price of a field”

These two verses are one conditional sentence. If the conditions in 27:25 are met, then the situation in 27:26 will occur. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate conditional statements.

See: Connect — Hypothetical Conditions

Proverbs 27:26 (#1)

כִּבְשֵׁשִׁים לְבֹשֶׁשֶׁשׁ

“lambs {will be} for your clothing”

Here Solomon implies that the lambs will provide the wool that is used to make clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [lambs will provide the wool for your clothing]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:26 (#2)

וּמִחֲתִיר שְׂשֻׁדָּה עֲתוּדִים׃

“and male goats the price of a field”

Here Solomon implies that the male goats will be sold for an amount of money that will be enough to buy a field. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and selling your goats will provide enough money to pay the price for a field]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:27 (#1)

וְחַיִּים לְנַעֲרוֹתֶיךָ

“and life for your young women”

Here Solomon implies that there will also be enough milk of female goats to provide life for your young women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and there will be enough goat’s milk to sustain the life of your young women]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 27:27 (#2)

וְחַיִּים

“and life”

Here, life refers to the nourishment needed to sustain life. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and nourishment]

Proverbs - Chapter 28 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Hezekiah’s proverbs from Solomon (25:1–29:27)

- Warnings and admonitions (25:1–27:27)
- Contrastive wise sayings (28:1–29:27)

Chapter 28 begins the second part of this section of the book that contains proverbs written by Solomon that were copied by scribes during the reign of Hezekiah. This part in 28:1–29:27 mostly contains general proverbs that use contrastive parallelism.

Proverbs 28:1 (#2)

וְאִין־רֹדֵף

“and there is no pursuer”

Here, and indicates a contrast between the previous phrase and the next phrase. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [despite their being no pursuer]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 28:1 (#1)

רָשָׁע וְצַדִּיקִים

“The wicked & but the righteous”

Solomon is using the adjectives wicked and righteous as nouns to mean wicked and righteous people. Your language may use adjectives in the same way. If not, you could translate these words with equivalent phrases. Alternate translation: [Wicked people ... but righteous people]

See: Nominal Adjectives

Proverbs 28:2 (#2)

בַּפֶּשַׁע

“By the transgression of”

See how you translated the abstract noun transgression in 10:19.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 28:2 (#4)

וּבְאִדָּם

“but by a man”

Here Solomon implies that a man is a ruler. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but by a ruler]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:2 (#5)

מִבִּינֵי יוֹדֵיעַ

“who understands, who knows”

The words understands and knows mean the same thing. Solomon is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [who really understands]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 28:2 (#1)

בַּפֶּשַׁע אֲרָץ רַב־בָּיִם שְׂרָרֶיהָ

“By the transgression of a land many {are} its rulers”

By here indicates that having transgression is one reason why a land has many rulers. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a reason. Alternate translation: [Transgression is one reason why a land has many rulers]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 28:2 (#3)

אֲרָץ & שְׂרָרֶיהָ

“a land & are} its rulers”

Here, land and its refer to the people who live in a land. If it would be helpful, you could express the meaning plainly in your language. Alternate translation: [the people in a land ... are their rulers]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 28:2 (#6)

יָאֲרִיד

“it will endure”

The pronoun it refers to the land, meaning the government of that land. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [the government of that land will endure]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 28:3 (#6)

לֶחֶם

“bread”

See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 28:3 (#4)

בִּסְחָחָהּ

“{that} washes away”

Here Solomon implies that the rain washes away all the crops. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that washes all the crops away]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:3 (#3)

מִטֶּטֶר בִּסְחָחָהּ וְאֵין לֶחֶם

“{is} a rain {that} washes away, and there is no bread”

Here Solomon refers to A man who is poor and who oppresses the lowly ones as if that person were a rain that washes away. The point is that both are destructive. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [is very destructive] or [is like rain that washes away, and there is no bread]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:3 (#1)

גִּבּוֹר

“A man”

A man here refers to this type of person in general, not a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 28:3 (#2)

דללים

“the lowly”

Proverbs 28:3 (#5)

ואין

“and there is no”

Here, and indicates that what follows is a result of what came before. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that what follows is a result of what came before. Alternate translation: [and it results in their being no]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 28:4 (#1)

עוזביו

“Those forsaking”

See how you translated the same use of forsake in 1:8.

See: Personification

Proverbs 28:4 (#2)

תורה & תורה

“the law & the law”

Here, the word law is singular in form, but it refers to several laws as a group. In this verse, law could refer to: (1) Yahweh’s laws. Alternate translation: [the laws of Yahweh ... his laws]; (2) wise instruction in general. Alternate translation: [wise instructions ... those instructions]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 28:4 (#5)

בם

“against them”

Here, them refers to wicked people, who are called the wicked in the previous clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [against those wicked people]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 28:4 (#4)

ושמרי

“but those keeping”

Here Solomon speaks of obeying the law as if it were an object that someone can keep. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly, as in the UST.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:4 (#3)

רשעים

“the wicked”

Proverbs 28:5 (#4)

ומבקשי

“but seekers of”

Here Solomon refers to trying to know and please Yahweh as if he were an object that people can seek. See how you translated the similar use of “seeks” in 11:27. Alternate translation: [but people who try to please]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:5 (#1)

אנשי-רע

“Men of evil”

Here Solomon is using the possessive form to describe men who are characterized by evil. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [Evil men]

See: Possession

Proverbs 28:5 (#5)

כל

“everything”

Here Solomon implies that the people understand everything about justice. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [completely understand what is just]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:5 (#2)

אָנִשׁ

“Men of”

Although the term men is masculine, Solomon is using the word in a generic sense that includes both men and women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a phrase that makes this clear. Alternate translation: [People of]

See: When Masculine Words Include Women

Proverbs 28:6 (#5)

דִּדְרָכָיִם

“ways”

See how you translated the same use of ways in 3:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:6 (#2)

הוֹלֵלֵךְ בְּתִמְמוֹ

“who walks in his integrity”

Here, walks refers to how a person behaves, in this case behaving with integrity. See how you translated the similar use of “walk” in 3:23. Alternate translation: [who behaves with integrity]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:6 (#1)

רָשׁ הוֹלֵלֵךְ בְּתִמְמוֹ מֵעִקָּשׁ דִּדְרָכָיִם וְהָיָא

“one who is poor who walks in his integrity than one crooked of ways, yet he”

Here, one who is poor, his, one crooked of ways, and he refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any person who is poor who walks in that person’s integrity than any person who is crooked of ways, yet that person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 28:7 (#2)

נוֹצֵצֵר

“One who guards”

Here Solomon speaks of obeying the law as if it were an object that someone guards. See how you translated the same use of “keep” in 28:4.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 28:7 (#3)

תִּתְּנוּרָה

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:8 (#2)

בגנשד ותרבבית

“by interest and usury”

The two words interest and usury express a single idea. The word usury indicates that this person is charging an unreasonably large amount of interest to those who borrow money from him. If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this meaning in a different way. Alternate translation: [by charging extra money to borrow]

See: Hendiadys

Proverbs 28:8 (#3)

יקבצנו

“gathers it”

Here Solomon implies that the One who increases his wealth unknowingly gathers his wealth for someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [unknowingly gathers it]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:8 (#1)

מרבבה הרונו & להונן

“One increasing his wealth & for one showing favor {to”

One who increases, his, and one who shows favor refer to types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who increases that person's own wealth ... for any person who shows favor]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 28:9 (#3)

תורה

“the law”

See how you translated the same use of the law in 28:4.

תועבה

“is} an abomination”

See how you translated the abstract noun abomination in 3:32.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 28:9 (#4)

תועבה

“is} an abomination”

As in the rest of Proverbs, abomination here refers to what Yahweh considers to be an abomination. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is what is abominable to Yahweh]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 28:9 (#2)

מססיר אאזנו משממע

“One turning away his ear from hearing”

The phrase turning away his ear is an idiom that refers to refusing to listen to what someone is saying as if the listener were turning his ear from the person speaking. If this phrase does not have this meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have this meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [One who refuses to listen to]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 28:9 (#1)

מססיר אאזנו & תתפללתו

“One turning away his ear & his prayer”

One turning away and his refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person who turns away that person's own ear ... that person's prayer]

Proverbs - Chapter 29 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Hezekiah's proverbs from Solomon (25:1-29:27)

- Warnings and admonitions (25:1-27:27)
- Contrastive wise sayings (28:1-29:27)

Chapter 29 finishes the second part of this section of the book that contains proverbs written by Solomon that were copied by scribes during the reign of Hezekiah. This part in 28:1-29:27 mostly contains general proverbs that use contrastive parallelism.

Proverbs 29:1 (#4)

פָּתָע יִשְׁכַּבֵּר וְאֵין מְרַפָּא

“will suddenly be broken and without healing”

See how you translated the same clause in 6:15.

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 29:1 (#2)

אָדָם יִשׁ תְּתוֹכָחוֹת

“A man of rebukes”

Here Solomon uses the possessive form to describe A man who has received many rebukes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A man who is often rebuked]

See: Possession

Proverbs 29:1 (#1)

אָדָם יִשׁ תְּתוֹכָחוֹת

“A man of rebukes”

A man of rebukes here represents a type of person in general, not one particular man. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person of rebukes]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 29:1 (#3)

מִקְשָׁה-עֵגֶרֶף

“who stiffens the neck”

Here Solomon speaks of a person becoming stubborn as if that person stiffens his neck. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [who becomes stubborn] or [who refuses to listen]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 29:2 (#2)

הָעָם & הָעָם

“the people & a people”

In this verse, the word people is singular in form, but it refers to multiple people as a group. See how you translated the same use of people in 11:14.

Proverbs 29:20 (#3)

אִישׁ בְּדִבְרָיו

“hurrying in his words”

Here, hurrying in his words is an idiom that means “speaking before thinking about what to say.” If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could use an idiom from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [talking off the cuff] or [who speaks without thinking]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 29:20 (#1)

הַזֵּוֹיִם אִישׁ אֶזְרָא בְּדִבְרָיו

“You see a man hurrying in his words”

Although the Hebrew text is not marked as a question, many translators consider this clause to be a rhetorical question. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate this as a question. See how you translated the similar use of You see in 22:29. Alternate translation: [Do you see a man hurrying in his words?]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 29:21 (#3)

מְנַעֵר

“from youth”

See how you translated the abstract noun youth in 2:17.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 29:21 (#4)

וְאַחֲרֵיתוֹ

“then his end”

Here, end refers to the result. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. See how you translated the same use of end in 14:12.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 29:21 (#1)

מְנַעֵר

“from youth”

Here Solomon implies that youth refers to the youth of the servant. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [from that servant's youth]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 29:21 (#5)

קִנּוּיִן

“insolence”

If your language does not use an abstract noun for the idea of insolence, you could express the same idea in another way. Alternate translation: [acting disrespectfully]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 29:21 (#2)

מִפְּנֵי מְנַעֵר עֲבָדָיו

“Pampering his servant from youth”

The pronoun his refers to the master of the servant, who has not been stated in the verse. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Alternate translation: [If a master pampers his servant from youth]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 29:22 (#2)

אִישׁ-אָאָר & וּבָעֵל חֲמָמָה

“A man of nose & and an owner of heat”

A man of nose and an owner of heat refer to a type of person in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any person of nose ... and any owner of heat]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 29:22 (#1)

אִישׁ-אָאָר יִגְרָה מִדִּדּוֹן וּבָעֵל חֲמָמָה רַב-פְּשָׁע

“A man of nose stirs up strife, and an owner of heat, much transgression”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first clause by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and that indicates that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [A man of nose stirs up strife; indeed, an owner of heat stirs up much transgression]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 29:22 (#5)

וּבִרְעָל הַמִּנְהָ רַב־פֶּשַׁע

“and an owner of heat, much transgression”

Solomon is leaving out some words in the second clause that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the first clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and an owner of heat stirs up much transgression]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 29:24 (#5)

אֵלֶּה יִשְׁמָעַ

“he hears the oath”

Here, oath refers to the curse that would be spoken against someone who did not speak the truth or reveal important information in a criminal case, as described in Leviticus 5:1–6. The witness who hears this oath knows that Yahweh will punish him if he does not speak the truth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [he will hear the curse spoken against those who keep silent about the crime] or [he will hear and know that he will be cursed if he does not say anything]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 29:24 (#3)

שׂוֹנֵא

“hates”

Here Solomon refers to a person doing what is harmful to himself as if he hates himself. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [harms] or [acts as if he hates]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 29:24 (#6)

וְלֹא יגיד

“but does not tell”

Here Solomon implies that this person will not tell anything about the crime that he knows the thief has committed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [but will not say what the thief did]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 29:24 (#2)

חולֵּלֶק עִם־גַּנָּב

“One who shares with a thief”

Here, shares implies that this person helps a thief and that thief gives him part of what he has stolen. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [One who helps a thief and shares in his spoil] or [An accomplice of a thief]

Proverbs - Chapter 30 IntroductionStructure and Formatting*1. Sayings from Agur (30:1–33)

- Agur’s confession and prayer (30:1–9)
- Seven numerical sayings (30:10–31)
- Concluding warning (30:32–33)

Chapter 30 is the chapter in this book written by Agur, who is only mentioned here in the Bible.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This ChapterNumerical sayings

In Proverbs 30:10–31, Agur uses a rhetorical device in which he names a number that should be sufficient to illustrate his point and then increases that number by one for emphasis. If your language does not use numbers in this way, then consider more natural ways to express the emphasis. Although he does not state the number of illustrations in 30:10–14, he does state the number of illustrations for the sayings in 30:15–16, 18–19, 21–23, 24–28, and 29–31.

Proverbs 30:1 (#1)

דְּבַרְגִּי

“The words of”

See how you translated the same use of words in 1:6.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:1 (#5)

לְאִיתִיאֵאל לְאִיתִיאֵאל וְאֵכָל

“to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal”

All Hebrew manuscripts read to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal. The ULT follows that reading. Other ancient translations of this text read “I am weary, O God. I am worn out and weary, O God,” which is based on a possible meaning for the Hebrew words. If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 30:1 (#2)

אֶגְגֹּר & יִקְלָה & לְאִיתִיאֵאל לְאִיתִיאֵאל וְאֵכָל

“Agur & Jakeh & to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal”

Agur, Jakeh, Ithiel, and Ucal are names of men.

See: How to Translate Names

Proverbs 30:1 (#3)

הַמְּשָׁשָׁא

“the burden”

Here, burden refers to a warning message that Yahweh reveals to prophets so that they can tell the warning to other people. Because this message contained a warning or threat, it was considered to be a burden to the person who heard it. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the warning from Yahweh]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:1 (#4)

הַחֲזָקָר

“the strong man”

Here, the strong man refers to Agur. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Agur, the strong man,]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:2 (#2)

כִּנִּי

“Surely”

30:2–33 is a long quotation of what Agur said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation.

See: Quote Markings

Proverbs 30:2 (#5)

כִּינָה

“the understanding of”

See how you translated the abstract noun understanding in 1:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 30:2 (#3)

בְּבֶעֶר אֲנֹכִי מֵאָדָם וְלֹא־בִינְתָּ אָדָם לִי

“I {am} more stupid than a man, and the understanding of man {is} not mine”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [I am more stupid than a man; indeed, the understanding of mankind is not mine]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:2 (#1)

בְּבֶעֶר אֲנֹכִי מֵאָדָם וְלֹא־בִינְתָּ אָדָם לִי

“I {am} more stupid than a man, and the understanding of man {is} not mine”

Agur says these two clauses as extreme statements for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [I feel like I am more stupid than a man, and that the understanding of mankind is not mine]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 30:2 (#4)

מֵאָדָם & אָדָם

“than a man & man”

In this verse, man refers to people in general, not to a specific man. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [than any person ... any person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:3 (#2)

חֲכָמָה וְדַעַת

“wisdom, nor the knowledge of”

See how you translated the abstract nouns wisdom in 1:2 and knowledge in 1:4.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 30:3 (#3)

קִדְשִׁים

“holy ones”

Here, holy ones could refer to: (1) Yahweh as the Holy One, in which case the plural form is used to emphasize his greatness. Alternate translation: [the Holy One]; (2) heavenly beings, including God and angels. Alternate translation: [holy beings]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:3 (#1)

וְלֹא־לִמְדָתִי חֲכָמָה וְדַעַת קִדְשִׁים אֲדַע

“And I have not learned wisdom, nor the knowledge of holy ones do I know”

Agur says these two clauses as extreme statements for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [And I feel like I have not learned wisdom, nor the knowledge of holy ones do I know]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 30:4 (#2)

עָלָה־שָׁמַיִם וְיָרַד

“has ascended {to} heaven and descended”

Here, Agur speaks of someone going to the place where God dwells and returning from there as if heaven were a place that someone could go up to or come down from. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [has gone to and returned from the place where Yahweh dwells]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:4 (#3)

מִמִּי אֶסְפֶּר־רִיחַ וְבָהֶפְנָיו

“Who has gathered the wind in the hollow of his hands”

Here, Agur speaks of controlling the wind as if it were something that a person could catch and hold in the palm of one's hand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Who has controlled the wind]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:4 (#4)

בְּהֶפְנָיו

“in the hollow of his hands”

Here, the word translated hollow refers to the palm of someone's hand. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [in the palms of his hands]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:4 (#6)

מִמִּי הַקִּקִּים כָּל־אֶפְסֵי־אָרֶץ

“Who has raised up all the ends of the earth”

Here, Agur speaks of setting the boundaries of the dry land on the earth as if the ends of the earth were something that a person could raise up. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [has set up the limits for where the land ends] or [has marked the boundaries for the ends of the earth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:4 (#5)

מִמִּי צָרַר־מַמִּים | בַּשָּׁמַיִם

“Who has wrapped waters in the cloak”

Here, Agur speaks of storing rainwater in clouds as if the waters were something that a person could wrap inside a cloak. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. If a translation is available in your language, see the similar use of waters in Job 26:8. Alternate translation: [Who has stored the water in clouds]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:4 (#7)

מִה־שֹּׁמֵמוֹ וּמִה־שֹּׁשֶׁם־בִּבְנֵי תֹדֶעַ

“What {is} his name? And what {is} the name of his son? Surely you know”

Agur uses irony here to emphasize that no one knows of any person who can do those things described earlier in the verse, because such a person does not exist. If it would be helpful in your language, you could translate the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Surely, none of you knows the name of someone who has done this or the name of his son, so you cannot claim to know a lot about God]

See: Irony

Proverbs 30:4 (#1)

מִמִּי עָלָה־שְׁמַיִם | וַיִּרְדֵּם מִמִּי אֶסְפֵּי־רִירוֹ | בְּהַפְנִי מִי צָרַר־מַמִּים | בַּשָּׁמַיִם מִמִּי הַקִּקִּים כָּל־אֶפְסֵי־אָרֶץ מִה־שֹּׁמֵמוֹ וּמִה־שֹּׁשֶׁם־בִּבְנֵי

“Who has ascended {to} heaven and descended? Who has gathered the wind in the hollow of his hands? Who has wrapped waters in the cloak? Who has raised up all the ends of the earth? What {is} his name? And what {is} the name of his son”

In this verse, the writer uses the question form six times to emphasize how much greater Yahweh is than people. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation, as in the UST.

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 30:5 (#2)

מִגִּגַּן הָהוּא

“he {is} a shield”

Here, Agur speaks of God protecting people as if he were a shield. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [he is a protector]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:5 (#3)

לְחֹסִים בּוֹ

“for those who take refuge in him”

Here, Agur speaks of people trusting God to protect them as if he were a shelter in which people take refuge. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [for those who rely on him to protect them]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:5 (#1)

צָרוּפָה

“is refined”

Here Agur speaks of the truth of God's words as if his sayings were metal that contained no impurities. See how you translated the phrase “refined gold” in 8:19. Alternate translation: [is tested and proven to be true]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:6 (#1)

אַל־תִּתְּוֶסֶף עַל־דְּבָרָיו

“Do not add upon his words”

Here, Agur refers to someone claiming God said something that he did not say as if that person were adding more words to what God has said. Here, words refers to what is said, as in 1:23. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not claim that God has said something that he did not really say]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:6 (#2)

וְנִדְבָהּ

“and you be shown a liar”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and he show you to be a liar]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:7 (#2)

אֶל־תִּמְנַעַע

“do not withhold”

This phrase is an imperative, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [please do not withhold]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 30:7 (#3)

אֶל־תִּמְנַעַע

“do not withhold”

Agur is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [do not withhold these two things I request]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 30:7 (#1)

מֵאִתְּךָ

“from with you”

The pronoun you refers to God. It may be helpful to clarify this for your readers. Use the form of address that is appropriate for addressing God in your language. Alternate translation: [from you, God]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 30:7–9 (#1)

שְׁנֵי דְבָרִים שֶׁאֲשַׁלְתִּי מֵאִתְּךָ

“Two things I ask from with you”

These three verses are a prayer that Agur prays to Yahweh. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Two things I ask from you, O Yahweh]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:8 (#10)

לֶחֶם

“the bread of”

See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:8 (#2)

וְשִׁשָּׁה | וְדָבָר־כְּזָב הִרְחַחְתִּי מִמֶּנִּי

“Emptiness and the word of a lie put far away from me”

Here, Agur speaks of Emptiness and the word of a lie as if they were objects that could be put far away from a person. He means that he wants God to prevent him from acting or speaking with Emptiness and the word of a lie. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Keep me from acting with emptiness and speaking the word of a lie]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:8 (#6)

רִאשׁוֹ נִוְעֶשֶׂר אֶל־תִּתֶּן־לִּי הֶחָטְרִיפִנִּי לֶלֶחֶם הָקִי

“Do not give to me poverty or riches; cause me to receive the bread of my portion”

These two clauses are imperative clauses, but they communicate polite requests rather than commands. Use a form in your language that communicates polite requests. It may be helpful to add expressions such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation:

[Please do not give to me poverty or riches; please cause me to receive the bread of my portion]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 30:8 (#1)

שְׁשׂוּאָהּ וְדִבְרֵי־קִזְזָב הִרְחַחְתָּ מִמֶּנִּי

“Emptiness and the word of a lie put far away from me”

This is an imperative clause, but it communicates a polite request rather than a command. Use a form in your language that communicates a polite request. It may be helpful to add an expression such as “please” to make this clear. Alternate translation: [Please put far away from me emptiness and the word of a lie]

See: Imperatives — Other Uses

Proverbs 30:8 (#8)

לֶלֶחֶם חֲקִי

“the bread of my portion”

This could refer to: (1) an amount of bread that Yahweh has allotted for Agur. Alternate translation: [the bread you have apportioned for me]; (2) the amount of bread Agur needs to live. Alternate translation: [the bread I need]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:8 (#7)

רִבְאֵשׁ נֹעֵשֶׂר אֶל־תִּתֶּנִּי־לִי

“Do not give to me poverty or riches”

Here, Agur speaks of being poor or rich as if poverty and riches were physical objects that someone could give to someone else. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not allow me to be poor or rich]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:8 (#3)

שְׁשׂוּאָהּ

“Emptiness”

Emptiness here refers to dishonesty or deception. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Dishonesty]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:8 (#4)

וְדִבְרֵי־קִזְזָב

“and the word of a lie”

Here, Agur is using the possessive form to describe a word that is a lie. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and a lying word]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:8 (#9)

הִהָטֵר־יָפְנִי

“cause me to receive”

This clause is a contrast to the previous clause. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [rather, cause me to receive] or [cause me to receive instead]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 30:9 (#10)

שִׁמְיָם

“the name of”

Here, name refers to a person’s reputation. See how you translated the same use of name in 22:1.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:9 (#9)

וְיִתְפַּשְׂתִּי

“and I seize”

Here, Agur speaks of disgracing the name of my God as if the name were an object that someone could violently seize and hurt. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and I might disgrace]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:9 (#7)

אֶנְדָּרָשׁ

“I become dispossessed”

Here, dispossessed refers to someone becoming so poor that he loses everything that he owns. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I become so poor that I own nothing]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:9 (#2)

אֶשְׂבֹּעַ

“I be satiated”

Here, satiated refers to having too much food and possessions. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [I possess too much]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:9 (#3)

וְכַחֲשֵׁתִי

“and I deny”

Agur is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and I deny Yahweh]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 30:9 (#5)

מִמִּי יְהוָה

“Who {is} Yahweh”

Agur is using the question form to emphasize what might happen to him if he became too rich. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [I do not know Yahweh!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 30:9 (#8)

וְהִתְפַּשְׁתִּי

“and I seize”

Here, and introduces the result of stealing. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate results. Alternate translation: [and so I seize]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 30:9 (#4)

וְאֶמְרֵתִי מִמִּי יְהוָה

“and say, ‘Who {is} Yahweh’”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [and ask what importance Yahweh has.]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 30:9 (#1)

פֶּן אֶשְׂבֹּעַ | וְכַחֲשֵׁתִי וְאֶמְרֵתִי

“Lest I be satiated, and I deny and say”

Agur is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first makes a request of God so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the request. Alternate translation: [otherwise I may become satiated and deny and say]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 30:9 (#6)

וּפְנִיאִי אֶחָרְשׁ וְגִנָּבְתִּי וְהִתְפַּשְׁתִּי

“And lest I become dispossessed and steal, and I seize”

Agur is using the word translated as lest to introduce an outcome that he does not want to happen. Because of this, he first makes a request of God so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the request. Alternate translation: [otherwise I may become dispossessed and steal and seize]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 30:10 (#1)

עֶבֶד אֶל־אֲדֹנָי & יְקַלְלֶךָ

“a slave to his master & he curse you”

Here, a slave, his, and he refer to slaves in general, not a specific slave. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any slave to that slave’s master ... that slave curse you]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:10 (#2)

וְאִשְׁמָתָה

“and you be found guilty”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [and people consider you to be guilty]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:10 (#3)

וְאִשְׁמָתָה

“and you be found guilty”

Agur implies that this person is guilty of slandering. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and you be found guilty of slander]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:11 (#3)

אֲבִירֵי יִקְלָלִים וְאֵת־אֲמִמּוֹ לֹא יְבָרֵךְ

“it curses its father and does not bless its mother”

These two clauses mean basically the same thing. The second clause emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine these clauses and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [it regularly curses its father and mother]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:11 (#1)

דָּדוֹר אֲבִירֵי יִקְלָלִים וְאֵת־אֲמִמּוֹ לֹא יְבָרֵךְ

“There is} a generation, it curses its father and does not bless its mother”

30:11-14 is the first of six numerical sayings in this chapter, even though this saying does not state the number of illustrations. See the discussion of this in the introduction for this chapter.

Proverbs 30:11 (#2)

דָּדוֹר אֲבִירֵי יִקְלָלִים & אֲמִמּוֹ

“There is} a generation, it curses its father & its mother”

In this verse, the words generation, it, and its are singular in form, but they refer to some people as a group. If it would be helpful in your language, you could say this plainly. Alternate translation: [There is a group of people, those people curse their fathers ... their mothers]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 30:12 (#3)

בְּעֵינָיו

“in its eyes”

See how you translated the same use of eyes in 3:4.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:12 (#4)

וְהִמְצִאָתוֹ לֹא רָחֵץ

“but it is not washed from its excrement”

Here, Agur speaks of people being guilty of doing something wrong as if those people were not washed and as if the wrong things they did were excrement. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [but it is guilty of doing bad things] or [but it is guilty, as if it has not washed off its excrement]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:12 (#2)

טָהוֹר

“clean”

Here, Agur speaks of people being innocent of doing anything wrong as if those people were clean. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [innocent]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:12 (#5)

לֹא רָחֵץ

“it is not washed”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [it has not washed itself]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:12 (#1)

דָּדוֹר & בְּעֵינָיו וְהִמְצִאָתוֹ לֹא רָחֵץ

“There is} a generation & in its eyes, but it is not washed from its excrement”

See how you translated the same use of generation, it, and its in the previous verse.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 30:13 (#1)

דָּדוֹר & עֵינָיו וְעַפְפָּאיוֹ

“There is} a generation & its eyes & and its eyelids”

See how you translated the same use of generation and its in 30:11.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 30:13 (#4)

רַמְמוּ עֵינֵיכֶם וְרָעַפְפוּ יְדֵיכֶם

“its eyes are raised up, and its eyelids are lifted up”

The phrases eyes are raised up and eyelids are lifted up mean similar things. Agur is using the two phrases together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [how completely proud they are]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:13 (#2)

מִה־רַמְמוֹ עֵינֵיכֶם וְרָעַפְפוּ יְדֵיכֶם

“how its eyes are raised up, and its eyelids are lifted up”

Here, how indicates that what follows is an exclamation that emphasizes the pride of this generation. Use an exclamation that would communicate that meaning in your language. Alternate translation: [its eyes are so raised up, and their eyelids are so lifted up]

See: Exclamations

Proverbs 30:13 (#3)

רַמְמוּ עֵינֵיכֶם וְרָעַפְפוּ יְדֵיכֶם

“its eyes are raised up, and its eyelids are lifted up”

Here, Agur refers to pride as eyes that are raised up and eyelids that are lifted up, which are characteristic facial expressions of proud people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [proud they are, and they are arrogant]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:14 (#1)

דָּדוֹר & שְׁנִיּוֹ & מְתַלְעֵתָתִי

“There is} a generation, its teeth & its fangs”

See how you translated the same use of generation and its in 30:11.

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 30:14 (#3)

הַרְבֵּבוֹת שְׁנִיּוֹ וְמִאֲכָלֹת מְתַלְעֵתָתִי

“its teeth {are} swords and its fangs {are} knives”

The phrases its teeth are swords and its fangs are knives mean the same thing. Agur is using the two phrases together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [its teeth are very sharp]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:14 (#2)

הַרְבֵּבוֹת שְׁנִיּוֹ וְמִאֲכָלֹת מְתַלְעֵתָתִי

“its teeth {are} swords and its fangs {are} knives for devouring”

Here, Agur refers to people who oppress the afflicted and the needy as if they were wild animals that are devouring those people by using teeth or fangs that are dangerous like swords or knives. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [it cruelly oppresses] or [it oppresses others like a wild animal that uses sword-like teeth or knife-like fangs to consume]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:14 (#4)

עֲנִיִּים מֵאֶרֶץ וְאֶבְיוֹנִים מֵאָדָם

“the afflicted from the earth and the needy from man”

The phrases afflicted ones from the earth and needy ones from man mean the same thing. Agur is using the two phrases together for emphasis. Here, the afflicted and the needy both refer to poor people. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [poor people from the world]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:14 (#5)

מֵאָדָם

“from man”

Here, man refers to all people in general, not a specific man. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [from mankind] or [from all human beings]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:15 (#2)

לְעִלּוֹקָה

“are} to the leech”

A leech is a type of worm that attaches itself to the skin of a person or animal in order to suck blood. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [are for the blood-sucking animal] or [are for the parasite]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:15 (#4)

שְׁלֹשׁ הַהֲנָה לֹא תִשְׂבַּעְנָה אֲרֻבָּע לֹא־אֲמָרוּ הֵן

“There are} three, they are not satisfied; four, they do not say, ‘Enough”

The second half of 30:15 and all of 30:16 are the second of six numerical sayings in this chapter. See the discussion of numerical sayings in the Chapter Introduction.

Proverbs 30:15 (#3)

הֵן ב | הֵן ב

“Give! Give”

This could refer to: (1) the names of the Two daughters. Alternate translation: [they are named Give and Give]; (2) what the Two daughters say. Alternate translation: [they say, ‘Give! Give]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:15 (#5)

שְׁלֹשׁ הַהֲנָה לֹא תִשְׂבַּעְנָה אֲרֻבָּע לֹא־אֲמָרוּ הֵן

“There are} three, they are not satisfied; four, they do not say, ‘Enough”

To make a comprehensive statement, Agur is using a poetic form in which the speaker names a number that should be sufficient to illustrate his point and then increases that number by one for emphasis. Since the meaning of both clauses is the same, you could also combine them into one clause. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [These four things are absolutely never satisfied]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:15 (#1)

לְעֹקֶלֶה | שְׁתֵּי בָנוֹת

“Two daughters {are} to the leech”

Here, Agur speaks of greedy people as if they were daughters of a leech. Leeches and greedy people are similar because they both live off of what they take from others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Greedy people always say] or [Greedy people are like a leech with two daughters that say]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:15 (#6)

לֹא תִשְׂבַּעְנָה

“are not satisfied”

The expression are not satisfied is a passive verbal form. If your language would not use that form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [never have enough for themselves]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:16 (#5)

וְאֵשׁ לֹא־אֲמָרָה הֵן

“and a fire—it does not say, ‘Enough”

Here, Agur speaks of fire requiring fuel to keep burning as if it were a person who never says Enough. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and a fire that never stops needing fuel to keep burning]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:16 (#4)

אֲרֶץ לֹא־שִׂבְעָה מַמִּים

“a land not satisfied with water”

Here, Agur speaks of land that does not have enough water to grow crops as if it were a person who does not have enough water to drink. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a land that never gets enough water to grow crops]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:16 (#2)

וְעֶצֶר

“and the closure of”

Here Agur refers to a woman being unable to bear children as if her womb were closed. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the barrenness of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:16 (#1)

וְעֵצָצָר כָּרְחֹם אֶרֶץ לֹא־שֹׂשְׁבָהּ מִמֵּי־וָאֵשׁ

“and the closure of the womb, a land not satisfied with water, and a fire”

Here, the womb, a land, and a fire refer to these things in general, not specific things. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [and the closure of any womb, any land not satisfied with water, and any fire]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:16 (#3)

וְעֵצָצָר כָּרְחֹם

“and the closure of the womb”

Here, the closure of the womb refers to the inability of the woman to conceive or bear a child. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [a woman unable to bear a child]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:17 (#6)

יִקְרְוֶהָ עֵרְבֵי־נִגְחַל

“the ravens of the valley will peck it out”

Since ravens and vultures usually eat dead animals, Agur implies here that this person will be killed before the birds eat him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that person will die and the ravens of the valley will peck out that person's eye]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:17 (#4)

עֵרְבֵי־נִגְחַל & נָשָׂר

“the ravens of the valley & the vulture”

Both the ravens and the vulture refer to large birds that eat dead animals. If your readers would not be familiar with these types of birds, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [birds that scavenge in the valley ... other birds that scavenge] or [scavenger birds ... scavenger birds]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:17 (#7)

בְּנֵי־נָשָׂר

“the sons of the vulture”

Here Agur refers to young vultures as if they were sons from the vulture family. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the young vultures]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:17 (#1)

עֵיִן | תִּלְעֵג לְאָבִי

“An eye mocks a father”

Agur is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Concerning an eye that mocks a father]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 30:17 (#3)

לְאָבִי & אִמִּי

“a father & to} a mother”

Here Agur implies that a father and a mother are the parents of the person who mocks and shows contempt. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [that person's father ... to that person's mother]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:17 (#2)

עֵיִן

“An eye”

Here, eye represents the attitude of a person, as displayed in the eyes. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use an equivalent expression or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Anyone who has an evil eye and so] or [A person who]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:17 (#5)

יִקְרְוֶהָ עֵרְבֵי־נִגְחַל וַיֹּאכְלֶיהָ בְּנֵי־נָשָׂר

“the ravens of the valley will peck it out, and the sons of the vulture will eat it”

Here, Agur is continuing to speak about the mocking and contemptuous eye as if it were the problem, rather than the person with those attitudes. If you have chosen to refer to the person directly rather than to the eye of the person in this verse, you could also state the meaning of this part of the verse plainly. Alternate translation: [he will be eaten by scavengers] or [this person will be punished severely]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:18 (#1)

שְׁלֹשָׁה הַהֲמָה נִפְלְאוּ מִמֶּנִּי וְאַרְבָּעָה לֹא יָדַעְתִּים

“Three things, they {are} too wonderful for me, and four, I do not understand them”

30:18-19 is the third of six numerical sayings in this chapter. See the discussion of numerical sayings in the Chapter Introduction.

Proverbs 30:18 (#2)

שְׁלֹשָׁה הַהֲמָה נִפְלְאוּ מִמֶּנִּי וְאַרְבָּעָה

“Three things, they {are} too wonderful for me, and four”

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. To make a comprehensive statement, Agur is using a poetic form in which the speaker names a number that should be sufficient to illustrate his point and then increases that number by one for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the similar use of Three things and four in 30:15. Alternate translation: [These four things are absolutely too wonderful for me]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 30:19 (#6)

בְּלִב־יָם

“in the heart of the sea”

See how you translated this phrase in 23:34.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:19 (#5)

דֶּרֶךְ-אֲנִיָּה

“the way of a ship”

Here Agur is using the possessive form to describe the way that a ship sails in the heart of the sea. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the way that a ship sails]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:19 (#1)

דֶּרֶךְ & דֶּרֶךְ & דֶּרֶךְ & דֶּרֶךְ

“the way of & the way of & the way of & and the way of”

In this verse, way refers to the manner of doing something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [the manner of ... the manner of ... the manner of ... and the manner of]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:19 (#4)

דֶּרֶךְ נֶחָשׁ עַל־לֵי צִוִּיר

“the way of a snake on a rock”

Here Agur is using the possessive form to describe the way that a snake slithers on a rock. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the way that a snake slithers on a rock]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:19 (#3)

דֶּרֶךְ הַנֶּנְשֵׁר | בְּשָׁמַיִם

“the way of the eagle in the sky”

Here Agur is using the possessive form to describe the way that the eagle flies in the sky. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [the way that the eagle flies in the sky]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:19 (#2)

הַנֶּנְשֵׁר & נֶחָשׁ & אֲנִיָּה & יָם & גִּגְבֵּר בְּעֵלְמָה

“the eagle & a snake & a ship & the sea & a young man with a young woman”

These phrases refer to these things or people in general. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any eagle ... any snake ... any ship ... any sea ... any young man with any young woman]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:19 (#7)

וְדֶרֶךְ גִּגְבֵּר בְּעֵלְמָה

“and the way of a young man with a young woman”

Here Agur is using the possessive form to describe the way that a young man interacts with a young woman. This refers to a young couple's loving relationship, which would include sexual relations. Alternate translation: [and the way that a young man lovingly interacts with a young woman]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:20 (#1)

וַיִּרְדּוּ

“is} the way of”

See how you translated the same use of way in the previous verse.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:20 (#5)

אִינוּ

“iniquity”

See how you translated the abstract noun iniquity in 6:12.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 30:20 (#3)

אֲכָלָהּ וּמָחָהָ פִּיָּהּ

“She eats and wipes her mouth”

Agur is referring to an adulterous woman easily committing adultery as if she were eating. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [she commits adultery easily] or [she is like a woman who eats and wipes her mouth]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:20 (#2)

אֲכָלָהּ וּמָחָהָ פִּיָּהּ

“a woman & She eats and wipes her mouth”

Here, a woman, she, and her refer to a type of women in general, not a specific woman. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any woman ... that woman eats and wipes her mouth]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:20 (#4)

וְאִמְרָהּ לֹא-פָעַלְתִּי אֵין

“and says, ‘I have not done iniquity’”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could express this as an indirect quotation. Alternate translation: [and says that she has not done iniquity]

See: Direct and Indirect Quotations

Proverbs 30:21 (#1)

תִּתְחַת שְׁשָׁלוֹשׁ רָרְגָזָה אֲרָץ וְתִתְחַת אַרְבָּעֵה לֹא-תִוָּכַל שְׂאֵת

“Under three things the earth quakes, and under four it is not able to hold up”

30:21–23 is the fourth of six numerical sayings in this chapter. See the discussion of numerical sayings in the introduction for this chapter.

Proverbs 30:21 (#2)

תִּתְחַת שְׁשָׁלוֹשׁ רָרְגָזָה אֲרָץ וְתִתְחַת אַרְבָּעֵה לֹא-תִוָּכַל שְׂאֵת

“Under three things the earth quakes, and under four it is not able to hold up”

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. To make a comprehensive statement, Agur is using a poetic form in which the speaker names a number that should be sufficient to illustrate his point and then increases that number by one for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Since the meaning of both clauses is similar, you could also combine them into one clause. See how you translated the similar use of three things and four in 30:15. Alternate translation: [Under these four things the earth truly shakes]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 30:21 (#3)

תִּתְחַת & תִּתְחַת

“Under & and under”

Here, Agur is speaking of several things that people cannot tolerate as if they were standing under them. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Regarding ... and regarding]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:21 (#4)

רָרְגָזָה אֲרָץ & לֹא-תִוָּכַל שְׂאֵת

“the earth quakes & it is not able to hold up”

Here, Agur is speaking as if the earth quakes and is not able to hold up to express how much people in general dislike the things he is about to mention. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [people shudder ... they cannot endure]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:22 (#4)

לֶחֶם

“bread”

See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 30:22 (#2)

עֶבֶד כִּי יִמְלֹךְ וְאִנְכָּל כִּי יִשְׂבַּע

“a slave when he becomes king and a worthless one when he is satisfied with”

Here, a slave, he, and a worthless one refer types of people in general, not specific people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any slave when that slave becomes king, and any worthless one when that person is satisfied with]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:22 (#3)

יִשְׂבַּע

“he is satisfied with”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [he gets enough]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:22 (#1)

תַּחַת

“under”

See how you translated under in 30:21.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:23 (#1)

תַּחַת

“under”

See how you translated under in 30:21.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:23 (#4)

תִּירַשׁ גְּבוּרָתָהּ

“she dispossesses her mistress”

Here, dispossesses refers to a female servant replacing her master’s wife as the lead woman of the household. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she becomes her master’s wife in place of her mistress]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:23 (#2)

שִׂשְׁנוּאָה כִּי תִבְעֵעַל וְאִשְׂפָּחָה כִּי תִירַשׁ גְּבוּרָתָהּ

“a hated woman when she is married and a female servant when she dispossesses her mistress”

Here, a hated woman, she, and a female servant, and her refer to types of women in general, not specific women. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any hated woman when that woman is married, and any female servant when that servant dispossesses her mistress]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:23 (#3)

כִּי תִבְעֵעַל

“when she is married”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [when someone marries her]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 30:24 (#2)

קְטַנֵּי־אָרֶץ

“are} small things of the earth”

Here Agur is using the possessive form to describe small things that exist on the earth. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [are small things that exist on the earth]

See: Possession

Proverbs 30:24 (#1)

אַרְבַּבְעָה הֵהֱם קְטַנֵּי־אָרֶץ וְהֵם חֲכָמִים מְחֻמָּם

“Four things, they {are} small things of the earth but they {are} wise things, being made wise”

30:24-28 is the fifth of six numerical sayings in this chapter. See the discussion of numerical sayings in the Chapter Introduction.

Proverbs 30:24 (#3)

חֲכָמִים מְחֻמָּם

“are} wise things, being made wise”

Here, wise things, being made wise is an emphatic construction that uses a verb and its object that come from the same root. You may be able to use the same construction in your language to express the meaning here. Alternatively, your language may have another way of showing the emphasis. Alternate translation: [are wise, very skilled]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 30:25 (#2)

וַיַּכְרִינוּ בַקֶּיץ לֶחֶם

“but they prepare their food in the summer”

See how you translated the similar phrase “prepares its bread in the summer” in 6:8.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:25 (#1)

עָם

“are} a people”

Here Agur refers to the whole species of ants as if they were a group of people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [are a species]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:26 (#2)

עָם

“are} a people”

See how you translated the same use of people in the previous verse.

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:26 (#1)

שְׁפָנִים

“Rock badgers”

Rock badgers are small animals also called “hyraxes” that live in the cracks between rocks in the wilderness. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [Small mammals that live among rocks]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:26 (#4)

בֵּיתָם

“their house”

Here Agur refers to the places where Rock badgers live as if those places were houses such as humans live in. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [their dwelling places] or [their holes]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:26 (#3)

בְּסֹלֶעַ בֵּיתָם

“their house in the cliff”

Although house and the cliff are singular, they refer to these things in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [their houses in the cliffs]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:27 (#2)

וַיֵּצֵא חֲצָצִין

“but & goes out divided {into groups}”

Here Agur speaks of the orderly ways that locusts travel as if they were an army of soldiers who go out divided into groups. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [but ... move together in an organized manner] or [but ... march ahead like ranks of soldiers]

See: Personification

Proverbs 30:27 (#1)

לְאַרְבֶּבָּהּ & כָּלֹ

“for the locust & each of it”

Here, the locust and it represent locusts in general, not one particular locust. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [for locusts ... every one of them]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:28 (#1)

שְׁשִׁמִית & הָהָיָא & מְלֹךְ

“a lizard & yet it & the king”

Here, a lizard, it, and the king represent lizards and kings in general, not one particular lizard or king. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any lizard ... yet any lizard ... any king]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:28 (#2)

שְׁשִׁמִית

“a lizard”

A lizard is a small animal that crawls on the ground and can hide in houses. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of animal, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [a gecko] or [a small crawling reptile]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:29 (#3)

מִיִּטְטִיבִי צָצַעַד & מִיִּטְטִיבִי לָכַת

“are doing well of step & are doing well of walking”

The phrases doing well of step and doing well of walking both refer to animals or people who walk impressively. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [walk in an impressive manner ... stride in a stately manner]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 30:29 (#1)

שְׁלֹשָׁה הַהֵמָּה מִיִּטְטִיבִי צָצַעַד וְאֶרְבָּעָה מִיִּטְטִיבִי לָכַת

“Three things, they are doing well of step, and four are doing well of walking”

30:29–31 is the sixth of six numerical sayings in this chapter. See the discussion of numerical sayings in the Chapter Introduction.

Proverbs 30:29 (#2)

שְׁלֹשָׁה הַהֵמָּה מִיִּטְטִיבִי צָצַעַד וְאֶרְבָּעָה מִיִּטְטִיבִי לָכַת

“Three things, they are doing well of step, and four are doing well of walking”

This is poetic language. If your language has a way to indicate poetry, you could use it here. To make a comprehensive statement, Agur is using a poetic form in which the speaker names a number that should be sufficient to illustrate his point and then increases that number by one for emphasis. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Since the meaning of both clauses is the same, you could also combine them into one clause. See how you translated the similar use of Three things and four in 30:15. Alternate translation: [These four things truly walk well]

See: Poetry

Proverbs 30:29 (#4)

שְׁלֹשָׁה הַהֵמָּה מִיִּטְטִיבִי צָצַעַד וְאֶרְבָּעָה מִיִּטְטִיבִי לָכַת

“Three things, they are doing well of step, and four are doing well of walking”

These two phrases mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could connect the phrases with a word other than and in order to show that the second phrase is repeating the first one, not saying something additional. Alternate translation: [Three things, they are doing well of step, indeed, four are doing well of walking]

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 30:30 (#3)

וְלֹא-יָשׁוּב מִפָּנָי

“and it will not turn away from the face of”

Here, turn away from the face means “does not run away from” because one would have to turn one’s face away from the face of someone in order to run away from that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and it will not run away from]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 30:30 (#2)

גִּבּוֹר בְּבֵהֵמָה

“mighty among the animals”

Here, mighty among the animals refers to being the mightiest animal among them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the mightiest animal]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 30:30 (#1)

לִישׁ & לֹא-יָשׁוּב

“a lion & and it will not turn away”

Here, a lion and it refer to lions in general, not a specific lion. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any lion ... and that lion will not turn away]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:31 (#1)

יִרְזָזִיר מִתְנַנִּים אוֹ-תַתִּישׁ וְאִמְלֹךְ אֶלְקָקִים עִמּוֹ

“a rooster of loins, or a male goat, and a king against whom one does not rise up”

Here, one girded of loins, a male goat, a king, and one refer to animals or people in general, not specific animals or people. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [those girded of loins, or any male goat, and any king against whom any person does not rise up]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 30:31 (#3)

אֶלְקָקִים עִמּוֹ

“against whom one does not rise up”

The phrase translated as against whom one does not rise up could also be translated as “whose army is with him.” If a translation of the Bible exists in your region, you may wish to use the reading that it uses. If a translation of the Bible does not exist in your region, you may wish to use the reading of the ULT.

Proverbs 30:31 (#2)

יִרְזָזִיר מִתְנַנִּים

“a rooster of loins”

Many scholars believe that the word translated as a rooster refers to a fighting cock, which is a type of rooster. Roosters are male birds that walk around in a proud manner and some are trained to fight each other. Some have coloring that makes them appear to be wearing protective fighting clothing, which may explain the phrase of loins, which would refer to a man prepared for battle. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of bird, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Other scholars believe that this word may refer to some other animal. If a Bible translation exists in your region, you may want to use the translation that it uses. Alternate translation: [strutting roosters] or [a male bird that struts proudly]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:32 (#2)

יָד לִפֶּה

“a hand {be} to mouth”

Here Agur uses the phrase a hand be to mouth to refer to telling someone to stop doing something. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [stop doing those things]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:32 (#1)

בְּהִתְנַשֵּׂא

“by lifting up yourself”

Here Agur speaks of someone honoring himself as if he were lifting up himself for everyone to see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [by honoring yourself]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:33 (#6)

רִיב

“strife”

See how you translated the abstract noun strife in 16:28.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 30:33 (#3)

מִמֵּיִן חֶלֶב יִוצָא חֲמָאָה

“the squeezing of milk brings out butter”

Here, Agur refers to stirring liquid milk until it thickens into a solid food substance called butter. If your readers would not be familiar with milk or the process for making butter, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [stirring some liquids causes them to harden]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 30:33 (#5)

יִוצֵיא רִיב

“brings out strife”

Here, Agur refers to causing people to argue as if strife were an object that someone brings out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [causes strife between people]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:33 (#1)

כִּי

“For”

For here introduces the reason for obeying the command stated in the previous verse. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate reason. Alternate translation: [Stop doing these things because]

See: Connect — Reason-and-Result Relationship

Proverbs 30:33 (#2)

מִמֵּין הִלָּב יִוצֵיא הַמָּאֵה וּמִיֶּן-אַף יִוצֵיא דָּם וּמִמֵּין אֲפֹפִים יִוצֵיא רִיב

“the squeezing of milk brings out butter, and the squeezing of the nose brings out blood, and the squeezing of nostrils brings out strife”

Here, Agur mentions three cause-and-effect relationships in order to teach that doing what he described in the previous verse will have bad results. The third phrase is what will happen if a person continues to do the things mentioned in verse 32. That is, if he continues to exalt himself or make evil schemes, people will become angry with him and start to fight with him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a simile. Alternate translation: [just like the squeezing of milk brings out butter, and the squeezing of the nose brings out blood, and the squeezing of nostrils brings out strife, that is what will happen if you keep doing these things]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 30:33 (#4)

וּמִמֵּין אֲפֹפִים

“and the squeezing of nostrils”

Here, the phrase squeezing of nostrils is a common expression of the culture that means that the person is becoming angry. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, use a comparable expression from your language that does have that meaning or state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and making people foam at the mouth] or [and angering people]

Proverbs - Chapter 31 Introduction

Structure and Formatting

1. Sayings from Lemuel (31:1–9)

2. Description of a good and capable wife (31:10–31)

Chapter 31 is the chapter in this book written by Lemuel, who wrote down the advice that his mother told him. Within the Bible, here is the only place that Lemuel is mentioned.

Religious and Cultural Concepts in This Chapter

Acrostic poem

Proverbs 31:10–31 is an acrostic poem, that is, a poem in which each line begins with a successive letter of the alphabet in the original language. Using every letter of the language in that way expresses the idea of comprehensiveness and also helps people memorize the poem. In 31:10–31 the acrostic poem emphasizes that virtuous women demonstrate their virtue in everything that they do. If using the letters of your alphabet in this way would not communicate that this is a poem, you could use a different way in your language to indicate that these verses are one poem about the same topic. (See: Poetry)

Proverbs 31:1 (#1)

דִּבְרֵי

“The words of”

See how you translated the same use of words in 1:6.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:1 (#2)

מִמְשָׁל

“a burden”

See how you translated the same use of burden in 30:1.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:2 (#1)

מִה־בְּרִי

“What, my son”

31:2–31 is a long quotation of what Lemuel’s mother told him. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation.

See: Quote Markings

Proverbs 31:2 (#4)

בֶּרֶב־בֶּטֶן

“son of my womb”

Here, Lemuel’s mother is using the possessive form to describe a son whom she had carried in her womb. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [son whom I carried in my womb]

See: Possession

Proverbs 31:2 (#5)

בֶּרֶב־נְדָרִי

“son of my vows”

Here, vows could mean: (1) the promise Lemuel’s mother made to dedicate her son to God if he allowed her to have a child. Alternate translation: [son whom I dedicated to Yahweh]; (2) Lemuel is the result of God hearing his mother’s vows, in which case vows would refer to prayers. Alternate translation: [son for whom I prayed]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:2 (#3)

מֶה־בְּבִרִי וּמֶה־בֶּרֶב־בֶּטֶן וְאִמָּה בֶּרֶב־נְדָרִי

“What, my son? And what, son of my womb? And what, son of my vows”

These three questions could be: (1) rhetorical questions that Lemuel’s mother asks in order to emphasize that her son should listen to what she is about to say. Alternate translation: [This is what I should tell you, my son! And this is what I should tell you, son of my womb! And this is what I should tell you, son of my vows!]; (2) exclamations in which What is not introducing a question. Alternate translation: [O, my son! O, son of my womb! O, son of my vows!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 31:2 (#2)

מֶה־בְּבִרִי וּמֶה־בֶּרֶב־בֶּטֶן וְאִמָּה בֶּרֶב־נְדָרִי

“What, my son? And what, son of my womb? And what, son of my vows”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [What should I say to you, my son? And what should I say to you, son of my womb? And what should I say to you, son of my vows?]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:3 (#1)

אַל־תַּתִּיתִי לְנָשִׁים חֵילָךְ

“Do not give to women your strength”

Lemuel’s mother is referring to sex in a polite way by using the phrase give your strength to women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [Do not tire yourself out with women] or [Do not waste your energy on having sex with women]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 31:3 (#3)

לְמַהֲחֹת מִלְכִּין

“to cause kings to be wiped out”

The parallelism between this clause and the previous clause indicates that this phrase refers to women who cause kings to be wiped out. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to those women who cause kings to be wiped out]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:3 (#2)

וְאִדָּרְכָךְ

“or your ways”

Here, your ways could mean: (1) the same as your strength in the previous clause, which is parallel to this clause. Alternate translation: [or your vigor]; (2) a person’s regular behavior, which is what ways usually means in Proverbs. Alternate translation: [or what you do]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:4 (#3)

אוֹ

“or”

Some ancient copies and translations say that the word translated as or is a different word that means “desire” or “crave,” which makes sense because of the parallelism with drink wine in the previous clause. If a translation of the Bible already exists in your area, you could consider using the reading in that translation. If there is not already a Bible translation in your area, you may wish to follow the reading of the UST.

See: Textual Variants

Proverbs 31:4 (#2)

אֵאָל לְמַלְכִּים & אֵאָל לְמַלְכִּים

“It is} not for kings & it is} not for kings”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [It is not appropriate for kings ... it is not appropriate for kings]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:4 (#1)

אֵאָל לְמַלְכִּים | לְמוֹאֵאָל אֵאָל לְמַלְכִּים

“It is} not for kings, Lemuel, {it is} not for kings”

Here, Lemuel’s mother repeats the same phrase for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could use one phrase and express the emphasis in another way. Alternate translation: [It is absolutely not for kings, Lemuel]

See: Reduplication

Proverbs 31:5 (#5)

דָּדִין כָּל־בְּנֵי־עָנִי

“the legal claim of all the sons of the afflicted one”

Here, the legal claim and the afflicted one refer to claims and afflicted people in general, not a specific claim or afflicted one. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any legal claim of all the sons of any afflicted person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:5 (#3)

מִחֲקָקָה

“what has been decreed”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. This phrase refers to the laws of the country that these kings or dignitaries rule over. Alternate translation: [what the law decrees] or [their laws]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 31:5 (#2)

יִשְׁתֶּה

“he drink”

Here, he refers to the kings and dignitaries mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [those kings or dignitaries drink]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 31:5 (#4)

וְיִשְׁבֹּה דְדִין

“and pervert the legal claim of”

Here, pervert the legal claim refers to depriving people of their legal rights. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and deny the legal rights of]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:5 (#6)

בְּנֵי־עָנִי

“the sons of the afflicted one”

Here, the sons of the afflicted one refers to all afflicted people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [afflicted people]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 31:5 (#1)

פֶּן־יִשְׁתֶּה

“Lest he drink”

Lemuel’s mother is using the word translated as Lest to introduce an outcome that she does not want to happen. Because of this, she first gives Lemuel an instruction to follow so that this will not happen. Use a connector in your language that makes it clear that avoiding this outcome is the purpose of the instruction. Alternate translation: [Otherwise he may drink]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 31:6 (#3)

לְמַמְרֵי נָפֶשׁ

“to those bitter of soul”

Here, Lemuel’s mother refers to people who feel miserable as if their souls are bitter. Here, soul refers to a person’s inner being or mind, as in 23:7. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to those who are miserable]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:6 (#2)

וַיֵּין

“and wine”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the previous clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and give wine]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:6 (#1)

לְאוֹבֵדִים

“to the perishing one”

Here, the perishing one refers to dying people in general, not a specific person. If it would be helpful, you could use a more natural expression in your language. Alternate translation: [to any perishing person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:7 (#3)

רִישָׁו וַיַּעֲמֵלְלוּ

“his poverty, and his trouble”

See how you translated the abstract nouns poverty in 6:11 and trouble in 24:2.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:7 (#1)

יִשְׁתֶּה וַיִּשְׁכַּח רִישָׁו וַיַּעֲמֵלְלוּ לֵאמֹר יִזְכֶּר-עוֹד

“He will drink and forget his poverty, and his trouble he will not remember again”

He and his refer to “the perishing one” and “those bitter of soul,” who are mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [Those dying and miserable people will drink and forget their poverty, and their trouble they will not remember again]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 31:7 (#2)

יִשְׁתֶּה

“He will drink”

Lemuel’s mother implies that He will drink wine or some other intoxicating drink, as mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [He will drink wine or intoxicating drink]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:8 (#4)

בְּנֵי הַלּוֹךְ

“the sons of the one passing away”

See how you translated the same use of the sons of in 31:5.

See: Idiom

Proverbs 31:8 (#5)

הַלּוֹךְ

“the one passing away”

Lemuel’s mother is referring to death in a polite way by using the phrase passing away. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a more normal polite way of referring to this in your language, or you could state this plainly. Alternate translation: [the dying one]

See: Euphemism

Proverbs 31:8 (#3)

אֶל-דֹּעֵין

“for the legal claim of”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence or use a connecting word if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [open your mouth for the legal claim of] or [and for the legal claim of]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:8 (#1)

פֶּתַח-פִּיךָ לֹא-לֵלֶם

“Open your mouth for a mute one”

Open your mouth refers to doing so in order to say something to defend someone. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [Open your mouth to speak on behalf of a mute one]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:8 (#2)

לֹאֲלֵלִים אֶל־דֹּדֵיךָ כָּל־פִּגְנֵי הַלֹּוֹף

“for a mute one, for the legal claim of all the sons of the one passing away”

Here, a mute one, the legal claim, and the one passing away refer to these people and things in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [for any mute person, for any legal claim of all the sons of any person passing away]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:9 (#2)

פִּתְחֵ־פִּיךָ

“Open your mouth”

See how you translated this phrase in the previous verse.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:9 (#1)

פִּתְחֵ־פִּיךָ שְׁפֹט־צָדִיק

“Open your mouth, judge {with} righteousness”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from the second clause if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [Open your mouth for the afflicted one and poor one and judge them with righteousness]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:9 (#4)

וְדֹדֶיךָ צָנִי וְאֶבְיֹוֹן

“and plead the legal case of the afflicted one and poor one”

Here, the legal case, the afflicted one, and poor one refer to legal cases and types of people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [and plead any legal case of any afflicted person and any poor person]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:9 (#3)

אִשְׁת־חַיִּל

“with} righteousness”

See how you translated the abstract noun righteousness in 1:3.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:10 (#3)

אִשְׁת־חַיִּל

“A woman of worth”

Here, Lemuel’s mother is using the possessive form to describe a woman who is characterized by worth. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [A worthy woman]

See: Possession

Proverbs 31:10 (#4)

חַיִּל

“worth”

Here, worth refers to both physical ability and moral worth. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [physical and moral worth]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:10 (#5)

מִפְּנִינִים

“more than coral pearls”

See how you translated coral pearls in 3:15.

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 31:10 (#2)

אִשְׁת־חַיִּל & מְכָרָהּ

“A woman of worth & her value”

A woman of worth and her refer to a type of woman in general, not a particular woman. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any woman of worth ... that woman’s value]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:10 (#1)

אִשְׁת־חַיִּיל מִמִּי יִמְצָא

“A woman of worth, who can find”

Lemuel’s mother is using the question form to emphasize the difficulty of finding a wife of worth. If you would not use the question form for this purpose in your language, you could translate this as a statement or an exclamation. Alternate translation: [Not many men can find a woman of worth!]

See: Rhetorical Question

Proverbs 31:11 (#2)

וְשָׁלָלָהּ

“and spoil”

Although the word translated as spoil usually refers to wealth that soldiers seize after winning a battle or that thieves steal, here it refers to the valuable things that this husband gains because of his wife. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and great wealth from her]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:11 (#3)

לֹא יִחְסֹר

“he will not lack”

Lemuel’s mother is using a figure of speech here that expresses a strongly positive meaning by using a negative word, not, together with an expression that is the opposite of the intended meaning. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the positive meaning. Alternate translation: [he will always have]

See: Litotes

Proverbs 31:11 (#1)

לֵב בַּעֲלָהּ

“The heart of her husband”

Here, the heart represents where the husband’s thoughts and feelings exist. You may have a comparable expression in your language, or you could state the meaning plainly. See how you translated the same use of heart in 14:10. Alternate translation: [Her husband’s inner being]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:12 (#1)

טוֹב וְלֹא־רָע

“good and not evil”

See how you translated the abstract nouns good in 11:27 and evil in 1:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:12 (#3)

חַיִּיהָ

“her life”

See how you translated the abstract noun life in 10:16.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:12 (#2)

טוֹב וְלֹא־רָע

“good and not evil”

The expressions good and not evil mean the same thing. Lemuel’s mother is using the two expressions together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [extremely good]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 31:13 (#3)

וּפְשֹׁתֵינִים

“and linens”

The term linens refers to a type of plant that was used to make cool clothing for summer. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of material, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [cool fabric] or [material to make into summer clothing]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 31:13 (#5)

בְּחִתְּכֶן כַּפִּיהָ

“with the delight of her palms”

Here, Lemuel’s mother speaks of this woman feeling delight while she uses her palms to make clothing as if her palms were feeling that delight. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [delightfully with her palms]

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 31:13 (#2)

צמר

“wool”

The term wool refers to the hair of sheep, which was used to make warm clothing for winter. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of material, you could use the name of something similar in your area, or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [warm fabric] or [material to make into winter clothing]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 31:13 (#1)

דִּרְשָׁה

“She searches {for”

The fact that she works in the next clause indicates that this woman finds what she searches for. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She finds]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:13 (#4)

וְתַעֲשֶׂה

“and works”

Here, works refers to making clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and makes clothing]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:14 (#3)

לֶחֶם

“her bread”

See how you translated the same use of bread in 9:5.

See: Synecdoche

Proverbs 31:14 (#1)

הָיְתָה כְּאֶנְיֹת סוֹחֵר מֵמִמְרָחֶיךָ תִּבְרִיא לֶחֶם

“She is like the ships of a merchant; she brings her bread from far away”

If it would be more natural in your language, you could reverse the order of these clauses. Alternate translation: [She brings her bread from far away, like the ships of a merchant]

See: Information Structure

Proverbs 31:14 (#2)

הָיְתָה כְּאֶנְיֹת סוֹחֵר

“She is like the ships of a merchant”

The point of this comparison is that just as ships bring valuable things from far away, so does the “woman of worth.” If this is not clear from the second line, you could make this point explicitly. Alternate translation: [She travels far to get good things, like the ships of a merchant]

See: Simile

Proverbs 31:15 (#3)

לְבֵיתָהּ

“to her house”

Here, house represents the family who lives in her house. See how you translated the same use of house in 3:33.

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:15 (#5)

לְנַעֲרֶיהָ

“to her young women”

Here, young women refers to female servants who serve this woman and live in her home. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to her servant girls]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:15 (#4)

וְחֶחֶק

“and a portion”

Here, portion refers to a portion of food. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [and a portion of food]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:15 (#1)

בְּעֵד לַלַּיְלָה

“while still night”

Here, while still night refers to the time before the sun rises in the morning, not the middle of the night. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [while it is still dark] or [before the sun rises]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:15 (#2)

וַתַּתֵּן

“and gives”

Here, and indicates that what follows is the purpose for the woman rising while still night. Use a connector in your language that indicates a purpose. Alternate translation: [for the purpose of giving]

See: Connect — Goal (Purpose) Relationship

Proverbs 31:16 (#2)

מִפְרֵי כַּכְפָּיֶיהָ

“from the fruit of her palms”

Here, the fruit of her palms refers to the money that the woman has earned by selling the clothing she made with her palms in 31:13. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [from the money she has earned]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:16 (#1)

זִמְמָהּ שְׂשֹׂדָה

“She considers a field”

Here, considers refers to planning carefully before buying a field. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She considers carefully about buying a field]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:17 (#2)

וַתְּחַמְּצֵן זְרַעוֹתֶיהָ

“and she strengthens her arms”

Here, Lemuel’s mother implies that this woman strengthens her arms by working hard. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she strengthens her arms by doing hard work]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:17 (#1)

חֲגִרְרָהּ & מְתַנְנֶיהָ

“She girds her loins”

Here, strength is spoken of as if it were a kind of clothing that could be girded around a person’s loins, which refers to the hips and waist. Your language may have a comparable expression that you can use in your translation, or you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She puts on strength as though it were clothing] or [She strengthens her body]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:18 (#1)

סְהִרְגָּהּ

“her profit”

See how you translated the abstract noun profit in 3:14.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:18 (#2)

לֹא־יִכָּכְבָּהּ בַּלַּיְלָהָ נֶגְהָ

“her lamp does not go out in the night”

Here, Lemuel’s mother implies that this woman’s lamp does not go out because the woman is working. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [her lamp does not go out in the night because she is working]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:18 (#3)

לֹא־יִכָּכְבָּהּ בַּלַּיְלָהָ נֶגְהָ

“her lamp does not go out in the night”

Lemuel’s mother uses this clause as an overstatement in order to emphasize that such a woman works until late at night, but not necessarily all night long. If it would be helpful in your language, you could use a different way to express the emphasis. Alternate translation: [she uses a lamp to work until late at night]

See: Hyperbole

Proverbs 31:19 (#4)

פָּלֶדָּהּ

“the spindle”

The word spindle refers to a piece of wood around which someone wraps the thread when making thread. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of tool, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [the tool for holding thread]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 31:19 (#3)

בְּיֶשׁוּר

“at the distaff”

The word distaff refers to a thin rod with pointed ends that is used to make thread. If your readers would not be familiar with this type of tool, you could use the name of something similar in your area or you could use a more general term. Alternate translation: [on the tool for making thread]

See: Translate Unknowns

Proverbs 31:19 (#1)

יָדֶיהָ שֶׁלֶחְתָּה בְּיֶשׁוּר וְכַפָּיָהּ תִּתְמַכּוּ פָלֶה

“She stretches out her hands at the distaff, and her palms grasp the spindle”

This verse refers to the process of making thread, which is used to make clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [She stretches out her hands at the distaff, and she grasps the spindle in order to make thread]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:19 (#2)

יָדֶיהָ שֶׁלֶחְתָּה בְּיֶשׁוּר

“She stretches out her hands at the distaff”

Here, stretches out her hands means to holding something. If this phrase does not have that meaning in your language, you could state the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She takes hold of the distaff]

See: Idiom

Proverbs 31:20 (#3)

לְעֹנִי & לְאַבְיוֹן

“to the afflicted one & to the poor one”

See how you translated the afflicted one in 15:15 and poor one in 13:8.

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:20 (#1)

כִּכְפָּה פָּרְשָׁנָה לְעֹנִי וְיָדֶיהָ שֶׁלֶחְתָּה לְאַבְיוֹן

“She spreads out her palm to the afflicted one, and she stretches out her hands to the poor one”

The phrases spreads out her palm and stretches out her hands both refer to helping someone by using one’s hands to give something to that person. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She helps the afflicted one, and she helps the poor one]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:20 (#2)

כִּכְפָּה פָּרְשָׁנָה לְעֹנִי וְיָדֶיהָ שֶׁלֶחְתָּה לְאַבְיוֹן

“She spreads out her palm to the afflicted one, and she stretches out her hands to the poor one”

These two phrases She spreads out her palm to the afflicted one and she stretches out her hands to the poor one mean basically the same thing. The second emphasizes the meaning of the first by repeating the same idea with different words. If it would be helpful to your readers, you could combine them and express the emphasis in another way, as in the UST.

See: Parallelism

Proverbs 31:21 (#1)

לְבֵיתָהּ & כָּל־בֵּיתָהּ

“for her house & all her house”

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 31:21 (#5)

שָׁנִים

“with} crimson”

Here, crimson refers to clothing that is made from expensive crimson cloth. The idea is that this family can afford the best clothing. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [have expensive, warm clothing]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:22 (#3)

שֵׁשׁ וְאַרְגָּמָן

“fine linen and purple”

Here, fine linen and purple both refer to very expensive cloth. Lemuel’s mother is using the two terms together for emphasis. If it would be clearer for your readers, you could express the emphasis with a single phrase. Alternate translation: [very expensive materials]

See: Doublet

Proverbs 31:22 (#2)

שֵׁשׁ וְאַרְגָּמָן לְבוּשָׁהּ

“fine linen and purple for her clothing”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out some of the words that in many languages a clause would need in order to be complete. You could supply these words from earlier in the sentence if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [she wears fine linen and purple for her clothing]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:22 (#1)

מְכַבְּדִים

“coverings”

Here, coverings refers to pieces of cloth used to cover beds. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. See how you translated coverings in 7:16. Alternate translation: [blankets] or [cloth that covers beds]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:23 (#4)

בְּכִשְׁבֹּתָתוֹ עִם

“when he sits with”

Here, sits with refers to sitting down with the elders of the land in order to make laws and resolve legal disputes. Someone who sits with the elders is actually one of them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [when he sits down to make legal decisions with]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:23 (#2)

נִדְרָע

“is known”

Here, the phrase is known implies that this woman’s husband is respected by many people. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [is respected]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:23 (#5)

זְקֵנֵי־אֶרֶץ

“the elders of the land”

The phrase the elders of the land refers to the leaders of the town or city in which this woman lives with her husband. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [the leaders of the town]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:23 (#1)

נִדְרָע & בְּעֵלְהָ

“Her husband is known”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [People know her husband]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 31:23 (#3)

בַּשַּׁעֲרִים

“at the gates”

Here, the gates refers to the place in a town or city where many people would gather and where the elders would sit to discuss matters and make legal decisions. See how you translated the same use of the gates in 1:21.

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:24 (#1)

סָדֵדִין & חֲגֹגֶה & לְכַנְעִי

“a linen garment & and a belt & to the Canaanite”

Here, a linen garment, a belt, and the Canaanite refer to these things and people in general. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [linen garments ... belts ... to Canaanites]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:24 (#4)

לְכַנְעִי

“to the Canaanite”

Here, Canaanite refers specifically to Canaanite traders. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [to the Canaanite trader] or [to someone who trades goods]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:24 (#2)

וְתִמְכְּרָה

“and sells”

Lemuel’s mother is leaving out a word that in many languages a sentence would need in order to be complete. You could supply this word from the context if it would be clearer in your language. Alternate translation: [and sells that garment]

See: Ellipsis

Proverbs 31:24 (#3)

נָתַתָּה

“she gives”

Here, gives means that she supplies this belt to a Canaanite who is a merchant and so pays her for the item and then sells it to others. It does not refer to giving the belt away for free. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [she supplies]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:25 (#2)

עֲזָוָה וְהִדְדָּהּ

“Strength and splendor”

See how you translated the abstract nouns Strength in 5:10 and splendor in 4:9.

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:25 (#1)

עֲזָוָה וְהִדְדָּהּ לְבוּשָׁהּ

“Strength and splendor {are} her clothing”

Here Lemuel’s mother speaks of this woman having Strength and splendor that other people notice. It’s as if she were wearing those qualities as clothing that other people could see. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly or use a simile. Alternate translation: [Everyone notices her strength and splendor] or [People notice her strength and splendor as if they were her clothing]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:25 (#3)

וְתִשְׁחַחֵק לַיּוֹם אַחֲרָיו

“and she laughs at a future day”

Here, the woman laughs because she feels confident and cheerful about what will happen in the future. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and she is confident about a future day]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:25 (#4)

לַיּוֹם אַחֲרָיו

“at a future day”

Here, a future day refers to what will happen in the future. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [at what will happen in the future]

Proverbs 31:26 (#3)

וְתוֹרַת־חֵלְסָהּ

“and the law of covenant faithfulness”

Here, Lemuel’s mother is using the possessive form to describe the law that is characterized by covenant faithfulness. If your language would not use the possessive form for this, you could use a different expression. Alternate translation: [and the law that is characterized by covenant faithfulness]

See: Possession

Proverbs 31:26 (#4)

וְתוֹרַת

“and the law of”

Although the law here is singular, it refers to what this woman teaches or instructs others. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and the instructions of] or [and the teachings of]

See: Collective Nouns

Proverbs 31:26 (#6)

עַל־לְשׁוֹנָהּ

“is} on her tongue”

Here, on her tongue refers to her speaking, which involved using her tongue. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [is spoken by her]

See: Metonymy

Proverbs 31:26 (#1)

פִּיָּהּ פִּתְחָהּ

“Her mouth opens”

Here, mouth opens refers to speaking. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [She talks]

Proverbs 31:29 (#1)

רַבּוֹת בָּנוֹת עָשׂוּ חָכִיל וְאִצְאָתָּה עֲלֵיתָ עֲלֵיהֶן

“Many daughters have acted {with} worth, but you yourself have ascended over all of them”

This verse is a quotation of what the woman’s husband said. If it would be helpful in your language, you could indicate this with quotation marks or with whatever other punctuation or convention your language uses to indicate a quotation.

See: Quote Markings

Proverbs 31:29 (#5)

וְאִצְאָתָּה עֲלֵיתָ עַל

“but you yourself have ascended over”

Here, the woman’s husband speaks of his wife acting more admirably than all other woman as if she ascended over them. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [but you yourself have acted more worthily than] or [but you yourself are more excellent than]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:29 (#4)

וְאִצְאָתָּה עֲלֵיתָ

“but you yourself have ascended”

The woman’s husband uses the word yourself to emphasize how excellent his wife is. Use a way that is natural in your language to indicate this emphasis. Alternate translation: [but you, yes, you have ascended]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 31:30 (#4)

וְהַחֲבֵל הַיָּפִי

“and the beauty {is} vapor”

Here, Lemuel’s mother speaks of the disappearance of beauty as if it were a vapor that quickly goes away. See how you translated the same use of vapor in 21:6.

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:30 (#2)

שֶׁשֶׁקֶר הַחַסֵּן וְהַחֲבֵל הַיָּפִי

“The charm {is} falsehood and the beauty {is} vapor”

If your language does not use abstract nouns for the ideas of charm, falsehood, and beauty, you could express the same ideas in other ways. See how you translated falsehood in 6:17 and beauty in 6:25. Alternate translation: [What is charming is false and what is beautiful is vapor]

See: Abstract Nouns

Proverbs 31:30 (#5)

אִשָּׁה יְרֵאָה יְהוָה הִיא תִּתְהַלֵּל

“a woman fearful of Yahweh, she herself will be praised”

Here, a woman, she, and herself refer to a type of woman in general, not a specific woman. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [any woman fearful of Yahweh, that woman herself will be praised]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:30 (#3)

שֶׁשֶׁקֶר הַחַסֵּן וְהַחֲבֵל הַיָּפִי

“The charm {is} falsehood and the beauty {is} vapor”

The parallelism between this half of the verse and the second half indicates that charm and beauty refer to the physical attractiveness of women. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [A woman’s charm can be deceptive and a woman’s beauty is vapor]

See: Assumed Knowledge and Implicit Information

Proverbs 31:30 (#1)

הַחֵן וְהַיָּפִי

“The charm & the beauty”

Here, The charm and the beauty refer to these qualities in general, not any specific charm or beauty. If it would be helpful, you could use more natural expressions in your language. Alternate translation: [Any charm ... any beauty]

See: Generic Noun Phrases

Proverbs 31:30 (#7)

הָיָא תִתְהַלֵּל

“she herself will be praised”

If your language does not use this passive form, you could express the idea in active form or in another way that is natural in your language. Alternate translation: [people will certainly praise her]

See: Active or Passive

Proverbs 31:30 (#6)

אִשָּׁה יִרְאַת־יְהוָה

“a woman fearful of Yahweh”

This half of the verse is a strong contrast with the previous half. Use the most natural way in your language to indicate a contrast. Alternate translation: [by contrast, a woman fearful of Yahweh]

See: Connect — Contrast Relationship

Proverbs 31:30 (#8)

הָיָא תִתְהַלֵּל

“she herself will be praised”

The intensive pronoun herself represents the pronoun “her” that Lemuel’s mother uses in the original even though the verb translated as she will be praised already includes this meaning. Doing this adds emphasis to what she is saying. If your language uses explicit pronouns for emphasis, you may want to use that construction in your translation. If not, your language may have other ways of bringing out this emphasis. Alternate translation: [she will certainly be praised] or [people will certainly praise her]

See: Reflexive Pronouns

Proverbs 31:31 (#4)

בַּשְּׁעָרִים

“at the gates”

Proverbs 31:31 (#1)

לֵלָהּ & יָדָיֶיהָ וְיַהֲלִלְיוּהָ & מַעֲשֶׂיהָ

“to her & her hands and let her works praise her”

In this verse, her refers to the “woman fearful of Yahweh” mentioned in the previous verse. If it would be helpful in your language, you could state this explicitly. Alternate translation: [to a woman fearful of Yahweh ... that woman’s hands, and let that woman’s works praise her]

See: Pronouns — When to Use Them

Proverbs 31:31 (#2)

מִפְרִי יָדָיֶיהָ

“from the fruit of her hands”

Here, the fruit of her hands could refer to: (1) any kind of reward that the woman deserves for her hard work. Alternate translation: [the reward for her work]; (2) the money that the woman has earned by selling the clothing she made in 31:13, like the nearly identical phrase “from the fruit of her palms” in 31:16. Alternate translation: [from the money she has earned]

See: Metaphor

Proverbs 31:31 (#3)

וְיַהֲלִלְיוּהָ & מַעֲשֶׂיהָ

“and let her works praise her”

Here, Lemuel’s mother speaks of people praising this woman because of her works as if the works were people who were the ones praising her. If it would be helpful in your language, you could express the meaning plainly. Alternate translation: [and let people praise her for her works]
